ABOUT THIS PROSPECTUS SUPPLEMENT

This document is in two parts. The first part is this prospectus supplement, which describes the specific terms of the common stock the selling stockholder is offering. The second part, the accompanying prospectus dated October 13, 2016, gives more general information about our securities, some of which may not apply to this offering. You should read this prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus, including the information incorporated by reference and any free writing prospectuses we have authorized for use in connection with this offering, in their entirety before making an investment decision. We obtained the industry and market data in this prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus, including the information incorporated by reference into this prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus, from our own research as well as from industry and general publications, surveys and studies conducted by third parties. These data involve a number of assumptions and limitations, and you are cautioned not to give undue weight to such estimates. In addition, projections, assumptions and estimates of our future performance and the future performance of the industry in which we operate is necessarily subject to a high degree of uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors, including those described in “Risk Factors” and elsewhere in this prospectus supplement, the accompanying prospectus and documents incorporated by reference in this prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus. CONVENTIONS THAT APPLY IN THIS PROSPECTUS SUPPLEMENT

Unless otherwise indicated, references in this prospectus supplement to:

- “100G products” collectively refers to all products sold by us designed for use at 100Gbps (“100G”), and in coherent transmission systems designed for use at 100Gbps or higher data rates. Some customers may use components designed for use at 100G at lower speeds. Our 100G products include both coherent transmission products and 100G network products that are not coherent;
- “Coherent” refers to optical transmission systems that encode information in the phase of an optical signal and decode such information through comparison with an independent laser at the receiver and digital signal processing;
- “High Speed Products” refers to transmitter and receiver products as well as switching and other component products for 100G optical transmission applications over distances of 2 to 2,000 kilometers. Our high speed 100G and beyond products are based on our Advanced Hybrid Photonic Integration technology. These technologies support encoding 100 gigabits or more per second of information for transmitting over a single channel and decoding the information at the receiver. Through 2014, our use of this term included our products designed for use at 40Gbps (“40G”) and that comprised less than 1% of our total revenue and approximately 1% of our revenue from high speed products in the year ended December 31, 2014. From 2015 onward, High Speed Products refers exclusively to products sold by us and designed for use at 100Gbps or higher data rates;
- “Network Products and Solutions” collectively refers to all products sold by us for use in optical communications networks and a variety of other applications that are designed for use at data rates that are less than 100Gbps, including 40G, 10G and lower data rates. These products include certain passive products that do not explicitly have a data rate specification, but that are most commonly used in networks at these data rates. From 2015 onward, Network Products and Solutions includes products sold by us and designed for use at 40G that, prior to 2015, were included with High Speed Products; and
- “PIC” refers to Photonic Integrated Circuit.

Unless the context indicates otherwise, we use the terms “NeoPhotonics,” “we,” “us,” “our” and “the Company” in this prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus to refer to NeoPhotonics Corporation and, where appropriate, its subsidiaries.

NeoPhotonics Corporation

Overview

We develop, manufacture and sell optoelectronic products that transmit, receive and switch high speed digital optical signals for communications networks. We sell our products to the world’s leading network equipment manufacturers, including Ciena Corporation, Cisco Systems, Inc., HiSilicon Technologies, Ltd., an affiliate of Huawei Technologies, Co., Ltd. and Huawei Technologies Co., Ltd. and Nokia Corporation (formerly Alcatel-Lucent SA which was acquired by Nokia Corporation in January 2016). These companies are among our largest customers and a focus of our strategy due to their leading market positions.

We have research and development and wafer fabrication facilities in San Jose and Fremont, California and in Tokyo, Japan that coordinate with our research and development and manufacturing facilities in Dongguan, Shenzhen and Wuhan, China, Ottawa, Canada, and Moscow, Russia. We use proprietary design tools and design-for-manufacturing techniques to align our design process with our precision nanoscale, vertically integrated manufacturing and testing. We believe we are one of the highest volume Photonic Integrated Circuit, or PIC, manufacturers in the world and that we can further expand our manufacturing capacity to meet market needs.

Recognizing our focus on growth in our 100Gbps (“100G”) and beyond products, we aligned our product group reporting to “High Speed Products” which includes products designed for 100G and beyond applications and “Network Products and Solutions” which comprises our passive and instrumentation products that generally do not have a specific data rate, though such products may also be used in High Speed applications. Our High Speed Products primarily implement coherent technology and include those designed for 100G and beyond data rates for telecom and datacenter or content provider networks and applications.

If any of these risks actually occurs, our business, financial condition, results of operations or cash flow could be seriously harmed. Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause our actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. Given these uncertainties, you should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. Also, forward-looking statements represent our management’s beliefs and assumptions only as of the date of this prospectus supplement. SELLING STOCKHOLDER

The following table sets forth information regarding the number of shares of our common stock as of October 31, 2016, held for the account of, and the numbers of shares being sold, by the selling stockholder.

| Name of Selling Stockholder | Shares Beneficially Owned | Shares Being Offered | Shares Beneficially Owned | |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|----------------------|---------------------------|--------|
| | Prior to the Offering | | After the Offering | Number |

(1) Rusnano is an joint stock company organized under the laws of the Russian Federation. The supervisory board of Rusnano has sole voting and investment power with respect to the shares beneficially owned by Rusnano. The Russian Federation owns 100% of Rusnano. Dmitry Akhanov, a member of our board of directors, is the President and Chief Executive Officer of Rusnano USA, Inc., a U.S. subsidiary of Rusnano, but he disclaims beneficial ownership of these shares.

Private Placement and Related Agreements with Rusnano

Board members

Dmitry Akhanov, a member of our board of directors since July 2013, is the President and Chief Executive Officer of Rusnano USA, Inc., a U.S. subsidiary of Rusnano. Prior to Mr. Akhanov's appointment in July 2013, Sergey Polikarpov, a Managing Director of Rusnano, served as a member of our board of directors beginning in April 2012.

Private placement transaction

In April 2012, we entered into a rights agreement with Rusnano. Under the rights agreement, we agreed to make a $30.0 million investment commitment, or the Investment Commitment, toward our Russian operations. The Investment Commitment can be partially satisfied by cash and/or non-cash investment inside or outside of Russia and/or by way of non-cash asset transfers.

In July 2015, we amended our rights agreement with Rusnano. The amendment to the rights agreement became effective on June 30, 2015 and provides for an updated investment plan for our Russian subsidiaries that includes a non-cash transfer of licensing rights to intellectual property, non-cash transfers of exiting equipment and commitments to complete the remaining milestones of approximately one-half of the overall investment through fiscal year 2019. It also provides that the maximum amount of penalties to be paid by us will not exceed $5.0 million in the aggregate, with the following penalties for failure to meet specified milestones and exit options at the end of the following years, subject to a 90-day cure period (“Cure Period”) following such years:

- By December 31, 2015, if the actual cumulative investment and spending to our Russian subsidiaries was less than $13.0 million, or if we had not sold any products manufactured by its Russian subsidiary, or if we had not completed agreed-upon manufacturing milestones, then we would be subject to a $5.0 million penalty within 30 days after the end of the applicable Cure Period; if the cumulative investments and spending to our Russian subsidiaries were less than $15.4 million but more than $13.0 million by December 31, 2015 and was not cured within the applicable Cure Period, we would be subject to a $1.5 million penalty within 30 days after the end of the applicable Cure Period. We fulfilled our investment commitment required by 2015 and had contributed over $15.4 million in cash and assets to our subsidiaries in Russia as of December 31, 2015. We also satisfied the requirement related to sale of products manufactured by our Russian subsidiary as of December 31, 2015. However, we were not in full compliance with the completion of agreed-upon manufacturing milestones as of December 31, 2015 (and as of the end of the Cure Period ended March 30, 2016) since certain required equipment was delivered but not fully installed and operational as of that date. We have remediated these issues and, in August 2016, entered into the second amendment to the Rights Agreement with Rusnano (the “Amended Rights Agreement”) to address this matter. The amendment extended the foregoing manufacturing deadlines to June 30, 2016 and confirmed that we had completed these milestones as of June 30, 2016. As a result, we will not be held liable for the $5.0 million penalty.

- By December 31, 2016, if the actual cumulative investment and spending to our subsidiaries in Russia is less than $18.8 million, we will be subject to a $1.5 million penalty within 30 days after the end of the applicable Cure Period.
- At the end of 2016, we will be subject to pay an exit fee of $3.5 million to Rusnano should we decide to cease the operations of our subsidiaries in Russia, provided that the cumulative investments and spending including the tangible asset transfers, other than intangible asset transfers which is limited to a maximum valuation of $5.7 million, exceed $10.0 million.
- At the end of 2019, we will be subject to pay an exit fee of $2.0 million to Rusnano should we decide to cease the operations of our subsidiaries in Russia, if the cumulative investments and spending are less than $30.0 million.

In August 2016, we entered into a letter of agreement with Rusnano to agree to transfer a product line and incur expected costs of approximately $0.1 million by July 30, 2017.

Separately, on December 18, 2014, we entered into a Commitment to file a Registration Statement and Related Waiver of Registration Rights, whereby Rusnano waived certain registration rights in connection with a potential offering by us of shares of our common stock, and we committed to file with the SEC a resale registration statement on Form S-1 covering the resale of all shares of our common stock held by Rusnano, or the 2015 Registration Statement. We filed the 2015 Registration Statement on April 6, 2015 to register 4,972,905 shares of our common stock held by Rusnano. Rusnano also waived its demand registration rights under the original rights agreement and agreed to enter into a lock up agreement with us whereby it would agree not to sell any shares of our common stock, or engage in certain other transactions relating to our securities, for a period of 60 days from the filing date of the 2015 Registration Statement. Rusnano signed such lock up agreement with us on April 2, 2015. In connection with our public stock offering completed in the second quarter of 2015, Rusnano entered into a separate lock up agreement with Needham & Company, LLC, the lead underwriter of the offering, whereby it agreed not to sell any shares of our common stock, or engage in certain other transactions relating to our securities, for a period of 180 days from May 21, 2015. Such lock up agreement expired in November 2015.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

We are registering the shares of common stock issued to the selling stockholder to permit the resale of these shares by the selling stockholder from time to time after the date of this prospectus supplement. We will not receive any of the proceeds from the sale by the selling stockholder of the shares. We will bear all fees and expenses incident to our obligation to register the shares.

