3. Explanation for the reason

As international crude oil prices have been soaring and hovering at high levels, the crude oil costs of the Company increased substantially. With domestic petroleum product prices under stringent State control, there has been a severe mismatch between petroleum product prices and crude oil prices, thereby resulting in a relatively substantial loss for the Company's oil processing operation. While the Company has obtained government subsidy of RMB247,280,000 in the first quarter of 2008, according to the calculations of the Company's accounting department, it is estimated that the Company will suffer a loss for its net profit attributable to equity holders for the first quarter of 2008. Specific information will be disclosed in detail in the 2008 first quarterly report of the Company which will be published on 28 April 2008.

Investors are advised to pay attention to the risks involved in the investment in the Company's securities.

[For Immediate Release]

Shanghai Petrochemical Announces 2007 Annual Results

Net profit Rises 84.75% to RMB 1,683.1 million

Hong Kong, April 7, 2008 Sinopec Shanghai Petrochemical Company Limited (Shanghai Petrochemical or the Company) (HKEx:338; SSE: 600688; NYSE: SHI) announced today the audited operating results of the Company and its subsidiaries (the Group) prepared under the International Financial Reporting Standards (the IFRS) for the year ended December 31, 2007 (the Year).

According to IFRS, turnover of the Group for 2007 amounted to RMB55,328.4 million, representing an increase of 9.35% as compared to 2006. Profit before tax was RMB2,151.4 million, an increase of 123.13% year-on-year. Profit after taxation of the Company was RMB1,683.1 million, an increase of 84.75% year-on-year. Earnings per share was RMB0.23 (2006: RMB0.12). The board of directors of the Company has recommended a final dividend of RMB0.09 (inclusive of tax) (2006: RMB0.04), equivalent to RMB9.00 per American Depositary Share.

Mr. Rong Guangdao, Chairman of Shanghai Petrochemical, said, Driven by the relatively fast growth of the domestic economy and a cyclical peak of the continuing global petrochemical industry boom in 2007, the petrochemical industry in China was able to overcome negative impacts such as rising high international crude oil prices, reversed pricing trend of domestic petroleum products and fluctuations in the petrochemical product market, thereby attaining satisfactory results with continued rapid production, economic expansion and quality improvements. In 2007, the Group fully adopted an overall cost leadership strategy, maintained a stable improvement in production and operation, and effectively enhanced the upstream-downstream business chain structure. The economic efficiency witnessed a substantial improvement over the previous year.

In 2007, the Group s total net sales increased by 8.69% to RMB54,254.7 million for the Year, compared to RMB49,918.1 million in 2006. The weighted average prices (exclusive of tax) of synthetic fibres, resins and plastics, intermediate petrochemicals and petroleum products increased by 4.58%, 1.45%, 13.28% and 3.13%, respectively, as compared to 2006.

As to production and operation, the Group processed 8,938,400 tons of crude oil, generally on par with the previous year. Production outputs of gasoline, diesel and jet fuel increased by 5.78% over the previous year. The output of gasoline was 645,900 tons, down 15.19% from the previous year; the output of diesel was 2,929,100 tons and the output of jet fuel was 695,700 tons, increasing by 6.82% and 30.33%, respectively, year-on-year. Due to the overhaul of certain key facilities such as those related to ethylene, the Group produced 869,400 tons of ethylene and 455,900 tons of propylene, down 9.46% and 11.94% respectively from the previous year. The Group also produced 1,019,000 tons of plastic resins and polymers, representing a decrease of 6.32% over the previous year; 532,400 tons of synthetic fibre monomers, a decrease of 3.11%; 631,900 tons of synthetic fibre polymers, an increase of 4.52%; and 307,900 tons of synthetic fibres, a decrease of 6.69%.

In 2007, the Group s output-to-sales ratio and receivable recovery ratio were 100.07% and 100.04%, respectively. The Group s total import/export trade revenue (excluding crude oil imports) was US$1,784 million, up 13.84% from the previous year.

Shanghai Petrochemical Announces 2007 Annual Results...p.6

Of the Group's cost of sales, crude oil costs accounted for RMB34,456.3 million or 65.45% of the Group's annual cost of sales. The average cost of crude oil processed was RMB3,865.85 per ton, up 2.26% over the previous year. The crude oil costs increased by RMB1,148.7 million as compared to 2006.

During the Year, the Group made significant efforts with respect to the construction of key projects. The 380,000-ton/year ethylene glycol plant, the 3,300,000-ton/year diesel hydrogenation project and the 1,200,000-ton/year delayed coking plant commenced operation on 3 March, 18 June and 12 December respectively. The project of adding flue gas desulphurization facilities to the boilers of coal-fired power plants completed the 168-hour test run in late September. The 620-ton/hour steam-boiler and 100 megawatt power generation project successfully commenced power generation on 30 December 2007. The completion and commencement of such projects laid a solid foundation for the Group's efforts on structural enhancement, energy conservation and emission reduction. Besides, the Shanghai Secco 900,000-ton/year ethylene joint-venture project between the Company, Sinopec Corp. and BP Chemicals East China Investments Ltd. operated in a normal manner in 2007, whereby 1,003,000 tons of ethylene were produced during the Year, representing an increase of 25,000 tons over the previous year.

Looking forward, Mr. Rong Guangdao said, "In 2008, petrochemical companies will be exposed to a number of challenges: high oil prices that is becoming a long term trend; possible new changes to the business cycle of the global petrochemical industry; the State's control over prices of domestic petroleum products that has not been loosened up; the impact of a tightening monetary policy; the accelerated RMB appreciation; the export tax rebates, the EU's REACH legislation, and so forth. In response to the changes in the foreign and domestic macro-economic environment, the Group will aim for a full implementation of its overall cost leadership strategy and strive for the building of a harmonious enterprise. It will further optimize its resource allocation; enhance the "Three Basics" management; enhance safety and environmental protection; emphasize energy conservation and emission reduction; speed up reforms and developments; further enhance the development of team structure and develop corporate culture; with a view to continuously increasing the enterprise's market competitiveness and improving its risk management, and striving to continue to achieve satisfactory operating results in 2008."

Shanghai Petrochemical is one of the largest petrochemical companies in China and was one of the first Chinese companies to complete a global securities offering. Located in the Jinshan District which is at the southwest of Shanghai, it is a highly integrated petrochemical enterprise which processes crude oil into a broad range of products in synthetic fibres, resins and plastics, intermediate petrochemicals and petroleum products.

6.1 Management Discussion and Analysis

(Unless otherwise specified, financial information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis section has been extracted from financial statements prepared under IFRS.)

A. Operating Results

General Review of the Company's Operation during the Reporting Period (Business Review)

In 2007, the world economy maintained relatively fast growth while the global petrochemical industry was still at a prosperous stage. Through strengthening and enhancing macro-economic control measures, China's economy maintained a solid trend of relatively fast growth, optimized structure, better economic efficiency and improved livelihood. Driven by a relatively fast growth of the domestic economy and a continued boom of the global petrochemical industry, the petrochemical industry in China was able to overcome negative impact such as further rises in international crude oil prices, the inverted domestic market prices for petroleum products and fluctuations in the petrochemical product market, attaining satisfactory results with continued rapid growth and further improvements in economic growth quality. In 2007, the Group fully implemented a overall cost leadership strategy as its main course of action to optimize resource allocation, accelerate structural adjustment, push forward reforms and restructuring and strengthen internal management. As a result, the Company has been able to maintain a stable production operation in general, with the upstream-downstream business chain structure effectively improved and economic efficiency witnessing a substantial increase over the previous year.

(1) Making further progress in system optimization and maintaining stable operation in general

In 2007, the Group further pushed ahead the effort on optimizing of the feedstock, product structure and fuel and power structure. The Group ensured a safe and stable operation of its production facilities on a long production cycle basis and properly completed successful the scheduled turnaround. Energy conservation and emission reduction measures were implemented, and stable production operation achieved. During the year, the average on-stream availability and the average load factor of the Group's major production facilities were 93.37% and 95.42%, respectively. Operation of major production facilities remained steady, with the number of non-scheduled suspensions decreased by 8.82% compared to the previous year while the duration of non-scheduled suspensions decreased by 4.02% compared to the previous year. Total production output amounted to 8,964,000 tons, representing an increase of 7.11% over the previous year. No major safety-related incidents or environmental pollution incidents took place during the year.

