We recently launched a new asset management product, which is expected to enhance sales in new untapped markets targeted by the company. Our products are designed to improve customers' ability to be efficient in vehicle utilization and energy consumption, and therefore are properly suited for a market that is savings driven. The company is closely monitoring changes in the car industry and volatility in exchange rates relating to the recent financial crisis, which currently impact our visibility into the coming months' performance. We are preparing ourselves to adjust our expenditures to revenues. However, on the other hand,

Edgar Filing: Pointer Telocation Ltd - Form 6-K

we also see this period as an opportunity for business initiatives, since the company is positioned very well globally. Our cash generative business yielded nine month EBITDA of $11.9 million, and these earnings enable us to maintain our R&D efforts and to enhance our competitive advantages , concluded Mr. Stern.

Reconciliation between results on a GAAP and Non-GAAP basis.

To supplement the consolidated financial statements presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), the Company uses non-GAAP measures of net income and EBITDA. A reconciliation between results in a GAAP and Non-GAAP basis is provided in a table immediately following the Condensed Interim Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows. Net income is adjusted from results based on GAAP to exclude amortization of acquired intangible assets and deferred income tax, as well as certain business combination accounting entries and a non-cash expense due to a loan discount as part of a loan replacement. These non-GAAP financial measures are provided to enhance overall understanding of the Company's current financial performance and prospects for the future. Specifically, the Company believes the non-GAAP results provide useful information to both management and investors as these non-GAAP results exclude amortization of acquired intangible assets and deferred income tax, as well as certain business combination accounting entries, and a one-time non-cash expense due to a loan discount, that the Company believes are not indicative of our core operating results. Our non-GAAP financial measures are not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for comparable GAAP measures, and should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP.

Our management regularly uses our supplemental non-GAAP financial measures internally to understand, manage and evaluate our business and make operating decisions. We believe that these non-GAAP measures help investors to understand our current and future operating cash flow and performance, especially as our three most recent acquisitions have resulted in amortization and non-cash items that have had a material impact on our GAAP profits. These non-GAAP financial measures may differ materially from the non-GAAP financial measures used by other companies.

Pointer also uses EBITDA as a non-GAAP financial performance measurement. EBITDA is calculated by adding back to net income interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization and minority interest. EBITDA is provided to investors to complement results provided in accordance with GAAP, as management believes the measure helps illustrate underlying operating trends in the Company's business and uses the measure to establish internal budgets and goals, manage the business and evaluate performance. EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for comparable measures calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP. A reconciliation of EBITDA to GAAP measures is also provided in a table following the Condensed Interim Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows accompanying this press release.

Reconciliation of GAAP net income to EBITDA

To supplement the consolidated financial statements presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), the Company uses EBITDA as a non-GAAP financial performance measurement. EBITDA is calculated by adding back to net income interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization and minority interest. EBITDA is provided to investors to complement results provided in accordance with GAAP, as management believes the measure helps illustrate underlying operating trends in the Company's business and uses the measure to establish internal budgets and goals, manage the business and evaluate performance. EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for comparable measures calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP. Reconciliation of the GAAP to non-GAAP operating results is as follows:
