. Japanese Yen ("JPY") terms, the performance of the Fund, excluding expenses and the Fund's cash position, was a positive 3.15%, whereas the TOPIX was up 4.10%.

. Relative to the TOPIX, the effect of sector selection was negligible, while stock selection contributed negatively to the relative performance (see Table 3).

. As shown on Table 4, sizable positive contributions were made by stock selection in the Information & Communication and Retail sectors, but gains were more than cancelled out by negative contributions in the Wholesale Trade, Electric Appliance and Food sectors.

. It appears, however, the size effect was the dominant factor affecting the performance. The TOPIX Core 30 Index (index of 30 largest market capitalization stocks in TOPIX) returned -0.58% over the six months, while TOPIX Small Index (index of about 1200 stocks in Tokyo Stock Exchange ("TSE") First Section, excluding the top 500 market capitalization stocks) returned 14.39%. The Fund had a significantly lighter weight in smaller stocks, as compared to the TOPIX.

Market Review (November 2004 - April 2005)

From the beginning of November 2004 to early April 2005, the TSE was on a rising trend, gaining roughly 10%, but a sudden decline in the middle of April wiped out a large part of the gain over the six months. The TSE First Section Index returned 4.75% in U.S. Dollar terms over the six months (4.71% in Yen terms). Over a longer-term view, the TSE was on an up-trend over the year to April 2004, rising from the 800 level to the 1200 level, then mostly stayed in a rather narrow range between 1100 and 1200. Over the period, oil prices remained high. Oil prices weakened from the $50 per barrel level at the end of October 2004 to the $40 level in December, but regained strength to come close to the $60 level at the end of March 2005. As macro-economic statistics weakened from strong numbers in early 2004, the government bond yield declined over the six months from the 1.50% level to the 1.30% level. Investors appeared to be cautious about the U.S. interest rate trend over the period. Major stock markets of the world saw a sizable dip in the middle of April 2005. Nervousness held by investors in the TSE seemed to be shared by investors in other markets. In Japan, there was growing pressure from the investment community on listed companies to improve shareholder satisfaction. A rare attempt at a hostile acquisition supported the trend. Profitability of listed companies is generally improving, but the general view is that the pace of improvement from here will not be as fast as six to twelve months ago.

. November 04: The TOPIX was moving in a quite narrow range over the month, between 1075 and 1130. The market advanced in the beginning of the month, as if it welcomed the result of the U.S.

Presidential election. As the Yen accelerated the pace of strengthening against the U.S. Dollar, the market turned weak from the middle of the month.

The TOPIX was at 1085.43 at the end of October, advanced to 1127.45 on November 16th then declined and finished the month at 1098.79. Macro-economic numbers were not very encouraging. A quick report of Gross Domestic Product ("GDP") for the July-September quarter was +0.3% quarter-on quarter ("QoQ") Retail sales continued to be weak.

Corporate earnings announcements were mixed-some were as good as expected, but some were disappointing. Toyota announced record profit for the six months to September. Profits of three major shipping companies and four large steel makers over the six months to September doubled year-on-year ("YoY") Seibu Railway, a railway operator, was reported to have been making false reports about its major shareholders' holdings and in mid-November the TSE de-listed the stock. Seibu's share price collapsed from Yen1,100+ level to Yen400 level.

. December 2004: The TOPIX started the month from the 1100 level and had a strong advance in the latter half of the month, to finish the month with a 4.63% return. Selling pressure from individuals, encouraged by the new tax system, was more than offset by the unusually high level of foreign purchases over the holiday season. The trading range of the TOPIX has shifted up from the range between 1070 and 1130 to a range between 1080 and 1150. The news of the restructuring of Misawa Homes, the last major company facing financial difficulties with large bad debt at major banks, was favorably accepted by the market, helping the banking sector to push up the whole market. The banking sector was the second best performing sector, after rubber (tire) makers. Following Nissan's announcement that it would stop automobile production because of a steel shortage, other carmakers made similar announcements. Sanyo Electric announced that the damage from the Niigata earthquake in October would amount to approximately U.S. $800 million.

Edgar Filing: JAPAN EQUITY FUND INC - Form N-CSR

. January 2005: The TOPIX started the month at the 1150 level and stayed around that level throughout the month, with monthly a return of -0.30%. The TOPIX continued to have low volatility, moving in a narrow range, roughly between 1130 and 1160. In January, smaller stocks fared well. The TOPIX Core 30 Index, composed of the largest market capitalization 30 stocks in the TOPIX, returned -3.22%. The TOPIX Small Index, composed of stocks in the TSE First Section excluding the top 500 market capitalization stocks, returned 3.97%. Other smaller stocks in the TOPIX Second Section returned 7.97% and the JASDAQ OTC Index returned 5.93%. Individual investors, who showed a preference for smaller stocks in the recent past, appear to have come back to the market as active participants. Short-term return-reversal was at work in January. Many of the top-performing sectors in January were bottom-performers in the previous month. The Bank of Japan's Tankan business confidence survey showed a worsened view by large manufacturing companies. Companies started to announce October to December quarterly results. Some companies like Canon and Advantest met expectations. Pioneer's profit declined 90% YoY, due to tough market conditions in digital audio-video products.

