Provident's principal executive offices are located at 830 Bergen Avenue, Jersey City, New Jersey 07306. Provident's telephone number is (201) 333-1000.

Who Can Vote

The Provident board of directors has fixed March 2, 2010 as the record date for determining the stockholders entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the Annual Meeting. Accordingly, only holders of record of shares of Provident common stock at the close of business on such date will be entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting. On March 2, 2010, 60,352,314 shares of Provident common stock, par value of $0.01 per share, were outstanding and held by approximately 5,992 holders of record. The presence, in person or by properly executed proxy, of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Provident common stock is necessary to constitute a quorum at the Annual Meeting.

How Many Votes You Have

Each holder of shares of Provident common stock outstanding on March 2, 2010 will be entitled to one vote for each share held of record. However, Provident's certificate of incorporation provides that stockholders of record who beneficially own in excess of 10% of the then outstanding shares of Provident common stock are not entitled to vote any of the shares held in excess of that 10% limit. A person or entity is deemed to beneficially own shares that are owned by an affiliate of, as well as by any person acting in concert with, such person or entity.

Matters to Be Considered

The purpose of the Annual Meeting is to elect three directors and ratify the appointment of KPMG LLP as Provident's independent registered public accounting firm for the year ending December 31, 2010.

You may be asked to vote upon other matters that may properly be submitted to a vote at the Annual Meeting. You may also be asked to vote on a proposal to adjourn the Annual Meeting. Provident could use any adjournment or postponement for the purpose, among others, of allowing additional time to solicit proxies.

How to Vote

You may vote your shares by completing and signing the enclosed Proxy Card and returning it in the enclosed postage-paid envelope or by attending the Annual Meeting. Alternatively, you may choose to vote your shares using the Internet or telephone voting options explained on your Proxy Card. You should complete and return the Proxy Card accompanying this document, or vote using the Internet or telephone voting options, to ensure that your vote is counted at the Annual Meeting, regardless of whether you plan to attend. If you return an executed Proxy Card without marking your instructions, your executed Proxy Card will be voted FOR the election of the three nominees for director and FOR the ratification of the appointment of KPMG LLP as Provident's independent registered public accounting firm for the year ending December 31, 2010.

Stockholders of record can vote in person at the Annual Meeting. If a broker holds your shares in street name, then you are not the stockholder of record and you must ask your broker how you can vote in person at the Annual Meeting.

The board of directors is currently unaware of any other matters that may be presented for consideration at the Annual Meeting. If other matters properly come before the Annual Meeting, Provident intends that shares represented by properly submitted proxies will be voted, or not voted, by the persons named as proxies in the Proxy Card in their best judgment.

Participants in Provident Benefit Plans

If you are a participant in The Provident Bank Employee Stock Ownership Plan or The Provident Bank 401(k) Plan, or any other benefit plans through which you own shares of Provident common stock, you will have received with this Proxy Statement voting instruction forms that reflect all shares you may vote under the plans. Under the terms of these plans, the trustee or administrator votes all shares held by the plan, but each participant may direct the trustee or administrator how to vote the shares of Provident common stock allocated to his or her plan account. If you own shares through any of these plans and do not vote, the respective plan trustees or administrators will vote your shares in accordance with the terms of the respective plans. The deadline for returning your voting instructions is April 15, 2010.

Quorum and Vote Required

The presence, in person or by properly executed proxy, of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Provident common stock is necessary to constitute a quorum at the Annual Meeting. Abstentions and broker non-votes will be counted solely for the purpose of determining whether a quorum is present. A proxy submitted by a broker that is not voted is sometimes referred to as a broker non-vote.

Directors are elected by a plurality of votes cast, without regard to either broker non-votes or proxies as to which authority to vote for the nominees proposed is Withheld. The ratification of the appointment of the independent registered public accounting firm is determined by a majority of the votes cast, without regard to broker non-votes or proxies marked Abstain.

Revocability of Proxies

You may revoke your proxy at any time before the vote is taken at the Annual Meeting. You may revoke your proxy by:

submitting written notice of revocation to the Corporate Secretary of Provident prior to the voting of such proxy;

submitting a properly executed proxy bearing a later date;

using the Internet or telephone voting options explained on the Proxy Card; or voting in person at the Annual Meeting; however, simply attending the Annual Meeting without voting will not revoke an earlier proxy.

Written notices of revocation and other communications regarding the revocation of your proxy should be addressed to:

Provident Financial Services, Inc.

830 Bergen Avenue

Jersey City, New Jersey 07306

Attention: John F. Kuntz, Esq.

Corporate Secretary

If your shares are held in street name, you should follow your broker's instructions regarding the revocation of proxies.

Solicitation of Proxies

Provident will bear the entire cost of soliciting proxies from you. In addition to solicitation of proxies by mail, Provident will request that banks, brokers and other holders of record send proxies and proxy materials to the beneficial owners of Provident common stock and secure their voting instructions, if necessary. Provident will reimburse such holders of record for their reasonable expenses in taking those actions. Provident has also made arrangements with Laurel Hill Advisory Group, LLC to assist Provident in soliciting proxies and has agreed to pay them a fee of $8,500 plus reasonable expenses for their services. If necessary, Provident may also use several of its employees, who will not be specially compensated, to solicit proxies from stockholders, personally or by telephone, facsimile or letter.

Householding

Unless Provident has received contrary instructions, Provident has sent a single copy of these proxy materials to any household at which one or more stockholders reside if Provident believes the stockholders are members of the same household. Each stockholder in the household will receive a separate Proxy Card. This process, known as householding, reduces the volume of duplicate information received at your household and helps reduce Provident's expenses. If you would like to receive your own set of proxy materials, please follow these instructions:

If your shares are registered in your own name, contact Provident's transfer agent and inform them of your request to revoke householding by calling them at 1-800-368-5948 or by writing them at Registrar and Transfer Company, 10 Commerce Drive, Cranford, New Jersey 07016, Attention: Investor Relations Department. Future proxy mailings will then be mailed to each individual stockholder.

If a bank, broker or other nominee holds your shares, contact your bank, broker or other nominee directly.

Recommendation of the Board of Directors

Your board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote FOR each of the nominees for director listed in this Proxy Statement and FOR the ratification of KPMG LLP as Provident's independent registered public accounting firm for the year ending December 31, 2010.

Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

Provident common stock is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Section 12(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. The executive officers and directors of Provident and The Provident Bank, and beneficial owners of greater than 10% of Provident common stock are required to file reports on Forms 3, 4 and 5 with the Securities and Exchange Commission disclosing beneficial ownership and changes in beneficial ownership of Provident common stock. The Securities and Exchange Commission rules require disclosure in the Proxy Statement or Annual Report on Form 10-K of the failure of an executive officer, director or greater than 10% beneficial owner of Provident common stock to file a Form 3, 4, or 5 on a timely basis. Based solely on a review of ownership reports and confirmations by executive officers and directors, Provident believes that during the year ended December 31, 2009, executive officers and directors timely filed all required stock ownership reports.