The selling stockholder and any of its pledgees, assignees and successors-in-interest may, from time to time, sell any or all of their shares covered hereby on The New York Stock Exchange or any other stock exchange, market or trading facility on which the shares are traded or in private transactions. These sales may be at fixed prices, at prevailing market prices at the time of the sale, at varying prices determined at the time of sale, or negotiated prices. The selling stockholder may use any one or more of the following methods when selling shares:

- ordinary brokerage transactions and transactions in which the broker-dealer solicits purchasers;
- an underwritten public offering in which one or more underwriters participate;
- block trades in which the broker-dealer will attempt to sell the shares as agent but may position and resell a portion of the block as principal to facilitate the transaction;
- purchases by a broker-dealer as principal and resale by the broker-dealer for its account;
 - an exchange distribution in accordance with the rules of the applicable exchange;
- privately negotiated transactions;
- settlement of short sales entered into after the effective date of the registration statement of which this prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus are a part, to the extent permitted by law;
- in transactions through broker-dealers that agree with the selling stockholder to sell a specified number of such shares at a stipulated price per share;
- put or call options transactions or through the writing or settlement of standardized or over-the-counter options or other hedging or derivative transactions, whether through an options exchange or otherwise;

- by pledge to secure debts and other obligations;
- a combination of any such methods of sale; or
- any other method permitted pursuant to applicable law.

To the extent required by law, this prospectus supplement may be amended or supplemented from time to time to describe a specific plan of distribution, which amended or supplemented prospectus may include the following information to the extent required by law:

- the terms of the offering;
- the names of any underwriters or agents;
- the purchase price of the shares of common stock;
- any delayed delivery arrangements;
- any underwriting discounts and other items constituting underwriters' compensation;
- any initial public offering price; and

S-9

Table of Contents

- any discounts or concessions allowed or reallocated or paid to dealers.

The selling stockholder may also sell common stock under Rule 144 under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Act, if available, rather than under this prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus.

If underwriters are used in the sale, the shares will be acquired by the underwriters for their own account and may be resold from time to time in one or more transactions, including negotiated transactions, at a fixed public offering price or at varying prices determined at the time of sale. In connection with any such underwritten sale of shares, underwriters may receive compensation from the selling stockholder, for whom they may act as agents, in the form of discounts, concessions or commissions. If the selling stockholder uses an underwriter or underwriters to effectuate the sale of shares, we and/or they will execute an underwriting agreement with those underwriters at the time of sale of those shares. To the extent required by law, the names of the underwriters will be set forth in a supplement to this prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus or, if appropriate, a post-effective amendment to the registration statement that includes this prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus, used by the underwriters to sell those securities. The obligations of the underwriters to purchase those shares will be subject to certain conditions precedent, and unless otherwise specified in a prospectus supplement, the underwriters will be obligated to purchase all the shares offered by such prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus if any of such shares are purchased. Any initial public offering price and any discounts or concessions allowed or reallocated or paid to dealers may be changed from time to time.

Broker-dealers engaged by the selling stockholder may arrange for other brokers-dealers to participate in sales. Broker-dealers may receive commissions or discounts from the selling stockholder (or, if any broker-dealer acts as agent for the purchaser of shares, from the purchaser) in amounts to be negotiated, but, except as set forth in a supplement to this prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus, in the case of an agency transaction not in excess of a customary brokerage commission in compliance with FINRA Rule 2440; and in the case of a principal transaction a markup or markdown in compliance with FINRA IM-2440-1.

From time to time, the selling stockholder may pledge, hypothecate or grant a security interest in some or all of the common stock owned by it. The pledgees, secured parties, or persons to whom the shares have been hypothecated will, upon foreclosure, be deemed to be a selling stockholder. The number of a selling stockholder's shares offered under this prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus will decrease as and when it takes such actions. The plan of distribution for that selling stockholder's shares will otherwise remain unchanged.

In connection with the sale of the shares of common stock or interests therein, the selling stockholder may enter into hedging transactions with broker-dealers or other financial institutions, which may in turn engage in short sales of the common stock in the course of hedging the positions they assume. The selling stockholder may also sell the shares short and deliver these securities to close out their short positions or to return borrowed shares in connection with such short sales, or loan or pledge the common stock to broker-dealers that in turn may sell these securities. The selling stockholder may also enter into option or other transactions with broker-dealers or other financial institutions or create one or more derivative securities which require the delivery to such broker-dealer or other financial institution of shares offered by this prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus, which shares such broker-dealer or other financial institution may resell pursuant to this prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus (as supplemented or amended to reflect such transaction). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the selling stockholder has been advised that it may not use shares registered on this registration statement to cover short sales of our common stock made prior to the date the registration statement, of which this prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus forms a part, was declared effective by the SEC.