Table of Contents

In 2007, the Group processed 8,938,400 tons of crude oil, generally on a par with the previous year. Production outputs of gasoline, diesel and jet fuel increased by 5.78% over the previous year. The output of gasoline was 645,900 tons, down 15.19% from the previous year; the output of diesel and jet fuel were 2,929,100 tons and 695,700 tons, respectively, representing respective increases of 6.82% and 30.33% over the previous year. Due to the scheduled turnaround of certain key facilities such as ethylene plant, the Group produced 869,400 tons of ethylene and 455,900 tons of propylene, down 9.46% and 11.94%, respectively, compared to the previous year. The Group also produced 1,019,000 tons of synthetic resins and copolymers, representing a decrease of 6.32% from the previous year; 532,400 tons of synthetic fibre monomers, representing a decrease of 3.11% from the previous year; 631,900 tons of synthetic fibre polymers, representing an increase of 4.52% over the previous year; and 307,900 tons of synthetic fibres, representing a decrease of 6.69% from the previous year. Meanwhile, the quality of the Group's products was consistently maintained at a premium level.

In 2007, the Group's turnover amounted to RMB55,328.4 million, up 9.35% over the previous year and set a historic high. The Group's output-to-sales ratio and receivable recovery ratio were 100.07% and 100.04%, respectively. The Group's annual total import and import and export amount (excluding crude oil imports) was US$1,784 million, up 13.47% over the previous year.

(2) Market demand for petrochemical products remained robust, with product prices driven up by rising costs

In 2007, domestic demand for petrochemical products remained relatively strong. Due to further increases in energy and raw material prices, prices for a majority of petrochemical products in the domestic market were driven up by rising costs. For the year ended 31 December 2007, the weighted average prices (excluding tax) of the Group's synthetic fibres, resins and plastics, intermediate petrochemicals and petroleum products increased by 4.58%, 1.45%, 13.28% and 3.13%, respectively over the previous year. However, as China's petroleum product pricing mechanism has yet to conform with the international practice, domestic petroleum product prices remained substantially below costs.

(3) Impact of crude oil costs

In 2007, international crude oil prices declined initially but rose again later, soaring at high levels and making successive historic highs (the Brent crude oil price recorded a highest closing price of US$95.76 per barrel, while the WTI (West Texas Intermediate) crude oil price on the New York Mercantile Exchange recorded a highest closing of US$98.18 per barrel). According to statistics, the 2007 annual average price of Brent crude oil increased by 9.91% over the previous year up to US$72.65 per barrel (2006: US$66.10 per barrel). For the year ended 31 December 2007, the Group processed 8,938,400 tons of crude oil (including the trade of processing with supplied crude oil), representing an increase of 18,100 tons over the previous year. Of this volume, offshore oil accounted for 302,700 tons and imported oil accounted for 8,635,700 tons. Crude oil processed by the Group's own business account totalled 8,913,000 tons, up 1.17% over the previous year. Of the Group's cost of sales, crude oil costs accounted for

RMB34,456.3 million or 65.45% of the Group's annual cost of sales. The average cost of crude oil processed was RMB3,865.85 per ton, up 2.26% over the previous year. The crude oil costs increased by RMB1,148.7 million as compared to 2006.

(4) Capital expenditure projects proceeded smoothly, with some of newly completed key projects being put into operation successively. In 2007, the Group put a lot of effort on the construction of the structured adjustment projects relating to structural adjustment. The 380,000-ton/year ethylene glycol plant, the 3,300,000-ton/year diesel hydrogenation plant and the 1,200,000-ton/year delayed coking facility commenced operation on 3 March, 18 June and 12 December respectively. The project of adding flue gas desulphurization facilities to the boilers of coal-fired power plant completed the 168-hour test run in late September. The 620-ton/hour steam-boiler and 100 megawatt power generation project successfully commenced power generation and transmission on 30 December. The completion and commencement of such projects laid a solid foundation for the Group's efforts on structural enhancement, energy conservation and emission reduction.

The Shanghai Secco 900,000-ton/year ethylene joint-venture project between the Group, Sinopec Corp. and BP Chemicals East China Investments Ltd. operated properly in 2007, and 1,003,000 tons of ethylene were produced during the year, representing an increase of 25,000 tons over the previous year.

(5) Enhancing our systems and effectively carrying out tasks on energy conservation and emission reduction. In 2007, the Group enhanced its systems and fulfilled its duties in accordance with the relevant requirements of the State's energy conservation and emission reduction policy. The Group established a leadership taskforce on energy conservation and emission reduction to devise the energy conservation and reduction emission planning during the Eleventh Five-year Plan, setting out clear objectives on energy conservation and emission reduction and initiating a wide range of campaigns for cutting down expenses on fuel, electricity, steam and water. The oil-fired power station which had been operating for over 30 years was officially closed in 15 September. Accordingly, approximately 300,000 tons/year of residual oil used for power generation can be applied for deep-processing, while reducing approximately 8,000 tons of sulphur dioxide emission per year as well. During the year, a series of energy conservation and emission reduction projects such as cracking furnace renovation, utilization of residual heat from heaters and burner renovation, with specific energy conservation management carried out for heaters which accounted for over 60% of the Group's total energy consumption. The biological deodorization technology developed by the Group was successfully applied on the ethylene glycol plant and the treatment of sulphuric gases, thereby effectively improving the air quality of vicinities. In 2007, the Group's overall energy consumption per RMB10,000 of product value was 1.563 tons of standard coal, down 10.48% from the previous year. The overall energy consumption was 7,496,000 tons of standard coal, down 4.36% from the previous year. The overall ratio of reaching benchmark from waste water discharge reaching a set standard, industrial waste water discharge volume, hazardous waste treatment rate and the ratio of reaching for gaseous emission reaching a set standard all met the environmental protection standards upon inspection.

- (6) Making progress in the development and application of new technologies and products with reference to the actual production operation needs

In 2007, the Group continued to make progress in the development of new technologies and products with reference to the actual needs of corporate development and production operation. The polyester pilot plant was completed and commenced operation in the first quarter, creating the conditions for the development of new polyester products and adjustment in product-mix adjustment. The studies on industrial application of domestically-made bimodal polyethylene catalyst were successfully completed, laying the foundation for replacing imported catalysts with domestic products. New products such as large diameter low melt droop PE tube pellet and special high-gloss and heat-resistant polypropylene were successively launched in the market. Projects such as the development and application of gasoline blending technology and the heat transmission enhancement technology for cracking furnaces have generated considerable economic gains. Eight research products, including acrylic staple fiber for glossing knitting threads and polypropylene for medical use, were recognized as new high-technology research achievement projects of Shanghai Municipality, thereby obtaining special financial subsidies. As for information system development, projects such as application of advanced control system for the delayed coking and No. 2 ethylene facilities, the Company laboratory management system and the Company emergency control centre were completed and commenced operation during the year. According to statistics, the Group's output of new products amounted to 793,600 tons during the year; the output value ratio was 17.35%, while the output to sales ratio was 95.96%. A total of 234,300 tons of differentiated synthetic fibres was produced, and the ratio of differentiated synthetic fibres was 76.13%. A total of 788,600 tons of special resin was produced, and the ratio of special resin was 84.22%. Forty patent applications were submitted during the year, of which 39 were invention patents.

- (7) Further enhancement of corporate management and internal reform, with significant results in reforms and clean-up work on auxiliary businesses

In 2007, the Group further enhanced its internal control, the "Three Basics" work (fundamental management, grass-root team building-up and basic skill training) and staff training. Based on the execution of internal control in recent years and inspection results, the Group undertook a comprehensive amendment to The Internal Control Manual of Shanghai Petrochemical and the new edition was adopted on 1 April 2007 upon consideration and approval by the Board. During the year, self-checking and professional review were conducted over the implementation of all procedures and the effectiveness of control with reference to The Guidelines for Internal Control Checking and Assessment, and internal control inspection was also conducted by KPMG. Through the compilation of the guidelines for the implementation of "Three Basics" tasks and the appraisal scoring manual, the professional management of production and facilities was further strengthened. Major production facilities operated in a stable state, with significant improvements witnessed by several technical or economic indicators. By proactively adopting the training approach of centralized management and grade-by-grade implementation, as well as publishing the entire 66-set, 8.72 million-word staff training materials, the Group strengthened the effort on education and training and further enhanced the quality of its staff.