PROPOSAL I ELECTION OF PROVIDENT DIRECTORS

General

Provident's board of directors currently consists of 15 members and is divided into three classes, with one class of directors elected each year. Following the Annual Meeting, the number of members of the board of directors will be 12 due to director retirements.

Each of the members of the board of directors also serves as a director of The Provident Bank. Directors are elected to serve for a three-year term and until their respective successors shall have been elected and qualified. A director is not eligible to be elected or appointed to the board of directors after reaching age 72. Three directors will be elected at the Annual Meeting to serve for a three-year term and until their respective successors shall have been elected and qualified. On the recommendation of the Governance/Nominating Committee, the board of directors nominated Thomas W. Berry, Frank L. Fekete and Thomas B. Hogan Jr. for election as directors at the Annual Meeting.

All of the nominees for election at the Annual Meeting currently serve as directors of Provident and The Provident Bank. The stockholders previously elected Messrs. Berry and Fekete. Mr. Hogan was appointed to the boards of directors of Provident and The Provident Bank by the board of directors. There are no arrangements or understandings between any nominee and any other person pursuant to which any such nominee was selected. Unless authority to vote for the nominees is withheld, it is intended that the shares represented by the enclosed Proxy Card, if executed and returned, will be voted FOR the election of all nominees.

Each of the nominees has consented to be named a nominee. In the event that any nominee is unable to serve as a director, the persons named in the Proxy Card as proxies will vote with respect to a substitute nominee designated by Provident's current board of directors. At this time, the board of directors knows of no reason why any of the nominees would be unable or would decline to serve, if elected.

PROVIDENT'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS A VOTE FOR THE ELECTION OF THE NOMINEES FOR DIRECTOR NAMED IN THIS PROXY STATEMENT.

The Board of Directors

Provident's board of directors is comprised of individuals with considerable and varied business experiences, backgrounds, skills and qualifications who collectively have a strong knowledge of Provident's business and markets and are committed to enhancing long-term value. The Governance/Nominating Committee is responsible for searching for director candidates that meet the evolving needs of the board of directors. Director candidates must have the highest personal and professional ethics and integrity. Additional criteria weighed by the Governance/Nominating Committee in the director identification and selection process include the relevance of a candidate's experience to the business of Provident, enhancement of the diversity of experience of the board, the candidate's independence from conflict or direct economic relationship with Provident, and the candidate's ability and willingness to devote the proper time to prepare for and attend meetings. The Governance/Nominating Committee will also take into account whether a candidate satisfies the criteria for independence under Provident's Independence Standards and the New York Stock Exchange rules, and if a nominee is sought for service on the Audit Committee, the financial and accounting expertise of a candidate, including whether the candidate qualifies as an Audit Committee financial expert. While the Governance/Nominating Committee does not have a formal policy respecting diversity on the board of directors, consideration is given to nominating persons with different perspectives and experience to enhance the deliberation and decision-making processes of the board of directors.

William T. Jackson. Mr. Jackson is retired. He previously served as Executive Director of Bayview/New York Cemetery located in Jersey City, New Jersey until January 2006. Prior to that time, he was President and Chief Operating Officer of The Provident Bank since January 2007, and he was President of Provident and The Provident Bank since July 2004. He formerly served as President and Chief Executive Officer of both First Sentinel Bancorp, Inc. and First Savings Bank since January 2003, and as a member of both boards of directors. Corporate Governance Matters

Provident is committed to maintaining sound corporate governance principles and the highest standards of ethical conduct and is in compliance with applicable corporate governance laws and regulations.

Board of Directors Meetings and Committees

The board of directors of Provident meets quarterly, or more often as may be necessary. The board of directors met eight times in 2009. The board of directors currently maintains three standing committees: the Compensation Committee, the Audit Committee and the Governance/Nominating Committee. The board of directors of The Provident Bank meets monthly at least 11 times a year, as required by New Jersey banking law.

All directors attended no fewer than 75% of the total number of meetings held by the Provident board of directors and all committees of the board on which they served (during the period they served) in 2009. When the Provident and The Provident Bank board of directors and committee meetings are aggregated, all directors attended no fewer than 75% of the aggregated total number of meetings in 2009. Provident has a policy requiring each director to attend the annual meeting of stockholders. All persons serving on the board of directors at the time of the annual meeting of stockholders held on April 22, 2009 attended the meeting.

Board Leadership Structure and Risk Oversight

The board of directors believes that combining the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer positions, together with the appointment of an independent Lead Director, is the appropriate board leadership structure for Provident. The board of directors believes that the Chief Executive Officer is most knowledgeable about Provident's business and corporate strategy and is in the best position to lead the board of directors, especially in relation to the oversight of corporate strategy formation and execution. Management accountability and the board's independence from management is best served by maintaining a super majority of independent directors (following the Annual Meeting, Mr. Martin will be the sole management director), electing an independent Lead Director and maintaining standing board committees that are comprised of independent members and leadership. The Lead Director plays an important role on the board of directors and has the following responsibilities:

Schedules executive sessions of the non-management directors without management present at least two times each year and advises the Chairman of the schedule for such executive sessions.

With input from the non-management directors, develops agendas for, and presides over the executive sessions. The Lead Director provides the Chairman with timely feedback from the executive sessions where appropriate and oversees the preparation and timely distribution of minutes of the executive sessions.

Acts as the principal liaison between the non-management directors and the Chairman on issues relating to the working relationship between the board and management, including providing input as to the quality, quantity and timeliness of information provided by management to the board in order to provide that the conduct of board meetings allows adequate time for discussion of appropriate issues and that appropriate information is made available to the board on a timely basis.

Provides input to the Chairman regarding board meeting agendas and meeting materials based on requests from the non-management directors.

The entire board of directors is engaged in risk management oversight. At the present time the board has not established a separate standing committee to facilitate its risk oversight responsibilities, but the board will continue to assess whether such a committee would be appropriate. Consistent with New York Stock Exchange listing requirements, the Audit Committee assists the board of directors in its oversight of Provident's corporate-wide risk management organizational structure and the process established to identify, measure, monitor, and manage risks, in particular major financial risks. The board of directors receives regular reports from management, as well as from the Audit Committee and other standing committees regarding relevant risks and the actions taken by management to adequately address those risks.

Corporate Governance Principles

The board of directors has adopted Corporate Governance Principles, which are posted on the Governance Documents section of the Investor Relations page of The Provident Bank's website at www.providentnj.com. The Corporate Governance Principles cover the general operating policies and procedures followed by the board of directors including:

establishing the size and composition of the board of directors and the desired qualifications of directors;

setting a minimum stock ownership requirement for directors at 10,000 shares of Provident common stock to be achieved over five years;

providing for director orientation and continuing education and an annual performance assessment of the board of directors;

selecting board committee membership; and reviewing annual compensation paid to the non-employee directors.

