Subject: Looking Ahead to the Annual Meeting

As you know, last week Air Products announced that it has submitted a slate of three nominees for election to the Airgas Board of Directors at this year's Annual Meeting, which will be held by mid-September. In addition, Air Products announced that it intends to submit three stockholder proposals at the Annual Meeting. Air Products had previously announced its intent to deploy these kinds of actions as part of its hostile attempt to acquire Airgas.

In response, we issued the press release you saw last week stating that we believe these measures are yet another attempt to acquire Airgas at the cheapest possible price solely for the financial benefit of Air Products and its stockholders.

So, what does this mean for all of us at Airgas? Keep in mind that these are normal tactics in a hostile takeover attempt, and we shouldn't allow them to distract us from running our business. Our Board of Directors, with the assistance of our independent advisors, is well-equipped to navigate these waters.

Over the years, our entrepreneurial spirit and customer-centric culture have yielded tremendous success for Airgas and our stockholders, and we again delivered solid results last quarter. We expect to carry that momentum forward, as your hard work is paying off and Airgas is in a strong position to capitalize on the economic recovery. Our individual and team performance remains critical. We will continue to be judged by our financial performance, and we need to do everything we can to deliver the strong returns our stockholders have come to expect from us.

I, along with the rest of the Board, am confident that Airgas has the right strategy to achieve the substantial value inherent in our company. Every single associate plays an integral role in that strategy, and I know I can count on all of you to remain focused on running our business while meeting or exceeding the needs of our customers.

Should you have any additional questions about these recent developments, I have attached a list of answers to some frequently asked questions about this situation. You can also reach out to your manager and/or review the materials available through the link titled "Air Products Unsolicited Proposal" on Airnet or www.airgas.com. As we have throughout this process, we will continue to keep you updated as events unfold.

Thank you again for everything you do for Airgas.

Peter McCausland

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