In 2007, the Group actively promoted the implementation of reforms and clean-up work on auxiliary businesses. Nine non-core business enterprises completed reforms and handled relevant business registrations, with 2,011 employees involved in the reforms. Meanwhile, the Group conducted the clean-up work on auxiliary businesses through various approaches, including division reforms, transfers and disposals as well as dismissals. 38 projects involving dismissals were completed during the year. By 31 December 2007, the Group reduced its work force by 3,670 employees, which reduction included voluntary resignees and retirees, representing 16% of the total work force of 22,922 employees as at the beginning of the year.

(8) Analysis of the reasons for the significant increase in operating results for the year

The significant increase in the operating results during the Reporting Period was mainly attributable to the following reasons:

- a. In 2007, the Group's share of profit of associates and jointly controlled entities and investment income amounted to RMB1,437 million, representing 66.81% of the profit before taxation of RMB2,151 million and was an increase of 149.05% over the previous year. Of this amount, the investment income from Shanghai Secco was RMB588 million, an increase of RMB43 million as compared to the previous year; the gain on disposal of available-for-sale securities transferred from equity amounted to RMB771 million.
- b. After its completion and commencement in March 2007, the new 380,000-ton/year ethylene glycol plant capitalized on the substantial increase in ethylene glycol prices in the domestic market and achieved impressive economic benefits.

Accounting estimates and judgements

The Group's financial conditions and results of operations are sensitive to accounting methods, assumptions and estimates that underpin the preparation of the financial statements. The Group bases the assumptions and estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that the Group believes to be reasonable and which form the basis for making judgements about matters that are not readily apparent from other sources. On an on-going basis, management evaluates its estimates. Actual results may differ from those estimates as facts, circumstances and conditions change.

The selection of critical accounting policies, the judgements and other uncertainties affecting application of those policies and the sensitivity of reported results to changes in conditions and assumptions are factors to be considered when reviewing the financial statements. The Group believes the following critical accounting policies involve the most significant judgements and estimates used in the preparation of the financial statements.

Impairments for long lived assets

If circumstances indicate that the net book value of a long-lived asset may not be recoverable, the asset may be considered impaired, and an impairment loss may be recognised in accordance with IAS 36 Impairment of Assets. The carrying amounts of long-lived assets are reviewed periodically in order to assess whether the recoverable amounts have declined below the carrying amounts. These assets are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their recorded carrying amounts may not be recoverable. When such a decline has occurred, the carrying amount is reduced to recoverable amount. For goodwill, the recoverable amount is estimated annually. The recoverable amount is the greater of the net selling price and the value in use. It is difficult to precisely estimate selling price because quoted market prices for the Group's assets and cash generating units are not readily available. In determining the value in use, expected cash flows generated by the assets are discounted to their present value, which requires significant judgement relating to level of sale volume, selling price and amount of operating costs. The Group uses all readily available information in determining an amount that is a reasonable approximation of recoverable amount, including estimates based on reasonable and supportable assumptions and projections of sale volume, selling price and amount of operating costs.

Depreciation

Property, plant and equipment are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets, after taking into account the estimated residual values. The Group reviews the estimated useful lives of the assets regularly in order to determine the amount of depreciation expense to be recorded during any Reporting Period. The useful lives are based on the Group's historical experience with similar assets and taking into account anticipated technological changes. The depreciation expense for future periods is adjusted if there are significant changes from previous estimates.

Impairment for bad and doubtful debts

The Group estimates impairment losses for bad and doubtful debts resulting from the inability of the customers to make the required payments. The Group bases the estimates on the aging of the accounts receivable balance, customer credit-worthiness, and historical write-off experience. If the financial condition of the customers were to deteriorate, actual write-offs would be higher than estimated.

Allowance for diminution in value of inventories

Any excess of the cost over the net realisable value of each item of inventories is recognised as a provision for diminution in the value of inventories. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. The Group bases the estimates on all available information, including the current market prices of the finished goods and raw materials, and historical operating costs. If the actual selling prices were to be lower or the costs of completion were to be higher than estimated, the actual allowance for diminution in value of inventories could be higher than estimated.

Income tax

As discussed in section 9.6 note 3(a) regarding the prior years' tax privilege, the directors of the Company consider that it is uncertain whether the relevant tax authorities will retrospectively claim additional EIT from the Company and that it is not possible to reliably estimate the eventual outcome of this matter. Consequently, no provision has been made in these financial statements in respect of the EIT differences arising from prior years.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The total net sales of the Group increased by 8.69% to RMB54,254.7 million in 2007 compared to RMB49,918.1 million in 2006. In 2007, the demand for petrochemical products remained strong, driving product prices to rise. However, the pace for such increase has slowed down. The weighted average prices of synthetic fibres, resins and plastics, intermediate petrochemicals and petroleum products for the year 2007 increased to varying extent as compared to 2006.

Table of Contents

(i) Synthetic fibres

The net sales of synthetic fibre products decreased to RMB4,328.7 million in 2007, representing a 8.13% decrease compared to RMB4,711.7 million in 2006. Although the weighted average price of synthetic fibres had increased by 4.58%, the profit margin of synthetic fibre products was substantially reduced as raw material costs of synthetic fibres remained at high levels. As such, sales volume of synthetic fibres in 2007 decreased by 12.17% as compared to 2006 because the sales volume of certain major synthetic fibre products, except acrylic fibre, had decreased by varying extent in 2007.

Net sales of synthetic fibre products accounted for 7.98% of the Group's total net sales in 2007, representing a decrease of 1.46% compared to 2006.

(ii) Resins and plastics

The net sales of resins and plastics increased to RMB15,878.8 million in 2007, representing an increase of 0.80% compared to RMB15,753.3 million in 2006. Weighted average price of resins and plastics in 2007 had increased by 1.45% compared to 2006 and sales volume in 2007 had decreased by 0.64% compared to 2006. Amongst the Group's resins and plastics products, the sales volume and average sales price of polyester pellet for 2007 increased by 9.41% and decreased by 0.23%, respectively, the sales volumes of polyethylene and polypropylene for 2007 decreased by 9.06% and 2.38%, respectively, while their average sales prices increased by 2.84% and 0.04%, respectively.

Net sales of resins and plastics accounted for 29.27% of the Group's total net sales in 2007, representing a decrease of 2.29% compared to 2006.

(iii) Intermediate petrochemicals

The net sales of intermediate petrochemicals increased substantially to RMB9,372.7 million in 2007, representing an increase of 38.33% compared to RMB6,775.7 million in 2006, with the weighted average price of intermediate petrochemicals and sales volume increased by 13.28% and 22.10%, respectively, as compared to 2006. Amongst the Group's intermediate petrochemical products, the weighted average prices of the Group's major products such as pure benzene, ethylene glycol and ethylene oxide increased by 20.97%, 34.37% and 13.18%, respectively, while the weighted average prices of ethylene and butadiene decreased by 1.52% and 17.21%, respectively. The sales volumes of pure benzene, ethylene glycol and ethylene oxide increased by 2.09%, 1,924.92% and 109.79%, respectively, except for ethylene and butadiene which their sales volumes had decreased.

The net sales of intermediate petrochemicals accounted for 17.28% of the Group's total net sales in 2007, representing an increase of 3.71% compared to 2006.

(iv) Petroleum products

The net sales of petroleum products increased to RMB21,036.6 million in 2007, representing an increase of 8.51% compared to RMB19,387.6 million in 2006, with an increase of 3.13% in the weighted average price as compared to 2006. The weighted average prices of gasoline, diesel oil and jet fuel increased by 3.63%, 5.95% and 4.64%, respectively. Due to the price limits set by the State, the petroleum products segment reported a negative profit margin. The Group's sales volume of gasoline decreased by 7.50%, while the sales volumes of diesel and jet fuel increased by 6.12% and 34.49%, respectively.

The net sales of petroleum products accounted for 38.77% of the Group's total net sales in 2007, representing a decrease of 0.07% compared to 2006.

(v) Other activities

Revenues from trading activities increased to RMB3,637.9 million in 2007, representing an increase of 10.58% compared to RMB3,289.8 million in 2006. Such increases in revenue were mainly attributed to increases in the trading volume of petrochemical products.

Operating Expenses

The Group's operating expenses comprise cost of sales, selling and administrative expenses, other operating expenses and other operating income.

Such operating expenses increased substantially by 7.09% to RMB53,445.9 million in 2007 compared to RMB49,647.3 million in 2006, representing an increase of 7.67%. The operating expenses of resins and plastics, intermediate petrochemicals, petroleum products, and other activities amounted to RMB15,222.3 million, RMB8,558.9 million, RMB21,774.7 million and RMB3,489.2 million, respectively, representing increases of 4.33%, 40.42%, 1.91% and 13.36%, respectively, as compared to 2006. The operating expenses of synthetic fibres amounted to RMB4,410.8 million, representing a decrease of 2.32% compared to 2006.