The Corporate Governance Principles provide for the board of directors to meet in regularly scheduled executive sessions without management at least two times a year. Six executive sessions were conducted in 2009. Mr. Collins, who served as Lead Director in 2009, presided over these executive sessions conducted by the non-employee directors, all of whom are independent. Mr. Collins will retire following the Annual Meeting and the board of directors will thereupon appoint a new independent Lead Director.

Director Independence

The New York Stock Exchange rules provide that a Provident director does not qualify as independent unless the board of directors affirmatively determines that the director has no direct or indirect material relationship with Provident. The New York Stock Exchange rules require the board of directors to consider all relevant facts and circumstances in determining the materiality of a director's relationship with Provident and permit the board of directors to adopt and disclose standards to assist the board in making independence determinations. Accordingly, the board of directors has adopted Independence Standards to assist the board in determining whether a director has a material relationship with Provident. These Independence Standards, which should be read with the New York Stock Exchange rules, are available on the Governance Documents section of the Investor Relations page of The Provident Bank's website at www.providentnj.com.

In February 2010, the board of directors conducted an evaluation of director independence, based on the Independence Standards and the New York Stock Exchange rules. In connection with this review, the board of directors considered all relevant facts and circumstances relating to relationships that each director or his or her immediate family members and their related interests had with Provident.

After its evaluation, the board of directors affirmatively determined that each of Mr. Berry, Ms. Brooks, Mr. Collins, Mr. Connor, Mr. Fekete, Dr. Hernandez, Mr. Hogan, Mr. Jackson, Ms. Laud, Mr. McConnell, Mr. Mulkerin, Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. Shein is an independent director. The board of directors determined that Mr. Pantozzi and Mr. Martin are not independent because each of them has served as a Provident employee in the last three years. The board of directors specifically considered the following business and other relationships in reaching its independence determinations:

In 2009, The Provident Bank and The Provident Bank Foundation made total contributions of $10,460 to Homeless Solutions, Inc., a not-for-profit organization. Ms. Laud is the Chief Financial Officer of Homeless Solutions, Inc.

The Provident Bank leases space for a branch banking office from Fords Circle Associates LLC. Mr. Shein owns a 7.5% percent equity interest in Fords Circle Associates LLC. In 2009, The Provident Bank paid rent and related charges of approximately $53,000 for this branch banking office.

Governance/Nominating Committee

The current members of the Governance/Nominating Committee are: Messrs. Connor (Chair), Jackson, McConnell and O'Donnell. Each member of the Governance/Nominating Committee is considered independent as defined in the New York Stock Exchange corporate governance listing standards. The Governance/Nominating Committee's charter is posted on the Governance Documents section of the Investor Relations page of The Provident Bank's website at www.providentnj.com. The Committee met four times during 2009.

The functions of the Governance/Nominating Committee include, among other things:

to evaluate and make recommendations to the board concerning the number of directors, committee assignments and committee membership rotation practices;

to establish the qualifications, relevant background, and selection criteria for board members;

to make recommendations to the board concerning board nominees;

to conduct evaluations of the effectiveness of the operation of the board;

to develop corporate governance principles applicable to Provident;

to recommend revisions to the code of business conduct and ethics;

to make recommendations to the board regarding director orientation and continuing education; and to evaluate the Governance/Nominating Committee's performance on an annual basis.

The Governance/Nominating Committee identifies nominees for director by first assessing the performance of the current members of the board of directors willing to continue service. Current members of the board with skills and experience that are relevant to Provident's business and who are willing to continue service are first considered for re-nomination, balancing the value of continuity of service by existing members of the board with that of obtaining a new perspective. If any member of the board does not wish to continue service, or if the Governance/Nominating Committee or the board decides not to re-nominate a member for re-election, or if the size of the board is increased, the Governance/Nominating Committee will solicit suggestions for director candidates from all board members. In addition, the Governance/Nominating Committee is authorized by its charter to engage a third party to assist in the identification of director nominees. Candidates must have the highest personal and professional ethics and integrity.

Procedures for the Nomination of Directors by Stockholders

If a determination is made that an additional candidate is needed for the board, the Governance/Nominating Committee will consider candidates properly submitted by Provident's stockholders. Stockholders can submit the names of qualified candidates for director by writing to the Corporate Secretary at Provident Financial Services, Inc., 830 Bergen Avenue, Jersey City, New Jersey 07306. The Corporate Secretary must receive a submission not less than 120 days prior to the date of Provident's proxy materials for the preceding year's annual meeting. If the date of the annual meeting is advanced by more than 30 days prior to, or delayed by more than 30 days after, the anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting, a stockholder's submission must be so delivered not later than the close of business on the tenth day following the day on which public announcement of the date of such annual meeting is first made. A stockholder's submission must be in writing and include the following information:

Edgar Filing: PROVIDENT FINANCIAL SERVICES INC - Form DEF 14A

the name and address of the stockholder as they appear on Provident's books, and the number of shares of Provident common stock that are beneficially owned by such stockholder (if the stockholder is not a holder of record, appropriate evidence of the stockholder's ownership should be provided);

the name, address and contact information for the candidate, and the number of shares of common stock of Provident that are owned by the candidate (if the candidate is not a holder of record, appropriate evidence of the candidate's ownership should be provided);

a statement of the candidate's business and educational experience;

such other information regarding the candidate as would be required to be included in Provident's proxy statement pursuant to Securities and Exchange Commission Regulation 14A;

a statement detailing any relationship between the candidate and Provident, The Provident Bank and any subsidiaries of The Provident Bank;

a statement detailing any relationship between the candidate and any customer, supplier or competitor of Provident and The Provident Bank; detailed information about any relationship or understanding between the proposing stockholder and the candidate; and a statement that the candidate is willing to be considered and willing to serve as a director if nominated and elected.

Stockholder submissions that are timely and that meet the criteria outlined above will be forwarded to the Chair of the Governance/Nominating Committee for further review and consideration. A nomination submitted by a stockholder for presentation at an annual meeting of Provident's stockholders must comply with the procedural and informational requirements described later in this Proxy Statement under the heading Advance Notice Of Business To Be Conducted at an Annual Meeting.

Stockholder and Interested Party Communications with the Board

A stockholder of Provident and any other interested party may communicate with the board of directors, the non-employee directors, the Lead Director or with any individual director by writing to the Chair of the Governance/Nominating Committee, c/o Provident Financial Services, Inc., 830 Bergen Avenue, Jersey City, New Jersey 07306. A communication from a stockholder should indicate that the author is a stockholder and, if shares of Provident common stock are not held of record, the letter should include appropriate evidence of stock ownership.

Code of Business Conduct and Ethics

Provident has adopted a Code of Business Conduct and Ethics that is applicable to all directors, officers and employees of Provident and The Provident Bank, including the principal executive officer, principal financial officer, principal accounting officer, and all persons performing similar functions. The Code of Business Conduct and Ethics is posted on the Governance Documents section of the Investor Relations page of The Provident Bank's website at www.providentnj.com. Amendments to and waivers from the Code of Business Conduct and Ethics will also be disclosed on The Provident Bank's website.