The selling stockholder may also sell common stock from time to time through agents. We will name any agent involved in the offer or sale of such shares and will list commissions payable to these agents in a prospectus supplement, if required. These agents will be acting on a best efforts basis to solicit purchases for the period of their appointment, unless we state otherwise in any required prospectus supplement.

The selling stockholder may sell shares directly to purchasers. In this case, they may not engage underwriters or agents in the offer and sale of such shares.

The selling stockholder may elect to make a pro rata in-kind distribution of the common stock to its members, partners or shareholders. In such event we may file a prospectus supplement to the extent required by law in order to permit the distributees to use the prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus to resell the shares acquired in the distribution.

The selling stockholder and any broker-dealers or agents that are involved in selling the common stock may be deemed to be “underwriters” within the meaning of the Securities Act in connection with such sales. In such event, any discounts, commissions or concessions received by such broker-dealers or agents and any profit on the resale of the shares purchased by them may be deemed to be underwriting commissions or discounts under the Securities Act and the rules of FINRA. If the selling stockholder is an “underwriter” within the meaning of Section 2(11) of the Securities Act, it will be subject to the prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act and may be subject to certain statutory liabilities of, including but not limited to, Sections 11, 12 and 17 of the Securities Act and Rule 10b-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act. The selling stockholder has informed us that it is not a registered broker-dealer and does not have any written or oral agreement or understanding, directly or indirectly, with any person to distribute the shares. In no event shall any underwriter or broker-dealer receive fees, commissions and markups which, in the aggregate, would exceed eight percent (8%); however, we anticipate that the maximum commission or discount to be received in any particular offering of securities will be significantly less than this amount.

We are required to pay certain fees and expenses incurred by us incident to the registration of the shares. We have agreed to indemnify the selling stockholder against certain losses, claims, damages and liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act, and the selling stockholder may be entitled to contribution. We may be indemnified by the selling stockholder against certain losses, claims, damages and liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act, that may arise from any written information furnished to us by the selling stockholder specifically for use in this prospectus supplement and accompanying prospectus (up to the amount of the net proceeds received by the selling stockholder upon the sale of the securities included in the registration statement giving rise to such indemnification obligation), or we may be entitled to contribution.

The selling stockholder will be subject to the prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act including Rule 172 thereunder unless an exemption therefrom is available.

CONVENTIONS THAT APPLY IN THIS PROSPECTUS

Unless otherwise indicated, references in this prospectus to:

- “100G products” collectively refers to all products sold by us designed for use at 100Gbps (“100G”), and in coherent transmission systems designed for use at 100Gbps or higher data rates. Some customers may use components designed for use at 100G at lower speeds. Our 100G products include both coherent transmission products and 100G network products that are not coherent;
- “Advanced Hybrid Photonic Integration” refers to state-of-the-art integration of multi-platform materials and devices;
- “Coherent” refers to optical transmission systems that encode information in the phase of an optical signal and decode such information through comparison with an independent laser at the receiver and digital signal processing;
- “Flex Coherent” refers to a class of 100G transceivers and line cards in which the modulation format, and hence the reach and data-rate, can be altered by software command such that the same optical hardware can be used for metro, long-haul or, in some cases, datacenter interconnect applications.
- “High Speed Products” refers to transmitter and receiver products as well as switching and other component products for 100G optical transmission applications over distances of 2 to 2,000 kilometers. Our high speed 100G and beyond products are based on our Advanced Hybrid Photonic Integration technology. These technologies support encoding 100 gigabits or more per second of information for transmitting over a single channel and decoding the information at the receiver. Through 2014, our use of this term included our products designed for use at 40Gbps (“40G”) and that comprised less than 1% of our total revenue and approximately 1% of our revenue from high speed products in the year ended December 31, 2014. From 2015 onward, High Speed Products refers exclusively to products sold by us and designed for use at 100Gbps or higher data rates;
- “Network Products and Solutions” collectively refers to all products sold by us for use in optical communications networks and a variety of other applications that are designed for use at data rates that are less than 100Gbps, including 40G, 10G and lower data rates. These products include certain passive products that do not explicitly have a data rate specification, but that are most commonly used in networks at these data rates. From 2015 onward, Network Products and Solutions includes products sold by us and designed for use at 40G that, prior to 2015, were included with High Speed Products; and
- “PIC” refers to Photonic Integrated Circuit.

Unless the context indicates otherwise, we use the terms “NeoPhotonics,” “we,” “us,” “our” and “the Company” in this prospectus to refer to NeoPhotonics Corporation and, where appropriate, its subsidiaries.

PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

The following summary highlights selected information contained or incorporated by reference elsewhere in this prospectus and does not contain all of the information that you should consider in making your investment decision. Before investing in our common stock, you should carefully read this entire prospectus, the applicable prospectus supplement and any related free writing prospectus, including our financial statements and the related notes and other documents incorporated by reference in this prospectus, as well as the information under the caption “Risk Factors” herein and the applicable prospectus supplement and under similar headings in the other documents that are incorporated by reference into this prospectus.

Business Overview

We develop, manufacture and sell optoelectronic products that transmit, receive and switch high speed digital optical signals for communications networks. We refer to our product groups as “High Speed Products” and “Network Products and Solutions”. High Speed Products includes those designed for 100G and beyond, such as at 200G, 400G and 600G data rates, for telecom and datacenter or content provider networks and applications. The high speed 100G and beyond market, which requires advanced photonic integration technology, is the core focus of our strategy. In addition to the telecommunications infrastructure, the datacenter market is also emerging as an important and fast growing market for our High Speed products.

Our High Speed Products were 58% of our total revenues in the year ended December 31, 2015, and increased to 65% of our total revenue in the first half of 2016. Revenues from High Speed products have grown at a 47% compound annual growth rate, or CAGR, from 2012 to 2015. 100G and beyond networks are among the highest growth segments of the optical communications market, supporting the rapid expansion of telecom backbone and content provider networks and accommodating increased mobile traffic. Prior to 2016 our High Speed product revenue growth has been mainly driven by the adoption of 100G in the Long Haul market sector. Over the next several years our growth in 100G and beyond is expected to be mainly driven by adoption of 100G in the much larger Metro market sector.

In the first half of 2016 approximately 86% of our High Speed revenues were derived from coherent products that enable network system designers to implement the highest speed optical transmission. Coherent transmission uses not only amplitude but also phase and polarization to increase data rates tenfold or more over conventional “on-off” transmission protocols. Coherent transmission is also necessary for next-generation flexible and efficient switching of the signal on each individual wavelength without conflict or contention between wavelengths, a feature important for Software Defined Networks. Coherent transmission has become the technology of choice for the most advanced high speed telecommunications networks. The challenges of precision and high volume manufacturing of optical components for coherent transmission demands the capabilities provided by advanced hybrid photonic integration.

In addition, within our High Speed category, we serve the highest performance segments of the datacenter and enterprise market which require the fastest speeds transmitted over relatively long distances within datacenters. Our position in this market is driven by our leadership in electro-absorptively modulated lasers (EMLs), and our transceiver modules incorporating these EMLs. EMLs deliver high power and pure modulation for superior speed and distance performance

Our “Network Products and Solutions” product group comprises all products designed for applications below 100G, and includes 40G and 10G products. This group also includes passive optical products that do not have a specific data rate and are generally used in 10G and other low speed networks. In the first half of 2016 Network Products and Solutions represented 35% of our revenue.

We sell our products to the world’s leading network equipment manufacturers, including Nokia Corporation (formerly Alcatel-Lucent SA, which was acquired by Nokia in January 2016), Ciena Corporation, Cisco Systems, Inc. and Huawei Technologies Co., Ltd. These four companies accounted for approximately 79% of our revenue in 2015 and approximately 68% of our revenue in 2014. During the first two quarters of 2016 these four companies accounted for approximately 76% of our revenues. The others among our seven leading customers are FiberHome Telecommunications Technologies Co., Limited, a major Chinese telecommunications system provider, Acacia Communications Inc., a fast growing vendor of optical interconnect modules and Oclaro Inc., a vendor of optical modules.

Our leading customers serve the telecom market and also the datacenter market. These large network equipment and optical module companies, together with emerging content providers and datacenter operators, are the focus of our strategy due to their important positions in high speed and related communications networks markets.

We believe our Advanced Hybrid Photonic Integration technology is well positioned to serve the highest speed and most demanding applications. Our coherent 100G and beyond products require our Advanced Hybrid Photonic Integration technology. We produce photonic integrated circuits (PICs) that comprise both arrayed and individual photonic functional elements using optimized materials systems and processes from our in-house Silicon, Indium Phosphide and Gallium Arsenide wafer fabrication. These individual PICs from different materials are then combined using our hybrid integration technology to make complete products, such as our Integrated Coherent Receiver (ICR) and our Multi-cast Switch (MCS) for 100G coherent transport and Metro applications and our 100G to 400G CFPx transceivers for datacenter and client networks.

100G and beyond coherent technology has become widely used in the Long Haul market segment over the last several years, but has only recently begun to penetrate the much larger Metro sector of the market. While the cost per port deployed declines every year due to both technology advances, we believe 100G coherent port demand represents a high growth opportunity for suppliers of components, modules and systems for the 100G coherent Metro market. In addition, Metro coherent ports include ports that have “flex coherent” features, which can be used not only in the Metro market but also in the Long Haul market.