(i) Synthetic fibres

The operating expenses of synthetic fibres decreased by RMB104.6 million compared to 2006, primarily due to decrease in the sales volume of synthetic fibres.

(ii) Resins and plastics

The operating expenses of resins and plastics increased by RMB631.1 million compared to 2006, primarily due to increased costs for raw materials such as ethylene and propylene. Moreover, sales volume of polyester chips increased by more than 40,000 tons, or 9.41%, compared to 2006, which also contributed to the increase in the operating expenses of resins and plastics.

(iii) Intermediate petrochemicals

The operating expenses of intermediate petrochemicals increased by RMB2,463.6 million compared to 2006, primarily due to increased costs for raw materials such as naphtha.

(iv) Petroleum products

The operating expenses of petroleum products increased by RMB407.3 million compared to 2006, primarily due to the increase in crude oil price (which is a major production raw material of the Group) which directly led to a significant increase in the operating expenses of petroleum products.

Table of Contents

(v) Other activities

The operating expenses of other activities increased by RMB411.2 million compared to 2006, which was primarily attributable to increased purchasing costs as a result of increased business volume.

Cost of sales

Cost of sales increased to RMB52,646.5 million in 2007, representing an increase of 7.04% compared to RMB49,182.2 million in 2006. Cost of sales accounted for 97.04% of the net sales for 2007, primarily due to a moderate increase in 2007 in crude oil price which was the Group's major raw material and increase in the purchase of other raw materials.

(i) Crude Oil

In 2007, the Group processed 8,938,400 tons of crude oil (of which 25,400 tons imported crude oil were processed on a sub-contracting basis), representing an increase of 18,100 tons compared to 8,920,300 tons in 2006 (of which 110,000 tons imported crude oil were processed on a sub-contracting basis in 2006). The volumes of imported crude oil and offshore crude oil processed by the Group were 8,635,700 tons and 302,700 tons, respectively.

The total cost of crude oil processed by the Group in 2007 amounted to RMB34,456.3 million, representing an increase of 3.45% compared to RMB33,307.6 million in 2006 and accounting for 65.45% of the total cost of sales. The weighted average cost of crude oil for the Group was RMB3,865.85 per ton, representing an increase of 2.26% compared to 2006. The weighted averaged cost of imported crude oil and offshore crude oil were RMB3,871 per ton and RMB3,721 per ton, respectively.

(ii) Other expenses

The expenses for other ancillary materials were RMB10,022.5 million in 2007, representing an increase of 26.84% compared to RMB7,901.8 million in 2006, which was primarily due to a significant increase in the purchasing costs of intermediate petrochemicals such as propylene and acrylonitrile during the Reporting Period. Depreciation expenses decreased from RMB1,848.5 million in 2006 to RMB1,698.8 million in 2007. Energy and power costs increased to RMB1,190.2 million due to increases in coal prices and electricity tariffs in 2007. Compared to the same period of 2006, labor costs decreased slightly to RMB1,209.0 million because of the decrease in the total number of employees during 2007, while maintenance costs increased to RMB1,023.8 million.

Selling and administrative expenses

Selling and administrative expenses amounted to RMB504.7 million, representing a decrease of 3.31% compared to RMB522.0 million in 2006 primarily due to a decrease in the Group's cost of sales in its sales operations during the Reporting Period.

Table of Contents

Operating profit

Operating profit amounted to RMB892.7 million in 2007, representing a significant increase of 61.46% compared to RMB552.9 million in 2006, which was primarily due to a significant improvement in the Group's operating efficiency during the Reporting Period.

Other operating income

Other operating income amounted to RMB216.6 million in 2007, a decrease of 27.17% compared to RMB297.4 million in 2006, which was primarily due to a decrease in income from the disposal of property, plant and equipment during the Reporting Period.

Other operating expenses

Other operating expenses increased from RMB240.5 million in 2006 to RMB521.3 million in 2007, representing an increase of 116.76%, which was primarily due to an increase of RMB124.4 million in the Group's employee reduction expenses in 2007 compared to 2006. In addition, the Group's provision made for impairments of fixed assets in 2007 increased by RMB150.3 million compared to 2006.

Net financing costs

The Group's net financing costs were RMB177.9 million in 2006, representing an increase of 7.56% compared to RMB165.4 million in 2006, which was primarily due to the Group's repayment of loans in an amount of US$175.3 million in 2007. As a result of the appreciation of Renminbi against the US dollar, the Group's foreign exchange income in 2007 decreased by RMB45.31 million compared to 2006.

Investment income

The Group's investment income was RMB770.7 million in 2007, mainly due to income from the disposal of available-for-sale securities transferred from equity.

Profit before tax

The Group's profit before tax was RMB2,151.4 million in 2007, representing an increase of 123.13% compared to RMB964.2 million in 2006.

Income tax

The Group's income tax increased to RMB468.3 million in 2007, representing a significant increase of 780.26% compared to RMB53.2 million in 2006. Such increase was primarily due to the substantial increase in profit before taxation and an adjustment in income tax rate.

Effective from 1 January 1993, the Group began to enjoy a preferential income tax rate of 15% based on the approval of the State's tax authorities. According to the relevant taxation regulations issued by the Ministry of Finance and the State Administration of Taxation, the first nine H-Share listed companies (including the Company) were permitted to pay income tax at a rate of 15% for the years of 1996 and 1997. From 1998 to 2006, this tax privilege has not been revoked by the relevant government authorities. During the Reporting Period, the Company was notified by the Shanghai Municipal Office of the State Administration of Taxation that the income tax rate for 2007 would be adjusted from the previous 15% to 33%. Following the implementation of the Enterprise Income Tax Law of The People's Republic of China since 1 January 2008, the income tax rate of the Group will be unified at 25%.

Profit after tax

Profit after tax was RMB1,683.1 million in 2007, representing an increase of 84.75% compared to RMB911.0 million in 2006.

C. Liquidity and Capital Sources

The Group's primary sources of capital are operating cash flows and loans from unaffiliated banks. The Group's primary uses of capital are costs of goods sold, other operating expenses and capital expenditures.

Capital SourcesNet cash inflows from operating activities (prepared under IFRS)

The Group's net cash inflows provided by operating activities amounted to RMB1,442.0 million in 2007, representing a decrease of RMB254.6 million compared to RMB1,696.6 million in 2006. Because of the increase in the costs of the Group's crude oil which was slightly below the increase in the sales prices of various major products during the Reporting Period, net cash inflows from profit before tax (net of depreciation) amounted to RMB3,853.7 million in 2007, representing an increase of RMB1,065.8 million of net cash flows compared to RMB2,787.9 million in 2006. Increased inventories balance at the end of the year 2007 led to an increase in cash outflows of RMB1,034.6 million in 2007 (as compared with an increase in cash outflows of RMB48.3 million during the same period of 2006). Changes in the year-end amounts of accounts payables, other payables and bills payable led to a decrease in cash outflows of RMB643.3 million in 2007 (as compared with a decrease in cash outflows of RMB345.6 million during the same period of 2006). Increases in the year-end balances of debtors, bills receivables and deposits led to a decrease in operating cash inflows of RMB387.7 million in 2007 (as compared with a decrease in cash inflows of RMB585.3 million during the same period of 2006 as a result of an increase in such year-end balances). In addition, the Group's income tax payment increased significantly due to a significant increase in profit during the Reporting Period. In 2007, income tax payment led to a cash outflow of RMB674.5 million (as compared with RMB63.4 million of cash outflow in 2006).

Table of Contents

Cash flow breakdowns of the Group during the reporting period (prepared under China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises (2006))

	2007	2006
	RMB 000	RMB 000
Net cash inflow from operating activities	1,784,572	2,040,679
Net cash outflow from investing activities	(511,231)	(1,352,541)
Net cash outflow from financing activities	(1,272,703)	(1,138,260)

Borrowings

The Group's total borrowings in 2007 amounted to RMB4,731.3 million, representing a decrease of RMB602.7 million, of which short-term bank loans decreased by RMB180.7 million, the current portion of long-term bank loans increased by RMB2.4 million and long-term loans decreased by RMB424.4 million. On 11 December 2006, the Company issued short-term commercial papers to institution investors within the PRC inter-bank debenture market. The short-term commercial papers had a principal amount of RMB2,000,000,000 with a term of 365 days. Each unit of the commercial papers bore a face value of RMB100 and the commercial papers were issued at the face value of RMB100 each, carrying a par interest rate of 3.83%. The commercial papers had matured on 11 December 2007 and were fully redeemed.