Transactions With Certain Related Persons

Federal laws and regulations generally require that all loans or extensions of credit to executive officers and directors must be made on substantially the same terms, including interest rates and collateral, as those prevailing at the time for comparable transactions with the general public and must not involve more than the normal risk of repayment or present other unfavorable features. However, regulations also permit executive officers and directors to receive the same terms through benefit or compensation plans that are widely available to other employees, as long as the executive officer or director is not given preferential treatment compared to participating employees. Pursuant to such a program, loans may be extended to executive officers on substantially the same terms as those prevailing at the time for comparable transactions with the general public, except as to the interest rate charged, so long as such rate is generally available to participating employees. These loans may not involve more than the normal risk of repayment or present other unfavorable features. As of December 31, 2009, The Provident Bank had aggregate loans and loan commitments totaling $100,000 in the form of a home equity line of credit to one executive officer. The Provident Bank does not make loans to members of the board of directors or to their immediate family members and their related interests, as such terms are defined in The Provident Bank's Loan Policy.

Section 402 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 generally prohibits an issuer from: (1) extending or maintaining credit; (2) arranging for the extension of credit; or (3) renewing an extension of credit in the form of a personal loan for an officer or director. There are several exceptions to this general prohibition, one of which is applicable to Provident. The provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 that prohibit loans do not apply to loans made by a depository institution, such as The Provident Bank, that is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and is subject to the insider lending restrictions of the Federal Reserve Act. Any loans to Provident's and The Provident Bank's officers are made in conformity with the Federal Reserve Act and Regulation O.

Provident's Code of Business Conduct and Ethics requires directors and executive officers to promptly disclose any interest they may have in any proposed transaction involving Provident and The Provident Bank, and any such director or executive officer shall abstain from any deliberation or voting on the transaction. Any such transaction would require approval of a majority of the directors who have no interest in the proposed transaction. In addition, directors and executive officers annually disclose any transactions, relationships or arrangements they or their related interests may have with Provident or The Provident Bank. Such disclosures, together with information obtained from director annual statement of interest forms, are used to monitor related party transactions and make independence determinations.

Audit Committee Matters

Audit Committee

The members of the Audit Committee during 2009 were: Messrs. Fekete (Chair) and Mulkerin, Ms. Brooks and Ms. Laud. Mr. Hogan was appointed to the Audit Committee to serve commencing in March 2010. Each member of the Audit Committee is considered independent as defined in the New York Stock Exchange corporate governance listing standards and under Securities and Exchange Commission Rule 10A-3.

The duties and responsibilities of the Audit Committee include, among other things:

sole authority for retaining, overseeing and evaluating a firm of independent registered public accountants to audit Provident's annual financial statements;

in consultation with the independent registered public accounting firm and the internal auditor, reviewing the integrity of Provident's financial reporting processes, both internal and external;

reviewing the financial statements and the audit report with management and the independent registered public accounting firm; reviewing earnings and financial releases and quarterly and annual reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission; and approving all engagements for audit and non-audit services by the independent registered public accounting firm.

The Audit Committee met 12 times during 2009. The Audit Committee reports to the board of directors on its activities and findings. The board of directors believes that Frank L. Fekete qualifies as an Audit Committee financial expert as that term is used in the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Audit Committee Report

Pursuant to rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission, this Audit Committee Report shall not be deemed incorporated by reference to any general statement incorporating by reference this Proxy Statement into any filing under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, except to the extent that Provident specifically incorporates this information by reference, and otherwise shall not be deemed soliciting material or to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission subject to Regulation 14A or 14C of the Securities and Exchange Commission or subject to the liabilities of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

The Audit Committee operates under a written charter approved by the board of directors. The Audit Committee's charter is posted on the Governance Documents section of the Investor Relations page of The Provident Bank's website at www.providentnj.com.

Management has primary responsibility for Provident's internal control and financial reporting process, and for making an assessment of the effectiveness of Provident's internal control over financial reporting. The independent registered public accounting firm is responsible for performing an independent audit of Provident's consolidated financial statements in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) and to issue an opinion on those financial statements, and for providing an attestation report on management's assessment of internal control over financial reporting. The Audit Committee's responsibility is to monitor and oversee these processes.

As part of its ongoing activities, the Audit Committee has:

reviewed and discussed with management, and the independent registered public accounting firm, the audited consolidated financial statements of Provident for the year ended December 31, 2009;

discussed with the independent registered public accounting firm the matters required to be discussed by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, Communications with Audit Committees, as amended, and as adopted by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board; and received the written disclosures and the letter from the independent registered public accounting firm mandated by applicable requirements of the Public Accounting Oversight Board regarding the independent registered public accounting firm's communications with the Audit Committee concerning independence, and has discussed with the independent registered public accounting firm its independence from Provident.

Based on the review and discussions referred to above, the Audit Committee has recommended to Provident's board of directors that the audited consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2009 be included in Provident's Annual Report on Form 10-K for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission. In addition, the Audit Committee approved the re-appointment of KPMG LLP as the independent registered public accounting firm for the year ending December 31, 2010, subject to the ratification of this appointment by the stockholders of Provident.

Compensation Committee Matters

Compensation Committee

The current members of the Compensation Committee are: Messrs. Berry (Chair), Fekete, O'Donnell and Shein. Each member of the Compensation Committee is considered independent as defined in the New York Stock Exchange corporate governance listing standards. The Compensation Committee is responsible for executive management development and succession planning, and for reviewing and evaluating compensation programs and policies, including setting performance measures and goals, approving awards under existing compensation plans and administering long-term equity awards. On at least an annual basis, the Compensation Committee meets to review the performance of, and the compensation payable to the named executive officers, including the Chief Executive Officer. The basic elements of Provident's executive compensation program include base salary, an annual cash incentive primarily tied to corporate financial targets, a long-term equity award and certain other benefit arrangements, such as retirement benefits. The Compensation Committee's charter is posted on the Governance Documents section of the Investor Relations page of The Provident Bank's website at www.providentnj.com. The Compensation Committee met 14 times during 2009, including three conference call meetings for which no meeting fees were paid.

The Compensation Committee has retained the services of Amalfi Consulting as its independent compensation consultant to assist it in evaluating executive compensation programs and in making determinations regarding executive and director compensation. The independent compensation consultant reports directly to the Compensation Committee and periodically meets with the Committee in executive session, without the presence of management. Amalfi Consulting does not perform any services for Provident's or The Provident Bank's management or affiliates. In 2009, Amalfi Consulting conducted a market review of executive compensation at the direction of the Compensation Committee to validate the peer group and to provide updated total compensation market data for the named executive officers.

During 2009, the Compensation Committee assisted the board of directors with the implementation of the succession plan for the Chief Executive Officer position in connection with Mr. Pantozzi's retirement effective September 1, 2009. In that regard, Amalfi Consulting was retained by the Compensation Committee to provide the Committee with peer and market compensation data regarding the Chief Executive Officer position in connection with the appointment of Mr. Martin to that position.

