Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act requires all of Origen's directors and executive officers and all persons who own more than 10% of Origen's common stock to file with the SEC reports of ownership and changes in ownership of Origen's common stock. Directors, executive officers and greater than 10% stockholders are required by SEC regulations to furnish Origen with copies of all Section 16(a) forms they file. Based solely on its review of the copies of Forms 3 and 4 furnished to Origen, or written representations from certain reporting persons that no such forms were required to be filed by such persons, Origen believes that all its directors, executive officers and beneficial owners of more than 10% of its common stock have complied with all filing requirements applicable to them except that (i) Ms. Campbell did not timely file one report with respect to one transaction, (ii) Messrs. Galaspie and Thomas did not timely file two reports with respect to two transactions, and (iii) O. Douglas Burdett and David M. Rand, each of whom resigned as an executive officer of Origen during 2007, each did not timely file one report with respect to one transaction.

Code of Business Conduct and Ethics

Origen's Board of Directors has established a Code of Business Conduct and Ethics that applies to all Origen directors, officers, and employees, including the principal executive officer, the principal financial and accounting officer and the controller of Origen (and persons performing similar functions). Among other matters, the code of business conduct is designed to deter wrongdoing and to:

promote the honest and ethical conduct of all Origen personnel and employees;

promote the ethical handling of actual or apparent conflicts of interest between personal and professional relationships;

promote full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable disclosure in periodic reports required to be filed by Origen;

promote compliance with all applicable rules and regulations that apply to Origen and its employees; and facilitate prompt and appropriate internal reporting and accountability for violations of the code.

Table of Contents

You may find a copy of this code under the Investors section of Origen's website at www.origenfinancial.com. Waivers to the code for executive officers or directors may be granted only by the Nominating and Governance Committee of the Board of Directors. In the event any such waivers are granted, we expect to promptly announce the waiver on the investor relations section of our website and to otherwise make such disclosure as is required by law and any applicable stock exchange regulations.

Audit Committee Matters

The Board of Directors has established the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee operates pursuant to a written charter that was approved by the Board in January 2004. The Audit Committee, among other functions, (1) oversees the accounting and financial reporting processes and compliance with legal and regulatory requirements on behalf of Origen's Board of Directors and reports the results of its activities to the Board, (2) has the sole authority to appoint, retain, terminate and determine the compensation of Origen's independent accountants, (3) reviews with Origen's independent accountants the scope and results of the audit engagement, (4) reviews the integrity, adequacy and effectiveness of Origen's internal controls and financial disclosure process, including the direct supervision of Origen's Internal Audit Department, (5) approves professional services provided by Origen's independent accountants, and (6) reviews the independence of Origen's independent accountants. The current members of the Audit Committee are Messrs. Sher (Chairman), Rogel and Halpern, all of whom are independent as that term is defined in the rules of the SEC and applicable Nasdaq Stock Market rules. Origen's Board has also determined that each of Messrs. Sher, Rogel and Halpern qualifies as an audit committee financial expert, as defined by applicable SEC regulations.

Item 11. Executive Compensation

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

Overview of Compensation Plan

Decisions relating to the compensation of Origen's executive officers are made by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors (the Committee), all the members of which are independent of management. The Committee is appointed by the Board of Directors and has the responsibility of establishing and executing a compensation program that is consistent with Origen's short-term and long-term financial and operational goals. Prior to recommending the compensation program to the Board of Directors, the Committee works closely with the CEO (who provides useful data relating to the day-to-day performance of Origen's management), as well as an independent compensation consultant. The Board of Directors then considers the Committee's recommendation and, if the Committee's compensation program is approved, the Committee implements the program.

Compensation Philosophy and Objectives

Origen's executive compensation objectives are as follows:

To align the interests of the employees with those of the stockholders;

To reinforce a pay-for-performance culture; and

To facilitate the acquisition and retention of key employees

The Committee believes the compensation program is properly aligned with the interests of our stockholders, and the near-term and long-term success of the company. However, the Committee often reevaluates our compensation policies applicable to the executive officers in order to (i) maintain the ability to attract and retain excellent employees in key positions, (ii) insure that compensation provided to our executive officers remains competitive relative to the compensation paid to similarly situated executives in the competitive market, and (iii) encourage continued improvement in corporate performance.

As discussed in detail below, Origen's executive compensation program consists of three key elements:

base salary;

cash bonus; and

equity compensation.

Table of Contents

Independent Compensation Consultant

During 2007, the Committee retained Watson Wyatt Worldwide (Watson Wyatt), a human resources consulting firm, and the Committee instructed Watson Wyatt to compile competitive compensation data and, based upon such data, to recommend ranges of annual and long-term compensation that are consistent with Origen s compensation philosophy and objectives. The Committee also asked Watson Wyatt to provide suggestions and alternatives regarding the form of various elements of executive compensation. The Committee encouraged Watson Wyatt and Origen s executive officers and their respective subordinates, to meet, exchange information and otherwise cooperate in the performance of their respective duties outside committee meetings.