Our important products for the rapidly growing coherent Metro market, include Integrated Coherent Receivers, ultra-narrow linewidth tunable lasers and multi-cast switches. Our multi-cast switches similarly are used by webscale content providers for software definition of their network configuration. Also, we have additionally introduced coherent transceiver modules that are important for the Metro market as well as the datacenter interconnect market, such as high speed dual rate coherent CFP2-ACO transceivers.

The following tables indicate our major product families for high speed communications and the market sectors they serve.

In order to strengthen our technology leadership we have made the strategic acquisitions noted below over the last five years.

In October 2011, we acquired Santur Corporation (Santur), a leading producer of tunable lasers and modulators for coherent transmission and of 100G client side transceiver modules. Santur’s capabilities included array DFB (distributed feedback) lasers, silicon photonics and photonic integration of such active elements as lasers, modulators and photodiodes.

In March 2013, we acquired the optical component business unit of LAPIS Semiconductor Co., Ltd., located in Japan, now known as NeoPhotonics Semiconductor. This business is a leading producer of high performance communications laser and photodiode devices which enable our leading market positions in coherent products including ultra-narrow linewidth tunable lasers and coherent receivers. NeoPhotonics Semiconductor also produces industry leading high speed lasers and control semiconductors for high speed client side applications.

In January 2015, we acquired the ultra-narrow linewidth tunable laser business of EMCORE Corporation (EMCORE) expanding NeoPhotonics position in this key component and to expand NeoPhotonics' position as a supplier of tunable lasers for coherent communications. The EMCORE ultra narrow linewidth tunable laser products are used in the industry's highest speed applications and are critical components that are used with our highest speed and highest bandwidth receiver products for data rates of 400G and 600G.

We have research and development and wafer fabrication facilities in San Jose and Fremont, California and in Tokyo, Japan that coordinate with our research and development and manufacturing facilities in Dongguan, Shenzhen and Wuhan, China and Ottawa, Canada. We additionally do limited research and development and manufacturing in Moscow, Russia. We use proprietary design tools and design-for-manufacturing techniques to align our design process with our precision nanoscale, vertically integrated manufacturing and testing. We believe we are one of the highest volume PIC manufacturers in the world and that we can further expand our manufacturing capacity to meet market needs.

RISK FACTORS

Investing in our common stock involves a high degree of risk. You should consider carefully the risks and uncertainties described in the section entitled “Risk Factors” contained in the applicable prospectus supplement and any related free writing prospectus, and discussed under the section entitled "Risk Factors" contained in our in our most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K and our most recent Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, as well as any amendments thereto reflected in subsequent filings with the SEC, which descriptions are incorporated in this prospectus by reference in its entirety, as well as in any prospectus supplement hereto. These risks and uncertainties are not the only risks and uncertainties we face. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to us, or that we currently view as immaterial, may also impair our business. If any of the risks or uncertainties described in our SEC filings or any additional risks and uncertainties actually occur, our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flow could be materially and adversely affected. In that case, the trading price of our common stock could decline and you might lose all or part of your investment.

SPECIAL NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

All statements other than statements of historical facts contained in this prospectus, including statements regarding our future financial condition, business strategy and plans and objectives of management for future operations, are forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include statements that are not historical facts and can be identified by terms such as “anticipates,” “believes,” “could,” “seeks,” “estimates,” “expects,” “intends,” “may,” “plans,” “potential,” “predicts,” “projects,” “should,” “will,” “would” or similar expressions and the negatives of those terms.

Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause our actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. Given these uncertainties, you should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. Also, forward-looking statements represent our management’s beliefs and assumptions only as of the date of this prospectus. You should read this prospectus, the applicable prospectus supplement and any related free writing prospectus, together with the information that we incorporate by reference, and the documents that we have filed as exhibits to the registration statement, of which this prospectus is a part, completely and with the understanding that our actual future results may be materially different from what we expect.

Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from our expectations are disclosed under “Risk Factors” and elsewhere in this prospectus, the applicable prospectus supplement and any related free writing prospectus, and in the information that we incorporate by reference, including, without limitation, in conjunction with the forward-looking statements appearing elsewhere in this prospectus, the applicable prospectus supplement and any related free writing prospectus, and in the information that we incorporate by reference.

As of the date of this prospectus, we cannot specify with certainty all of the particular uses for the net proceeds to us from the sale of the securities offered by us hereunder.

DESCRIPTION OF CAPITAL STOCK

Our authorized capital stock consists of 100,000,000 shares of common stock, $0.0025 par value per share, and 10,000,000 shares of preferred stock, $0.0025 par value per share. A description of the material terms and provisions of our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws affecting the rights of holders of our capital stock is set forth below. The description is intended as a summary, and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the form of our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and the form of our amended and restated bylaws.

Common stock

Dividend rights. Subject to preferences that may apply to shares of preferred stock outstanding at the time, the holders of outstanding shares of our common stock are entitled to receive dividends out of funds legally available if our board of directors, in its discretion, determines to issue dividends and then only at the times and in the amounts that our board of directors may determine.

