PROXY STATEMENT

PROSPECTUS OF

OF FNBR HOLDING CORPORATION

GLACIER BANCORP, INC.

MERGER PROPOSED YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT

Dear FNBR Shareholders:

As you may know, the boards of directors of FNBR Holding Corporation and Glacier Bancorp, Inc. have agreed on a merger of FNBR with and into Glacier Bancorp. Simultaneously, First National Bank of the Rockies, FNBR's subsidiary, will merge with and into Glacier Bank, Glacier's subsidiary, and will continue to operate under the name and as part of Bank of the San Juans, a division of Glacier Bank.

Under the terms of the Plan and Agreement of Merger, dated May 8, 2014, Glacier will pay to FNBR's shareholders, a total of 555,733 shares of Glacier common stock, plus a cash payment equal to $16,344,100, with each portion of the merger consideration being subject to adjustment as described in the attached proxy statement/prospectus.

Each outstanding share of FNBR common stock will be exchanged for a fixed number of shares of Glacier common stock and a fixed amount of cash. The total cash portion of the merger consideration will be reduced by the amount by which FNBR's capital prior to the closing is less than $32,688,200. Assuming for purposes of illustration only that the cash payment made by Glacier is $16,344,100, you will receive a total value of $185.43 in a combination of $97.82 in cash and 3.326 shares of Glacier common stock for each of your FNBR shares. This valuation is based on the $26.34 closing price of Glacier common stock on May 28, 2014.

We will hold a special shareholders meeting to vote on the merger proposal. In that regard, directors, of FNBR and First National Bank of the Rockies and certain principal shareholders of FNBR, who collectively own 95% of FNBR's outstanding common stock, have agreed in writing to vote in favor of the merger proposal. The FNBR special shareholders meeting will be held on July 16, 2014, at 11:00 a.m. local time, at First National Bank of the Rockies, 504 Main Street, Meeker, Colorado 81641. Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting, please take the time to vote by completing and mailing the enclosed form of proxy.

On behalf of the FNBR board of directors, I recommend that you vote FOR approval of the merger.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Why am I receiving these materials?

We are sending you these materials to help you decide how to vote your shares of FNBR Holding Corporation (FNBR) with respect to the proposed merger with Glacier Bancorp, Inc. (Glacier). The merger cannot be completed unless FNBR receives the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of FNBR 's outstanding common stock. FNBR is holding a special meeting of shareholders to vote on the proposals necessary to complete the merger. Information about the special meeting is contained in this document.

This document is both a proxy statement of FNBR and a prospectus of Glacier. It is a proxy statement because the board of directors of FNBR is soliciting proxies from FNBR shareholders. It is a prospectus because Glacier will issue its shares of common stock in exchange for shares of FNBR common stock in the merger.

What will FNBR shareholders receive in the merger?

Under the terms of the Plan and Agreement of Merger, Glacier will issue shares of its common stock and pay cash in exchange for all outstanding shares of FNBR common stock. Subject to the adjustments described below, Glacier will issue a total of 555,733 shares of common stock, and will pay $16,344,100 in cash, for all of the shares of FNBR.

The cash portion of the amount to be paid by Glacier will be subject to adjustment depending on the FNBR Closing Capital of FNBR immediately prior to the closing of the merger. If the FNBR Closing Capital is less than $32,688,200, Glacier will reduce the cash consideration by the amount of such deficiency. If the FNBR Closing Capital is greater than $32,688,200, FNBR may, in its sole discretion, make a special dividend to its shareholders in the amount of such excess.

The portion of the merger consideration consisting of Glacier common stock is initially set at 555,733 shares, although the number of shares may be adjusted in certain circumstances based on whether Glacier common stock is trading either higher or lower than specified prices immediately prior to the closing of the merger, in order to avoid the termination of the merger agreement.

On May 28, 2014, the closing price of Glacier 's common stock was $26.34 per share. If the average closing price (determined over a 20 trading day period prior to closing) of Glacier 's stock exceeds $33.82, the number of Glacier shares issued in the merger can be reduced, unless FNBR elects to allow the merger agreement to terminate. See The Merger Termination of the Merger Agreement.

By voting to approve the merger agreement, FNBR shareholders will give the FNBR board of directors the authority to elect, with the advice of FNBR 's legal counsel and its financial advisor, to cause FNBR to accept a reduction in the number of Glacier shares to be issued, if the Glacier average closing price exceeds $33.82 as described above. See The Merger Termination of the Merger Agreement.

What will I receive in the merger?

The merger consideration to be received by shareholders of FNBR is a pro rata interest in a pool of merger consideration consisting of 555,733 shares and $16,344,100 in cash, the stock and cash portions being subject to adjustment as described above. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, there were 167,805 shares of FNBR stock outstanding.

Edgar Filing: GLACIER BANCORP INC - Form 424B3

As described above, assuming for purposes of illustration only that (i) there is no increase or reduction of the cash portion of the merger consideration, and (ii) the average closing price for Glacier common stock is $26.34 (the closing price for Glacier common stock on May 28, 2014), each share of FNBR common stock would receive a total value equal to $185.43, consisting of $97.82 in cash and 3.326 shares of Glacier common stock.

Table of Contents

Generally, the cash/stock mix of merger consideration will be paid as described under "What Will I Receive in the Merger?" above that is, $97.82 in cash and 3.326 shares of Glacier stock for each FNBR share (based on the closing price for Glacier stock on May 28, 2014).

When will the merger occur?

We presently expect to complete the merger during the third quarter of 2014. The merger will occur after approval of the shareholders of FNBR is obtained and after the merger has received regulatory approval and the other conditions to the merger are satisfied or waived. Glacier and FNBR are working toward completing the merger as quickly as possible. If the merger does not occur for any reason by November 30, 2014, either Glacier or FNBR may terminate the merger agreement.

How soon after the merger is completed can I expect to receive my cash or Glacier common stock?

Glacier will work with its exchange agent to distribute consideration payable in the merger as promptly as practicable following the completion of the merger.

Will the shares of Glacier that I receive in the merger be freely transferable?

The Glacier common stock issued in the merger will be transferable free of restrictions under federal and state securities laws.

When and where will the special meeting take place?

FNBR will hold a special meeting of its shareholders on July 16, 2014, at 11:00 a.m. local time, at First National Bank of the Rockies, 504 Main Street, Meeker, Colorado 81641.

Who may vote at the special meeting?

The board of directors of FNBR has set June 12, 2014, as the record date for the special meeting. If you were the owner of FNBR common stock at the close of business on June 12, 2014, you may vote at the special meeting.

What vote is required to approve the merger agreement?

Approval of the merger agreement requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of FNBR's outstanding common stock. As described in this proxy statement, the directors of FNBR and First National Bank of the Rockies and certain principal shareholders of FNBR have agreed to vote the shares they own in favor of the merger agreement. Such persons own approximately 95% of outstanding FNBR stock.

What vote is required to approve the adjournment of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate?

The proposal to adjourn the FNBR special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, including adjournments to solicit additional proxies in favor of the merger, will be approved if a majority of the shares of FNBR common stock present at the special meeting, in person or by proxy, are voted in favor of the proposal.

How do I vote?

Edgar Filing: GLACIER BANCORP INC - Form 424B3

To vote, please indicate on the enclosed proxy card how you want to vote and then sign, date, and mail your proxy card in the enclosed envelope as soon as possible so that your shares will be represented at the special meeting.

Table of Contents

Can I change my vote after I have mailed my signed proxy card?

Yes. You may change your vote at any time before your proxy is voted at the special meeting. If your shares are held in your own name, you may change your vote as follows:

You may send a written notice stating that you would like to revoke your proxy and provide new instructions on how to vote;

You may complete and submit a later-dated proxy card; or

You may attend the meeting and vote in person. If you intend to vote in person and your shares are held by a broker, you should contact your broker for instructions.

If you choose either the first or second method above, you must submit your notice of revocation or your new proxy card to FNBR's Secretary prior to the vote.

What happens if I return my proxy but do not indicate how to vote my shares?

If you sign and return your proxy card, but do not provide instructions on how to vote your shares, your shares will be voted FOR approval of the merger agreement.

What do I need to do now?

We encourage you to read this proxy statement/prospectus in its entirety. Important information is presented in greater detail elsewhere in this document, and documents governing the merger are attached as appendices to this proxy statement/prospectus. In addition, much of the business and financial information about Glacier that may be important to you is incorporated by reference into this document from documents separately filed by Glacier with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). This means that important disclosure obligations to you are satisfied by referring you to one or more documents separately filed with the SEC.

Following review of this proxy statement/prospectus, please complete, sign, and date the enclosed proxy card and return it in the enclosed envelope as soon as possible so that your shares can be voted at FNBR's special meeting of shareholders.

Should I send in my common stock certificates now?

No. Please do not send your stock certificates with your proxy card. You will receive written instructions from Glacier's exchange agent after the merger is completed on how to exchange your common stock certificates for the merger consideration.

What risks should I consider?

You should review carefully our discussion under Risk Factors. You should also review the factors considered by the FNBR board of directors in approving the merger agreement. See Background of and Reasons for the Merger.

What are the tax consequences of the merger to me?

Glacier and FNBR expect to report the merger of FNBR with and into Glacier, and the contemporaneous merger of First National Bank of the Rockies with and into Glacier Bank, as tax-free reorganizations for United States federal income tax purposes under Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Internal Revenue Code). In connection with the filing of the registration statement of which this document is a part, Garlinton, Lohn & Robinson, PLLP, special tax counsel to Glacier, has delivered an opinion to Glacier that the merger will qualify as a reorganization under Section 368(a).

In a tax-free reorganization, a shareholder who exchanges his or her shares of common stock in an acquired company for shares of common stock in an acquiring company, plus cash, must generally recognize gain

Table of Contents

(but not loss) on the exchange in an amount equal to the lesser of (1) the amount of gain realized (i.e., the excess of the sum of the fair market value of the shares of acquiring company common stock (including any fractional shares) and cash received pursuant to the merger (excluding any cash received in lieu of fractional shares) over the shareholder's adjusted tax basis in its shares of acquired company common stock surrendered pursuant to the merger), or (2) the amount of cash (excluding any cash received in lieu of fractional shares) received pursuant to the merger.

For a detailed discussion of the material United States federal income tax consequences of the merger, see "The Merger Material Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger."

We urge you to consult your tax advisor to fully understand the tax consequences of the merger to you. Tax matters are very complicated and in many cases tax consequences of the merger will depend on your particular facts and circumstances.

What do I do if I do not agree with the merger? Do I have appraisal or dissenter's rights?

If you are a FNBR shareholder and you do not agree with the merger, vote against the merger, and take certain other actions required by Colorado law, you will have dissenter's rights under the Colorado Business Corporation Act Sections 7-113-101 through 7-113-302. Exercise of these rights will result in the purchase of your shares at fair value, as determined in accordance with Colorado law. Please read the section entitled "The Merger Dissenter's Rights of Appraisal" for additional information.

For additional information, see Information Concerning FNBR.

The Merger

The merger agreement provides for the merger of FNBR with and into Glacier, and the merger of First National Bank of the Rockies with and into Glacier Bank. In the merger, your shares of FNBR common stock will be exchanged for a combination of shares of Glacier common stock and cash. After the merger, you will no longer own shares of FNBR.

The merger agreement is attached as Appendix A to this document. We encourage you to read the merger agreement in its entirety.

In the merger, Glacier will issue shares of its common stock and pay cash for all shares of FNBR common stock outstanding as of the date of the closing of the merger.

If you do not provide notice of dissent, you will receive, for each share of FNBR common stock that you own, a fixed number of shares of Glacier common stock and a fixed amount of cash, without interest.

The total merger consideration that Glacier will pay for the shares of FNBR will be as follows:

Stock Portion: Glacier will issue a total of 555,773 shares of its common stock, subject to adjustment in the event that the average closing price for Glacier common stock prior to closing is less than $25.00 or more than $33.82. Assuming that the number of currently outstanding shares of FNBR (167,085) does not change prior to the closing of the merger, and assuming that the average closing price of Glacier common stock is $26.34 (based on the per share closing price of Glacier common stock on May 28, 2014), FNBR shareholders would receive 3.326 shares of Glacier common stock for each share of FNBR common stock. However, Glacier will not issue fractional shares, and will pay cash in lieu of such fractional shares, as described under The Merger Fractional Shares.

Cash Portion: Glacier will pay $16,344,100 in cash, subject to reduction, by the amount (if any) by which the FNBR Closing Capital of FNBR, as defined in the merger agreement, is less than $32,688,200. Generally speaking, the FNBR Closing Capital means FNBR's capital stock, surplus and retained earnings, after giving effect to specified adjustment. Assuming there is no reduction in the cash portion of the merger consideration, FNBR shareholders will receive $97.82 in cash for each share of FNBR common stock.

The actual total amount of cash to be paid cannot be determined until shortly before the effective date of the merger. Accordingly, the actual amount of cash that you will receive for each of your FNBR shares will not be determined until shortly before the closing of the merger.

Recommendation of FNBR Board of Directors

FNBR's board of directors unanimously recommends that holder of FNBR common stock vote FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement.

For further discussion of FNBR's reasons for the merger and the recommendations of FNBR's board of directors, see Background of and Reasons for the Merger Recommendation of the FNBR Board.

Opinion of FNBR's Financial Advisor

St. Charles Capital, LLC (St. Charles) has served as financial advisor to FNBR in connection with the merger and has given an opinion to FNBR's board of directors that, as of April 24, 2014, the consideration that FNBR's shareholders will receive for their FNBR shares in the merger is fair, from a financial point of view, to FNBR shareholders.

Table of Contents

A copy of the opinion delivered by St. Charles is attached to this document as Appendix C. You should read the opinion carefully to understand the assumptions made, matters considered and limitations of the review undertaken by St. Charles in providing its opinion.

The opinion is addressed to FNBR's board of directors and is directed only to the fairness of the per share consideration to the holders of FNBR's common stock from a financial point of view. It does not address the underlying business decision of FNBR to engage in the merger or any other aspect of the merger and is not a recommendation as to how any FNBR shareholder should vote with respect to the merger.

For further information, see Background of and Reasons for the Merger Opinion of Financial Advisor to FNBR.

Interests of FNBR Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger

When you consider the unanimous recommendation of FNBR's board of directors that FNBR's shareholders approve the merger agreement, you should be aware that certain members of FNBR management have interests in the merger that are different from, or in addition to, their interests as FNBR shareholders. These interests arise out of, among other things, provisions in the merger agreement relating to indemnification of FNBR directors. For a description of the interests of FNBR's directors and executive officers in the merger, see The Merger Interests of Certain Persons in the Merger.

The FNBR board of directors was aware of these interests and took them into account in its decision to approve the merger agreement.