The Compensation Committee determines the compensation payable to the Chief Executive Officer based on corporate financial performance against established goals and the Chief Executive Officer's individual performance. The Compensation Committee establishes corporate financial performance goals and individual goals for the Chief Executive Officer at the beginning of the year, and members of the Compensation Committee meet with the Chief Executive Officer during the year to review progress against the goals. The Compensation Committee also sets performance goals for, and determines the compensation payable to, the named executive officers. The Chief Executive Officer provides the Compensation Committee with performance assessments and compensation recommendations for each of the named executive officers and other members of executive management. The Compensation Committee considers those recommendations in arriving at its compensation determinations. The independent compensation consultant and other data sources are available to the Compensation Committee for assistance in these determinations.

In addition to evaluating Provident's overall financial performance in its review of the named executive officers, the Compensation Committee reviews how each executive officer performs his or her business responsibilities and their performance with respect to several key management competencies and behaviors. The named executive officers are held accountable for the performance of the business lines they manage. The key management competencies and behaviors are reviewed in the context of the named executive officer's effectiveness as a leader and his or her role in building a cohesive executive team. These competencies and behaviors include, but are not limited to, integrity, management skills, cooperation, teamwork, communication skills, leadership and vision. These performance characteristics, along with business accountabilities, form the basis of a performance review discussion with the named executive officer that reinforces the executive's role in achieving Provident's business plan and short- and long-term strategies.

The Compensation Committee assesses risks posed by the compensation plans maintained for the benefit of, and incentive compensation paid to, officers and employees and has determined that Provident's compensation policies, practices and programs do not pose risks that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on Provident.

Director compensation is established by the board of directors upon the recommendation of the Compensation Committee and is discussed in this Proxy Statement under the heading Director Compensation. Prior to 2009, the Governance/Nominating Committee was responsible for making recommendations on director compensation.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

Messrs. Berry, Fekete, O'Donnell and Shein served as members of the Compensation Committee in 2009. None of these directors has ever been an officer or employee of Provident. In addition, none of these directors is an executive officer of another entity where one of Provident's executive officers serves on the board of directors, or which had any transactions or relationships with Provident in 2009 requiring specific disclosures under Securities and Exchange Commission rules.

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

Executive Compensation Philosophy

The Compensation Committee believes that Provident's executive compensation program is consistent with promoting sound risk management and long-term value creation for Provident's stockholders. Provident's executive compensation program is intended to align the interests of its executive officers and employees with stockholders by rewarding performance against established corporate financial goals, and by rewarding strong executive leadership and superior individual performance. By offering competitive annual cash incentives, long-term equity compensation and competitive benefits, Provident's goal is to attract, motivate and retain a highly qualified and talented team of executives who will help maximize Provident's long-term financial performance and earnings growth.

The compensation paid to each named executive officer is based on the executive's level of job responsibility, corporate financial performance measured against annual goals, an assessment of the executive's individual performance and the competitive market. For the named executive officers and other members of executive management, annual incentive compensation is linked more directly to corporate financial performance, because these executives are in leadership roles that tend to influence corporate financial results.

The Compensation Committee regularly reviews the components of the executive compensation program with advice from Amalfi Consulting. In 2009, Amalfi Consulting was engaged to review Provident's executive compensation program, which included a review and recommendation of an appropriate peer group to assess competitive compensation practices, as well as for comparing performance against certain financial targets. Financial targets for 2009 were established based upon an initial peer group of 20 banking institutions. During 2009, two financial institutions in the peer group were removed because they were acquired by other institutions. The resultant peer group of 18 financial institutions used by the Compensation Committee in 2009 included publicly traded thrift and banking institutions with assets of $3 to $14 billion, having an asset mix similar to Provident as follows:

Valley National Bancorp

National Penn Bancshares, Inc.

First Niagara Financial Group, Inc.

F.N.B. Corporation

NewAlliance Bancshares, Inc.

United Bancshares, Inc.

Investors Bancorp, Inc.

Northwest Bancorp, Inc.

Signature Bank

First Commonwealth Financial Corp.

NBT Bancorp Inc.

WesBanco, Inc.

Community Bank System, Inc.

S&T Bancorp, Inc.

Beneficial Mutual Bancorp, Inc.

Dime Community Bancshares, Inc.

Flushing Financial Corporation

Sun Bancorp, Inc.

The Compensation Committee may modify the peer group from time to time based on mergers and acquisitions within the industry or other relevant factors. While Provident's executive compensation program targets base salary and annual cash incentive compensation at market levels, actual compensation paid to a named executive officer may vary based on other factors, such as the individual's performance, experience and tenure, and competitive market conditions.

Elements of 2009 Executive Compensation

Provident pays its named executive officers in accordance with a pay for performance philosophy by providing competitive compensation for demonstrated performance. The Compensation Committee evaluates Provident's corporate financial performance and its performance against peers. The Committee also takes into consideration the performance of the individual executive, the competitive market, business challenges and opportunities and the performance assessment presented by management. The Compensation Committee employs a total compensation approach in establishing executive compensation opportunities, consisting of base salary, annual cash incentive compensation, long-term equity awards (such as performance-vesting stock options, performance-vesting stock awards, and time-vesting restricted stock awards), a competitive benefits package and limited perquisites.

Base Salary

A competitive base salary is necessary to attract and retain talented executives. The Compensation Committee evaluates each named executive officer's base salary level on an annual basis. In general, competitive base salary information, or market data, is furnished to the Compensation Committee by the independent compensation consultant. Each named executive officer's base salary level is compared to the competitive market data. The Committee reviews the individual named executive officer's performance, leadership, operational effectiveness and experience in the industry and market conditions.

In connection with the appointment of Mr. Martin as Chief Executive Officer and following Amalfi Consulting's review of competitive compensation data for the Chief Executive Officer position, Mr. Martin's base salary was increased from $440,000 to $500,000 with the understanding that Mr. Martin's salary would be reviewed again in January 2011. Effective September 30, 2009, Mr. Lyons was appointed Chief Financial Officer. Following a review of competitive compensation data for the Chief Financial Officer position, Mr. Lyons' base salary was increased from $205,000 to $235,000.

In establishing base salaries for 2010, the Compensation Committee considered Provident's financial performance, as well as peer group and market-based industry salary data. In consideration of the difficult general economic conditions prevailing in 2009 and to maintain a competitive base salary for each of the other named executive officers, the Compensation Committee determined that base salary increases were appropriate for each of the other named executives to remain competitive with the external market.

Annual Cash Incentive Payment/The 2009 Annual Incentive Plan

Annual cash incentive opportunities are provided to Provident's named executive officers in order to align the attainment of annual corporate financial performance objectives with executive compensation. At the beginning of each year, the Compensation Committee assigns corporate financial targets and a range of annual cash incentive award opportunities to each named executive officer. The award opportunities are linked to a specific target and range of performance results for one or more corporate financial performance measures, as well as attainment of individual goals.