The Group managed to maintain its asset-liability ratio at a safe level by enhancing controls over both liabilities (including borrowings) and financing risks. The Group generally does not experience any seasonality in borrowings. Indeed, due to the nature of the capital expenditures plan, long-term bank loans can be arranged in advance of expenditures while short-term borrowings are used to meet operational needs. The terms of our existing borrowings do not restrict the Group's ability to pay dividends on its shares.

Liability-to-asset ratio (prepared under IFRS)

The Group's liability-to-asset ratio was 29.82% in 2007 compared to 29.53% in 2006. The ratio is calculated using this formula: total liabilities/total assets.

Table of ContentsD. Research and Development, Patents and Licenses

The Group generates a number of technology development units, including the Petrochemical Research Institute, the Polyester Fiber Research Institute, the Acrylic Fibre Research Institute and the Environmental Protection Research Institute. These units are charged with various research and development tasks with respect to new technology, new products, new production processes and equipment and environmental protection. The Group's research and development expenditures for the years ended 2005, 2006 and 2007 were RMB79.5 million, RMB51.6 million and RMB53.5 million, respectively, representing approximately 0.2%, 0.1% and 0.1% of the total sales, respectively, for those years.

The Group was not, in any material aspect, bound by any patents; licenses; industrial, commercial or financial contracts; or new production processes.

E. Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

The Company's equity interests in its associates comprised an equity interest of 38.26%, amounting to RMB687.4 million, in Shanghai Chemical Industry Park Development Co., Ltd., a company set up in the PRC; and an equity interest of 20%, amounting to RMB2,087.6 million, in Shanghai Secco Petrochemical Company Limited, a company set up in the PRC. The principal business of Shanghai Chemical Industry Park Development Co., Ltd. consists of planning, developing and operating the Chemical Industry Park in Shanghai, PRC, while the principal business of Shanghai Secco Petrochemical Company Limited is the production of petrochemicals such as ethylene.

Results analysis of the companies in which the Group has controlling interests or investment interests and which affected 10% or more of the Group's net profit:

Shanghai Secco Petrochemical Company Limited, which is primarily engaged in the production and distribution of petrochemicals, recorded operation income of RMB24,218.6 million and operating profit of RMB289.69 million in 2007.

I. Major suppliers and customers

The Group's top five suppliers in 2007 were Sinopec Pipeline Transport & Storage Branch, China International United Petroleum & Chemical Co., Ltd., Sinochem Petroleum Company, Shanghai Secco Petrochemical Company Limited and China National Offshore Oil Corporation. Total costs of purchases from these suppliers accounted for 69% of the total cost of purchases by the Group during the year, amounting to RMB37,093.8 million. The cost of purchases from the largest supplier amounted to RMB22,377.5 million, representing 42% of the total costs of purchases by the Group during the year.

The Group's top five customers during 2007 were Sinopec Huadong Sales Company, Sinopec Shanghai Gaoqiao Branch, Shanghai Secco Petrochemical Company Limited, Shanghai Chlor-Alkali Chemical Company Limited and Shanghai Petrochemical Asphalt Co., Ltd. The total sales derived from these customers represented 38% of the Group's total turnover during the year, amounting to RMB21,291.1 million. The sales derived from the largest customer amounted to RMB17,884.4 million, representing 32% of the turnover during the year.

To the knowledge of the Board, none of the directors (or their associates) or shareholders of the Company held any interest in the above suppliers and customers, namely Sinochem International Company, China National Offshore Oil Corporation, Shanghai Chlor-Alkali Chemical Company Limited, Sinopec Transport & Storage Branch, China International United Petroleum & Chemical Company Limited, Sinopec Huadong Sales Company and Sinopec Gaoqiao Branch are subsidiaries of the Company's controlling shareholder, Sinopec Corp. The Company owns an equity interest of 20% in Shanghai Secco Petrochemical Company Limited and 35% interest in Shanghai Petrochemical Asphalt Co., Ltd.

6.2 Company's Outlook on Future Developments (Business Prospects)

1. Industry's trends and competition posed to the Company

In 2008, the global situation will remain relatively stable. Nevertheless, affected by factors such as a volatile financial market and high oil prices, the world economy will continue to grow but at a slower rate, and with increasing uncertainties. Due to the ever-accelerating industrialization, urbanization, marketization and globalization, the economy of China is likely to maintain a steady and relatively fast growth, though the growth rate may witness a moderate decline. The domestic petrochemical market is expected to remain prosperous due to the gradually increasing demand for petroleum, natural gas, petroleum products and major petrochemicals, as driven by economic growth. However, petrochemical companies will still be exposed to a number of challenges as follows: high oil prices that is becoming a long term trend; possible new changes to the business cycle of the global petrochemical industry; the State's control over prices of domestic petroleum products that has not been loosened up; the impact of a tightening monetary policy, accelerated RMB appreciation, export tax rebates and the EU's REACH legislation; intensifying market competition caused by rapid expansion of the petrochemicals production capacity, both domestically and overseas; and more stringent requirements on safety, environmental protection, energy conservation and emission reduction as a result of the State's sustainable development strategy. All the above factors will have certain impact on the production operation of the petrochemical industry in China, adding risks to the operation of petrochemical companies.

In response to the changes in the foreign and domestic macro-economic environment, the Group will strive to intensify reform programs, adjust restructure, capitalize on business opportunities and accelerate development. It will also enhance management and regulate operation, striving to continue to achieve satisfactory operating results in 2008.

Table of Contents

2. The Company's opportunities, challenges and strategies ahead

2008 will be a crucial year of transition for the implementation of China's Eleventh Five-year Plan. During the Eleventh Five-year Plan, economic globalization deepens, with all sorts of technological innovations emerging and economic growth drivers diversifying. Between 2006 and 2010, the world economy is expected to grow at an annual average rate of between 3% and 4%, whereas demand for petroleum will grow at an annual average rate of 1% to 2% and demand for ethylene will maintain an annual average growth rate of 4% to 5%. China's economy will maintain its steady and strong growth, with the domestic demand for petroleum and ethylene expected to increase to around 420 million tons and 26 million tons respectively by 2010.

For China's petroleum and petrochemical industry, the Eleventh Five-year Plan on the one hand presents room for massive development and a rare opportunity for strategic development: the State will further strengthen and enhance the macro-economic control measures along the lines of changing the economic growth approach and improving the socialist market economy, so as to facilitate the healthy and rapid development of the national economy. On the other hand, the industry also faces challenges such as more severe constraints over resources; more stringent requirements on environmental protection; difficult tasks on energy conservation and emission reduction; intensifying market competition; the need for improving overall skill and technological standards, and so forth.

During the period of the Eleventh Five-year Plan, the Group will base on a scientific development vision to persist with the development objective of becoming a first-class China enterprise and an advanced corporation internationally, and building a modernized petrochemical enterprise with world-class competitiveness. The Group will be committed to matching external expansion with internal development, focusing on internal development as its mission and fully implementing the overall cost leadership strategy. Through the development of the structural adjustment project, the Group will effectively correct deficiencies such as inferior ancillary capacity in oil refining and the lack of full rationality in the petrochemical product mix and in the energy and power structure. Through integrated efforts on technological advancements and structural adjustments, quality enhancements and effective cost reductions, the Group will achieve a transformation and renewal of its obsolete facilities and an optimization and upgrade of its business structure, thereby further capitalizing on the Group's core operations and enhancing its overall competitiveness and economic efficiency.