Voting rights. Each holder of common stock is entitled to one vote for each share of common stock held on all matters submitted to a vote of stockholders. Our certificate of incorporation does not provide for the right of stockholders to cumulate votes for the election of directors. Our certificate of incorporation establishes a classified board of directors, to be divided into three classes with staggered three-year terms. Only one class of directors is elected at each annual meeting of our stockholders, with the other classes continuing for the remainder of their respective three-year terms.

No preemptive or similar rights. Our common stock is not entitled to preemptive rights and is not subject to conversion, redemption or sinking fund provisions. The rights, preferences and privileges of the holders of our common stock are subject to, and may be adversely affected by, the rights of the holders of any series of our preferred stock that we may designate and issue in the future.

Right to receive liquidation distributions. Upon our dissolution, liquidation or winding-up, the assets legally available for distribution to our stockholders are distributable ratably among the holders of our common stock, subject to prior satisfaction of all outstanding debt and liabilities and the preferential rights and payment of liquidation preferences, if any, on any outstanding shares of preferred stock.

Fully paid and non-assessable. All of our outstanding shares of common stock is fully paid and non-assessable.

Preferred stock

We have authorized, subject to limitations prescribed by Delaware law, to issue preferred stock in one or more series, to establish from time to time the number of shares to be included in each series and to fix the designation, powers, preferences and rights of the shares of each series and any of its qualifications, limitations or restrictions. Our board of directors can also increase or decrease the number of shares of any series, but not below the number of shares of that series then outstanding, without any further vote or action by our stockholders. Our board of directors may authorize the issuance of preferred stock with voting or conversion rights that could adversely affect the voting power or other rights of the holders of the common stock. The issuance of preferred stock, while providing flexibility in connection with possible acquisitions and other corporate purposes, could, among other things, have the effect of delaying, deferring, discouraging or preventing a change in control of our company and may adversely affect the market price of our common stock and the voting and other rights of the holders of common stock. We have no current plan to issue any shares of preferred stock.

Anti-takeover effects of provisions of our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, our bylaws and Delaware law

Certificate of incorporation and bylaws to be in effect upon the completion of this offering

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation provides for our board of directors to be divided into three classes with staggered three-year terms. Only one class of directors is elected at each annual meeting of our stockholders, with the other classes continuing for the remainder of their respective three-year terms. Because our stockholders do not have cumulative voting rights in the election of directors, stockholders holding a majority of the shares of common stock outstanding is able to elect all of our directors. Our board of directors is able to elect a director to fill a vacancy created by the expansion of the board of directors or due to the resignation or departure of an existing board member. Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws also provide that all stockholder actions must be effected at a duly called meeting of stockholders and not by a consent in writing, and that only our chairman of the board, Chief Executive Officer or the board of directors pursuant to a resolution adopted by a majority of the total number of authorized directors may call a special meeting of stockholders. In addition, our amended and restated bylaws also include a requirement for the advance notice of nominations for election to the board of directors or for proposing matters that can be acted upon at a stockholders' meeting. Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation provide for the ability of the board of directors to issue, without stockholder approval, up to 10,000,000 shares of preferred stock with terms set by the board of directors, which rights could be senior to those of our common stock. Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws also provide that approval of at least 66 2/3% of the shares entitled to vote at an election of directors is required to adopt, amend or repeal our amended and restated bylaws, or repeal the provisions of our amended and restated certificate of incorporation regarding the election and removal of directors and the inability of stockholders to take action by written consent in lieu of a meeting.

The foregoing provisions will make it more difficult for our existing stockholders to replace our board of directors, as well as for another party to obtain control of us by replacing our board of directors. Since our board of directors has the power to retain and discharge our officers, these provisions could also make it more difficult for existing stockholders or another party to effect a change in management. In addition, the authorization of undesignated preferred stock makes it possible for our board of directors to issue preferred stock with voting or other rights or preferences that could impede the success of any attempt to change our control.

These provisions are intended to enhance the likelihood of continued stability in the composition of our board of directors and its policies and to discourage certain types of transactions that may involve an actual or threatened acquisition of us. These provisions are also designed to reduce our vulnerability to an unsolicited acquisition proposal and to discourage certain tactics that may be used in proxy fights. However, such provisions could have the effect of discouraging others from making tender offers for our shares and may have the effect of deterring hostile takeovers or delaying changes in our control or management. As a consequence, these provisions also may inhibit fluctuations in the market price of our stock that could result from actual or rumored takeover attempts.

Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law

We are subject to the provisions of Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law regulating corporate takeovers. This section prevents some Delaware corporations from engaging, under some circumstances, in a business combination, which includes a merger or sale of at least 10% of the corporation's assets with any interested stockholder, meaning a stockholder who, together with affiliates and associates, owns or, within three years prior to the determination of interested stockholder status, did own 15% or more of the corporation's outstanding voting stock, unless:

- the transaction is approved by the board of directors prior to the time that the interested stockholder became an interested stockholder;
- upon consummation of the transaction which resulted in the stockholder's becoming an interested stockholder, the interested stockholder owned at least 85% of the voting stock of the corporation outstanding at the time the transaction commenced; or
- at or subsequent to such time that the stockholder became an interested stockholder the business combination is approved by the board of directors and authorized at an annual or special meeting of stockholders by at least two-thirds of the outstanding voting stock which is not owned by the interested stockholder.