The Compensation Committee recommended, and the board of directors approved, the 2009 Annual Incentive Plan. The 2009 Annual Incentive Plan provided the opportunity for a cash incentive payment based upon the achievement of corporate and individual goals.

The cash incentive payments under the 2009 Annual Incentive Plan were primarily based on 2009 financial performance compared with 2009 targets relating to: (i) earnings per share (weighted 50%); (ii) efficiency ratio (weighted 25%); and (iii) total stockholder return relative to the performance of an identified peer group (weighted 25%) (collectively, the Corporate Targets). A portion of the payment of cash incentive compensation payable to each named executive officer was also based on the executive's performance against his or her 2009 individual goals and objectives, and may be made whether or not the Corporate Targets were met. For the named executive officers, other than Messrs. Blum and Raimonde, 75% of the cash incentive payment was based on Provident's financial performance against the Corporate Targets and 25% was based on the executive's performance against his or her individual goals and objectives. As Messrs. Blum (Lending) and Raimonde (Retail Banking) are responsible for business lines that have production goals, 50% of their cash incentive payment was based on Provident's financial performance against the Corporate Targets and 50% was based on the actual performance of their respective business lines against established goals and objectives.

The Compensation Committee established the following Corporate Targets and relative weightings for the 2009 Annual Incentive Plan:

Performance Metric	Weighting	Threshold (95%)	Target (100%)	Maximum (115%)
Earnings Per Share	50%	$ 0.80	$ 0.84	$ 0.96
Efficiency Ratio	25%	64.34%	63.36%	60.59%
Peer Group Total Stockholder Return (1 yr)	25%	³ 45% of peers	³ 50% of peers	³ 85% of peers

Under the plan, cash incentive payments based on Provident's actual 2009 financial performance would be made if 2009 financial performance met or exceeded 95% of any one of the Corporate Targets (Threshold). Assuming 100% achievement of personal goals and objectives, cash incentive payments would be a minimum of 17% of base salary for the Chief Executive Officer and 10% of base salary for the other named executive officers upon the achievement of at least one metric at the Threshold level, increasing to 100% of base salary for the Chief Executive Officer and 60% of base salary for the other named executive officers upon achievement of all metrics at the Maximum level. Since Mr. Martin was appointed Chief Executive Officer in September 2009, his award under the 2009 Annual Incentive Plan was prorated at the Chief Executive Officer award level for four months and at the level for the other named executive officers for eight months. Since Mr. Lyons was appointed Chief Financial Officer effective September 30, 2009, his cash incentive payment under the 2009 Annual Incentive Plan was prorated at the level of other named executive officers for three months and at the level of senior management for nine months.

For 2009, Provident achieved total stockholder return that exceeded 45% of the peer banking institutions, or Threshold performance for the total stockholder return against peers metric. The earnings per share and efficiency ratio performance metrics were not achieved. Based upon the foregoing, the Committee authorized payouts under the 2009 Annual Incentive Plan to the named executive officers as follows:

Name	Cash Incentive ($)
Christopher Martin	63,021
Thomas M. Lyons	25,888
Donald W. Blum	37,809
John F. Kuntz	26,813
Michael A. Raimonde	38,813
Paul M. Pantozzi ⁽¹⁾	128,906
Linda A. Niro ⁽²⁾

(1) Mr. Pantozzi, who retired as Chief Executive Officer effective September 1, 2009, was paid a full-year cash incentive payment.

(2) No cash incentive payment was paid to Ms. Niro who retired as Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer effective September 29, 2009.

Long-Term Equity Incentives

In 2008, Provident's stockholders approved the Provident Financial Services, Inc. 2008 Long-Term Equity Incentive Plan (the "Long-Term Equity Plan"), which provides the opportunity to grant various forms of equity incentives on a time-vesting and performance-vesting basis. The Compensation Committee believes that stock ownership provides a significant incentive in building long-term stockholder value by further aligning the interests of officers and employees with stockholders. The importance of this component of compensation increases as Provident's common stock appreciates in value and serves as a retention tool for executives. The inclusion of performance-vesting awards also encourages a long-term strategic focus. It is the current policy of the Compensation Committee to make equity grants when the window for trading by officers and directors in Provident common stock is open under Provident's stock trading policy. Historically equity awards have been granted in January or February of each fiscal year. Throughout the year, equity awards may be granted to new hires and promoted employees, or to existing employees to recognize superior performance with a grant date effective as of the date of the next regularly scheduled Compensation Committee meeting that falls when the window for trading is open under Provident's stock trading policy.

The Compensation Committee established the equity component of total compensation as a percentage of base salary, for the Chief Executive Officer and other named executive officers, based upon competitive total compensation data previously provided by Amalfi Consulting.

Participant	Equity Amount as a % of Base Salary
	Threshold	Target	Target+	Maximum
Chief Executive Officer	12.5%	50.0%	75.0%	100.0%
Other Named Executive Officers	10.0%	40.0%	60.0%	80.0%

The Compensation Committee determined that for all named executive officers other than the Chief Executive Officer, 75% of equity grants would be subject to performance-vesting and 25% would be time-vesting over three years. For the Chief Executive Officer, 100% of equity grants would be subject to performance-vesting. Such performance-vesting would be measured at the end of a three-year period based upon metrics approved by the Compensation Committee at the time of the equity grant. Currently the performance metrics include projections of average annual growth in earnings per share over a three-year period and a comparison of total stockholder return to the peer group over a three-year period. These performance metrics are designed to encourage conduct that drives long-term strategic decisions suited to maximizing stockholder value.

In February 2009, the Compensation Committee granted the named executive officers three-year performance-vesting non-qualified stock options and restricted stock with vesting tied to corporate financial performance against the established metrics for the period 2009 to 2011. Performance-vesting equity can be realized at Threshold, Target, Target-Plus or Maximum at levels shown in the table above depending on the level of actual corporate financial performance against the established metrics at the end of the three-year vesting period. If actual corporate financial performance does not meet or exceed Threshold, performance-vesting awards do not vest and are forfeited. In addition, each named executive officer, other than the Chief Executive Officer, was granted three-year time-vesting restricted stock as a retention incentive. The 2009 long-term equity grants were made based on the following matrix:

Participant	Three-Year Performance-Vesting		Three-Year Time-Vesting
	Non-Qualified Stock Options	Restricted Stock	Restricted Stock
Chief Executive Officer	50%	50%	0%
Other Named Executive Officers	25%	50%	25%

Benefits

Provident offers the named executive officers benefits generally available to all employees, including medical and dental, disability insurance, group life insurance coverage, an Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP) and a 401(k) Plan with discretionary employer matching contributions. Certain of the named executive officers have accrued benefits under a noncontributory defined benefit pension plan that was frozen as of April 1, 2003 following the adoption of the ESOP. In addition to pension benefits, certain medical and life insurance benefits are made available to certain employees when they retire. These post-retirement benefits have been eliminated. However, certain employees with ten or more years of service at the time the benefits were eliminated, including Messrs. Pantozzi and Martin and Ms. Niro, still qualify for these post-retirement benefits upon retirement.