. February 2005: The TOPIX started the month at the 1150 level and drew an up-trend line to finish the month at 1177. The return in February was 2.73% in Yen terms. Among TOPIX stocks, the largest capitalization stocks performed relatively poorly. The Energy and Materials related sectors continued to perform well in February. Top-performing sectors in February were Mining, Oil & Coal, Steel and Shipping sectors. Trading activity was quite heavy in February. Oil prices were back on the up-trend, exceeding the $50 per barrel level. Dominant news in the month was the attempt by Livedoor, a small, growing internet service provider, to take a majority stake in Nippon Broadcasting System, a radio station that holds a more than 22% stake in Fuji Television Network, one of the five major private television stations in Japan. The fight for control in Nippon Broadcasting System and Fuji Television went to the legal system. Some companies disappointed investors in their quarterly earnings announcements for the October to December period. Sumitomo Real Estate decreased its net profit forecast for the year to March 2005 by half, taking extraordinary losses in its property holdings.

. March 2005: The TOPIX continued its up-trend in March. It started the month at 1177.41 and finished the month at 1182.18. The return in March was 0.41% in Yen terms. Large capitalization stocks continued to lag. The TOPIX 100 Index, composed of the largest 100 market capitalization stocks in the TOPIX, returned -0.63%. The TOPIX Small Index, composed of some 1200 stocks in the TOPIX excluding the top 500 market capitalization stocks, performed 2.83%. The TSE was quite active in March with heavy volume. Performances of individual stocks were rather event-driven. Top performers of the month among major stocks included Fuji Television, involved in the take-over battle of Nippon Broadcasting, and Sony, which appointed a new Chairman and President. Oil prices stayed high at more than U.S. $50 per barrel level. GDP growth for the October to December period were revised upward to 0.50%. Some market participants seemed to expect quite bullish results in national land price statistics announced in late March. Land prices were still falling in Japan, in general, but the pace of the decline decelerated.

. April 2005: The TOPIX corrected by 4.4% in April. It edged up in the beginning, corrected sharply in the middle of the month in line with the trend in other major stock markets in the world, then stabilized at the end of the month. After almost a year-long period with quite limited volatility, market volatility emerged with downside direction, as markets in major economies seemed to have shown nervousness over the economic state of the world in the near future. In April 2004, the TOPIX was a little over 1200 and experienced a sharp correction of some 150 points. The TOPIX experienced another correction in April 2005, from a similar level of some 100 points. Among the TOPIX stocks, the relative weakness of the largest capitalization stocks continued in April. The TOPIX 100 Index returned -4.88%, while the TOPIX Small Index returned -3.21%. Return-reversal among sectors remained effective-Oil & Coal, Rubber Products and Glass/Cement sectors performed well in April after poor performance in the previous month. The Warehousing, Securities Brokerage and Land Transportation sectors performed poorly after a strong performance in the previous month. Industrial production statistics for March were disappointing, a decline of 0.30% month-on-month ("MoM"), against a positive consensus estimate. Retail sales remained weak in March. The battle between Livedoor and Fuji Television over the controlling stake in Nippon Broadcasting came to an end. They agreed that Fuji Television will acquire Nippon Broadcasting shares held by Livedoor with profits for Livedoor and, that Fuji Television will buy newly-issued shares of Livedoor Ito-Yokado announced a merger establishing "Seven and I

Edgar Filing: JAPAN EQUITY FUND INC - Form N-CSR

Holdings" with Seven-11 and Denny's—the share price of Seven-11 rose, while that of Ito-Yokado plunged, because the merger ratio was set preferable to Seven-11. Recently announced corporate results were mixed. Commodity-related companies, such as bulk-chemical producers, steel producers and trading houses, announced good results and made up-beat indications for the near future. Most of retailers continued to suffer. Results of auto makers were generally good, while those from technology companies were not encouraging.