Table of Contents

3. New business initiatives for 2008

In 2008, in the face of mounting pressure brought by the continued rise in international crude oil prices and the State's control on domestic petroleum product prices, as well as the tough challenge posed by the rapidly expanding petrochemical production capacity and intensifying competition, the Group will aim for a full implementation of its overall cost leadership strategy and strive for the building of a harmonious enterprise. It will further optimize its resource allocation; enhance the Three Basics management; ensure safety and environmental protection; emphasize energy conservation and emission reduction; speed up reforms and developments; and further enhance the development of team structure and develop corporate culture, with a view to continuously increasing the enterprise's market competitiveness and improving risk management.

i. Reinforcing management foundation to ensure smooth and satisfactory production operations

The Group will continue to push forward the Three Basics tasks to reinforce the frontline staff's self-improvement efforts on basic skill training, effectively strengthening the all-encompassing full-process management of safety, production and facilities, so as to lay a solid foundation for the smooth and satisfactory operation of the production facilities. The Group will continue to enforce the HSE management system with every effort and strictly comply with the Order on Production Safety, as well as fully implementing the safety and environmental protection accountability system at various levels. The Group will also further reinforce its effort on environmental protection and continue to push for clean production, striving to reduce the emission of three wastes and preventing major or serious incidents involving safety, environmental protection or occupational hazards. In addition, the Group will continue to work hard on the Three Basics tasks to enhance the operational standards and to achieve higher levels on major technical and economic indices for its facilities. Moreover, the Group will dedicate itself to strengthen the all-round and full-process management of production facilities, giving its best effort to the routine maintenance and large-scale inspection and maintenance turnaround of production facilities.

ii. Full implementation of the overall cost leadership strategy in light of the challenge posed by high oil prices

The Group will continue to utilize its overall advantage of being vertically integrated combining refining with petrochemical processing to further enhance the effective utilization rate of overall resources, so as to progress towards the objective of becoming an energy-conserving and environment-friendly petrochemical enterprise. The Group will maintain its direction of processing appropriately inferior and heavier crude oil resources to further improve the crude oil resource structure and processing method, so as to accomplish improvements in the business structure, product mix and fuel and power structure. Pursuant to the energy conservation and emission reduction control targets promulgated by the Eleventh Five-year Plan, the Group will further enhance its objective system and responsibility system to enhance an integrated utilization of energy and to carry out good recycling of water resources. The Group will also further enhance its internal control system and management, striving to reduce procurement costs for crude oil, bulk chemical raw material and fuel purchases, operating costs of facilities and various production operation charges, as well as regulating corporate operation acts to reduce operating risks and financial risks.

Table of Contents

iii. Seeking satisfactory and rapid completion of projects through dedicated efforts on corporate development tasks

The Group will accelerate the development of the structural adjustment project and will push ahead with technological innovations, striving to enhance its corporate competitiveness. It will make dedicated efforts on the construction of the structural adjustment project to ensure that the new 600,000-ton/year PX aromatics complex, the new 150,000-ton/year C5 segregation plant, the #3 and #4 boilers of adding flue gas desulphurization facilities to the furnaces of coal-fired power plants, the flue-gas recovery expansion project and the 220,000-volt transformer station alteration project will reach the planned stages on time and in good quality. It will also continue to strive for corporate competitiveness enhancement by advancing technological innovations, with reference to the needs of production operation, optimization adjustment; energy conservation and emission reduction. In addition, the Group will steadily push forward the development of an information system through dedicated efforts on information system security management, installation of advance control systems and enhanced application of systems such as the ERP.

iv. Making steady progress on institutional and systematic reforms with an emphasis on making overall plans and taking all factors into consideration

The Group will continue to push forward various internal reforms in an active and steady manner, so as to eliminate the institutional, systematic and structural obstacles affecting development. The Group will strive to resolve the settlement tasks on the reform of ancillary businesses by further improving the reformed enterprises tracking mechanism and expressing concerns and support to the reformed enterprises, so as to facilitate their stable and healthy development. It will also continue to make steady efforts on the clean-up work at the subsidiary level according to the principle of focusing on and highlighting the principal operation, with a view to completing the clean-up work within the year. In addition, the Group will focus on the progress and enhancement of reform measures already in place to conscientiously complete the implemented program of professional integrated management and to further improve the relevant business flow and implementation methods, from the perspectives of regulatory flow, efficiency enhancement and quality improvement. Meanwhile, the Group will actively push forward the institutional reform of the Company's internal business department.

v. Strengthening the staff contingent building based on the people-first principle

The Group will strive to integrate the all-round development of its staff and the all-round progress of the enterprise to the realization of growth and development. The Group will give its best efforts on staff contingent building, by way of strengthened efforts on staff selection and job position exchanges, as well as an enhancement of the democratic, open, competitive and meritocratic staff selection and assignment system. It will initiate a wide range of activities such as positional drills, technique competitions, operational drills and mentorship scheme, so as to elevate the occupational competence of the staff. In addition, the Group will also reinforce the management knowledge and skill training for the professional and technical staff to raise their professional competence. The Group will also actively carry out publicity and educational campaigns on legal issues, so as to strengthen the legal knowledge and law-abiding spirit of the entire staff, thereby forming a healthy atmosphere of working in strict compliance with the law.

vi. Cultivating a corporate atmosphere of fairness, justice, solidarity and harmony

The Group will strive to promulgate a culture of harmony, with dedicated efforts to cultivate a corporate atmosphere of fairness, justice, solidarity and harmony. The Group will continue to actively push forward the promulgation of its corporate culture, enriching the content of the Love your work and do your job conscientiously, be a sensible person; Follow the rules of operation and observe the labour discipline, be an honest person; be courteous and keep your word, be a civilized person professional ethics practice to effectively strengthen the entire staff's senses of truthfulness, responsibility and occupation. In addition, the Group will emphasize the development of harmonious labour relation, by dutifully enforcing the Labour Contract Law and Employment Assurance Law to safeguard the lawful interests of the staff. Moreover, the Group will also further improve the work environment and conditions for the staff, with focused efforts on resolving the practical issues on the staff's general concern, as well as further enhancing various fringe benefits such as medical insurance and bodychecks and the supplementary staff livelihood security system, so as to reinforce the staff's sense of belonging to the Group.

4. The risks to which the Company may be exposed to in its future development

i. The cyclical characteristics of the petroleum and petrochemical industry as well as the volatility of crude oil and refinery products prices may have an adverse impact on the Group's operation and production.

A large part of the Group's revenue is derived from the sale of petrochemicals. Historically, such products have been cyclical in nature and sensitive towards the supply and prices of raw materials as well as towards the overall economic situations. The markets where many of the Group's products are available respond sensitively to changes in industrial output and output level, the conditions of regional and global economies, cyclical changes in the prices and supply of substitutes, and changes in consumer demand. The above factors have a major impact, from time to time, on the prices of the Group's products available on the regional and global markets. Historically, these markets have experienced short supply during various periods which led to an increase in prices and profits, followed by a period of increased output which might result in oversupply and a decline in prices and profits. Given the reduction of tariffs and other import restrictions as well as China's relaxed control over the distribution and pricing of products, many of the Group's products will be subject to the impact of the petrochemical cycle of the regional and global markets. In addition, the prices of crude oil and petrochemicals will remain volatile and uncertain. Increased crude oil prices and fallen petrochemicals prices are likely to have an adverse impact on the Group's business, operating results and financial condition.

ii. Substantial capital expenditures and financing requirements are needed for the Group's development plans, presenting a number of risks and uncertainties.

The petrochemical industry is a capital intensive sector. The Group's capability to maintain and increase income, net income and cash flows has a bearing upon ongoing capital expenditures. The Group's capital expenditures amounted to approximately RMB2,134.1 million for 2007 (2006: RMB2,008.8 million), which were met by financing activities and part of the Group's internal funds. As at 31 December 2007, Sinopec Corp. (as the Group's controlling shareholder) provided guarantee to the Group's US$1.25 million long-term borrowings (2006: US$2.7 million).

The Group's capability to secure external financing in the future is subject to a number of uncertainties which include:

the Company's operating results, financial condition and cash flow in future;

China's economic conditions and the market conditions for the Group's products; financing costs and conditions of the financial market; and grant of government approval documents and other risks associated with the development of infrastructure projects in China, and so forth. The Company's failure to secure sufficient financing required for operation or development plans may have an adverse impact on the Group's business, operating results and financial condition.

iii. The Group may be exposed to intensifying competition.

Eastern China, a major market of the Group, has been experiencing a stronger economic growth and a higher demand for petrochemicals than other regions, which the Company believes, will prompt rival petrochemical companies to attempt to expand their sales and set up their sales networks in our major markets. This tendency is believed to continue and may intensify. Intensifying competition may have a material adverse impact on the Group's financial condition and operating results.

iv. The Group may not be able to pass on all increased costs due to rising crude oil prices.