Effective January 1, 2004, Provident established The Provident Bank Nonqualified Supplemental Employee Stock Ownership Plan (the Supplemental ESOP). The Supplemental ESOP provides additional benefits to participants whose benefits under the ESOP are limited by tax law limitations applicable to tax-qualified plans. The Supplemental ESOP requires a contribution by Provident for each participant who also participates in the ESOP equal to the amount, which would have been contributed under the terms of the ESOP, but for the tax law limitations, less the amount actually contributed under the ESOP. This benefit is payable in cash in a lump sum upon the death of a participant, a participant's separation from service or disability (as those terms are defined in the Supplemental ESOP), or a change in control (as that term is defined in the Supplemental ESOP) of Provident or The Provident Bank. None of the named executive officers, other than Mr. Pantozzi, have participated in the Supplemental ESOP.

Perquisites

The Compensation Committee believes that perquisites should be provided on a limited basis, and only to the most senior level of executive officers. The following perquisites are currently provided: a club membership for Mr. Martin, and the use of a company-owned automobile for Messrs. Martin, Blum and Raimonde. Messrs. Lyons and Kuntz are provided with a monthly car allowance. All of the named executive officers are eligible for an annual medical examination at Provident's expense.

Elements of Post-Termination Benefits

Employment Agreement

Provident entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Martin dated September 23, 2009. The initial term of the employment agreement is 36 months. Commencing on August 31, 2012, and continuing each August 31 thereafter, the agreement renews for an additional year such that the remaining term will be twelve full calendar months. The employment agreement provides that if employment were terminated for reasons other than for cause, or as a result of the executive's death, retirement or disability, the executive would be entitled to:

earned but unpaid base salary through the termination date;

an annual bonus to which the executive may be entitled under any cash-based annual bonus or performance compensation plan then in effect;

benefits due to the executive as a former employee other than pursuant to the agreement;

severance pay or liquidated damages equal to the executive's base salary and bonuses due for the longer of the remaining term of the agreement or twelve months following termination, with bonuses due to be the greater of (i) one-twelfth of the average annual cash bonus paid to the executive with respect to the three completed fiscal years prior to the termination, or (ii) the cash bonus paid to the executive for the last fiscal year prior to the date of termination multiplied by the number of full calendar months in the longer of the remaining term of the agreement or twelve months following termination; and the continuation of life, medical, dental and disability insurance coverage for the longer of the remaining term of the agreement or twelve months following termination.

The executive may resign from employment for good reason and receive these termination benefits in the event of certain adverse changes in the executive's employment conditions. Under the employment agreement, the termination benefits are subject to the executive's compliance with non-solicitation and non-compete provisions for a period of one year following the executive's termination, or for six months following a termination occurring after September 1, 2011. The employment agreement does not provide for benefits for a termination following a change in control. Those benefits are provided for in a separate change in control agreement between Provident and Mr. Martin described below.

Change in Control Agreements

Change in control agreements are reserved for a limited number of executives (currently ten persons). Benefits are payable under the change in control agreements after a termination of the executive following a change in control of Provident. Provident has entered into a three-year change in control agreement with Mr. Martin and two-year change in control agreements with Messrs. Blum, Kuntz, Lyons and Raimonde.

Following a change in control, the executive is entitled to a severance payment if:

the executive's employment is terminated during the term of such agreement, other than for cause, disability, or retirement; or the executive terminates employment during the term of the agreement for good reason.

Good reason is generally defined to include:

the assignment of duties materially inconsistent with the executive's positions, duties or responsibilities as in effect prior to the change in control;

a reduction in his or her base salary or fringe benefits;

a relocation of his or her principal place of employment by more than 25 miles from its location immediately prior to the change in control; or a failure by Provident to obtain an assumption of the agreement by its successor.

For Mr. Martin, the change in control severance payment is equal to three times the highest level of aggregate annualized base salary and other cash compensation paid to him during the calendar year termination occurs, or during either of the immediately preceding two calendar years, whichever is greater. For the other executive officers, the change in control severance payment is equal to two times the highest level of aggregate annualized base salary and other cash compensation paid to the executive during the calendar year termination occurs, or during either of the immediately preceding two calendar years, whichever is greater. In addition, the executive is generally entitled to receive life, health, dental and disability coverage for the remaining term of the agreement. Payments under the change in control agreements for executive officers, other than Mr. Martin, are reduced to the extent necessary to prevent an excess parachute payment under Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code.

Other Matters

Executive Stock Ownership Requirements

The Compensation Committee recommended, and the board of directors adopted, the following minimum equity ownership requirements for top executives to further align their interests with stockholders:

Tier I

Chief Executive Officer

100,000 shares

Edgar Filing: PROVIDENT FINANCIAL SERVICES INC - Form DEF 14A

Tier II

Other Named Executives

10,000 shares

Each of the named executive officers currently meets or exceeds these requirements. New executives are given five years from their date of hire or promotion to achieve the minimum equity ownership levels, and vested and unvested restricted stock awards and shares of Provident common stock held in the ESOP and 401(k) Plan count toward the requirements.

Departure of Executive Officers

Paul M. Pantozzi retired as Chief Executive Officer of Provident and The Provident Bank effective September 1, 2009 in accordance with Provident's retirement policy after a career of over 45 years. In connection with his retirement, Mr. Pantozzi received the following payments and benefits: (i) a lump sum payment of $225,161 in September 2009 in lieu of base salary due for the remainder of the calendar year; (ii) the transfer to him of ownership of the automobile made available to him as a senior officer of Provident; and (iii) a lump sum payment of $135,789 in lieu of the transfer of certain executive life insurance policies on his life. Mr. Pantozzi also continued to qualify for any cash incentive payment payable under the 2009 Annual Incentive Plan.

On September 22, 2009, The Provident Bank entered into a consulting services agreement with Mr. Pantozzi for a term that commenced January 1, 2010 through February 10, 2013. The consulting agreement provides for the payment of a monthly fee of $20,000 through December 31, 2012. In addition, Mr. Pantozzi will be eligible for the annual medical examination benefit available to the other named executives.

Linda A. Niro retired as Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer effective September 29, 2009 after a career of over 30 years with Provident and The Provident Bank. In exchange for releases of all possible claims against Provident and The Provident Bank and Ms. Niro's agreement to be available on a consultative basis following her retirement, Ms. Niro received a lump sum payment of $686,695, subject to applicable withholding taxes and health care coverage, dental insurance, vision benefits and life insurance for a period of 24 months following her retirement.