Outlook

The state of the Japanese economy improved significantly over the past two years. The worries surrounded the shape of Japanese economy and Japanese companies disappeared or lessened significantly in the recent past. It appears that investor worries about major bank failure in Japan have vanished. Large troubled companies like Daiei and Kanebo were assisted by a government-aided organization. Bankruptcies have been declining. GDP recorded growth. Blue-chip companies are reporting record profits. Looking at Japanese companies, there has been significant improvement in the fundamentals because many of them have gone through tough restructurings. Blue-chip players like Toyota, Canon and ShinEstu Chemical are steadily expanding and have reported record profits. Natural resource-related companies, such as oil distributors, steel makers and trading houses active in metals and commodities, enjoyed price hikes and improved profitability significantly. Deflation pressure remains, with still-declining land prices (though much decelerated) and weak retail sales statistics, but it is not regarded as a major threat to the economy and companies in general. The Japanese economy has returned to a normal state and companies listed here are operating in a normal environment. On this background, we expect fundamentals of individual companies to more favorably influence share price performance, compared with the recent past. The market trend seems to be changing from favoring certain sectors as a whole (like steel, shipping and wholesale trade, over the recent past) to being selective in individual sectors. We will keep a careful eye on the developments at the companies held in the portfolio and at investment candidates. Our focus on the quality of earnings will be unchanged.

Fund Performance

During the six months ended April 30, 2005, the Fund's market price on the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") ranged from a low of $5.73 per share on April 18, 2005 to a high of $6.72 on January 3, 2005. The Fund's NYSE market price closed at $6.00 per share on April 30, 2005.

The NYSE trading price in relation to the Fund's net asset value per share, as measured by the weekly closing prices during the six months ended April 30, 2005, ranged from a low discount of 0.91% on December 2, 2004 to a high discount of 8.58% on April 28, 2005, and ended the period at a discount of 6.40%.

The Fund has not invested in derivative securities.

Although foreign currency hedging is permitted by the Fund's prospectus, the Fund has not engaged in any foreign currency hedging.

Notes to Financial Statements

Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

The Japan Equity Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") was incorporated in Maryland on July 12, 1990 under its former name "The Japan Emerging Equity Fund, Inc." and commenced operations on July 24, 1992. It is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as a closed-end, diversified management investment company.

The following significant accounting policies are in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America for investment companies. Such policies are consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual reporting results could differ from those estimates.

Valuation of Investments—Securities which are listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange or listed on the over-the-counter market in Japan or listed on other exchanges in Japan and for which market quotations are readily available are valued at the last reported sales price available to the Fund at the close of business on the day the securities are being valued or, lacking any such sales, at the last available bid price. In instances where quotations are not readily available or where the price as determined by the above procedures is deemed not to represent fair market value, fair value will be determined in such manner as the Board of Directors (the "Board") may prescribe. Short-term investments having a maturity of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, except where the Board determines that such valuation does not represent the fair value of the investment. All other securities and assets are valued at fair value as determined in good faith by, or under the direction of, the Board.

Foreign Currency Translation—The books and records of the Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars as follows: (1) the foreign currency market value of investment securities and other assets and liabilities stated in Japanese yen are translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the period; and (2) purchases, sales, income and expenses are translated at the rate of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions. The resulting exchange gains and losses are included in the Statement of Operations. The Fund does not isolate the effect of fluctuations in foreign exchange rates from the effect of fluctuations in the market price of securities.

Tax Status-The Fund intends to continue to distribute substantially all of its taxable income and to comply with the minimum distribution and other requirements of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies. Accordingly, no provision for federal income or excise taxes is required.

The Fund is not subject to any Japanese income, capital gains or other taxes except for withholding taxes on certain income, generally imposed at rates of 10% on interest and dividends, paid to the Fund by Japanese corporations.

Investment Transactions and Investment Income-Investment transactions are recorded on the trade date (the date upon which the order to buy or sell is executed). Realized and unrealized gains and losses from security and foreign currency transactions are calculated on the identified cost basis. Dividend income and corporate actions are recorded generally on the ex-date, except for certain dividends and corporate actions from Japanese securities which may be recorded after the ex-date, as soon as the Fund acquires information regarding such dividends or corporate actions. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis.

Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders-The Fund records dividends and distributions payable to its shareholders on the ex-dividend date. The amount of dividends and distributions from net investment income and net realized capital gains are determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations, which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles. These book basis/tax basis differences are either considered temporary or permanent in nature. To the extent these differences are permanent in nature, such amounts are reclassified within the capital accounts based on their federal tax basis treatment; temporary differences do not require reclassifications. Dividends and distributions which exceed net investment income and net realized capital gains for tax purposes are reported as distributions of paid-in-capital.

Investment Manager and Investment Adviser

The Fund has an Investment Management Agreement with Daiwa SB Investments (U.S.A.) Ltd. (the "Manager"). Daiwa SB Investments Ltd. ("DSBI" or the "Adviser"), an affiliate of the Manager, acts as the Fund's investment adviser pursuant to an Investment Advisory Agreement between the Manager and DSBI. For such investment services, the Fund is obligated to pay the Manager a monthly fee at an annual rate of 0.60% of the first $20 million, 0.40% of the next $30 million and 0.20% of the excess over $50 million of the Fund's average weekly net assets, of which fee 60% is paid by the Manager to DSBI. In addition, the Fund has agreed to reimburse the Manager and the Adviser for all out-of-pocket expenses related to the Fund.