At present, a significant amount of crude oil is being consumed by the Group for the production of petrochemical products. The Group attempted to mitigate the effect of increased costs due to rising crude oil prices by passing on the increased costs to the Group's customers. However, whether the Group's ability to pass on the increased costs to its customers is subject to the market conditions and the State's control. Because there was a time lag between rising crude oil prices and increasing petrochemical products prices, and that the State imposes stringent control over petroleum product prices, rising crude oil prices cannot be totally offset by increasing the sales prices of the Group's products. This may have a major adverse impact on the Group's financial condition, operating results or cash flow.

v. The Group's business operations may be affected by existing or future environmental protection regulations.

The Group is subject to the scrutiny of a number of environmental protection laws and regulations in China. Such laws and regulations permit the government to:

levy a tax on emission of wastes;

Table of Contents

levy a fine and a charge on acts that have seriously damaged the environment; and shut down any facilities which are not in compliance with the law, and request that a rectification be made or that the operation which is damaging the environment be suspended, all of which at the judgement of the Central Government.

Wastes are produced during the Group's production operation. Besides, operating permits are required for the Group's production equipment, and such permits may be subject to renewal, revision or revocation. The Group's operations are in full compliance with all applicable Chinese environment protection laws and regulations already promulgated and being enforced. However, the State has already enforced strict laws and environmental standards and may enforce stricter laws and stricter environmental standards. The Group cannot assure that the State or local governments will not enact more regulations or more strictly enforce certain (existing) regulations which may cause additional expenses on environmental protection measures.

- vi. The Group will be under a longstanding impact of competition and imported products from foreign companies upon China's accession to the World Trade Organization (WTO).

As a member state of WTO, China has undertaken to lift or reduce some tariffs and non-tariff barriers imposed on foreign players in the Chinese domestic petrochemical market, while such barriers used to benefit us. In particular, the tax rates of tariffs imposed on imported petrochemicals which are in competition with the Group's products have been reduced, and participation by foreign companies in investing in China's domestic petrochemical industry has been permitted to increase; restrictions on import of crude oil by non-state-owned companies will be relaxed gradually;

foreign investment enterprises will be granted with the right to import and trade in petrochemical products; and foreign companies will be permitted to distribute and market petroleum products in China's domestic retail and wholesale markets.

If these measures are implemented, the Group will consistently be affected by intensified competition and import from overseas. The Group believes that China's accession to the WTO will bring about a substantial amount of investments and businesses to China and accordingly, more opportunities will be available for the Group's product sales. The Group also truly believes that its products have been and will be able to maintain their competitiveness against products imported into China. However, tariff breaks on imported products may reduce the cost of imported products or may have an adverse impact on the revenues from the sale of some of our products, including a small number of major products. On the other hand, the Chinese Government may also lower the tariffs on our production equipment to be imported by us in future and lift the existing restrictions on the use of imported raw materials. Although the Group is confident that it is able to capitalize on new sales opportunities, the eventual impact of China's accession to the WTO on our business and operating results remains to be seen.

vii. The Group's profits, dividends and cash and cash equivalents may be reduced due to fluctuations in the value of the Renminbi. The People's Bank of China has set the conversion of Renminbi into foreign currencies, including US dollars. On July 21, 2005, the PRC government significantly changed its policy of pegging the value of the Renminbi to the US dollar by permitting the Renminbi to fluctuate within a narrow band against a basket of certain foreign currencies. Since the adoption of this new policy, the value of the Renminbi against the US dollar has fluctuated daily within a narrow band. During 2007, RMB witnessed a relatively substantial appreciation against the US dollar because of factors such as a depreciation of the US dollar. In addition, the PRC government continues to receive significant international pressure to further liberalize its currency policy, and as a result may further change its currency policy. A small portion of our cash and cash equivalents is denominated in foreign currencies, including the US dollar. Any increase in value of the Renminbi against other currencies, including the US dollar, may decrease the Renminbi value of our cash and cash equivalents that are denominated in foreign currencies. On the other hand, most of our revenues is denominated in Renminbi but a major part of our procurement of crude oil, certain equipment and certain debt repayments are denominated in foreign currencies. Any devaluation of the Renminbi in the future will increase our costs and jeopardize our profitability. Any devaluation of the Renminbi may also have an adverse impact on the value of dividends payable in foreign currencies by the Company for H shares and American Depository Receipts.

viii. Risks of the possibility of a higher tax rate. In June 2007, the State Administration of Taxation issued a notice stating that the first nine joint-stock enterprises authorized by the State Council to issue shares in Hong Kong in 1993 were still adopting expired preferential tax policies, and that the relevant local taxation authorities should correct the situation immediately. The discrepancies between the income taxes for the previous years calculated by the expired preferential tax rates and the income taxes calculated by the applicable tax rates should be treated in accordance with the relevant regulations stipulated by the Law on the Administration of Taxation Collection of The People's Republic of China .

The Company is among the afore-mentioned nine companies and applied the preferential corporate income tax rate of 15% in the previous years. After receiving the notice from Shanghai Municipal Office of the State Administration of Taxation in August 2007, the Company has adjusted the 2007 income tax rate from the previous 15% to 33%. Currently, the Company is uncertain whether the local taxation authority will demand retroactive payment of the income tax differences for the previous years, and is unable to estimate reliably the final results and possible risks regarding the matter. Following the implementation of the Enterprise Income Tax Law of The People's Republic of China on 1 January 2008, the income tax rate of the Group will be unified at 25%. Meanwhile, as the Company's 15% tax rate has become invalid, the past results of the Company may not be applied to project the Company's future results.

ix. Risks regarding the control by the majority shareholder.

Sinopec Corp., the controlling shareholder of the Group, owns 4,000,000,000 shares of the Group, representing 55.56% of the total share capital of 7,200,000,000 shares and assumes an absolute controlling position. Sinopec Corp. may, by taking advantage of its controlling position, exercise influences over the Group's production operation, funds allocations, appointments or removals of senior staff, etc, thereby producing an adverse impact on the Group's production operation as well as shareholders' interests.

x. Risks regarding the failure to complete the share reform.

The Company initiated its first share reform proposal in October 2006, but the first share reform proposal failed to obtain approvals by shareholders of the circulating A shares because such shareholders were not satisfied with the share reform proposal. In December 2007, the Company initiated the second share reform proposal, but the second share reform proposal was again rejected. According to the relevant regulations, starting from 8 January 2007, Shanghai Stock Exchange began to adopt a special arrangement of differentiated systems for listed companies that were unable to complete share reform, which involved the arrangement that the range of share price movement for such A shares were unitarily adjusted up or down by 5%, with a trading information disclosure system equivalent to that of ST and ST* stocks applied for such stocks. The Company does not rule out the possibility that the CSRC and Shanghai Stock Exchange may, depending on market conditions, introduce further arrangements of differentiated systems in a gradual manner for companies which have not yet completed the share reform. In addition, the CSRC will keep paying special attention to the implementation of share reform by the listed companies which have not yet implemented share reform when reviewing any securities-related applications by such listed companies, their substantial shareholders or ultimate controllers. Such regulations may have an adverse impact on the operating environment, market image and market financing activities of the Company.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with China Standards on Auditing for Certified Public Accountants. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements comply with the requirements of China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises (2006) issued by the Ministry of Finance of the People's Republic of China and present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position and financial position of the Company as at 31 December 2007, and the consolidated results of operations and results of operations and the consolidated cash flows and cash flows of the Company for the year then ended.

9.3 Changes in accounting policies

(1) Changes in accounting policies and the impact

The Group and the company adopted CAS (2006) on 1 January 2007. The significant accounting policies applicable to the Group under CAS (2006) are summarised in Note 3, to the Annual Financial statements prepared under China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises.

The Group has issued H shares, and the financial statements in prior years were reported by using the applicable PRC accounting regulations and the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). Pursuant to the requirements of the Q&A No.1 in China Accounting Standards Bulletin No.1 (CAS Bulletin 1) issued by the MOF in November 2007, the Group, at the date of first-time adoption, made retrospective adjustments based on the following principles.

Where the principles stipulated in CAS (2006) differ from those of the applicable PRC accounting regulations, and these principles in CAS (2006) are same as those adopted by the Group in preparing the financial statements in accordance with IFRS in prior years, the Group made retrospective adjustments to those items affected by the changes in accounting policies due to the first-time adoption of CAS (2006), based on the information used in preparing the financial statements in accordance with IFRS. In addition, the Group made retrospective adjustments to other items in accordance with the requirements of CAS 38 First-time Adoption of CAS (CAS 38) and CAS Bulletin 1.