Compensation Benchmarking

During 2007, the Committee consulted with Watson Wyatt for an assessment of the competitiveness of Origen executive officer compensation relative to certain benchmark companies in the REIT and mortgage origination industries that the Committee, along with Watson Wyatt, deemed to be in our peer group. While the peer group consists of companies that are similar to Origen in some respects, there are few companies that shared Origen s focus on loan origination and loan servicing operations in the manufactured housing sector. The competitiveness of Origen s executive officer compensation was also reviewed relative to broad industry data.

The Committee selected the benchmark companies as our peer group based upon (1) the likelihood that they would compete with Origen for executive talent, and (2) the availability of public information regarding their compensation practices. For 2007, Origen s peer group included the following companies:

American Home Mortgage Investment Corp.

Capital Lease Funding, Inc.

Capital Trust, Inc.

Homebanc Corp.

Luminent Mortgage Capital, Inc.

Opteum, Inc.

Redwood Trust, Inc.

The broad industry data that the Committee reviewed is included in studies produced by Watson Wyatt and other sources of general and industry specific compensation reports. For benchmarking purposes, the industry data was weighted equally with the peer group data. It was the intent of the Committee that the total compensation paid to Origen executives (consisting of salary plus bonus plus equity compensation) fall within a range from the 25th to 50th percentile. The Committee selected these percentile targets because Origen s revenues are much lower than the peer group companies revenues. In applying these targets, the Committee did not base its compensation decisions on a mathematical analysis of the available data; rather, it used its judgment after considering all available information. The bias toward incentive compensation reflected in these percentages is in keeping with the Committee s objective of aligning executive and stockholder interests.

Compensation Composition

The compensation of each of Origen s executive officers is composed of salary, a cash bonus and equity compensation. The cash bonus and equity portion of an executive officer s compensation may also be referred to as annual incentive compensation and long-term incentive compensation, respectively. Setting the appropriate compensation composition is vital to Origen, its executives and its stockholders. Again, the Committee worked together with its compensation consultant, Watson Wyatt, and analyzed peer group data, as well as broad industry data included in studies produced by Watson Wyatt and other general and industry specific compensation reports. In doing so, the Committee observed that the compensation compositions at the peer group companies were as follows: 30%-60% salary, 30%-50% targeted bonus opportunity and equity compensation of 10%-50% of overall compensation. The Committee used these composition ranges as guidelines for its compensation program. Specifically, the Committee selected individual allocations and overall compensation targets that it believed to be consistent with the objectives of the compensation program and that properly reflect the skill and experience of the individual executives. The compensation compositions for (i) Ronald A. Klein, our Chief Executive Officer; (ii) W. Anderson Geater, Jr., our Chief Financial Officer; (iii) J. Peter Scherer, our President and Head of Operations; (iv) Mark W. Landschulz, our Executive Vice President of Portfolio Management; and (v) Benton E. Sergi, our Senior Vice President of Operations (the named executive officers) are set forth directly below. The identification of such named executive officers is determined based on their total compensation for the year ended December 31, 2007, as reported in the Summary Compensation Table.

Table of Contents

Name and Principal Position(1)	Base Salary	Cash Bonus	Stock Awards (equity compensation)
Ronald A. Klein: Chief Executive Officer	34%	29%	34%
W. Anderson Geater, Jr.: Chief Financial Officer	40%	30%	23%
J. Peter Scherer: President and Head of Operations	40%	30%	23%
Mark W. Landschulz: Executive Vice President of Portfolio Management	40%	30%	24%
Benton E. Sergi: Senior Vice President of Operations	58%	26%	9%

(1) The compensation compositions for the named executive officers do not add up to 100% of total compensation. As set forth in the Summary Compensation Table and the section entitled Non-Qualified Deferred Compensation Earnings, each of these officers receives supplemental compensation on a deferred basis. This form of compensation is not tied to performance. Instead, this is used as a tool to attract and retain key employees.

Key Elements of Compensation

Although the named executive officers' salaries are set by the terms of each named executive officer's employment agreement (discussed below under "Material Information Relating to the Summary Compensation Table and Grants of Plan Based Awards - Employment Agreements"), the Committee reviews the compensation program for all executive officers on an annual basis and modifies it as necessary to insure that the plan stays consistent with Origen's stated compensation objectives. During this process, the CEO makes compensation recommendations to the Committee, which the Committee considers in making compensation decisions. In addition, the CEO periodically reviews the compensation program as it relates to executive officers and recommends changes to the Committee. The Committee believes that the CEO's role in the compensation program is appropriate and critical because of the CEO's interaction and evaluation of the performance of those individuals subject to the compensation program.