A Delaware corporation may "opt out" of these provisions with an express provision in its original certificate of incorporation or an express provision in its certificate of incorporation or bylaws resulting from a stockholders' amendment approved by at least a majority of the outstanding voting shares. We do not plan to "opt out" of these provisions. The statute could prohibit or delay mergers or other takeover or change in control attempts and, accordingly, may discourage attempts to acquire us.

The applicable prospectus supplement will also disclose whether any of the selling stockholders has held any position or office with, has been employed by or otherwise has had a material relationship with us during the three years prior to the date of the prospectus supplement.

The selling stockholders shall not sell any shares of our common stock pursuant to this prospectus until we have identified such selling stockholders and the shares being offered for resale by such selling stockholders in a subsequent prospectus supplement. However, the selling stockholders may sell or transfer all or a portion of their shares of our common stock pursuant to any available exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities

Act.

- the purchase price of the shares of our common stock or other consideration therefor, and the proceeds, if any, we will receive from the sale;
- any over-allotment options under which underwriters may purchase additional shares of our common stock from us;
- any agency fees or underwriting discounts and other items constituting agents' or underwriters' compensation;
- any public offering price;
- any discounts or concessions allowed or reallocated or paid to dealers; and
- any securities exchange or market on which the shares of our common stock may be listed.

Only underwriters named in the prospectus supplement will be underwriters of the shares of our common stock offered by the prospectus supplement.

If underwriters are used in the sale, they will acquire the shares of our common stock for their own account and may resell the shares of our common stock from time to time in one or more transactions at a fixed public offering price or at varying prices determined at the time of sale. The obligations of the underwriters to purchase the shares of our common stock will be subject to the conditions set forth in the applicable underwriting agreement. We or the selling stockholders may offer the shares of our common stock to the public through underwriting syndicates represented by managing underwriters or by underwriters without a syndicate. Subject to certain conditions, the underwriters will be obligated to purchase all of the shares of our common stock offered by the prospectus supplement, other than shares of our common stock covered by any over-allotment option. Any public offering price and any discounts or concessions allowed or reallocated or paid to dealers may change from time to time. We or the selling stockholders may use underwriters with whom we have a material relationship. We will describe in the prospectus supplement, naming the underwriter, the nature of any such relationship.

We or the selling stockholders may sell shares of our common stock directly or through agents we designate from time to time. We will name any agent involved in the offering and sale of shares of our common stock and we will describe any commissions we or the selling stockholders will pay the agent in the prospectus supplement. Unless the prospectus supplement states otherwise, our or the selling stockholders' agent will act on a best-efforts basis for the period of its appointment.

We or the selling stockholders may authorize agents or underwriters to solicit offers by certain types of institutional investors to purchase shares of common stock from us or the selling stockholders at the public offering price set forth in the prospectus supplement pursuant to delayed delivery contracts providing for payment and delivery on a specified date in the future. We will describe the conditions to these contracts and the commissions we or the selling stockholders must pay for solicitation of these contracts in the prospectus supplement.

We or the selling stockholders may provide agents and underwriters with indemnification against civil liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act, or contribution with respect to payments that the agents or underwriters may make with respect to these liabilities. Agents and underwriters may engage in transactions with, or perform services for, us or the selling stockholders in the ordinary course of business.

Any underwriter may engage in over-allotment, stabilizing transactions, short-covering transactions and penalty bids in accordance with Regulation M under the Exchange Act. Over-allotment involves sales in excess of the offering size, which create a short position. Stabilizing transactions permit bids to purchase the underlying security so long as the stabilizing bids do not exceed a specified maximum price. Syndicate-covering or other short-covering transactions involve purchases of the shares of our common stock, either through exercise of the over-allotment option or in the open market after the distribution is completed, to cover short positions. Penalty bids permit the underwriters to reclaim a selling concession from a dealer when the shares of our common stock originally sold by the dealer are purchased in a stabilizing or covering transaction to cover short positions. Those activities may cause the price of the shares of our common stock to be higher than it would otherwise be. If commenced, the underwriters may discontinue any of the activities at any time.

Table of Contents

Any underwriters or agents that are qualified market makers on the New York Stock Exchange engage in passive market making transactions in the common stock on the New York Stock Exchange accordance with Regulation M under the Exchange Act, during the business day prior to the pricing of the offering, before the commencement of offers or sales of the common stock. Passive market makers must comply with applicable volume and price limitations and must be identified as passive market makers. In general, a passive market maker must display its bid at a price not in excess of the highest independent bid for such security; if all independent bids are lowered below the passive market maker's bid, however, the passive market maker's bid must then be lowered when certain purchase limits are exceeded. Passive market making may stabilize the market price of the shares of our common stock at a level above that which might otherwise prevail in the open market and, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.