FNBR Shareholders Dissenters' Rights

Under Colorado law, FNBR shareholders have the right to dissent from the merger and receive cash for the fair value of their shares of FNBR common stock. A shareholder electing to dissent must strictly comply with all the procedures required by the Colorado statutes. These procedures are described later in this document, and a copy of the relevant statutory provisions is attached as Appendix B. For more information on dissenters' rights, see The Merger Dissenters' Rights of Appraisal.

Regulatory Matters

Each of Glacier and FNBR has agreed to use its reasonable best efforts to obtain all regulatory approvals required to complete the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. These approvals include approval from the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the Commissioner of the Montana Division of Banking and Financial Institutions. Applications have been filed with these regulatory bodies seeking such approvals. We expect to obtain all such regulatory approvals, although we cannot be certain if or when we will obtain them. See The Merger Regulatory Requirements.

Conditions to Completion of the Merger

Currently, Glacier and FNBR expect to complete the merger during the third quarter of 2014. As more fully described in this proxy statement and in the merger agreement, the completion of the merger depends on a number of conditions being satisfied or, where legally permissible, waived. Neither Glacier nor FNBR can provide assurance as to when or if all of the conditions to the merger can or will be satisfied or waived. See The Merger Conditions to the Merger.

Termination of the Merger Agreement

The merger agreement provides that either Glacier or FNBR may terminate the merger either before or after the FNBR special meeting, under certain circumstances. Among other things, the merger agreement provides that Glacier may terminate the merger agreement if the average trading price of its stock, determined pursuant to the merger agreement, is above a specified amount, unless FNBR agrees to accept a reduced number of Glacier shares, and that FNBR may terminate the merger agreement if the average trading price of Glacier stock is below a specified amount, unless Glacier agrees to increase the number of its shares to be issued to FNBR shareholders. See The Merger Termination of the Merger Agreement.

Termination Fees

If either party terminates the merger agreement due to specified breaches of the merger agreement by the other party, the breaching party will be required to pay the non-breaching party a termination fee of $300,000. See The Merger Termination Fees.

Break-Up Fee

The merger agreement provides that FNBR must pay Glacier a break-up fee of $1,630,000, if the merger agreement is terminated due to the failure of FNBR to recommend approval of the merger by its shareholders, or is terminated due to the receipt of a superior acquisition proposal as defined in the merger agreement which is acted upon by FNBR. It should be noted, however, that the failure of FNBR's shareholders to approve the merger would not in and of itself trigger the obligation to pay the break-up fee, unless one of the foregoing factors also exists.

FNBR agreed to pay the break-up fee under the circumstances described above in order to induce Glacier to enter into the merger agreement. This arrangement could have the effect of discouraging other companies from trying to acquire FNBR. See The Merger Break-up Fee.

FNBR Shareholders' Rights After the Merger

The rights of FNBR shareholders are governed by Colorado law, as well as by FNBR's articles of incorporation and bylaws. After completion of the merger, the rights of the former FNBR shareholders receiving Glacier common stock in the merger will be governed by Montana law, and by Glacier's articles of incorporation and bylaws. Although Glacier's articles of incorporation and bylaws are similar in many ways to FNBR's articles of incorporation and bylaws, there are some substantive and procedural differences that will affect the rights of FNBR shareholders. See Comparison of Certain Rights of Holders of Glacier and FNBR Common Stock.

RISK FACTORS

In addition to the other information contained in or incorporated by reference into this document, including the matters addressed under the caption Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements, you should consider the matters described below carefully in determining whether to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

Risks Associated with the Proposed Merger

Because the market price of the Glacier common stock may fluctuate, you cannot be sure of the value of the shares of Glacier common stock that you will receive.

Although the number of shares of Glacier common stock that will constitute the stock portion of the merger consideration that will be exchanged for a share of FNBR is fixed, at the time of the FNBR special shareholder meeting, and prior to the closing of the merger, you will not be able to determine the value of the Glacier common stock you would receive upon completion of the merger. Any change in the market price of Glacier common stock prior to completion of the merger will affect the value of the merger consideration that FNBR shareholders will receive upon completion of the merger. Common stock price changes may result from a variety of factors, including but not limited to general market and economic conditions, changes in Glacier's business, operations and prospects, and regulatory considerations. Many of these factors are beyond the control of Glacier or FNBR. You should obtain current market prices for Glacier common stock.

The merger agreement provides that the number of shares of Glacier common stock to be issued in the merger may be decreased or increased, as the case may be, if the average trading price of Glacier common stock, determined pursuant to the merger agreement, is greater than or less than specified amounts. The FNBR board of directors would make the decision, without resoliciting the vote of FNBR shareholders, to either terminate the merger agreement or accept a decrease in the number of Glacier shares to be issued if Glacier's average trading price is greater than a specified amount. See The Merger Termination of the Merger Agreement.

The merger agreement limits FNBR's ability to pursue other transactions and provides for the payment of a break-up fee if FNBR does so.

While the merger agreement is in effect and subject to very narrow exceptions, FNBR and its directors, officers and agents are prohibited from initiating or encouraging inquiries with respect to alternative acquisition proposals. The prohibition limits FNBR's ability to seek offers that may be superior from a financial point of view from other possible acquirers. If FNBR receives an unsolicited proposal from a third party that is superior from a financial point of view to that made by Glacier and the merger agreement is terminated, FNBR may be required to pay a $1,630,000 break-up fee. This fee makes it less likely that a third party will make an alternative acquisition proposal.

Under certain conditions, the merger agreement requires FNBR to pay a termination fee.

Under certain circumstances (generally involving FNBR's breach of its representations and covenants in the merger agreement), Glacier can terminate the merger agreement and require FNBR to pay a termination fee of $300,000.

Combining our two companies may be more difficult, costly or time-consuming than we expect.

Glacier and FNBR have operated and, until the completion of the merger, will continue to operate, independently. It is possible that the integration of First National Bank of the Rockies into Glacier Bank could result in the loss of key employees, the disruption of the ongoing business of First National Bank of the Rockies or inconsistencies in standards, controls, procedures and policies that adversely affect our ability to maintain relationships with customers and employees or to achieve the anticipated benefits of the merger. As with any merger of banking institutions, there also may be disruptions that cause us to lose customers or cause customers to take their deposits out of First National Bank of the Rockies.

Table of Contents

Unanticipated costs relating to the merger could reduce Glacier's future earnings per share.

Glacier believes that it has reasonably estimated the likely costs of integrating the operations of First National Bank of the Rockies into Glacier Bank, and the incremental costs of operating as a combined financial institution. However, it is possible that unexpected transaction costs or future operating expenses, as well as other types of unanticipated adverse developments, could have a material adverse effect on the results of operations and financial condition of Glacier after the merger. If the merger is completed and unexpected costs are incurred, the merger could have a dilutive effect on Glacier's earnings per share, meaning earnings per share could be less than if the merger had not been completed.

Glacier has various anti-takeover measures that could impede a takeover.

Glacier has various anti-takeover measures in place, which are described elsewhere in this document. Any one or more of these measures may impede the takeover of Glacier without the approval of the Glacier board of directors and may prevent you from taking part in a transaction in which you could realize a premium over the current market price of Glacier common stock. See Comparison of Certain Rights of Holders of Glacier and FNBR Common Stock.

Risks Associated with Glacier's Business

Glacier is, and will continue to be, subject to the risks described in Glacier's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013, as updated by the Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2014 and subsequent Current Reports on Form 8-K, all of which are filed with the SEC and incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. CAUTIONARY NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This document, including information included or incorporated by reference in this document may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, (i) statements about the benefits of the merger, including future financial and operating results, cost savings, enhancements to revenue and accretion to reported earnings that may be realized from the merger; (ii) statements about our respective plans, objectives, expectations and intentions and other statements that are not historical facts; and (iii) other statements identified by words such as expects, anticipates, intends, plans, believes, seeks, estimates, or words of similar meaning. These forward-looking statements are based on current beliefs and expectations of management and are inherently subject to significant business, economic and competitive uncertainties and contingencies, many of which are beyond Glacier's and FNBR's control. In addition, these forward-looking statements are subject to assumptions with respect to future business strategies and decisions that are subject to change.

The following factors, among others, could cause actual results to differ materially from the anticipated results or other expectations in the forward-looking statements:

the merger may not close when expected or at all because required regulatory, shareholder or other approvals and other conditions to closing are not received on a timely basis or at all;

Glacier's stock price could change before closing of the merger, due to among other things stock market movements and the performance of financial companies and peer group companies, over which Glacier has no control;

benefits from the merger may not be fully realized or may take longer to realize than expected, including as a result of changes in general economic and market conditions, interest and exchange rates, monetary policy, laws and regulations and their enforcement, and the degree competition in the geographic and business areas in which Glacier and FNBR operate;

FNBR's business may not be integrated into Glacier's successfully, or such integration may take longer to accomplish than expected; the anticipated growth opportunities and cost savings from the merger may not be fully realized or may take longer to realize than expected; operating costs, customer losses and business disruption following the merger, including adverse developments in relationships with employees, may be greater than expected; and management time and effort may be diverted to the resolution of merger-related issues.

Additional factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking statements are discussed in Glacier's reports filed with the SEC.

All subsequent written and oral forward-looking statements concerning the proposed transaction or other matters attributable to Glacier or FNBR or any person acting on behalf of Glacier or FNBR are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements above. Neither Glacier nor FNBR undertakes any obligation to update any forward-looking statements to reflect circumstances or events that occur after the date the forward-looking statements are made.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

In addition to the results presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP), the table above contains certain non-GAAP financial measures. Glacier believes that providing these non-GAAP financial measures provides investors with information useful in understanding Glacier s financial performance, performance trends, and financial position. While Glacier uses these non-GAAP measures in its analysis of Glacier s performance, this information should not be considered an alternative to measurements required by GAAP.

The reconciling item between the GAAP and non-GAAP financial measures was the third quarter of 2011 goodwill impairment charge (net of tax) of $32.6 million.

The goodwill impairment charge was $40.2 million with a tax benefit of $7.6 million which resulted in a goodwill impairment charge (net of tax) of $32.6 million. The tax benefit applied only to the $19.4 million of goodwill associated with taxable acquisitions and was determined based on Glacier s marginal income tax rate of 38.9%.

Table of Contents

The basic and diluted earnings per share reconciling items were determined based on the goodwill impairment charge (net of tax) divided by the weighted average diluted shares of 71,915,073.

The goodwill impairment charge (net of tax) was included in determining earnings for both the GAAP return on average assets and GAAP return on average equity. The average assets used in the GAAP and non-GAAP return on average assets ratios were $6.9 billion and $6.9 billion, respectively, for the year ended December 31, 2011. The average equity used in the GAAP and non-GAAP return on average equity ratios were $858 million and $866 million, respectively, for the year ended December 31, 2011.

The dividend payout ratio is calculated by dividing dividends declared per share by basic earnings per share. The non-GAAP dividend payout ratio uses the non-GAAP basic earnings per share for calculating the ratio.

FNBR Common Stock

Presently, no active trading market exists for the FNBR common stock and other than trades between current FNBR shareholders, there have been no private sales of FNBR common stock in the last 10 years. If FNBR was to remain independent, management of FNBR does not expect that a market for FNBR common stock would develop. No registered broker/dealer makes a market in FNBR common stock, and FNBR common stock is not listed or quoted on any stock exchange or automated quotation system. FNBR acts as its own transfer agent and registrar.

Occasionally, management of FNBR becomes aware of trades of private sales of its common stock and the prices at which these trades were executed. In the 2012-2013 timeframe there were a limited number of stock transactions, primarily comprised of either inter-family transfers for no consideration, issuances to employees at pre-established plan prices, or buy backs by FNBR at set price determined annually by FNBR.

At June 12, 2014, the 167,084.60 outstanding shares of FNBR common stock were held by approximately 36 holders of record.

FNBR HOLDING CORPORATION SPECIAL SHAREHOLDERS MEETING

Date, Time, Place

The FNBR special meeting of shareholders will be held on July 16, 2014, at 11:00 a.m. local time, at First National Bank of the Rockies, 504 Main Street, Meeker, Colorado 81641.

As described below under Vote Required and Quorum, approval of the merger agreement requires the affirmative vote of at least a majority of the shares of FNBR's outstanding common stock. The proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, including adjournments to solicit additional proxies, requires the approval of a majority of FNBR common stock present at the special meeting, in person or by proxy.

Purpose

At the special meeting, FNBR shareholders will:

consider and vote on a proposal to approve the merger, and if necessary, consider and act upon a proposal to adjourn the special meeting to allow additional time to solicit proxies.

The FNBR board of directors has fixed 5:00 p.m. local time on June 12, 2014 as the record date for determining the holders of shares of FNBR common stock entitled to notice of and to vote at the special meeting. At the close of business on the record date, there were 167,084.60 shares of common stock issued and outstanding and held by approximately 36 holders of record. The directors of FNBR and First National Bank of the Rockies and certain principal shareholders of FNBR have agreed to vote all shares held or controlled by them in favor of approval of the merger. A total of 157,965 outstanding shares, or approximately 95% of the outstanding shares of FNBR common stock, are covered by the voting agreement. See The Merger Interests of Certain Persons in the Merger Voting Agreement.

Vote Required and Quorum

The affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of FNBR's outstanding common stock is required to approve the merger. At least a majority of the total outstanding shares of FNBR common stock must be present, either in person or by proxy, in order to constitute a quorum for the meeting. For purposes of determining a quorum, abstentions and broker nonvotes (that is, proxies from brokers or nominees, indicating that such person has not received instructions from the beneficial owners or other persons entitled to vote shares as to a matter with respect to which the broker or nominees do not have discretionary power to vote) are counted in determining the shares present at a meeting.

For voting purposes, however, only shares actually voted for the approval of the merger agreement, and neither abstentions nor broker nonvotes, will be counted as favorable votes in determining whether the merger agreement is approved by the holders of FNBR common stock. As a result, abstentions and broker nonvotes will have the same effect as votes against approval of the merger agreement.

Table of Contents

The proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, including adjournments to solicit additional proxies in favor of the merger, will be approved by a majority of the votes present, in person or by proxy, at the special meeting, assuming a quorum is present at the special meeting. If less than a quorum is represented at the special meeting, a majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the special meeting for a period not to exceed 60 days at any one adjournment.

BACKGROUND OF AND REASONS FOR THE MERGER

Background of the Merger

During 2013, the directors of FNBR discussed and considered strategic alternatives to enhance shareholder value and achieve future shareholder liquidity. They identified Glacier, among other entities, as an attractive future merger partner in view of Glacier's successful track record with other acquisitions, its emphasis on locally managed community banking, and its strong financial performance. On October 9, 2013, FNBR engaged St. Charles Capital, LLC (St. Charles) to provide advisory services to FNBR in its discussions with Glacier and to consider and possibly pursue other alternatives.

