This discussion is a supplement to, and is intended to be read together with, the discussions under the heading United States Federal Income Tax Considerations included in our Registration Statement on Form S-3 (File No. 333-158958). This summary is for general information only and is not tax advice.

New Legislation Relating to Foreign Accounts

Newly enacted legislation may impose withholding taxes on certain types of payments made to foreign financial institutions and certain other non-U.S. entities. Under this legislation, the failure to comply with additional certification, information reporting and other specified requirements could result in withholding tax being imposed on payments of dividends and sales proceeds to U.S. stockholders (as defined in the Registration Statement) who own the shares through foreign accounts or foreign intermediaries and certain non-U.S. stockholders (as defined in the Registration Statement). The legislation imposes a 30% withholding tax on dividends on, and gross proceeds from the sale or other disposition of, our common stock paid to a foreign financial institution or to a foreign non-financial entity, unless (i) the foreign financial institution undertakes certain diligence and reporting obligations or (ii) the foreign non-financial entity either certifies it does not have any substantial United States owners or furnishes identifying information regarding each substantial United States owner. If the payee is a foreign financial institution, it must enter into an agreement with the United States Treasury requiring, among other things, that it undertake to identify accounts held by certain United States persons or United States-owned foreign entities, annually report certain information about such accounts, and withhold 30% on payments to account holders whose actions prevent it from complying with these reporting and other requirements. The legislation would apply to payments made after December 31, 2012. Prospective investors should consult their tax advisors regarding this legislation.

Proposed Legislation

Legislation passed by the House of Representatives would require certain U.S. stockholders who are individuals, estates or trusts to pay a 3.8% surtax on, among other things, dividends on and capital gains from the sale or other disposition of stock. If this legislation is enacted, this surtax would apply for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2012. It is not clear whether this legislation will be enacted in its current form or at all. U.S. stockholders should consult their tax advisors regarding the effect, if any, of this legislation on their ownership and disposition of our common stock.
