The Central Europe and Russia Fund, Inc. Announces Final Results of Tender Offer

NEW YORK, NY March 18, 2013 – The Central Europe and Russia Fund, Inc. (NYSE: CEE) (the “Fund” or “CEE”) announced today that, in accordance with its tender offer for up to 5% of its issued and outstanding shares of common stock, which offer expired at 5:00 p.m. Eastern time on March 12, 2013, the Fund has accepted 654,331 properly tendered shares at a price per share equal to 98% of the Fund’s net asset value (“NAV”) as determined on March 13, 2013. The Fund normally calculates its NAV per share at 11:30 a.m. New York time on each day during which the New York Stock Exchange is open for trading. 9,528,823.493 shares of the Fund’s common stock, or 72.81% of its common stock outstanding, were tendered through the stated expiration date. The tender offer for the Fund was oversubscribed, meaning that pursuant to the terms of the tender offer, not all shares that were tendered were accepted for payment by the Fund. Under the final pro-ration calculations, 6.87% of the Fund’s shares that were tendered have been accepted for payment by the Fund. The shares accepted for payment will receive cash at a repurchase offer price of $36.82, which is equal to 98% of the Fund’s NAV as determined on March 13, 2013. Those shares that were tendered but not accepted for payment will continue to be held by their record owners.

The Central Europe and Russia Fund, Inc. is a non-diversified, closed-end investment company seeking long term capital appreciation through investment primarily in equity and equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in Central Europe and Russia. Because the Fund is non-diversified, it can take larger positions in fewer issues, increasing its potential risk. Investing in foreign securities, particularly those of emerging markets, presents certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, political and economic changes, and market risks. Any fund that focuses in a particular segment of the market will generally be more volatile than a fund that invests more broadly.

The shares of most closed-end funds, including the Fund, are not continuously offered. Once issued, shares of closed-end funds are bought and sold in the secondary market. Shares of closed-end funds frequently trade at a discount to NAV. The price of a fund's shares is determined by a number of factors, several of which are beyond the control of the fund. Therefore, a fund cannot predict whether its shares will trade at, below or above NAV. There can be no assurance that the Fund's Discount Management Program will be effective in reducing the Fund's market discounts.

Investments in funds involve risk. Additional risks of the Fund are associated with international investing, such as government regulations and differences in liquidity, which may increase the volatility of your investment. Foreign security markets generally exhibit greater price volatility and are less liquid than the US market. Additionally, the Fund focuses its investments in certain geographical regions, thereby increasing its vulnerability to developments in that region and potentially subjecting the Fund's shares to greater price volatility. Some funds have more risk than others. These include funds, such as CEE, that allow exposure to or otherwise concentrate investments in certain sectors, geographic regions, security types, market capitalization or foreign securities (e.g., political or economic instability, which can be accentuated in emerging market countries).