After being engaged, St. Charles contacted Glacier's investment banking advisor, D.A. Davidson & Co. (Davidson) to provide information required to enable Glacier to submit an indication of interest. On October 31, 2013, FNBR signed a non-disclosure agreement with Glacier for the confidential exchange of nonpublic information in connection with a possible transaction. Thereafter, Davidson delivered a due diligence request list identifying the financial and operational information that Glacier would require in order to submit a preliminary proposal.

From November 1 to November 22, 2013, FNBR provided Glacier with supplemental information regarding its business, markets, operations, and financial results, condition and prospects. On November 20, 2013 Peter Waller, President and CEO of FNBR and Kevin Cochran, Chief Financial Officer of FNBR, met in Kalispell, Montana with Michael Blodnick, CEO of Glacier, to become acquainted and to discuss each organization's approach to community banking and to share financial and operational information.

On November 22, 2013 Glacier presented an indication of interest proposal with the total transaction value of approximately $29.7 million based on FNBR's financial condition as of September 30. The directors of FNBR met on November 25, 2013 to review the proposal and determined to contact other additional parties. During December of 2013, St. Charles contacted eight other parties regarding a potential merger with FNBR. As a result of its marketing process, FNBR received one proposal which the board of directors deemed as an inferior offer to Glacier's. On January 7, St. Charles contacted Davidson to re-engage in conversations regarding Glacier's proposal.

On January 15, following consultation between Mr. Blodnick and Glacier board members, Glacier delivered a nonbinding Term Sheet setting forth the proposed terms of the merger, including total consideration of $31.1 million based on the estimated consolidated tangible equity of FNBR as of December 31. The parties and their legal and financial advisors further negotiated the wording of several aspects of the Term Sheet, and on January 17 Mr. Blodnick and Mr. Waller signed the Term Sheet.

Between January and April of 2014, Glacier, FNBR, First National Bank of the Rockies (the Bank), and their respective financial and legal advisors conducted appropriate due diligence and drafted and negotiated the merger agreement and related ancillary agreements. Glacier's due diligence review included an extensive loan due diligence review conducted by DLS Consulting and supported by Glacier's Chief Credit Officer. Following receipt of FNBR's March 31, 2014 financial statements, the parties updated the merger consideration as set forth in the merger agreement to reflect the consolidated tangible equity of FNBR as of March 31.

On April 24, the board of directors of FNBR, together with its legal counsel and St. Charles, met to consider approval of the merger agreement. St. Charles presented its analysis and opinion as to the fairness of the merger, from a financial point of view. Among other matters considered, the FNBR board of directors reviewed the specific terms of the merger agreement, the form and value of the consideration to be received by shareholders, the price and historical performance of Glacier stock, and the current market conditions, and the implications of the merger to the Bank's employees, customers, and communities. After due consideration of these and other matters, and taking into consideration the fairness opinion delivered by St. Charles, FNBR Board of Directors unanimously approved entering into the merger agreement.

On May 7, the Board of Directors of Glacier, together with its legal counsel and Davidson, met to consider approval of the merger agreement. Davidson presented updated pro forma financial analyses and Glacier's counsel presented a review of the key terms of the merger documents. Among other matters discussed, the board and Glacier's advisors discussed the results of due diligence reviews, the terms of the merger agreement and ancillary documents, key pricing metrics, the pro forma financial impact of the merger to Glacier's shareholders, risks of the merger, and the timing and process for consummation of the merger, including the results of preliminary discussions with bank regulators. After due consideration of these and other matters, the Glacier Board of Directors unanimously approved entering into the merger agreement.

On May 8, the parties executed the merger agreement and related documents. After the close of business on May 8, the parties issued a joint press release announcing the merger.

Reasons For The Merger FNBR

At the board meeting held on April 24, 2014, the FNBR board of directors unanimously determined that the terms of the merger agreement were in the best interests of FNBR and its shareholders. In the course of reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement, the FNBR board of directors consulted with St. Charles Capital, its financial advisor, and Swift & Bramer, LLC, its legal counsel. In reaching its determination, the FNBR board of directors considered a number of factors. Such factors also constituted the reasons that the board of directors determined to approve the merger and to recommend that FNBR shareholders vote in favor of the merger. Such reasons included the following:

the terms of the merger agreement and the value, form and mix of consideration to be received by FNBR shareholders in the merger;

the historical trading ranges for Glacier common stock;

the historic and prospective business of FNBR;

the likely impact of the merger on the employees and customers of the Bank;

the future employment opportunities for the existing employees of the Bank;

information concerning Glacier's financial condition and results of operations as well as the likelihood that Glacier would be able to obtain regulatory approval for the merger;

the financial terms of recent business combinations in the financial services industry and a comparison of the multiples of selected combinations with the terms of the proposed acquisition by with Glacier;

the expectation that FNBR shareholders would have the opportunity to continue to participate in the growth of the combined company and would also greatly benefit from the significantly greater liquidity of the trading market for Glacier common stock;

that Glacier has historically paid cash dividends on its common stock;

the fact that Glacier's common stock is widely held and has an active trading market; whereas, FNBR's stock is illiquid and is not publicly traded;

the effects of the economic, regulatory and market pressures facing FNBR and community banks generally and the Bank's prospects as an independent bank;

the provisions in the merger agreement that provide for the ability of the FNBR board of directors to respond to an unsolicited acquisition proposal that the board of directors determines in good faith is a superior proposal as defined in the merger agreement;

the provisions of the merger agreement that provide for the ability of the FNBR board of directors to terminate the merger agreement, subject to certain conditions including the payment of a break-up fee, if FNBR has entered into a letter of intent or other agreement with respect to a superior proposal;

the broad experience of Glacier's management team and its particular experience in managing and supporting subsidiary banks that have an emphasis on local decision making and authority;

the likelihood of the merger being approved by applicable regulatory authorities without undue conditions or delay;

FNBR's board of director's understanding of the business, operations, financial conditions, earnings, management and future prospects of Glacier, and the current and prospective economic and competitive environment facing the financial services industry generally, including continued consolidation in the industry and the increased importance of operational scale and financial resources in maintaining efficiency and remaining competitive over the long-term.

The FNBR board of directors also considered a number of uncertainties and risks in its deliberations concerning the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the following:

that a portion of the merger consideration will be paid through the issuance of a fixed number of shares of Glacier common stock and any decrease in the market price of Glacier common stock will result in a reduction in the aggregate merger consideration to be received by FNBR shareholders at the time of completion of the merger subject to the adjustment procedures described under The Merger Termination of the Merger Agreement ;

that FNBR shareholders will not necessarily know or be able to calculate the actual value of the merger consideration which they would receive upon completion of the merger;

that the break-up fee provisions in the merger agreement could have the effect of discouraging superior proposals for a business combination between FNBR and third parties;

the possible disruption to FNBR's business that may result from the announcement of the merger and the resulting distraction of management's attention from the day-to-day operations of FNBR's business; and the restrictions contained in the merger agreement on the operation of FNBR's business during the period between signing of the merger agreement and completion of the merger, as well as the other covenants and agreements of FNBR contained in the merger agreement.

The foregoing discussion of the reasons that led the FNBR board of directors to approve the merger and recommend that FNBR's shareholders vote in favor of the merger is not intended to be exhaustive, but is believed to include all of the material reasons for the board of directors' decision. In reaching its determination to approve and recommend the transaction, the FNBR board based its recommendation on the totality of the information presented to it and did not assign any relative or specific weights to the reasons considered in reaching that determination. Individual directors may have given differing weights to different reasons. After deliberating with respect to the merger with Glacier, considering, among other things, the matters discussed above and the opinion of St. Charles Capital referred to above, the FNBR board of directors unanimously approved and adopted the merger agreement and the merger with Glacier as being in the best interests of FNBR and its shareholders.

Opinion of Financial Advisor to FNBR

The fairness opinion delivered to FNBR by St. Charles is described below. The description contains projections, estimates and/or other forward-looking statements of St. Charles about the future earnings or other measures of the future performance of FNBR. You should not rely on any of these statements as having been made or adopted by FNBR or Glacier Bancorp, Inc.

General. FNBR engaged St. Charles on October 9, 2013 to provide investment banking services to the board of directors of FNBR including the rendering of an opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration to be received by the stockholders of FNBR common stock in connection with the proposed merger with Glacier as set forth in the merger agreement. St. Charles, as part of its investment banking business, is customarily engaged in the valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with sales and acquisitions, private placements and valuations for estate, corporate and other purposes.

On April 24, 2014, St. Charles delivered its written opinion that the merger consideration, before various potential adjustments, was fair to the FNBR shareholders, from a financial point of view, as of the date of such opinion.

The full text of St. Charles' written opinion to FNBR's board of directors, which sets forth the assumptions made, matters considered, and extent of review by St. Charles, is attached as Appendix C, and is incorporated herein by reference. It should be read carefully and in its entirety in conjunction with this proxy statement. The following summary of St. Charles' opinion is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion. St. Charles' opinion is addressed to FNBR's board of directors and does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder of FNBR as to how such shareholder should vote at the special meeting described in this proxy statement.

Table of Contents

In connection with rendering this opinion, we have reviewed and analyzed, among other things, the following:

- (i) The draft Agreement dated as of April 22, 2014, including the exhibits and schedules thereto;
- (ii) certain financial statements and other financial information of FNBR, including the Audited Financial Statements for FNBR and the Bank for the each of the years in the two year period ended December 31, 2012, Regulatory Financial Statements of the Bank for each of the years in the three year period ended December 31, 2013, and internal financial statements for FNBR and the Bank for the Quarter ended March 31, 2014 and March 31, 2013;
- (iii) certain other internal information, primarily financial in nature, including projections concerning the business and operations of FNBR and the Bank furnished to us by FNBR for purposes of our analysis;
- (iv) the process leading to the receipt of offers and the responses of certain potential acquirers concerning the potential acquisition of FNBR;
- (v) certain publicly available information with respect to certain other companies that we believe to be comparable to FNBR, and the trading markets for such other companies' securities;
- (vi) certain publicly available information concerning the nature and terms of certain other transactions that we considered relevant to our inquiry;
- (vii) certain publicly available information concerning Glacier;
- (viii) the economic, banking and competitive climate for banking institutions in Colorado;
- (ix) the business and prospects of FNBR through meetings and discussions with certain officers and employees of FNBR; and
- (x) other matters we believe relevant to our inquiry.

The written opinion provided by St. Charles to FNBR was necessarily based upon economic, monetary, financial market and other relevant conditions as of the dates thereof. In connection with its review and arriving at its opinion, St. Charles relied upon the accuracy and completeness of the financial information and other pertinent information provided by FNBR and Glacier to St. Charles for purposes of rendering its opinion. St. Charles did not assume any obligation to verify independently any of the provided information as being complete and accurate in all material respects. With regard to the various financial forecasts developed by the Company, St. Charles assumed that these materials had been reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best available estimates and judgments of management as to the future performance of FNBR and that the projections provided a reasonable basis upon which St. Charles could formulate its opinion. The projections were based upon numerous variables and assumptions that are inherently uncertain, including, among others, factors relative to the general economic and competitive conditions facing FNBR. Accordingly, actual results could vary significantly from those set forth in the respective projections.

St. Charles does not claim to be an expert in the evaluation of loan portfolios or the allowance for loan losses with respect thereto and therefore assumes that such allowances for FNBR are adequate to cover such losses. In addition, St. Charles does not assume responsibility for the review of individual credit files and did not make an independent evaluation, appraisal or physical inspection of the assets or individual properties of FNBR, nor was St. Charles provided with such appraisals. Furthermore, St. Charles assumes that the merger will be consummated in accordance with the terms set forth in the merger agreement, without any waiver of any material terms or conditions by FNBR, and that obtaining the necessary regulatory approvals for the merger will not have an adverse effect on either separate institution or the combined entity. St. Charles assumes that the merger will be recorded as a purchase in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Table of Contents

In connection with rendering its April 24, 2014 opinion to board of directors of FNBR, St. Charles performed a variety of financial and comparative analyses, which are briefly summarized below. Such summary of analyses does not purport to be a complete description of the analyses performed by St. Charles. Moreover, St. Charles believes that these analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of such analyses and the factors considered by it, without considering all such analyses and factors, could create an incomplete understanding of the scope of the process underlying the analyses and, more important, the opinion derived from them. The preparation of a financial advisor's opinion is a complex process involving subjective judgments and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analyses or a summary description of such analyses. In its full analysis, St. Charles also included assumptions with respect to general economic, financial market and other financial conditions. Furthermore, St. Charles drew from its past experience in similar transactions, as well as its experience in the valuation of securities and its general knowledge of the banking industry as a whole. Any estimates in St. Charles' analyses were not necessarily indicative of actual future results or values, which may diverge significantly more or less favorably from such estimates. Estimates of company valuations do not purport to be appraisals or to reflect necessarily the prices at which companies or their respective securities actually may be sold. None of the analyses performed by St. Charles were assigned a greater significance by St. Charles than any other in deriving its opinion.

Estimated Merger Consideration. Subject to potential adjustments as outlined in the merger agreement, Glacier will issue 555,733 shares of its common stock and pay $16,344,100 million in cash in exchange for all outstanding shares of FNBR's common stock. Each holder of FNBR common stock will receive approximately $97.82 in cash and approximately 3.326 shares of Glacier common stock.

Assuming a $29.41 average closing price for Glacier, each holder of FNBR's common stock will receive total merger consideration of approximately $195.64 per FNBR common stock, excluding potential transaction adjustments including changes to equity value, representing 100.0% of FNBR's equity value as of March 31, 2014.

If the 20 day average closing price for Glacier is less than $25.00 or more than $33.82 per share, the total merger consideration will potentially be adjusted as outlined in the merger agreement and summarized below:

If 20 day average closing price is above $33.82, then the stock portion of the merger consideration would be fixed at $18,794,890 million resulting in total merger consideration of approximately $210.31 per FNBR common stock.

If 20 day average closing price is below $23.53, then the stock portion of the merger consideration would be fixed at $13,076,397 million resulting in total merger consideration of $176.08 per FNBR common stock.

If 20 day average closing price is between $23.53 and $25.00, then additional shares may be issued relative to a predetermined bank index.

Comparable transaction analysis - National. St. Charles reviewed and compared actual information for a group of 11 guideline comparable merger transactions, announced since January 1, 2011, deemed pertinent to an analysis of the merger. The transactions in this guideline comparable group were chosen based on the following parameters:

St. Charles' analysis of these regional transactions implied a reference valuation range for FNBR of between $193.41 and $205.05 per share.

