Enclosures: AGM Statement

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: 11am Thursday 17 May 2007

PRUDENTIAL PLC - ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

At this morning's AGM, Prudential plc Chairman Sir David Clementi highlighted
"a year of substantial progress" by Prudential.

Speaking to shareholders at the Queen Elizabeth II Conference Centre in London, Sir David said: "2006 was another excellent year for Prudential with EEV operating profits ahead strongly and confirming the effectiveness of the strategy that we have been following."

Sir David added: "The Group also further strengthened its cash flow and capital position in the year and, as a result, we were able to propose an increase of five per cent in the full year dividend. We have also put in place a new dividend policy.

"In March we announced a refocusing of our UK business after an extensive review of all available options. The Board believes that the current composition and structure of the Group provide material financial and operational benefits to shareholders. At this stage, the management team's focus continues to be on profitable growth in all areas of the business and, in particular, the UK team is absolutely focused on the execution and delivery of the strategy we have outlined. As you would expect, the Board considers strategy on a regular basis and it will continue to take account of all alternatives to maximise value for shareholders."

Mr Tucker said: "2006 saw a year of further success in building our business with a clear and committed focus on value generation, and the momentum I referred to last year maintained and even intensified.

"UK retail new business volumes were ahead 14 per cent and overall margins and returns on new business remained towards the top end of what you will see in the UK market. That performance was driven principally by improving margins and returns in the retail business, and individual annuities in particular, and we see this sector as the mainstay of UK profitability in the years ahead."

Mr Tucker noted that Jackson is "very well placed to continue the success we have seen over recent years". He added: "In the US, the Jackson team has had another strong year. They have outperformed the market considerably, with retail sales growing at twice the market growth rate, margins moving ahead at the aggregate level and returns on new business also improving."

Turning to Asia, Mr Tucker said: "Again, sales and new business profits moved ahead strongly and we have continued to build the distribution footprint with over 285,000 agents across the region and a spread of non-agency distribution that is unparalleled. Margin and returns remain high, though obviously influenced by the country mix, and we are also improving expense efficiency as we see the scale of the business increase."

Highlighting sustained superior investment performance across the Group's asset management businesses, Mr Tucker said: "M&G and our Asian business go from strength to strength."

He added: "Over a five-year period, external funds under management have more than doubled from GBP24 billion to GBP57 billion at the end of 2006 and both businesses attracted record net inflows in the year."

Forward-Looking Statements

This statement may contain certain "forward-looking statements" with respect to certain of Prudential's plans and its current goals and expectations relating to its future financial condition, performance, results, strategy and objectives. Statements containing the words "believes", "intends", "expects", "plans", "seeks" and "anticipates", and words of similar meaning, are forward-looking. By their nature, all forward-looking statements involve risk and uncertainty because they relate to future events and circumstances which are beyond Prudential's control including among other things, UK domestic and global economic and business conditions, market related risks such as fluctuations in interest rates and exchange rates, and the performance of financial markets generally; the policies and actions of regulatory authorities, the impact of competition, inflation, and deflation; experience in particular with regard to mortality and morbidity trends, lapse rates and policy renewal rates; the timing, impact and other uncertainties of future acquisitions or combinations within relevant industries; and the impact of changes in capital, solvency or accounting standards, and tax and other legislation and regulations in the jurisdictions in which Prudential and its affiliates operate. This may for example result in changes to assumptions used for determining results of operations or re-estimations of reserves for future policy benefits. As a result, Prudential's actual future financial condition, performance and results may differ materially from the plans, goals, and expectations set forth in Prudential's forward-looking statements. Prudential undertakes no obligation to update the forward-looking statements contained in this statement or any other forward-looking statements it may make.