Tax Deductibility of Executive Compensation

Under Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code, companies are subject to limits on the deductibility of executive compensation. Deductible compensation is limited to $1 million per year for each executive officer listed in the summary compensation table. Compensation that is performance-based under the Internal Revenue Code's definition is exempt from this limit. Stock option grants and other equity grants subject to performance vesting are intended to qualify as performance-based compensation.

The Compensation Committee does not have a formal policy with respect to the payment of compensation in excess of the deduction limit. The Compensation Committee's practice is to structure compensation programs offered to the named executive officers with a view towards maximizing the tax deductibility of amounts paid. However, in structuring compensation programs and making compensation decisions, the Committee considers a variety of factors, including Provident's tax position, the materiality of the payment and tax deductions involved and the need for flexibility to address unforeseen circumstances. After considering these factors, the Committee may decide to authorize payments, all or part of which would be nondeductible for federal tax purposes.

In 2009, compensation paid to Mr. Pantozzi exceeded the deduction limit, primarily due to the payment of the equity component of his 2008 annual incentive compensation in February 2009, and payment to him of certain non-qualified benefits upon his retirement. In addition, Ms. Niro exceeded the deduction limit, primarily due to separation payments made to her upon her retirement. The Compensation Committee does not believe the provisions of Section 162(m) will materially affect the results of operations of Provident.

- (1) The amounts shown represent base salary earned during each fiscal year covered. There were 27 pay dates in 2009 and 26 pay dates in both 2008 and 2007. Mr. Raimonde's employment with Provident commenced in April 2007 and his base salary for 2007 reflects a partial year. Mr. Pantozzi retired as Chief Executive Officer effective September 1, 2009 and the amount shown for 2009 includes a lump sum payment of $225,161 in lieu of base salary for the balance of 2009. Ms. Niro retired effective September 29, 2009.

- (2) The amounts shown reflect the grant date fair value of stock awards computed in accordance with FASB ASC Topic 718. The 2009 amounts include the grant date fair value of three-year performance-vesting stock awards at Target performance achievement. The amounts shown for 2009 using the grant date fair value of those 2009 three-year performance-vesting stock awards at Maximum performance achievement would be $159,994, $59,093, $104,000, $100,006, $88,005, $350,002, and $91,998 for Messrs. Martin, Lyons, Blum, Kuntz, Raimonde and Pantozzi and Ms. Niro, respectively. The amounts shown for 2008 and 2007 reflect time-vesting stock awards only.
- (3) The amounts shown reflect the grant date fair value of stock options computed in accordance with FASB ASC Topic 718. The 2009 amounts include the grant date fair value of three-year performance-vesting stock options at Target performance achievement. The amounts shown for 2009 using the grant date fair value of those 2009 three-year performance-vesting stock options at Maximum performance achievement would be $80,000, $52,003, $50,002, $43,998, $350,001, and $45,999 for Messrs. Martin, Blum, Kuntz, Raimonde and Pantozzi and Ms. Niro, respectively. Mr. Lyons was not granted performance-vesting stock options in 2009. The amounts shown for 2008 and 2007 reflect time-vesting stock options only.
- (4) The amounts shown reflect the value of the cash component of each respective annual incentive plan.
- (5) The amounts in this column reflect the actuarial increase in the present value at each year end compared to the prior year end of the named executive officer's benefits under all defined benefit pension plans, and in the case of Mr. Pantozzi, supplemental plans maintained by The Provident Bank, determined using interest rate and mortality rate assumptions consistent with those used in Provident's financial statements. For Mr. Pantozzi, there was a decrease in the actuarial present values because he reached age 60 in a prior period, the assumed retirement age for these calculations. No named executive officer received preferential or above-market earnings on deferred compensation, except for Mr. Martin who earned $90, $535 and $942 in 2009, 2008, and 2007, respectively on deferred directors' fees in the First Savings Bank Directors' Deferred Fee Plan.
- (6) The amounts in this column represent the total of all perquisites (non-cash benefits and perquisites such as the use of employer-owned automobiles, car allowances, membership dues and other personal benefits), the value of cash dividend payments on unvested restricted stock awards, employee benefits (employer cost of medical, dental, vision, life and disability insurance), employer contributions to defined contribution plans (The Provident Bank 401(k) Plan, ESOP, and Supplemental ESOP), and earnings on any balance in other nonqualified supplemental plans. Amounts are reported separately under the following All Other Compensation and Perquisites tables.

Pension Benefits

The Provident Bank maintains a noncontributory defined benefit pension plan covering full-time employees who had attained age 21 with at least one year of service as of April 1, 2003. The pension plan was frozen as of April 1, 2003. As of April 1, 2003, employees are not entitled to accrue additional benefits. Employees hired after the freeze date are not eligible to enter the plan.

Pension plan participants generally become entitled to retirement benefits upon the later of attainment of age 65 or the fifth anniversary of participation in the plan, which is referred to as the normal retirement date. The normal retirement benefit is equal to 1.35% of the participant's average final compensation up to the average social security level plus 2% of the participant's average final compensation in excess of the average social security level multiplied by the participant's years of credited service to a maximum of 30 years.

Participants who have completed at least five years of vested service generally become 100% vested in their accrued retirement benefits. Vested retirement benefits generally will be paid beginning on the participant's normal retirement date. Participants with accrued benefits in the pension plan prior to April 1, 2003 continued to vest in their pre-April 1, 2003 accrued benefit.

A participant may elect to retire prior to age 65 and receive early retirement benefits if retirement occurs after completion of at least five consecutive years of vested service and attainment of age 55. If an early retirement election is made by a participant, retirement benefits will begin on the first day of any month during the ten-year period preceding the participant's normal retirement date, as directed by the retiring participant. If a participant elects to retire prior to attaining age 65 and after completing five years of credited service, his or her accrued pension benefit will be reduced 3% per year for the first five years prior to age 65 and 5% per year thereafter to age 55. However, if a participant elects to retire early after both attaining age 60 and completing 25 years of credited service, his or her accrued pension benefit will be unreduced. Any participant who terminated employment prior to January 1, 2002, will receive an early pension benefit equal to the actuarial equivalent of the annual amount of the normal pension that would otherwise have been payable to the participant had he or she not elected to receive an early pension. If the termination of service occurs after the normal retirement date, the participant's benefits will begin on the participant's postponed retirement date.

The table below shows the present value of accumulated benefits payable to each of the named executive officers, including the number of years of service credited to each named executive officer, under each of the pension plans and any related nonqualified supplemental plan (the SERP) determined using interest rate and mortality rate assumptions consistent with those used in Provident's financial statements.

(1) The calculation of the present value of the accumulated benefits are reported for The Provident Bank Pension, First Sentinel Pension and SERP Plans during the fiscal year ending December 31, 2009. These plans assume an RP-2000 Mortality Table for periods following December 31, 2007 for post- retirement and no pre-retirement mortality and interest rates of 6% at December 31, 2009, 2008 and 2007. It is also assumed that the benefit would be deferred to the first age each participant could collect unreduced benefits

(2) For Mr. Pantozzi, his benefit commencement date was September 1, 2009.
