1. What was announced?

We announced that Centene has entered into a definitive agreement to acquire WellCare.

The combination of Centene and WellCare will create a premier healthcare enterprise focused on government-sponsored healthcare programs and a leader in Medicaid, Medicare and the Health Insurance Marketplace.

The addition of WellCare is the next logical next step as we continue on our journey to provide access to high-quality healthcare, innovative programs and a wide range of affordable health solutions that help families and individuals get well, stay well and be well.

Together, the combined companies will have approximately 22 million members across all 50 states.

With the addition of WellCare, we expect to better serve members through enhanced healthcare programs, expanded capabilities, and continued investments in technology.

2. Who is WellCare?

Headquartered in Tampa, Fla., WellCare provides government-sponsored managed care services to families, children, seniors and individuals with complex medical needs through Medicaid, Medicare Advantage and Medicare Prescription Drug Plans.

WellCare serves more than 5.5 million members nationwide and it brings to Centene healthcare plans in Hawaii, Kentucky, and New Jersey and an enhanced presence in Michigan.

3. How does this fit into Centene's strategy?

Centene has grown significantly over the years by staying true to our mission of helping people live healthier lives, diversifying and adding capabilities and markets.

The addition of WellCare is the next logical step as we continue on our journey to provide access to high-quality healthcare, innovative programs and a wide range of affordable health solutions that help families and individuals get well, stay well and be well.

Like Centene, WellCare believes that affordable and quality healthcare is best delivered locally.

WellCare brings to Centene a high-quality Medicare platform, increases our exposure to government sponsored healthcare solutions through its Medicare Advantage and Medicare Prescription Drug Plans and further extends our robust Medicaid offerings.

We will also benefit from leveraging Centene's growing position in the Health Insurance Marketplace to new markets.

With the addition of WellCare, we expect to better serve members through enhanced healthcare programs, expanded capabilities and continued investments in technology.

4. How does this impact our geographic footprint?

With the addition of WellCare, we will serve approximately 22 million members across all 50 states, making us the leader in government-sponsored healthcare and increasing our scale.

This transaction brings Centene healthcare plans in Hawaii, Kentucky, and New Jersey and an enhanced presence in Michigan.

WellCare will also expand its footprint into California and Ohio, and gain a significantly larger footprint in New York.

5. What does this transaction mean for me?

We expect employees to benefit by being part of a larger and more diversified premier healthcare enterprise focused on government-sponsored healthcare programs with a national footprint.

Importantly, until the closing of this transaction, Centene and WellCare will continue to operate as independent companies.

As we work toward closing this transaction, it is business as usual at Centene and we should all remain focused on our day-to-day responsibilities and business objectives.

We are counting on you to continue helping our members live healthier lives.

6. How will WellCare employees be integrated into the Centene organization?

It is still early in the process, and details regarding bringing together our organizations will be determined as part of our integration planning.

As we bring our teams together, we will take the same thoughtful and comprehensive approach as we did with the Health Net and Fidelis Care transactions, including planning how we will join our capabilities and our people to realize the benefits of this transaction for our stakeholders.

7. Do you anticipate any layoffs following the transaction?

While this combination is in large part about growth and realizing the benefits of our enhanced scale, it will also be about leveraging our combined strengths, especially in markets where we both operate.

Both Centene and WellCare have established proven track records of executing strategic transactions. As we bring our teams together, we will take the same thoughtful and comprehensive approach as we did with the Health Net and Fidelis Care combinations, including planning how we will join our capabilities and our people.

Importantly, Centene will continue to have a strong presence in our local markets and employees will have expanded opportunities for personal development and career growth.

8. When is the transaction expected to close? What approvals are required?

Centene and WellCare expect to complete the transaction in the first half of 2020.

The transaction is subject to approval by Centene and WellCare shareholders. It is also conditioned on clearance under the Hart-Scott Rodino Act, receipt of required state regulatory approvals and other customary closing conditions.

Importantly, until the closing of this transaction, Centene and WellCare will continue to operate as independent companies.

As we work toward closing this transaction, it is business as usual at Centene and we should all remain focused on our day-to-day responsibilities and business objectives.

9. Who will lead the combined Company? Will there be changes to the management team?

After the closing of the transaction, Michael Neidorff will lead the combined company as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer.

Ken Burdick and Drew Asher, the CEO and CFO of WellCare are expected to join Centene's senior management team in new positions created as a result of the acquisition.

The board of the combined company will consist of 11 members, nine of whom will be from the board of Centene and two of whom will be from the board of WellCare.

10. Where will the combined company be headquartered?

The combined company will be headquartered in St. Louis, the location of Centene's headquarters, with operations throughout the country. This will include supporting substantial operations in WellCare's home state of Florida, which is consistent with the size of the business and our commitment to a strong local approach.

11. How will this transaction affect our relationship with members?

This transaction has many benefits for members. We believe that, following closing, the combined company will have the size and scale to better serve members through enhanced healthcare programs, expanded capabilities, and continued investments in technology.

Centene and WellCare will build on both companies' strong commitments to the communities in which our employees and members live and work. Together, we intend on staying true to our mission of transforming the health of our communities, one person at a time.

That said, until the transaction closes, Centene and WellCare will continue to operate as usual as independent companies.

This means there will be no immediate impact on health plans, or changes in policies, coverage, network of providers or the way we work with members during this period.

12. How will this transaction affect our relationship with providers?

It will be business as usual. Centene has strong relationships with providers, and we expect that to continue.

With increased scale and diversification and a broader membership base, we expect to be a more valuable partner to healthcare providers.

Importantly, this announced transaction will have no immediate impact on our providers. We will continue to manage and build our networks and work with providers and members as we always have.

13. What do I say if I'm asked about the transaction?

We expect today's announcement will lead to increased interest in Centene from the media and our investors.

It is important that our company speak with one voice.

If anyone from the investment community or media contacts you, please do not comment on the transaction and forward all external inquiries to Marcela Hawn, SVP, Chief Communications Officer, at mediainquiries@centene.com.
