To provide additional clarification regarding Mr. McNerney's employment agreement with The Boeing Company (the Company), as described in the Company's Form 8-K dated July 6, 2005, the Company provided the additional information below at the request of an institutional shareholder advisory service and to certain institutional investors.

The Boeing Company CEO Supplemental Retirement Benefit

The CEO supplemental retirement benefit provided in Mr. McNerney's Boeing employment contract was estimated at an $11M lump-sum present value (as of 12/31/05) by outside actuaries retained by Boeing at the time he joined Boeing. This value matched the estimated value of his retirement benefit at the time he left 3M.

The current reported present value of Mr. McNerney's pension benefit under his employment agreement is $14,765,366. This figure appears in the table on page 42 of the proxy statement and represents the present value of the lump sum amount that would be paid at age 62 based on the benefit that Mr. McNerney earned as of 9/30/06. (9/30/06 is the date at which the company measured its pension obligations for the 2006 year-end financial statements.) Assuming equivalent salary and annual incentive, and assumptions, this number would have been the same had Mr. McNerney remained at 3M.