Comparable public company analysis. St. Charles reviewed and compared actual information for a group of 12 guideline comparable public companies deemed pertinent to an analysis of the transaction.

The trading referenced in this section represents minority valuations or the value at which one-share trades in the open market. In order to compare these multiples to the implied FNBR multiples, which represent the value paid for control or 100% of the stock, it is necessary to adjust the multiples for control. The premium for control is calculated by taking the median of the premium of a strategic transaction price announcement over the trading price five days prior to the announcement of all bank transactions that have been announced since January 1, 2011 involving targets under $1 billion in total assets with non-performing assets to total assets less than 4%. In calculating the imputed reference valuation range, a control premium of 38.0% was applied to the appropriate valuation multiples.

The comparable public companies in this guideline comparable group were chosen based on the following parameters:

publicly traded banks with assets between $100 million and $600 million;

publicly traded banks with ROAA between 0.10% and 0.45%; publicly traded banks with non-performing assets to total assets less than 4.0%; publicly traded banks with equity to assets greater than 7.0%; publicly traded banks with average daily trading volume for three months of at least 100 shares; publicly traded banks traded on the NYSE, AMEX, NASDAQ, and other over the counter exchanges; and publicly traded banks located outside top 50 MSAs.

(2) FNBR's earnings adjusted for reverse provision expense, income tax benefit, gains and losses on OREO and securities, and extraordinary OREO and legal expense.

St. Charles' analysis of national comparable public companies implied a reference valuation range for FNBR of between $131.54 and $214.39 per share.

Discounted dividend analysis. St. Charles performed a discounted dividend analysis based on FNBR's projected financial statements prepared on a standalone basis. St. Charles assumed that FNBR will perform in accordance with the various financial statement forecasts as developed by management from 2014 through 2018. This analysis utilized a discount rate range of 15.5% to 19.5%. St. Charles estimated the terminal values by using multiples of earnings and book value. The terminal multiples ranged from 16.1 to 18.1 times earnings, 149.4% to 159.4% book value, and 5.0% to 7.0% premium to deposits, based upon average multiples paid for national bank control transactions from January 1, 2011 to present involving targets located outside top 50 MSAs with assets between $100 million and $750 million, ROAA between 0.75% and 1.25%, non-performing assets to assets less than 4.0%, and equity to assets greater than 7%. This analysis was based on estimates considering market and company specific events and is not necessarily indicative of actual values or actual future results and does not purport to reflect the prices at which any securities may trade at the present or at any time in the future. St. Charles noted that the discounted dividend analysis was included because it is a widely used valuation methodology, but noted that the results of such methodology are highly dependent upon the numerous assumptions that must be made, including earnings growth rates, discount rates, and terminal values.

St. Charles' discounted dividend analysis implied a reference valuation range for FNBR between $164.96 and $223.44.

Miscellaneous. No companies involved in the transactions used as comparisons in the above analyses are identical to FNBR and none of the transactions are identical to the merger. Accordingly, analyses of the results of the foregoing is not purely mathematical; rather, such analyses involve complex considerations and judgments concerning differences in financial market and operating characteristics of the companies involved in and the nature of the guideline transactions.

St. Charles Compensation. St. Charles has acted as a financial adviser to FNBR in connection with the proposed merger with Glacier and has participated in the negotiations leading to the merger agreement. For its financial advisory services provided to the Company in connection with the proposed merger, St. Charles has been paid fees of $105,000 as of April 24, 2014, and will be paid a total fee, contingent upon the closing of the transaction, of 1.5% of the total merger consideration up to the book value of FNBR and 3% of the total merger consideration in excess of the book value of FNBR, net of all retainers paid. St. Charles has received $50,000 for rendering the fairness opinion. In addition, FNBR has agreed to reimburse St. Charles for all reasonable expenses incurred by it on FNBR's behalf, as well as to indemnify St. Charles against certain liabilities. In addition to services provided to FNBR in the proposed merger with Glacier, St. Charles was engaged in February 2011 to review the strategic alternative available to FNBR. As part of this earlier engagement, St. Charles received approximately $140,000 in fees.

Recommendation of the FNBR Board

The board of directors of FNBR has concluded that the proposed merger as described in the merger agreement is in the best interest of FNBR and its shareholders. After carefully considering the proposed merger, the board of directors unanimously recommends that the shareholders of FNBR vote FOR the approval of the merger agreement.

THE MERGER

The following is a brief description of the material aspects of the merger. There are other aspects of the merger that are not discussed below but that are contained in the merger agreement. You are being asked to approve the merger in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement, and you are urged to read the merger agreement carefully. The merger agreement is attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix A.

Basic Terms of the Merger

The merger agreement provides for the merger of FNBR with and into Glacier, and the merger of First National Bank of the Rockies with and into Glacier Bank, Glacier's wholly-owned subsidiary. Following the merger, First National Bank of the Rockies will operate under the name and as part of Bank of the San Juans, a division of Glacier Bank.

In the merger, FNBR shareholders will receive a combination of Glacier common stock and cash for their FNBR common stock, as described below.

While Glacier and FNBR believe that they will receive the necessary regulatory approvals for the merger, there can be no assurance that such approvals will be received or, if received, as to the timing of such approvals or as to the ability to obtain such approvals on satisfactory terms. See Conditions to the Merger and Regulatory Requirements.

Merger Consideration

The merger agreement provides that as of the effective date of the merger, each share of FNBR common stock will be converted into the right to receive an amount of merger consideration consisting of a combination of Glacier common stock and cash, as described below.

The total merger consideration consists of a stock portion and a cash portion, which will be determined in the following manner:

Stock Portion of Merger Consideration

The total stock consideration payable by Glacier is fixed at 555,733 shares of Glacier common stock. The total stock consideration may be adjusted under certain circumstances if the average trading price of Glacier stock immediately prior to the closing of the merger is above or below specified amounts, as described below under Termination of the Merger Agreement. Based on the closing price of Glacier stock on May 28, 2014, and assuming that the average closing price immediately prior to the closing of the merger is above $23.53 and that Glacier continues to perform consistent with its regional peer group index, the number of shares that Glacier would be required to issue would be 555,733. See Questions and Answers What will FNBR shareholders receive in the merger?

Cash Portion of Merger Consideration

The total cash consideration payable by Glacier is $16,344,100. This amount is subject to reduction, on a dollar for dollar basis, by the amount by which the FNBR Closing Capital is less than $32,688,200.

The FNBR Closing Capital is defined in the merger agreement as an amount, as of the closing date of the merger, equal to FNBR's capital stock, surplus and retained earnings determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) on a consolidated basis, and calculated in the same manner in which FNBR's consolidated tangible equity capital of $32,688,200 at March 31, 2014 was calculated, after giving effect to specified adjustments.

Table of Contents

If the FNBR Closing Capital exceeds $32,688,200, then FNBR may determine in its sole discretion to declare and pay a special dividend to its shareholders in the amount of such excess.

The value of the consideration (in a combination of Glacier stock and cash) that an FNBR shareholder will receive for each share of FNBR common stock is the sum of (i) the per-share cash consideration and (ii) the per-share stock consideration, referred to collectively in the merger agreement as the merger consideration. The per-share cash consideration is the amount obtained by dividing the $16,344,100 total cash consideration (reduced for any FNBR Closing Capital adjustment) by the number of shares of FNBR common stock outstanding on the effective date of the merger. The per-share stock consideration is the number of Glacier shares determined by dividing 555,733 (increased or decreased by the adjustments described under Termination of the Merger Agreement below, if the trading price of Glacier stock immediately prior to the closing of the merger is above or below specified amounts) by the number of shares of FNBR common stock outstanding on the effective date of the merger.

Assuming for purposes of illustration only that (i) there is no increase or reduction of the cash portion of the merger consideration, and (ii) the average closing price of Glacier common stock immediately prior to the closing of the merger is $26.34 (the closing price for Glacier common stock on May 28, 2014), each share of FNBR common stock would receive a total value equal to $185.43, consisting of $97.82 in cash and 3.326 shares of Glacier common stock.

Fractional Shares

No fractional shares of Glacier common stock will be issued to any holder of FNBR common stock in the merger. For each fractional share that would otherwise be issued, Glacier will pay cash in an amount equal to the fraction multiplied by the GBCI Average Closing Price calculated as provided in the merger agreement. No interest will be paid or accrued on cash payable in lieu of fractional shares of Glacier common stock.

Effective Date of the Merger

Subject to the conditions to the obligations of the parties to complete the merger as set forth in the merger agreement, the effective date of the merger will occur as soon as practicable after such conditions have been satisfied or waived. Subject to the foregoing, it is currently anticipated that the merger will be consummated during the third quarter of 2014. Either Glacier or FNBR may terminate the merger agreement if the effective date does not occur on or before November 30, 2014.

Letter of Transmittal

Within two business days after the closing of the merger, Glacier's exchange agent will send a letter of transmittal to each person who was a FNBR shareholder at the effective time of the merger. This mailing will contain instructions on how to surrender shares of FNBR common stock in exchange for the merger consideration that the holder is entitled to receive under the merger agreement.

All shares of Glacier common stock issued to the holders of FNBR common stock pursuant to the merger will be deemed issued as of the effective date. Until you surrender your FNBR stock certificates for exchange, you will accrue, but will not be paid, any dividends or other distributions declared after the effective date of the merger with respect to Glacier common stock into which your shares have been converted. When you surrender your certificates, Glacier will pay any unpaid dividends or other distributions, as well as any merger consideration payable in cash, without interest. After the effective time of the merger, there will be no transfers on the stock transfer books of FNBR of any shares of FNBR common stock. If certificates representing shares of FNBR common stock are presented for transfer after the completion of the merger, they will be cancelled and exchanged for the merger consideration into which the shares of FNBR common stock represented by those certificates shall have been converted.

If a certificate for FNBR common stock has been lost, stolen or destroyed, the exchange agent will issue the consideration properly payable under the merger agreement upon receipt of appropriate evidence as to that loss, theft or destruction, appropriate evidence as to the ownership of that certificate by the claimant, and reasonable assurances, such as a bond or indemnity, satisfactory to Glacier in consultation with FNBR, and appropriate and customary identification.

Voting Agreement

The directors of FNBR and First National Bank of the Rockies, together with certain principal shareholders of FNBR, have entered into a voting agreement, dated as of May 8, 2014. In the voting agreement, each signing director and principal shareholder agrees, among other things, to vote the shares of FNBR common stock that he or she owns or controls in favor of the merger. The persons who have entered into this voting agreement are entitled to vote a total of 157,965 outstanding shares of FNBR common stock, which is approximately 95% of the total shares outstanding. Accordingly, shareholder approval of the merger is assured.

Dissenters Rights of Appraisal

Under the Colorado Business Corporation Act (CBCA), FNBR shareholders are entitled to exercise dissenters rights and to receive the fair value in cash of their shares of FNBR common stock if they fully comply with the provisions of the CBCA relating to dissenters rights, if the merger agreement is approved and the merger is consummated. The following summary of the CBCA provisions with respect to dissenters rights is qualified in its entirety by reference to those statutes. Shareholders anticipating exercising dissenters rights with respect to the merger are strongly encouraged to consult their legal counsel and tax, financial or other appropriate advisors.

The CBCA requires that shareholders be accorded dissenters rights in connection with the proposed merger transaction. A copy of the relevant portions of the CBCA, Sections 7-113-101 through 7-113-302 are included as Appendix B. The following discussion of dissenters rights is qualified in its entirety by reference to those statutes.

A shareholder may elect to dissent from the proposed merger transaction and, upon consummation of the transaction, to receive the fair value of such shareholder s FNBR stock.

In order to properly exercise dissenters rights the shareholder must:

Not vote in favor of the proposed merger; and

Prior to the time of the vote taken by FNBR shareholders, notify FNBR of the shareholder s intent to exercise dissenters rights.

Except in certain circumstances specified in the CBCA, a shareholder electing to assert dissenters' rights must generally assert such rights with respect to all shares of FNBR stock beneficially owned by the shareholder. A notice of intent to demand payment under dissenters' rights given to FNBR shareholders must be in writing. If a shareholder fails to meet the requirements for assertion of dissenters' rights such shareholder is not entitled to payment for his or her shares under the CBCA.

Table of Contents

If a shareholder properly asserts dissenters' rights and the proposed merger is consummated, Glacier, as the surviving corporation in the merger, will send each shareholder who has properly exercised dissenters' rights a dissenter's notice, notifying the shareholder of, among other things, the completion of the merger and providing the shareholder instructions for the deposit of certificates representing the dissenter's FNBR shares and supplying a form for demanding payment. A dissenting shareholder failing to timely demand payment or to deposit certificates representing the dissented FNBR stock is not thereafter entitled to receive payment for his or her shares under the CBCA.

Glacier, as the surviving corporation in the merger, is required to pay all dissenting FNBR shareholders who have properly and timely exercised dissenters' rights, deposited certificates and demanded payment of the fair value for their shares of FNBR stock. The amount of payment is determined by Glacier and made to dissenting shareholders within time frames specified by the CBCA. If a shareholder is dissatisfied with the amount of the payment determined by Glacier, such shareholder may notify Glacier in writing, within 30 days after Glacier made or offered to make payment, of the shareholder's own estimate of the fair value of his or her shares and demand payment for such amount (less any payment made by Glacier). Glacier may, after the receipt of such demand, elect to pay the additional amount demanded or, within 60 days following receipt of such demand, commence a legal proceeding for a determination of the fair value of the shares.

Conditions to the Merger

Consummation of the merger is subject to various conditions. No assurance can be provided as to whether these conditions will be satisfied or waived by the appropriate party. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the merger will be completed.

Certain conditions must be satisfied or events must occur before the parties will be obligated to complete the merger. Each party's obligations under the merger agreement are conditioned on satisfaction by the other party of conditions applicable to them. Some of these conditions, applicable to the respective obligations of both Glacier and FNBR, are as follows:

approval of the merger by FNBR shareholders; accuracy of the other party's representations in the merger agreement and any certificate or other instrument delivered in connection with the merger agreement;

compliance by the other party of all material terms, covenants, and conditions of the merger agreement; that there shall have been no damage, destruction, or loss, or other event or sequence of events, that has had or potentially may have a material adverse effect with respect to the other party;

that no action or proceeding has been commenced or threatened by any governmental agency to restrain or prohibit or invalidate the merger;

the parties shall have agreed on the amount of the FNBR Closing Capital; and the registration statement filed with the SEC, required to register the Glacier common stock to be issued to shareholders of FNBR, has become effective, and no stop-order suspending such effectiveness has been issued and no proceedings for that purpose have been initiated or threatened by the SEC.

Table of Contents

In addition to the above, the obligations of Glacier under the merger agreement are subject to conditions that include the following:

First National Bank of the Rockies allowance for possible loan and lease losses is adequate to absorb its anticipated loan losses; and the FNBR Closing Capital will not be less than $25,000,000.

Additionally, either Glacier or FNBR may terminate the merger if certain conditions applicable to the other party are not satisfied or waived. Those conditions are discussed below under Termination of the Merger Agreement.

Either Glacier or FNBR may waive any of the other party's conditions, except those that are required by law (such as receipt of regulatory approvals and FNBR shareholder approval). Either Glacier or FNBR may also grant extended time to the other party to complete an obligation or condition.

Amendment of the Merger Agreement

The merger agreement may be amended upon authorization of the boards of directors of the parties, whether before or after the FNBR special meeting of the shareholders. To the extent permitted under applicable law, the parties may make any amendment or supplement without further approval of FNBR shareholders. However, after shareholder approval, any amendments that would reduce the amount or change the form of the consideration that FNBR shareholders will receive in the merger would require further FNBR shareholder approval.

Termination of the Merger Agreement

The merger agreement contains several provisions entitling either Glacier or FNBR to terminate the merger agreement under certain circumstances. The following briefly describes these provisions:

Lapse of Time. If the merger has not been consummated on or before November 30, 2014, then at any time after that date, the board of directors of either Glacier or FNBR may terminate the merger agreement and the merger if (i) the terminating party's board of directors decides to terminate by a majority vote of all of its members, and (ii) the terminating party delivers to the other party written notice that its board of directors has voted in favor of termination.

Mutual Consent. The parties may terminate the merger agreement at any time before closing, whether before or after approval by FNBR shareholders, by mutual consent if the board of directors of each party agrees to terminate by a majority vote of all of its members.

Glacier Average Closing Price Greater than $33.82. By specific action of its board of directors, Glacier may terminate the merger agreement if the Glacier average closing price (as defined in the merger agreement) is greater than $33.82.

If Glacier provides written notice of its intent to terminate the merger agreement because the Glacier average closing price is greater than $33.82, FNBR may elect, within two business days of its receipt of such notice, to accept an adjustment to the total stock consideration through the issuance of fewer Glacier shares; in such event, the total stock consideration will be the number of Glacier shares equal to the quotient obtained by dividing $18,794,890 by the Glacier average closing price. If FNBR makes the election to accept such decrease in the number of Glacier shares to be issued, no termination of the merger agreement will occur, and the merger agreement will remain in effect in accordance with its terms, except as the total stock consideration has been adjusted.

Table of Contents

Glacier Average Closing Price Less than $25.00 But Not Less Than $23.53. By specific action of its board of directors, FNBR may terminate the merger agreement if the Glacier average closing price is less than $25.00 but not less than $23.53, but only if Glacier's stock trading price has underperformed the stock trading price performance of a regional bank peer group index by more than 10%. The banks comprising the peer group index (the Index Group) are set forth in the merger agreement.

The performance of Glacier's stock trading price relative to the performance of the Index Group is determined by dividing the Glacier average closing price (the average volume weighted closing price for the 20 trading days immediately preceding the 10th day prior to the closing date) by $25.06 (the closing price of Glacier stock on May 8, 2014), and comparing the resulting quotient to the quotient obtained by dividing the Final Index Price (also determined over the 20 trading days immediately preceding the 10th day prior to the closing date) of the Index Group by $18.24 (the closing price of the stock of the Index Group on May 8, 2014). Glacier will be deemed to have underperformed the Index Group for purposes of the termination provisions of the merger agreement if the amount of the decline the trading price of its stock, calculated as above, exceeds the amount of the decline in the trading price of the stock of the Index Group by more than 10%.

If FNBR provides written notice of its intent to terminate the merger agreement because the Glacier average closing price is less than $25.00 but not less than $23.53 and Glacier's stock trading price has underperformed the Index Group by more than 10%, Glacier may elect, within two business days of its receipt of such notice, to adjust the total stock consideration through the issuance of additional Glacier shares, so that the total value of the stock consideration issued in the merger is sufficient to remedy the underperformance of Glacier's stock relative to that of the Index Group. If Glacier elects to increase the number of Glacier shares to be issued, no termination of the merger agreement will occur, and the merger agreement will remain in effect in accordance with its terms, except as the total stock consideration has been adjusted.

Glacier Average Closing Price Less than $23.53. By specific action of its board of directors, FNBR may terminate the merger agreement if the Glacier average closing price is less than $23.53, regardless of the performance of the Index Group or Glacier's performance relative to the Index Group.

If FNBR provides written notice of its intent to terminate the merger agreement because the Glacier average closing price is less than $23.53, Glacier may elect, within two business of its receipt of such notice, to adjust the total stock consideration through the issuance of additional Glacier shares so that the total stock consideration issued in the merger is equal to the quotient obtained by dividing $13,076,397 by the Glacier average closing price. If Glacier elects to increase the number of shares to be issued, no termination of the merger agreement will occur, and the merger agreement will remain in effect in accordance with its terms, except as the total stock consideration has been adjusted.

No Regulatory Approvals. Either party may terminate the merger agreement if the regulatory approvals required to be obtained are denied, or if any such approval is conditioned on a substantial deviation from the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, subject to certain rights granted in the merger agreement to appeal the denial of such regulatory approval.

Breach of Representation or Covenant. Either party may terminate the merger agreement (so long as the terminating party is not then in material breach of any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements in the merger agreement) if there has been a material breach of any covenants or agreements set forth in the merger agreement by the other party, which is not cured within 30 days following written notice to the party committing such breach, or which breach, by its nature, cannot be cured prior to the closing of the merger.

Table of Contents

Failure to Recommend or Obtain Shareholder Approval. Glacier may terminate the merger agreement (so long as it is not then in material breach of any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements in the merger agreement), if (i) the FNBR board of directors fails to recommend to its shareholders approval of the merger, or (ii) modifies, withdraws or changes in a manner adverse to Glacier its recommendation to shareholders to approve the merger. Additionally, regardless of whether the FNBR board of directors recommends approval of the merger to its shareholders, Glacier may terminate the merger agreement if FNBR shareholders elect not to approve the merger.

Impracticability. Either party may terminate the merger agreement upon written notice to the other party if the board of directors of the party seeking termination has determined in its sole judgment, made in good faith and after due consideration and consultation with counsel, that the merger has become inadvisable or impracticable by reason of actions taken by the federal government or the government of the States of Montana or Colorado to restrain or invalidate the merger or the merger agreement.

Superior Proposal Termination by FNBR. FNBR may terminate the merger agreement if its board of directors determines in good faith that FNBR has received a Superior Proposal as defined in the merger agreement. This right is subject to the requirement that FNBR may terminate the merger agreement only if FNBR (i) has not breached its covenants regarding the initiation or solicitation of acquisition proposals from third parties; and (ii) subsequent to delivering the notice of termination to Glacier, FNBR intends to enter into a letter of intent, acquisition agreement or similar agreement relating to such Superior Proposal, (iii) FNBR has provided Glacier with at least five business days prior notice that FNBR intends to accept a Superior Proposal and has given Glacier, if it so elects, an opportunity to amend the terms of the merger agreement (negotiated in good faith between Glacier and FNBR) in such a manner as would enable FNBR to proceed with the merger and (iv) simultaneously upon entering into a letter of intent or agreement relating to the Superior Proposal, it delivers to Glacier the break-up fee described below.

Superior Proposal Termination by Glacier. Glacier may terminate the merger agreement if (i) an Acquisition Event (as defined in the merger agreement) has occurred or (ii) a third party has made a proposal to FNBR or its shareholders to engage in, or has entered into an agreement with respect to, an Acquisition Event, and the merger agreement and the merger are not approved at the special meeting of FNBR shareholders.

Termination Fees

Subject to certain exceptions, FNBR will pay Glacier a termination fee of $300,000 if Glacier terminates the merger agreement based on a FNBR breach of its representations or breach of its covenants. Glacier will pay FNBR a termination fee of $300,000 if FNBR terminates the merger agreement based on a Glacier breach of its representations or breach of its covenants.

Break-Up Fee

If the merger agreement is terminated because (i) the FNBR board of directors fails to recommend shareholder approval of the merger agreement or modifies, withdraws or changes its recommendation in a manner adverse to Glacier; or (ii) FNBR terminates the merger agreement after receiving a Superior Proposal (as defined in the merger agreement) and Glacier declines the opportunity to amend the terms of the merger agreement to enable FNBR's board of directors to proceed with the merger; or (iii) Glacier terminates the merger agreement after FNBR's receipt of a Superior Proposal followed by an immediate Acquisition Event (as defined in the merger agreement), then FNBR will immediately pay Glacier a breakup fee of $1,630,000. If the merger agreement is terminated by Glacier due to FNBR's receipt of a proposal to enter into an Acquisition Event and the merger agreement and merger are not approved at the shareholders' meeting, and prior to or within six months after such termination, FNBR or First National Bank of the Rockies enters into an agreement, or publicly announces an intention, to engage in an Acquisition Event, or within 12 months after such termination an Acquisition Event has occurred, then FNBR will promptly pay to Glacier the break-up fee in the amount of $1,630,000.

Allocation of Costs Upon Termination

If the merger agreement is terminated (except under circumstances that would require the payment of a termination fee or break-up fee) Glacier and FNBR will each pay their own out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the transaction and, except for any applicable termination or break-up fees, will have no other liability to the other party.

Conduct Pending the Merger

The merger agreement provides that, until the merger is effective, FNBR will conduct its business only in the ordinary and usual course. The merger agreement also provides that, unless Glacier otherwise consents in writing, and except as required by applicable regulatory authorities, FNBR will refrain from engaging in various activities such as:

effecting any stock split or other recapitalization with respect to FNBR or First National Bank of the Rockies, or pledge or encumber any shares of FNBR or First National Bank of the Rockies stock or grant any options for such stock;

except as specifically permitted under the terms of the merger agreement, declaring or paying any dividends, or making any other distributions; acquiring, selling, transferring assigning or encumbering or otherwise disposing of assets having a value greater than $25,000 or making any commitment other than in the ordinary course of business;

soliciting or accepting deposit accounts of a different type than previously accepted by First National Bank of the Rockies or at rates materially in excess of prevailing interest rates, or, with specified exceptions, incurring any indebtedness for borrowed money;

offering or making loans or other extensions of credit of a different type, or applying different underwriting standards, from those previously offered or applied by First National Bank of the Rockies, or offering or making a loan or extension of credit in an amount greater than $1,000,000 without prior consultation with Glacier;

extending further credit with respect to loans that have been criticized or classified by an internal audit conducted by the Bank or that otherwise appear on the internal watch list of First National Bank of the

with specified exceptions, make any negative provisions to the ALLL, or refrain from making provisions to the ALLL in amounts consistent with the 2014 financial forecast provided to Glacier;

with specified exceptions, acquiring an ownership or leasehold interest in real property without conducting an appropriate environmental evaluation and providing specified information and notices to Glacier;

with specified exceptions, entering into, renewing, amending or terminating any contracts calling for a payment of more than $25,000, with a term of one year or more;

with specified exceptions, entering into or amending any contract calling for a payment of more than $25,000, unless the contract may be terminated without cause or penalty upon 30 days' notice or less;

with specified exceptions, entering into any personal services contract; selling any securities other than in the ordinary course of business, or selling any securities even in the ordinary course of business if the aggregate gain or loss realized from all sales after the date of execution of the merger agreement would exceed $25,000, or transferring investment securities between portfolios;

with specified exceptions, amending or materially changing its operations, policies or procedures;

other than in accordance with binding existing commitments, making capital expenditures in excess of $25,000 per project or related series of projects or $50,000 in the aggregate; and entering into material transactions or making any material expenditures other than in the ordinary course of business except for expenses reasonably related to the completion of the merger.

First National Bank of the Rockies Management and Operations After the Merger

Immediately following the merger, First National Bank of the Rockies will be merged with and into Glacier Bank. It is anticipated that the former First National Bank of the Rockies branches will operate after the closing as Bank of the San Juans, a division of Glacier Bank, (referred to as the Division) consistent with Glacier's organizational structure.

Employee Benefit Plans

The merger agreement confirms Glacier's intent that Glacier's current personnel policies and benefits will apply to any employees of FNBR and First National Bank of the Rockies who remain employed following the closing of the merger. Such employees will be eligible to participate in all of the benefit plans of Glacier that are generally available to similarly-situated employees of Glacier. For purposes of such participation, current employees' prior service with FNBR and/or First National Bank of the Rockies will constitute prior service with Glacier for purposes of determining eligibility and vesting, including vacation time and participation and benefits under Glacier's severance policy for employees in effect at the time of any termination.

Table of Contents

Interests of Certain Persons in the Merger

Certain members of the FNBR board of directors and management may be deemed to have interests in the merger, in addition to their interests as shareholders of FNBR generally. The FNBR board of directors was aware of these factors and considered them, among other things, in approving the merger agreement.

Stock Ownership. FNBR directors, executive officer and their spouses beneficially owned, as of the record date for the special meeting, 158,698 shares of FNBR common stock, representing approximately 95% of all outstanding FNBR shares. The directors and executive officers of FNBR will receive the same consideration in the merger for their shares as other shareholders of FNBR.

Voting Agreement. The directors of FNBR and First National Bank of the Rockies and certain principal shareholders of FNBR have entered into a voting agreement, dated as of May 8, 2014. Pursuant to the voting agreement, each signing director and principal shareholder agrees to vote the shares of FNBR common stock that he or she owns or controls in favor of the merger. A total of 157,965 outstanding shares, or approximately 95% of the outstanding shares of FNBR common stock, are covered by the voting agreement.

Executive Compensation. As a result of the Merger, certain members of FNBR management will vest in rights to salary continuation payments that would not otherwise vest until they obtain retirement age, die or become disabled. In addition, as a result of the Merger certain members of FNBR management will be entitled to receive phantom stock payments that would otherwise be received upon termination of service, death or disability.

Director Non-Competition Agreement. Each member of the board of directors of FNBR and First National Bank of the Rockies has entered into a non-competition agreement with Glacier, FNBR and First National Bank of the Rockies. Except under certain limited circumstances, the non-competition agreement prohibits such directors from becoming involved in a business competing with Glacier or any of Glacier's subsidiaries, divisions or affiliates within Archuleta County, Delta County, Dolores County, La Plata County, Mesa County, Moffat County, Montezuma County, Montrose County, Ouray County, Rio Blanco County, Routt County, and San Miguel County, Colorado, or any county in the State of Colorado into which Glacier or Glacier Bank expands their business during the term of the agreement. The term of the non-competition agreement commences upon the effective date of the merger and continues until the later of (i) two years following the closing of the merger or (ii) if applicable, two years following termination of such director's service on the board of directors of the Division.

Indemnification of Directors and Officers: Insurance. The merger agreement provides that Glacier will, for a period of four years following the closing of the merger, indemnify the present and former directors and officers of FNBR and First National Bank of the Rockies against liabilities or costs that may arise in the future, incurred in connection with claims or actions arising out of or pertaining to matters that existed or occurred prior to the effective date of the merger (but excluding, to the extent such officer or director is an indemnifying party under the Indemnification Agreement, any claims for indemnification made against such former officer or director pursuant thereto). The scope of this indemnification is to the fullest extent that such persons would have been entitled to indemnification under applicable law and the articles of incorporation or bylaws of FNBR and First National Bank of the Rockies, as applicable.

The merger agreement also provides that for a period of four years following the closing of the merger, Glacier will use reasonable efforts to cause to be maintained in effect, director and officer liability insurance substantially similar to that maintained by Glacier with respect to claims arising from facts or events that occurred before the effective date of the merger.

Regulatory Requirements

Closing of the merger is subject to approval or waiver, as applicable, by the appropriate banking regulatory authorities, including the FDIC, the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis and the Montana Division of Banking and Financial Institutions.

Material Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger

This section describes the anticipated material United States federal income tax consequences of the merger of FNBR with and into Glacier (Holding Company Merger), and the contemporaneous merger of the Bank with and into Glacier Bank (Bank Merger), to U.S. holders of FNBR common stock who exchange shares of FNBR common stock for shares of Glacier common stock, cash, or a combination of shares of Glacier common stock and cash pursuant to the mergers.

For purposes of this discussion, a U.S. holder is a beneficial owner of FNBR common stock who for United States federal income tax purposes is:

a citizen or resident of the United States;

a corporation, or an entity treated as a corporation, created or organized in or under the laws of the United States or any state or political subdivision thereof;

a trust that (1) is subject to (A) the primary supervision of a court within the United States and (B) the authority of one or more United States persons to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (2) has a valid election in effect under applicable Treasury Regulations to be treated as a United States person; or an estate that is subject to United States federal income tax on its income regardless of its source.

If a partnership (including for this purpose any entity treated as a partnership for United States federal income tax purposes) holds FNBR common stock, the tax treatment of a partner generally will depend on the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. If you are a partner of a partnership holding FNBR common stock, you should consult your tax advisor.

This discussion addresses only those FNBR shareholders that hold their FNBR common stock as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Internal Revenue Code, and does not address all the United States federal income tax consequences that may be relevant to particular FNBR shareholders in light of their individual circumstances or to FNBR shareholders that are subject to special rules, such as:

financial institutions;

pass-through entities or investors in pass-through entities;

insurance companies;

tax-exempt organizations;

dealers in securities;

traders in securities that elect to use a mark to market method of accounting;

Table of Contents

persons who exercise dissenters' rights;

persons that hold FNBR common stock as part of a straddle, hedge, constructive sale or conversion transaction;

certain expatriates or persons that have a functional currency other than the U.S. dollar; persons who are not U.S. holders; and shareholders who acquired their shares of FNBR common stock through the exercise of an employee stock option or otherwise as compensation or through a tax-qualified retirement plan.

In addition, the discussion does not address any alternative minimum tax or any state, local or foreign tax consequences of the merger, nor does it address any tax consequences arising under the unearned income Medicare contribution tax pursuant to the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010.

The following discussion is based on the Internal Revenue Code, its legislative history, existing and proposed regulations thereunder and published rulings and decisions, all as currently in effect as of the date hereof, and all of which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect. Any such change could affect the continuing validity of this discussion.

In connection with the filing of the registration statement of which this document is a part, Garlinton, Lohn & Robinson, PLLP, special tax counsel to Glacier, has delivered an opinion to Glacier to the effect that the Holding Company Merger and the Bank Merger will for federal income tax purposes qualify as reorganizations within the meaning of Internal Revenue Code Section 368(a); and both Glacier and FNBR expect to report the mergers accordingly on their federal income tax returns. The opinion is based on assumptions, representations, warranties and covenants, including those contained in the merger agreement and in tax representation letters provided by Glacier, FNBR, Glacier Bank and the Bank. The accuracy of such assumptions, representations and warranties, and compliance with such covenants, could affect the conclusions set forth in such opinion. The opinion is not binding on the Internal Revenue Service or the courts. Glacier and FNBR have not requested and do not intend to request any ruling from the Internal Revenue Service as to the United States federal income tax consequence of the mergers. Accordingly, each FNBR shareholder should consult its tax advisor with respect to the particular tax consequences of the merger to such holder.

Tax Consequences of the Merger Generally to Holders of FNBR Common Stock. If the Holding Company Merger is a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, the tax consequences are as follows:

FNBR shareholders will exchange all of their FNBR common stock for a combination of Glacier common stock and cash in the Holding Company Merger. Accordingly, holders of FNBR common stock will recognize gain in an amount equal to the lesser of (1) the amount by which the sum of the fair market value of the Glacier common stock and cash received by a holder of FNBR common stock exceeds such holder's cost basis in its FNBR common stock, and (2) the amount of cash received by such holder of FNBR common stock (except with respect to any cash received instead of fractional share interests in Glacier common stock, as discussed in the section entitled "Cash Received Instead of a Fractional Share of Glacier Common Stock");

a FNBR shareholder's aggregate tax basis in the Glacier common stock received in the Holding Company Merger will be equal to the shareholder's aggregate tax basis in such shareholder's FNBR common stock surrendered, decreased by the amount of any cash received and increased by the amount of any gain recognized; and the holding period of Glacier common stock received in exchange for shares of FNBR common stock will include the holding period of the FNBR common stock for which it is exchanged.

If holders of FNBR common stock acquired different blocks of FNBR common stock at different times or at different prices, any gain or loss will be determined separately with respect to each block of FNBR common stock and such holders' basis and holding period in their shares of Glacier common stock may be determined with reference to each block of FNBR common stock. Any such holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the manner in which cash and Glacier common stock received in the exchange should be allocated among different blocks of FNBR common stock and with respect to identifying the bases or holding periods of the particular shares of Glacier common stock received in the merger.

Gain that holders of FNBR common stock recognize in connection with the merger generally will constitute capital gain and will constitute long-term capital gain if such holders have held (or are treated as having held) their FNBR common stock for more than one year as of the date of the merger. Long-term capital gain of non-corporate holders of FNBR common stock is generally taxed at preferential rates. In some cases, if a holder actually or constructively owns Glacier stock other than Glacier stock received pursuant to the merger, the recognized gain could be treated as having the effect of a distribution of a dividend under the tests set forth in Internal Revenue Code Section 302, in which case such gain would be treated as dividend income. Because the possibility of dividend treatment depends primarily upon each holder's particular circumstances, including the application of the constructive ownership rules, holders of FNBR common stock should consult their tax advisors regarding the application of the foregoing rules to their particular circumstances.

Cash Received Instead of a Fractional Share of Glacier Common Stock. A holder of FNBR common stock who receives cash instead of a fractional share of Glacier common stock will generally be treated as having received the fractional share pursuant to the merger and then as having that fractional share of Glacier common stock redeemed for cash. As a result, a holder of FNBR common stock will generally recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received in lieu of the fractional share and the basis in his or her fractional share interest as set forth above. Except as described above, this gain or loss will generally be capital gain or loss, and will be long-term capital gain or loss if, as of the effective date of the merger, the holding period for such shares is greater than one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting. Payments of cash to a holder of FNBR common stock may, under certain circumstances, be subject to information reporting and backup withholding, unless the holder provides proof of an applicable exemption satisfactory to Glacier and the exchange agent or furnishes its taxpayer identification number, and otherwise complies with all applicable requirements of the backup withholding rules. Any amounts withheld from payments to a holder under the backup withholding rules are not additional tax and will be allowed as a refund or credit against the holder's United States federal income tax liability, provided the required information is furnished to the Internal Revenue Service.

The preceding discussion is intended only as a summary of material United States federal income tax consequences of the merger. It is not a complete analysis or discussion of all potential tax effects that may be important to you. Thus, you are strongly encouraged to consult your tax advisor as to the specific tax consequences resulting from the merger, including tax return reporting requirements, the applicability and effect of federal, state, local, and other tax laws and the effect of any proposed changes in the tax laws.

Accounting Treatment of the Merger

The acquisition of FNBR will be accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting by Glacier under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Accordingly, using the acquisition method of accounting, the assets and liabilities of FNBR will be recorded by Glacier at their respective fair values at the time of the merger. The excess of Glacier's purchase price over the net fair value of assets acquired including identifiable intangible assets and liabilities assumed will be recorded as goodwill. Goodwill will be periodically assessed for impairment but no less frequently than on an annual basis. Prior period financial statements are not restated and results of operation of FNBR will be included in Glacier's consolidated statement of operations after the date of the merger. The identifiable intangible assets with finite lives, other than goodwill, will be amortized against the combined company's earnings following completion of the merger.

Competition

The banking business is highly competitive in the bank's service market of northwest Colorado. Consolidation in the financial services industry has reduced the number of independent banks. The bank competes with other commercial banks, savings banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, finance companies, mutual funds, insurance companies, asset-based non-bank lenders and certain other financial and non-financial institutions. Some of the financial institutions with which the bank competes are not subject to the same degree of regulation that applies to the bank. In addition, many of the banks and other financial institutions with which the bank competes have greater financial strength, marketing capability and name recognition than the bank and operate on a statewide, regional or nationwide basis. By virtue of their greater resources, such institutions have substantially higher lending limits and larger branch systems than the bank.

The bank also competes with other non-bank financial markets for funds. Yields on corporate and government debt securities and other commercial paper may be higher than on deposits and therefore affect the ability of commercial banks to attract and hold deposits. Commercial banks also compete for available funds with issuers of money market instruments and mutual funds. During past periods of high interest rates, many funds have provided substantial competition to banks for deposits and they may continue to do so in the future. In periods of high stock market growth, mutual funds have become a major source of competition for savings dollars.

In addition, pursuant to the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (the "GLB"), securities firms and insurance companies that elect to become financial holding companies may acquire banks and other financial institutions. These financial holding companies may offer banking, insurance and securities brokerage products which could significantly change the competitive environment in which the bank operates. In addition, other federal legislation has had the effect of easing membership limits on credit unions and increasing the ability of credit unions to compete with the bank for deposits and loans in the communities the bank serves.

Nevertheless, First National Bank of the Rockies believes that it has been able to effectively distinguish itself as an independent community bank and compete by emphasizing efficient and friendly customer service and responsive decision-making, establishing long-term customer relationships and loyalty, and providing products and services designed to meet the specific needs of customers.

COMPARISON OF CERTAIN RIGHTS OF HOLDERS OF GLACIER AND FNBR COMMON STOCK

Montana law and Glacier's articles of incorporation and bylaws govern the rights of Glacier's shareholders and will govern the rights of FNBR's shareholders, who will become shareholders of Glacier as a result of the merger. The rights of FNBR's shareholders are currently governed by Colorado law and by FNBR's articles of incorporation and bylaws. The following is a brief summary of certain differences between the rights of Glacier and FNBR shareholders. This summary is not intended to provide a comprehensive discussion of each company's governing documents. This summary is qualified by the documents referenced and the respective laws of Montana and Colorado. See also Where You Can Find More Information About Glacier.

General

Under its articles of incorporation, Glacier's authorized capital stock consists of 117,187,500 shares of common stock, $0.01 par value per share, and 1,000,000 shares of preferred stock, $0.01 par value per share. No shares of preferred stock are currently outstanding.

Under its articles of incorporation, FNBR's authorized capital consists of 1,000,000 shares of common stock, with no par value.

The following is a more detailed description of Glacier's and FNBR's capital stock.

Preferred Stock

As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, Glacier had no shares of preferred stock issued. The Glacier board of directors is authorized, without further shareholder action, to issue preferred stock shares with such designations, preferences and rights as the Glacier board of directors may determine.

FNBR authorized capital does not include preferred stock.

Dividend Rights

Dividends may be paid on Glacier common stock as and when declared by the Glacier board of directors out of funds legally available for the payment of dividends. The Glacier board of directors may issue preferred stock that is entitled to such dividend rights as the board of directors may determine, including priority over the common stock in the payment of dividends.

The ability of Glacier to pay dividends basically depends on the amount of dividends paid to it by its subsidiaries. The payment of dividends is subject to government regulation, in that regulatory authorities may prohibit banks and bank holding companies from paying dividends in a manner that would constitute an unsafe or unsound banking practice. In addition, a bank may not pay cash dividends if doing so would reduce the amount of its capital below that necessary to meet minimum applicable regulatory capital requirements. State laws also limit a bank's ability to pay dividends. Accordingly, the dividend restrictions imposed on the subsidiaries by statute or regulation effectively may limit the amount of dividends Glacier can pay.

Dividends may be paid on FNBR common stock as and when declared by the FNBR board of directors out of funds legally available for the payment of dividends. FNBR's payment of dividends is generally subject to the same considerations described above with respect to Glacier.

Voting Rights

All voting rights are currently vested in the holders of Glacier common stock and FNBR common stock, with each share being entitled to one vote.

The articles of incorporation of Glacier provide that shareholders do not have cumulative voting rights in the election of directors. The articles of incorporation of FNBR provide that shareholders do not have cumulative voting rights in the election of directors or for any other purpose.

Preemptive Rights

Glacier's shareholders do not have preemptive rights to subscribe to any additional securities that may be issued.

FNBR's shareholders do not have a preemptive right to acquire the corporation's shares or rights to acquire shares.

Liquidation Rights

If Glacier is liquidated, the holders of Glacier common stock are entitled to share, on a pro rata basis, Glacier's remaining assets after provision for liabilities. The Glacier board of directors is authorized to determine the liquidation rights of any preferred stock that may be issued.

Table of Contents

If FNBR is liquidated, the holders of FNBR common stock are entitled to share, on a pro rata basis, FNBR's remaining assets after provision for liabilities.

Assessments

All outstanding shares of Glacier common stock are, and the shares to be issued in the merger will be, fully paid and nonassessable. Shares of FNBR common stock are fully paid and nonassessable.

Amendment of Articles and Bylaws

The Montana Business Corporation Act (MBCA) authorizes a corporation's board of directors to make various changes of an administrative nature to its articles of incorporation. Other amendments to a corporation's articles of incorporation must be recommended to the shareholders by the board of directors, unless the board determines that because of a conflict of interest or other special circumstances it should make no recommendation, and must be approved by a majority of all votes entitled to be cast by each voting group that has a right to vote on the amendment. The Glacier board of directors may, by a majority vote, amend Glacier's bylaws.

The Colorado Business Corporation Act (CBCA) authorized a corporation's board of directors to make various changes of an administrative nature to its articles of incorporation. Other amendments to a corporation's articles of incorporation must be recommended to the shareholders by the board of directors, unless the board determines that because of a conflict of interest or other special circumstances it should make no recommendation, and must be approved by the shareholders at a meeting at which a quorum exists. The bylaws of FNBR provide that subject to repeal or change by action of the shareholders, the power to alter, amend, or repeal the bylaws or adopt new bylaws shall be vested in the board of directors, as long as such provisions are not inconsistent with the law or the articles of incorporation.

Approval of Certain Transactions

The MBCA does not contain any anti-takeover provisions imposing specific requirements or restrictions on transactions between a corporation and significant shareholders. Glacier's articles of incorporation contain a provision requiring that specified transactions with an interested shareholder be approved by 80% of the voting power of the then outstanding shares unless it is (i) approved by Glacier's board of directors, or (ii) certain price and procedural requirements are satisfied. An interested shareholder is broadly defined to include the right, directly or indirectly, to acquire or to control the voting or disposition of 10% or more of Glacier's voting stock.

FNBR's articles of incorporation do not contain any anti-takeover provisions.

Board of Directors - Number of Directors

Glacier's articles of incorporation provide that the number of directors may not be less than seven or more than 17. Glacier's board currently consists of 9 members, each of whom is currently serving an annual term.

FNBR's bylaws provide that the number of directors shall be three. The board of directors of FNBR currently consists of three members, each of whom is currently serving an annual term.

Table of Contents

Indemnification and Limitation of Liability

Under the MBCA, indemnification of directors and officers is authorized to cover judgments, amounts paid in settlement, and expenses arising out of actions where the director or officer acted in good faith and in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, and in criminal cases, where the director or officer had no reasonable cause to believe that his or her conduct was unlawful. Unless limited by the corporation's articles of incorporation, Montana law requires indemnification if the director or officer is wholly successful on the merits of the action. Glacier's bylaws provide that Glacier shall indemnify its directors and officers to the fullest extent not prohibited by law, including indemnification for payments in settlement of actions brought against a director or officer in the name of the corporation, commonly referred to as a derivative action. Under the MBCA, any indemnification of a director in a derivative action must be reported to shareholders in writing prior to the next annual meeting of shareholders.

Glacier's articles of incorporation provide that the personal liability of directors and officers for monetary damages shall be eliminated to the full extent permitted by the MBCA.

Under the CBCA, indemnification of directors and officers is authorized to cover judgments, amounts paid in settlement, and expenses arising out of actions where the director or officer acted in good faith and in or at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, and in criminal cases, where the director or officer had no reasonable cause to believe that his or her conduct was unlawful. Unless limited by the corporation's articles of incorporation, Colorado law requires indemnification if the director or officer is wholly successful on the merits of the action. FNBR's articles of incorporation provide that to the extent permitted or required by the CBCA, FNBR shall indemnify its directors and officers and shall advance fees to such persons incurred in the applicable proceeding.

FNBR's articles of incorporation provide that there shall be no personal liability, either direct or indirect, of any director to FNBR or its shareholders for monetary damages for any breach of fiduciary duty as a director to the extent allowed by the CBCA.

Potential Anti-Takeover Provisions

Glacier's articles of incorporation include certain provisions that could make more difficult the acquisition of Glacier by means of a tender offer, a proxy contest, merger or otherwise. These provisions consist of a requirement that any Business Combination (as defined in the articles of incorporation) be approved by the affirmative vote of not less than 80% of the voting power of the then outstanding shares unless it is either approved by the board of directors or certain price and procedural requirements are satisfied.

In addition, the authorization of preferred stock, which is intended primarily as a financing tool and not as a defensive measure against takeovers, may potentially be used by management to make more difficult uninvited attempts to acquire control of Glacier (for example, by diluting the ownership interest of a substantial shareholder, increasing the amount of consideration necessary for shareholder to obtain control, or selling authorized but unissued shares to friendly third parties).

The supermajority approval requirement for certain business transactions and the availability of Glacier's preferred stock for issuance without shareholder approval, may have the effect of lengthening the time required for a person to acquire control of Glacier through a tender offer, proxy contest or otherwise, and may deter any potentially unfriendly offers or other efforts to obtain control of Glacier. This could deprive Glacier's shareholders of opportunities to realize a premium for their Glacier common stock, even in circumstances where such action was favored by a majority of Glacier's shareholders.

Table of Contents

FNBR's articles of incorporation do not contain anti-takeover provisions.

CERTAIN LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the Glacier common stock to be issued in the merger will be passed upon for Glacier by its special counsel, Moore, Cockrell, Goicoechea & Axelberg, P.C., Kalispell, Montana.

Neither GBCI nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to any cease and desist order, written agreement or memorandum of understanding with, or a party to any commitment letter or similar undertaking to, or is subject to any order or directive by, or is a recipient of any extraordinary supervisory letter from, or has adopted any board resolutions at the request of, federal or state regulatory authorities, nor has it been advised by such authorities that they are contemplating issuing or requesting any such order, agreement, memorandum or similar document or undertaking.
- 3.2.7 Knowledge as to Conditions. GBCI knows of no reason why the approvals, consents and waivers of governmental authorities referred to in Section 5.1 cannot be obtained.
- 3.2.8 Litigation. Except as disclosed in GBCI's Reports, no material litigation, proceeding or controversy before any court or governmental agency is pending, and there is no pending claim, action or proceeding against GBCI or any of its Subsidiaries, which is reasonably likely, individually or in the aggregate, to have a Material Adverse Effect on GBCI or to materially hinder or delay consummation of the Merger.

Within 15 days after the date on which FNBR delivers all of the title reports to GBCI for its review, GBCI will inform FNBR in writing whether, and in what manner, it objects to any of the exceptions to title shown on any of the title reports. FNBR will, within 10 days of the date on which it receives the written notice of objection from GBCI, inform GBCI if there are any objections that it is unable to remove at or prior to Closing. FNBR will not, however, be obligated to seek removal of exceptions that are non-monetary exceptions that do not prohibit or materially interfere with the use of the properties as bank branch locations or as otherwise used by FNBR or the Bank as of the date hereof. At Closing, if requested by GBCI, FNBR will cause the Title Companies to provide GBCI with standard coverage title insurance policies issued with respect to each of the Properties, in an amount commensurate with the value of each such Property as agreed upon by GBCI and FNBR, dated as of the Effective Date, insuring fee title in GBCI or such subsidiary of GBCI, as so designated by GBCI, and that each such Real Property is unencumbered by any Liens, other than Liens for taxes not yet delinquent and other exceptions to title as set forth in the title commitments as approved by GBCI.

4.1.14 Continuing Representation and Warranty. Neither FNBR nor any of its Subsidiaries will do or cause to be done anything that would cause any representation or warranty made by it in this Agreement to be untrue or inaccurate if made at Closing, except as otherwise contemplated or required by this Agreement or consented to in writing by GBCI.

FNBR will promptly take the actions necessary in accordance with applicable law and its Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws to convene a shareholders' meeting to consider the approval of this Agreement and to authorize the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (such meeting and any adjournment or postponement thereof, the FNBR Meeting). The FNBR Meeting will be held on the earliest practical date after the date the Prospectus/Proxy Statement may first be sent to FNBR's shareholders without objection by applicable governmental authorities. FNBR's board of directors and officers will recommend approval of the Merger to FNBR's shareholders.

If this Agreement is terminated or the Merger otherwise fails to be consummated, each party to this Agreement will promptly (i) return to the other all confidential documents obtained from them and (ii) not use or disclose any nonpublic information obtained under or in connection with this Agreement or in connection with the Transaction.

together with supporting information showing the calculation of the FNBR Capital (including a statement of FNBR Transaction Expenses) and any other documentation requested by GBCI for purposes of confirming the amount of such FNBR Capital. GBCI shall review such materials and, within two (2) Business Days following receipt thereof, notify FNBR as to whether GBCI accepts or disputes the amount of the FNBR Capital. If GBCI disputes such calculation, it shall describe in its notice the specific changes or adjustments that must be made. If GBCI and FNBR are unable to resolve such dispute through good faith negotiations within three (3) Business Days after delivery of GBCI's notice of objection, then the parties shall mutually engage and submit such dispute to, and the same shall be finally resolved by, an accounting firm that is mutually and reasonably acceptable to the parties (the Independent Accountants). The Independent Accountants shall determine and report in writing to GBCI and FNBR the resolution of such disputed matters and the effect of such determinations on the calculation of the FNBR Capital as of Closing, and such determinations shall be final, binding and conclusive unless GBCI and FNBR mutually agree upon a different amount. The FNBR Capital as of Closing, as determined and agreed upon in writing by GBCI and FNBR in accordance with this Section 4.12, is the FNBR Closing Capital. The fees and disbursements of the Independent Accountants pursuant to this Section 4.12 shall be shared equally by GBCI, on the one hand, and FNBR, on the other hand, and with respect to FNBR's portion, shall be an expense in the calculation of the FNBR Closing Capital.

4.13 Payment of Dividend. To the extent the FNBR Closing Capital exceeds $32,688,200, FNBR may, upon written notice to GBCI and effective immediately prior to the Effective Time, declare and pay a special dividend to its shareholders in the amount of such excess.

4.14 Best Efforts. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, each party will use its reasonable best efforts in good faith to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or desirable, or advisable under applicable laws, so as to permit consummation of the Merger by August 31, 2014, and in any case as early as possible, and to otherwise enable consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, subject to any delays resulting from SEC review or bank regulatory processing.

SECTION 5.

APPROVALS AND CONDITIONS

5.1 Required Approvals. The obligations of the parties to this Agreement are subject to the approval of this Agreement and the Transaction by all appropriate regulatory agencies having jurisdiction with respect thereto; provided, however, that no such consent or approval will have imposed any condition or requirement not normally imposed in such transactions that, in the opinion of GBCI, would deprive GBCI of the material economic or business benefits of the Merger.

SECTION 7.

TERMINATION OF AGREEMENT AND ABANDONMENT OF TRANSACTION

7.1 Termination by Reason of Lapse of Time. If Closing does not occur on or before November 30, 2014, either GBCI or FNBR may terminate this Agreement and the Merger if both of the following conditions are satisfied:

- (a) the terminating party's board of directors decides to terminate by a majority vote of all of its members; and
- (b) the terminating party delivers to the other party written notice that its board of directors has voted in favor of termination.

7.2 Termination Due To GBCI Average Closing Price Greater Than $33.82.

7.2.1 GBCI's Right to Terminate. By specific action of its board of directors, GBCI may terminate this Agreement and the Merger by written notice to FNBR on the Business Day immediately following the tenth (10th) day immediately preceding the Closing Day, if the GBCI Average Closing Price is greater than $33.82 (as such price is appropriately adjusted for any stock split, reverse stock split, recapitalization, reclassification or similar transaction with respect to the then outstanding shares of GBCI common stock declared or effected after the Execution Date and prior to the tenth (10th) day immediately preceding the Closing Date).

If GBCI elects to exercise its termination right pursuant to this Section 7.2.1, the provisions of Section 7.2.2 will apply.

7.2.2 FNBR's Right to Adjust Consideration. A termination by GBCI pursuant to Section 7.2.1 shall have no force or effect if FNBR agrees in writing within two (2) Business Days after receipt of written notice of such termination to decrease the Total Stock Consideration to the number of GBCI Shares equal to the quotient obtained by dividing $18,794,890 by the GBCI Average Closing Price. If FNBR makes such election to accept such decrease in the number of GBCI Shares, no termination will occur pursuant to Section 7.2.1, and this Agreement will remain in effect according to its terms (except as the Total Stock Consideration has been adjusted).

7.3 Termination Due To GBCI Average Closing Price Less than $25.00. By specific action of its board of directors, FNBR may terminate this Agreement and the Merger by written notice to GBCI on the Business Day immediately following the tenth (10th) day immediately preceding the Closing Date, if:

7.3.1 GBCI Average Closing Price Between $23.53 and $25.00. The GBCI Average Closing Price is less than $25.00 but not less than $23.53 (as such price is appropriately adjusted for any stock split, reverse stock split, recapitalization, reclassification or similar transaction with respect to the then outstanding shares of GBCI common stock declared or effected after the Execution Date and prior to the tenth (10th) day immediately preceding the Closing Date), and the number obtained by dividing the GBCI Average Closing Price by $25.06 (the Closing Price Change Ratio) is less than the number obtained by (a) dividing the Final Index Price by the Initial Index Price and then (b) multiplying the quotient so obtained by 0.90 (the Index Change Ratio); or

7.3.2 GBCI Average Closing Price Less Than $23.53. The GBCI Average Closing Price is less than $23.53 (as such price is appropriately adjusted for any stock split, reverse stock split, recapitalization, reclassification or similar transaction with respect to the then outstanding shares of GBCI common stock declared or effected after the Execution Date and prior to the tenth (10th) day immediately preceding the Closing Date); provided, however, a termination by FNBR pursuant to this Section 7.3 shall have no force or effect if GBCI agrees in writing within two (2) Business Days after receipt of written notice of such termination (x) in the case of a termination pursuant to Section 7.3.1 to increase the Total Stock Consideration by a number of shares of GBCI Common Stock obtained by multiplying 555,733 (as appropriately adjusted for any stock split, reverse stock split, recapitalization, reclassification or similar transaction with respect to the then outstanding shares of GBCI Common Stock declared or effected after the Execution Date and prior to the tenth (10th) day immediately preceding the Closing Date) by the difference between the Index Change Ratio and the Closing Price Change Ratio or (y) in the case of a termination pursuant to this Section 7.3.2, that the Total Stock Consideration shall be equal to a number of shares of GBCI common stock equal to the quotient obtained by dividing $13,076,397 by the GBCI Average Closing Price.

For purposes of this Section 7.3, the following terms have the meanings indicated below:

Final Index Price means the sum of the Final Average Price for each company comprising the Index Group divided by ten (10).

Final Average Price means, with respect to any company belonging to the Index Group, the average of the volume weighted closing price (rounded to the nearest one ten thousandth) of a share of common stock of such company, as reported on the consolidated transaction reporting system for the market or exchange on which such common stock is principally traded for the twenty (20) Trading Days immediately preceding the tenth (10th) day immediately preceding the Closing Date.

Index Group means the 10 financial institutions listed on Exhibit A attached hereto, the common stock of all of which shall be publicly traded and as to which there shall not have been a publicly announced proposal at any time during the period beginning on the Execution Date and ending on the eleventh (11th) day immediately preceding the Closing Date. In the event that the common stock of any such company ceases to be publicly traded or a proposal to acquire any such company is announced at any time during the period beginning on the Execution Date and ending on the eleventh (11th) day immediately preceding the Closing Date, such company will be removed from the Index Group, and the remaining companies will be adjusted proportionately for the purposes of the determining the Final Index Price and the Initial Index Price.

Initial Index Price is the sum of the Initial Price for each Index Group member divided by ten (10).

Initial Price means the price per share of the common stock of each company comprising the Index Group, as such prices are reported on the consolidated transactions reporting system for the market or exchange on which such common stock is principally traded, on May 8, 2014, which amount may be adjusted as described hereinabove in the definition of Index Group.

- 7.4 Other Grounds for Termination. This Agreement and the Merger may be terminated at any time before Closing (whether before or after applicable approval of this Agreement by FNBR's shareholders, unless otherwise provided) as follows:
- 7.4.1 Mutual Consent. By mutual consent of FNBR and GBCI, if the board of directors of each party agrees to terminate by a majority vote of all of its members.
- 7.4.2 No Regulatory Approvals. By either party, if the regulatory approvals required by Section 5.1 are denied (or if any such required approval is conditioned on a substantial deviation from the Merger); provided, however, that either party will have fifteen (15) Business Days following receipt of such denial to appeal the decision, and if such appeal is timely made, either party will have sixty (60) days to prosecute diligently and overturn such denial, and such other party may not terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 7.4.2 during such period of time; provided further, however, either party shall be entitled to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 7.1 during such period of time.
- 7.4.3 Breach of Representation. By either party (provided that the terminating party is not then in material breach of any of its representations, warranties, agreements or covenants in this Agreement if they are not qualified as to materiality and is not then in breach of any of its representations, warranties, agreements or covenants in this Agreement if they are qualified as to materiality) if there has been a material breach of any of the representations or warranties set forth in this Agreement that are not qualified as to materiality or a breach of any of the representations or warranties set forth in this Agreement that are qualified as to materiality on the part of the other party, which breach is not cured within thirty days following written notice to the party committing such breach, or which breach, by its nature, cannot be cured prior to the end of such thirty day period; provided, however, that neither party will have the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 7.4.3 unless the breach of such representation or warranty, together with any other such breaches, would entitle the party receiving such representation not to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby under Section 5.2.1 (in the case of a breach of a representation or warranty by FNBR) or Section 5.3.1 (in the case of a breach of a representation or warranty by GBCI). In the event of termination pursuant to this Section 7.4.3 and excluding Section 7.4.6, the terminating party will be entitled to receive from the other party a termination fee as described below.

recommend to its shareholders the approval of the Merger or (ii) modifies, withdraws or changes in a manner adverse to GBCI its recommendation to shareholders to approve the Merger; or (b) regardless of whether FNBR's Board of Directors recommends to its shareholders the approval of the Merger, FNBR's shareholders elect not to approve the Merger.

- 7.4.6 Impracticability. By either GBCI or FNBR, upon written notice given to the other party, if the board of directors of the party seeking termination under this Section 7.4.6 has determined in its sole judgment, made in good faith and after due consideration and consultation with counsel, that the Merger has become inadvisable or impracticable by reason of actions taken by the federal government or the governments of the States of Montana or Colorado to restrain or invalidate the Merger or this Agreement.
- 7.4.7 Superior Proposal Termination by FNBR. By the board of directors of FNBR upon written notice to GBCI if such board of directors has in good faith determined that a takeover proposal constitutes a Superior Proposal; provided, however, that FNBR may not terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 7.4.7 unless (i) it has not breached Section 4.1.10, (ii) subsequent to delivering such notice of termination, it intends to enter into a letter of intent, acquisition agreement or similar agreement relating to such Superior Proposal, (iii) it has provided GBCI at least five (5) days prior written notice advising GBCI that the board of directors of FNBR is prepared to accept a Superior Proposal and has given GBCI, if it so elects, an opportunity to amend the terms of this Agreement (and negotiated with GBCI in good faith with respect to such terms) in such a manner as would enable FNBR's board of directors to proceed with the Merger, and (iv) simultaneously upon entering into such letter of intent, acquisition agreement or similar agreement relating to such Superior Proposal referred to in clause (ii), it delivers to GBCI the Break-Up Fee.
- 7.4.8 Superior Proposal Termination by GBCI. By GBCI upon written notice to FNBR if (i) an Acquisition Event will have occurred or (ii) a third party will have made a proposal to FNBR or its shareholders to engage in or entered into an agreement with respect to an Acquisition Event, and this Agreement and the Merger are not approved at the FNBR Meeting.
- 7.5 Termination Fee Payable By FNBR. Due to expenses, direct and indirect, incurred by GBCI in negotiating and executing this Agreement and in taking steps to effect the Merger, FNBR will pay to GBCI a termination fee of $300,000 if GBCI terminates this Agreement pursuant to Sections 7.4.3 (breach of representation) or 7.4.4 (breach of covenant). If such termination fee becomes payable pursuant to this Section 7.5, it will be payable on GBCI's demand and must be paid by FNBR within three Business Days following the date of GBCI's demand.
- 7.6 Termination Fee Payable By GBCI. Due to expenses, direct and indirect, incurred by FNBR in negotiating and executing this Agreement and in taking steps to effect the Merger, GBCI will pay to FNBR a termination fee of $300,000 if FNBR terminates this Agreement pursuant to Sections 7.4.3 (breach of representation) or 7.4.4 (breach of covenant). If such termination fee becomes payable pursuant to this Section 7.6, it will be payable on FNBR's demand and must be paid by GBCI within three Business Days following the date of FNBR's demand.

immediately pay to GBCI $1,630,000 (the Break-Up Fee). If this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 7.4.8(ii) (Superior Proposal Termination by GBCI Subsequent Acquisition Event) and prior to or within six months after such termination, FNBR or the Bank enters into an agreement, or publicly announces an intention, to engage in an Acquisition Event, or within twelve months after such termination an Acquisition Event will have occurred, then FNBR will promptly pay to GBCI the Break-Up Fee.

7.8 Cost Allocation Upon Termination. In connection with the termination of this Agreement under this Section 7, except as provided in Sections 7.5 and 7.6, each party will pay its own out-of-pocket costs incurred in connection with this Agreement and will have no other liability to the other parties. The parties agree that the agreements herein with respect to the termination fees are integral parts of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and constitute liquidated damages and not a penalty.

A single arbitrator agreed on by the parties will conduct the arbitration. If the parties cannot agree on a single arbitrator, each party must select one arbitrator and those two arbitrators will select a third arbitrator. This third arbitrator will hear the dispute. (b) The corporation fails to make payment under section 7-113-206 within sixty days after the date set by the corporation by which the corporation must receive the payment demand; or

(c) The corporation does not return the deposited certificates or release the transfer restrictions imposed on uncertificated shares as required by section 7-113-207(1).

If the corporation is a foreign corporation without a registered agent, it shall commence the proceeding in the county in which the domestic corporation merged into, or whose shares were acquired by, the foreign corporation would have commenced the action if that corporation were subject to the first sentence of this subsection (2).

(3) The corporation shall make all dissenters, whether or not residents of this state, whose demands remain unresolved parties to the proceeding commenced under subsection (2) of this section as in an action against their shares, and all parties shall be served with a copy of the petition. Service on each dissenter shall be by registered or certified mail, to the address stated in such dissenter's payment demand, or if no such address is stated in the payment demand, at the address shown on the corporation's current record of shareholders for the record shareholder holding the dissenter's shares, or as provided by law.

(4) The jurisdiction of the court in which the proceeding is commenced under subsection (2) of this section is plenary and exclusive. The court may appoint one or more persons as appraisers to receive evidence and recommend a decision on the question of fair value. The appraisers have the powers described in the order appointing them, or in any amendment to such order. The parties to the proceeding are entitled to the same discovery rights as parties in other civil proceedings.

(5) Each dissenter made a party to the proceeding commenced under subsection (2) of this section is entitled to judgment for the amount, if any, by which the court finds the fair value of the dissenter's shares, plus interest, exceeds the amount paid by the corporation, or for the fair value, plus interest, of the dissenter's shares for which the corporation elected to withhold payment under section 7-113-208.

§ 7-113-302. Court costs and counsel fees

The court shall assess the costs against the corporation; except that the court may assess costs against all or some of the dissenters, in amounts the court finds equitable, to the extent the court finds the dissenters acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith in demanding payment under section 7-113-209.

(2) The court may also assess the fees and expenses of counsel and experts for the respective parties, in amounts the court finds equitable:

(a) Against the corporation and in favor of any dissenters if the court finds the corporation did not substantially comply with part 2 of this article; or

(b) Against either the corporation or one or more dissenters, in favor of any other party, if the court finds that the party against whom the fees and expenses are assessed acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith with respect to the rights provided by this article.

(3) If the court finds that the services of counsel for any dissenter were of substantial benefit to other dissenters similarly situated, and that the fees for those services should not be assessed against the corporation, the court may award to said counsel reasonable fees to be paid out of the amounts awarded to the dissenters who were benefited.

PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL

The Board of Directors

FNBR Holding Corporation

2452 Highway Six & 50

Grand Junction, CO 81505

Members of the Board:

You have requested our opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, as of the date hereof, of the consideration to be received by the holders of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock, no par value (the Common Stock) of FNBR Holding Corporation (FNBR), pursuant to the draft Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of April 22, 2014 (the Agreement), by and among FNBR, First National Bank of the Rockies (the Bank), Glacier Bancorp, Inc. (Buyer), and Glacier Bank.

As more specifically set forth in the Agreement, and subject to a number of terms, conditions and procedures described in the Agreement, at the effective time FNBR will be merged with and into the Buyer (the Merger), the separate corporate existence of FNBR shall cease and the Buyer shall be the surviving corporation. All of the shares of FNBR's Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger (other than shares held in FNBR's treasury and shares as to which dissenters' rights of appraisal have been elected and not withdrawn) will be exchanged for approximately 3.326 shares of Buyer common stock for each FNBR share and approximately $97.82 per share in cash (Merger Consideration). The Merger Consideration may be subject to adjustment at closing in accordance with the provisions of Section 1.2 and 4.12 of the Agreement if FNBR Closing Capital (as that term is defined therein) does not exceed a specified amount.

St. Charles Capital, LLC (St. Charles), as part of its investment banking business, is customarily engaged in the valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, private placements and valuations for estate, corporate and other purposes.

In connection with rendering this opinion, we have reviewed and analyzed, among other things, the following:

- (i) The draft Agreement, including the exhibits and schedules thereto;
- (ii) certain financial statements and other financial information of FNBR, including the Audited Financial Statements for FNBR and the Bank for the each of the years in the two year period ended December 31, 2012, Regulatory Financial Statements of the Bank for each of the years in the three year period ended December 31, 2013, and internal financial statements for FNBR and the Bank for the Quarter ended March 31, 2014 and March 31, 2013;

- (iii) certain other internal information, primarily financial in nature, including projections concerning the business and operations of FNBR and the Bank furnished to us by FNBR for purposes of our analysis;
- (iv) the process leading to the receipt of offers and the responses of certain potential acquirers concerning the potential acquisition of FNBR;
- (v) certain publicly available information with respect to certain other companies that we believe to be comparable to FNBR, and the trading markets for such other companies' securities;
- (vi) certain publicly available information concerning the nature and terms of certain other transactions that we considered relevant to our inquiry;
- (vii) certain publicly available information concerning Buyer;
- (viii) the economic, banking and competitive climate for banking institutions in Colorado;
- (ix) the business and prospects of FNBR through meetings and discussions with certain officers and employees of FNBR; and
- (x) other matters we believe relevant to our inquiry.

In our review and analysis and in arriving at our opinion, we have assumed and relied upon the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information provided to us or publicly available and have assumed and relied upon the representations and warranties of FNBR and Buyer contained in the Agreement. We have not been engaged to, and have not independently attempted to, verify any of such information. We have also relied upon the management of FNBR as to the reasonableness and achievability of the financial and operating projections (and the assumptions and bases therefor) provided to us and, with your consent, we have assumed that such projections reflect the best currently available estimates and judgments of management of FNBR. We have not been engaged to assess the reasonableness or achievability of such projections or the assumptions on which they were based and express no view as to such projections or assumptions. In addition, we have not conducted a physical inspection or appraisal of any of FNBR's assets, properties or facilities, nor have we been furnished with any such evaluation or appraisal. We have also assumed that the conditions of the Merger as set forth in the Agreement would be satisfied and that the Merger would be consummated on a timely basis in the manner contemplated by the Agreement.

It should be noted that this opinion is based on economic and market conditions and other circumstances existing on, and information made available as of, the date hereof and does not address any matters subsequent to such date. In addition, our opinion is, in any event, limited to the fairness, as of the date hereof, from a financial point of view, of the Merger Consideration to be received by FNBR's stockholders pursuant to the Agreement and does not address FNBR's underlying business decision to effect the Merger, the process by which the transaction was conducted, or any other terms of the Merger. It should be noted that although subsequent developments may affect this opinion, we do not have any obligation to update, revise or reaffirm our opinion.

It is understood that this opinion was prepared solely for the confidential use of the Board of Directors of FNBR and may not be disclosed, summarized, excerpted from or otherwise publicly referred to without our prior written consent, which will not be unreasonably withheld. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this opinion may be included in the proxy statement to be mailed to the holders of FNBR's Common Stock in connection with the Merger, provided that this opinion will be reproduced in such proxy statement in full, and any description of, or reference to, us or our actions, or any summary of the opinion in such proxy statement, will be in a form reasonably acceptable to us and our counsel. Our opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any stockholder of FNBR as to how such stockholder should vote at the stockholders' meeting held in connection with the Merger. We do not express an opinion about the fairness of the amount of or nature of the compensation to any of FNBR's officers, directors or employees, or class of persons, relative to the compensation to the shareholders of FNBR.

We were engaged by the Board to render this opinion in connection with the Board's discharge of its fiduciary obligations. We have advised the Board that we do not believe that any person (including a stockholder of FNBR) other than the directors has the legal right to rely on this opinion for any claim arising under state law and that, should any such claim be brought against us, this assertion will be raised as a defense. This opinion has been reviewed by the St. Charles Fairness Opinion Committee.

We have acted as a financial adviser to FNBR in connection with the Merger and will receive from FNBR a fee for our services, a significant portion of which is contingent upon the consummation of the Transaction, as well as FNBR's agreement to indemnify us under certain circumstances. St. Charles will receive compensation for rendering this opinion.

St. Charles was engaged in February 2011 to review the strategic alternatives available to FNBR, including the potential sale of FNBR. As part of this engagement, St. Charles received approximately $140,000 in fees.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing and such other matters as we consider relevant, it is our opinion that as of the date hereof, the Merger Consideration is fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of FNBR's Common Stock.

Very truly yours,

St. Charles Capital, LLC