Pursuant to the transitional provisions of CAS (2006), the Group made retrospective adjustments to the items of the following (a),(b),(c),(e),(f) and (h). Other items were not adjusted retrospectively.

Upon the adoption of CAS (2006), the Group's significant accounting policies changed as follows:

(a) Business combinations

For one disposed enterprise obtained from business combinations involving enterprises not under common control, the shortfall of the cost of acquisition over the Company's interest in the shareholder's equity of the acquiree was recognised as negative goodwill, which was amortised to profit and loss on a straight line basis. As of 1 January 2007, the credit balance of the long-term equity investment difference recognised in the business combinations (if any) was derecognised and adjusted to retained earnings.

(b) Investments in subsidiaries

In the Company's separate financial statements, investments in subsidiaries were accounted for using the equity method before 1 January 2007. Such investments are now accounted for using the cost method.

On 1 January 2007, the Company made retrospective adjustments on such investments obtained before 1 January 2007 in accordance with the policies in its separate financial statements. The change in accounting policy did not cause any effect on the consolidated financial statement.

Table of Contents

(c) Contribution by fixed assets and sales of assets to a jointly controlled entity

Before 1 January 2007, the shortfall of the acquisition cost of the Group's and the Company's contribution of fixed assets to joint ventures over the Group's and the Company's interest in the shareholder's equity of the acquiree was recognised in capital reserve; the excess of the transaction price of the Group's and the Company's sales of fixed assets to joint ventures over the carrying amount of the fixed assets was recognised in capital reserve.

As of 1 January 2007, the above profits and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its jointly controlled enterprises are recognised in investment income after being eliminated for the part attributable to the Group calculated based on its share of the jointly controlled enterprises. This policy was changed retrospectively on 1 January 2007. The relevant 2006 comparative items have been adjusted accordingly.

(d) Investment property

Properties held either to earn rental income or for capital appreciation, or for both were recognised as fixed assets before 1 January 2007. These properties are now accounted for as investment properties using the cost model. There is no effect on the opening retained earnings and prior years' retained earnings of the Group and the Company.

(e) Financial instruments

Before 1 January 2007, the measurement basis used in the preparation of the financial assets and liabilities is historical cost basis. Now according to Note 3(11) to the Annual Financial statements prepared under China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises, categories of financial instruments are recorded with the basis of fair value, amortised cost or cost respectively.

On 1 January 2007, the Company and the Group made retrospective adjustments to accounting policies related to available-for-sale financial assets, for which are not quoted in an active market and their fair value cannot be reliably measured, they are recorded at cost on 1 January 2006.

For other financial assets and financial liabilities, the difference of carrying amount stated at the amortised cost and the original cost is not material, so retrospective adjustments are not made.

(f) Capitalisation of general borrowing costs

Before 1 January 2007, borrowing costs on funds borrowed for general purposes and used for the acquisition or construction of fixed assets, and the unutilized borrowing costs on parts of the funds borrowed specifically for the acquisition or construction of fixed assets which have not been put into use (less any interest income earned from depositing the unutilized borrowed funds or any investment income on the temporary investment of those funds before being used on the asset) were recognised in profit or loss when incurred. As of 1 January 2007, such borrowing costs are now capitalised as part of the cost of assets, when certain conditions are satisfied. The Group and the Company have made retrospective adjustments based on this accounting policy.

Table of Contents*(g) Minority interests and minority shareholders*

Before 1 January 2007, the minority interests are presented in the liabilities and equity separately. While in the consolidated income statement, minority shareholders are presented as an allocation of net profit.

In order to comply with ASBE (2006), the Group has changed its accounting treatment relating to the presentation of the minority interests and minority shareholders. Minority interests are presented in the consolidated balance sheet within equity separately, which cause the increase of equity, and minority shareholders are as a part of the net profit in the consolidated income statement.

(h) Income tax

Due to retrospective adjustments made to above items (c),(e) to (f), the Group adjusted the deferred tax effect as at 1 January 2007.

Notes to the financial statements:1 Other income

During the year ended 31 December 2007, the Group recognised a grant income of RMB 93,900,000 (2006: RMB 282,141,800). These grants were for compensation of losses incurred due to the distortion of the correlation of domestic refined petroleum product prices and the crude oil prices, and the measures taken by the Group to stabilize the supply in the PRC refined petroleum product market during the respective year. There are no unfilled conditions and other contingencies attached to the receipts of these grants. There is no assurance that the Group will continue to receive such grant in the future.

The State Administration of Taxation (SAT) issued a tax circular Enterprise Income Tax Issues relating to Nine Companies Listed Overseas (Circular No. 664) in June 2007 which requested the relevant local tax authorities to rectify, immediately, the expired concessionary tax policy for the nine listed companies authorised by the State Council to issue shares in Hong Kong in 1993 which, at the time of writing, was still being applied. The notice stated that the difference in enterprise income tax (EIT) arising from the expired preferential rate and the applicable rate should be settled according to the provisions of Law on the Administration of Tax Collection .

The Company is one of the nine listed companies mentioned above and applied the preferential EIT rate of 15% in prior years. The Company communicated with the relevant tax authority to assess the situation and was informed that the EIT rate for the Company would be adjusted from the original 15% to 33% from 2007. The Company has not been requested to pay additional EIT in respect of any prior year.

In response to the SAT notice and communication with the relevant tax authority, the charge for PRC income tax for the year is calculated at the rate of 33% (2006: 15%) on the estimated assessable income of the period determined in accordance with relevant income tax rules and regulations. The directors of the Company consider that it is uncertain whether the relevant tax authorities will retrospectively claim additional EIT from the Company and that it is not possible to reliably estimate the eventual outcome of this matter. Consequently, no provision has been made in these financial statements in respect of the EIT differences arising from prior years.

The Company did not carry out business overseas and therefore does not incur overseas income taxes.

Pursuant to the PRC enterprise income tax law passed by the Tenth National People's Congress on 16 March 2007, the new enterprise income tax rates for domestic and foreign enterprises are unified at 25 per cent. and will be effective from 1 January 2008.

As the EIT rate applicable to the Company will be changed from 33% in 2007 to 25% in 2008, deferred tax recognised as at 31 December 2007 is based on the 25% tax rate that is expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled (2006: 15%).

11 Non-adjusting post balance sheet events

In March 2008, the Group received a grant income of RMB 247,280,000 as a compensation of losses incurred due to the distortion of the correlation of domestic refined petroleum product prices and the crude oil prices, and the measures taken by the Group to stabilize the supply in the PRC refined petroleum product market during the first quarter of 2008.

9.7 Differences between financial statements prepared under the China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS)

The Company also prepares a set of financial statements which complies with the China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises. A reconciliation of the Group's net profit and shareholders' equity prepared under the China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises and IFRS is presented below.

Table of Contents

Other than the differences in the classification of certain financial statements assertions and the accounting treatment of the items described below, there are no material differences between the Group's financial statements prepared in accordance with the China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises and IFRS. The major differences are:

Notes:

(i) Government grants

Under the China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises, government subsidies defined as capital contributions according to the relevant government requirements are not considered a government grant, but instead should be recorded as an increase in capital reserves.

Under IFRS, such grants are offset against the cost of asset to which the grants related. Upon transfer to property, plant and equipment, the grant is recognised as income over the useful life of the property, plant and equipment by way of a reduced depreciation charge.

(ii) Revaluation of land use rights

Under IFRS, land use rights are carried at historical cost less accumulated amortisation. Under the China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises, land use rights are carried at revalued amount less accumulated amortisation.

(iii) Goodwill

Under the China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises, the Group no longer amortises positive goodwill effective 1 January 2007. From 1 January 2007, goodwill is tested annually for impairment.

Under IFRS, with reference to IFRS 3, Business combinations, the Group no longer amortises goodwill effective 1 January 2005. From 1 January 2005, goodwill is tested annually for impairment.

As a result, there are no differences in respect of goodwill amortisation between the China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises and IFRS effective 1 January 2007. The difference in the shareholders' equity represents the two years of amortisation of positive goodwill during the period from 1 January 2005 to 31 December 2006 under previous China Accounting Rules and Regulations.

(iv) Change in tax rate on deferred tax

As the EIT rate applicable to the Company will be changed from 33% in 2007 to 25% in 2008, deferred tax recognised as at 31 December 2007 is based on the 25% tax rate that is expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled (2006: 15%). The amount represents the effects of change in tax rate on deferred tax assets.

The effect on the Group's net profit of significant differences between the China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises and IFRS are summarised below:
