Filer's SEC File No.: 1-1396

Date: September 19, 2012

September 19, 2012

Dear Cooper Shareholder,

On May 21, 2012, Eaton Corporation (Eaton) and Cooper Industries plc (Cooper) announced that they had entered into a definitive agreement pursuant to which Eaton Corporation Limited (through the formation of a new holding company incorporated in Ireland that will be renamed Eaton Corporation plc) (New Eaton) will acquire Cooper and Eaton (the Transaction). On September 6, 2012, New Eaton filed with the SEC Amendment No. 4 to its registration statement on Form S-4 in connection with the Transaction, which was declared effective on September 7, 2012. The definitive joint proxy statement of Eaton and Cooper that also serves as the prospectus of New Eaton, and which forms a part of the Form S-4, was filed by each of Eaton, Cooper and New Eaton on September 14, 2012 (the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus). The Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus is included along with this letter.

As Cooper is an Irish incorporated company, the Transaction is subject to the Irish Takeover Rules. In accordance with the Irish Takeover Rules, where Eaton gives a statement regarding the synergies that may result from the Transaction (known as a merger benefit statement under the Irish Takeover Rules), certain attestations to that merger benefit statement must be provided.

As Eaton previously disclosed a merger benefit statement in the announcement of the Transaction on May 21, 2012, that statement has been repeated in the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus on pages 288 through 290, and is also repeated in this letter.

In addition, included with this letter are reports from Eaton's auditor, Ernst & Young LLP, and Eaton's financial advisors, Morgan Stanley & Co. Limited and Citigroup Global Markets Limited, confirming (respectively) that the merger benefit statements have been made with due care and consideration.

Very truly yours,

Alexander M. Cutler

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

Eaton Corporation

Merger Benefit Statement

Eaton believes the acquisition of Cooper will provide the potential for meaningful synergies over time and that there is a significant opportunity to realize expected pre-tax operating synergies of $375 million and global cash management and resultant tax benefits of $160 million annually by 2016.

The expected sources of the expected annual synergies are:

potential sales synergies of $115 million per annum resulting from product packaging to common customers, improving channel sales, expanding service offerings and leveraging geographic strengths;

potential cost out synergies of $260 million per annum resulting from efficiencies and economies of scale in the areas of supply chain, manufacturing, customer service, logistics and central and regional level expenses; and potential global cash management and resultant tax benefits of $160 million resulting from the combined companies being incorporated in Ireland with organizational, operations and capitalisation structures that will enable the combined company to more efficiently manage its global cash and treasury operations and recognise unutilized income tax deductions in certain jurisdictions.

Eaton believes that it will achieve the run-rate on these synergies by 2016. In particular, Eaton believes that it will achieve $260 million in cost-out synergies with over 90% complete by 2015. Total acquisition integration costs of approximately $200 million are expected to be incurred through 2015.

Subject to the Scheme becoming effective, Cooper Shareholders will be able to share in the synergies resulting from the acquisition of Cooper by Eaton through the share component of the scheme consideration.

The estimate of synergies set out in this document has been reported on for the purposes of Rule 19.3(b)(ii) Takeover Rules by (i) Ernst & Young LLP; (ii) Citigroup Global Markets Limited; and (iii) Morgan Stanley & Co. Limited.

Copies of their respective reports are being mailed with the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus.

There are various material assumptions underlying the synergies estimate which might therefore be materially greater or less than estimated. The estimate of synergies should therefore be read in conjunction with the key assumptions underlying the estimates.

The synergy statements should not be construed as a profit forecast or interpreted to mean that New Eaton's earnings in the first full year following the acquisition, or in any subsequent period, would necessarily match or be greater than or be less than those of Eaton and/or Cooper for the relevant preceding financial period or any other period.

Assumptions

1. The bases of belief (including sources of information and assumptions made) that support the expected annual synergies are set out in the following paragraphs. The estimate of synergies set out in this document has been reported on for the purposes of Rule 19.3(b)(ii) of the Takeover Rules by (i) Ernst & Young LLP; (ii) Citigroup Global Markets Limited; and (iii) Morgan Stanley & Co. Limited. Copies of their respective reports are included with this document.
2. The expected sources of the stated expected annual pre-tax operating synergies of $375 million are:
  - 2.1. potential sales synergies of $115 million per annum resulting from product packaging to common customers, improving channel sales, establishing a service business and leveraging geographic strengths; and
  - 2.2. potential cost-out synergies of $260 million per annum resulting from efficiencies and economies of scale in the areas of procurement, supply chain, manufacturing, customer service, logistics, and central and regional general and administrative expenses.
3. The expected potential global cash management and resultant tax benefits of $160 million per annum result from the combined company being incorporated in Ireland with organizational, operations and capitalization structures that will enable the combined company to more efficiently manage its global cash and treasury operations and recognize unutilized income tax deductions in certain jurisdictions.
4. When evaluating the potential pre-tax operating synergies and global cash management and resultant tax benefits, the Eaton Directors have assumed the following:
  - 4.1. that the scheme will become effective and New Eaton will acquire 100% of the issued and to be issued share capital of Cooper following completion of the acquisition;
  - 4.2. that there will be no material unanticipated impact on the combined company arising from any decisions made by competition authorities;
  - 4.3. that there will be no material change to the market dynamics affecting Eaton and/or Cooper following completion of the acquisition;
  - 4.4. that there will be no material change to exchange rates following completion of the acquisition; and
  - 4.5. there will be no material change to income tax laws or regulations affecting Eaton and/or Cooper following completion of the acquisition.
5. In establishing the estimate of pre-tax operating synergies and global cash management and resultant tax benefits, the Eaton directors have assumed that Cooper's operations, processes and procedures are comparable to those of Eaton's related operations, except where publicly available information clearly indicates otherwise or the due diligence materials provided by Cooper to Eaton indicated otherwise. Eaton's management, aided by its previous integration experience and through an understanding of Cooper's operations and cost structure based on their own market intelligence and experience, and due diligence materials provided by Cooper, has determined the source and scale of potential pre-tax operating synergies and global cash management and resultant tax benefits. The pre-tax operating synergies, global cash management and resultant tax benefits, and acquisition integration costs of achieving the pre-tax operating synergies and global cash management and resultant tax benefits are incremental to Eaton's and, to the best of Eaton's knowledge, Cooper's existing plans. In addition to information from Eaton's and Cooper's respective management teams, the sources of information that Eaton has used to arrive at the estimate of potential pre-tax operating synergies and global cash management and resultant tax benefits, include:

Edgar Filing: EATON CORP - Form 425

5.1. the Cooper annual report and accounts;

5.2. Cooper's presentations to analysts;

5.3. Cooper's website;

5.4. Analysts' research;

- 5.5. Other public information;
- 5.6. Eaton's knowledge of the industry and of Cooper; and
- 5.7. Eaton's experience of synergies from previous transactions, in particular, its acquisitions of The Moeller Group and Phoenixtec Power Company.
6. The Eaton board of directors has not had discussions with Cooper's management to confirm the reasonableness of Eaton's assumptions set out above supporting the estimate of synergies. Therefore, there remains an inherent risk in the synergy forward-looking statements. No synergy statement in the Joint Proxy Statement/ Prospectus should be construed as a profit forecast or interpreted to mean that New Eaton's earnings in the first full year following the Transaction, or in any subsequent period, would necessarily match or be greater than or be less than those of Eaton and/or Cooper for the relevant preceding financial period or any other period.