Base Salary. In order to attract and retain quality executives, it is vital that Origen provide its executives with a level of assured cash compensation consistent with their professional status, experience and abilities. For each of Origen's named executive officers, as illustrated above, base salary comprises less than 60% of total compensation. This is consistent with the peer group, where base salaries for top-level executives range from 30%-60% of total compensation. With only a portion of total compensation comprised of base salary, Origen's executive compensation is weighted towards annual bonus awards and long-term equity compensation, which are linked to corporate success and key employee retention.

Bonuses. Cash bonuses are awarded pursuant to an annual incentive plan and are based upon corporate and personal performance objectives. The primary purpose of the cash bonus element of our compensation program is to reward executives for the achievement of such performance objectives on an annual basis and to align employee interests with those of the stockholders. At the executive management and senior management levels, corporate financial performance is the primary objective, with adjustments made for personal performance in the discretion of the Committee.

The Committee has chosen not to include changes in Origen's stock price as a performance measure. Relatively speaking, Origen's stock is thinly-traded and is not widely-held, with a significant percentage of its stock being held by insiders. In lieu of using Origen's stock price as a performance objective, the Committee has chosen to use Origen's net income as its key corporate performance measure. The Committee believes this measure accurately reflects corporate performance and Origen's ability to pay bonuses.

Table of Contents

Each participant in the annual incentive plan has a target incentive opportunity. The target incentive opportunity is the cash bonus, based on a percentage of base salary, which an employee will receive if Origen's net income is 100% of its budgeted net income. The Committee has set a bonus threshold, whereby bonuses are only paid out if net income is at least 80% of Origen's budgeted net income. If Origen's net income surpasses the threshold level, employee cash bonuses increase on a sliding scale. The following table illustrates the interplay between net income and cash bonus awards.

Net Income (as % of budgeted net income)	<80%	80%	100%	150%
%Target Incentive Opportunity Awarded	0%	50%	100%	167%

As described below under Employment Agreements, named executive officers may be paid certain amounts upon a change of control of Origen or similar events.

Equity Compensation. The primary form of equity compensation awarded to date has been in the form of grants of restricted stock. A modest amount of stock options were awarded coincidental with our formation in October 2003, but the Committee has chosen not to make subsequent stock option awards. Equity compensation, similar to bonuses, is intended to reward executives for the achievement of performance objectives, but such objectives are longer-term in nature. A significant purpose for equity compensation is to retain valuable executives and senior managers and provide incentives for contributing to the overall success of Origen in order to benefit individually from any improvement in the price of the stock over the long-term. Since the grants of restricted stock vest over periods ranging from three to five years, this method of compensation serves this longer-term purpose. In 2007, Origen granted its named executive officers restricted shares of stock as described below in Grants of Plan-Based Awards. The Committee determined that these awards of restricted shares were consistent with the goals of the compensation program.

Origen does not require its executives to own a certain number of shares of Origen's stock.

Origen follows the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 revised (SFAS 123(R)), Share-Based Payment, which Origen adopted on January 1, 2006, using the modified-prospective transition method, in order to account for its equity incentive plan and stock option plan. See Note 1 Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies and Note 13 Share-Based Compensation Plan, included in Item 8 of Origen's Annual Report filed on Form 10-K with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 17, 2008 for more detail on how Origen accounts for equity-based awards under SFAS 123(R).

Material Information Relating to the Summary Compensation Table and Grants of Plan Based Awards*General*

The stock awards granted to the above named executive officers on August 29, 2007, vest in equal amounts on August 29, 2008, 2009 and 2010. All dividends and other distributions on the shares are paid in cash to the applicable holder of the stock at rates determined by the Board of Directors from time to time.

Stock awards may be granted to the named executive officers upon approval by the Committee or, in certain instances, the full Board of Directors. With the exception of the Chief Executive Officer as described above, the named executive officers do not have a role in determining the terms of the stock awards, including the amount to be awarded.

The stock awards have been granted on an annual basis, generally in the second quarter, but subsequent awards may be made throughout the remainder of the fiscal year as determined by the Compensation Committee or the Board of Directors.

Origen's executive compensation program, including the mix of the base salary element, the bonus element and the equity compensation element, and the proportion of each to total compensation, varies based on the individual named executive officer. In the aggregate, the salaries and bonuses earned by the named executive officers in 2007 equaled 69% of their aggregate total compensation. The following table shows each named executive officer's salary and bonus in proportion to his total compensation:

Employment Agreements

Origen and Origen Financial, L.L.C. have entered into employment agreements with each of the named executive officers, pursuant to which Origen Financial, L.L.C. pays the executives' salaries. Each of Origen's executives is also an officer of Origen Financial, L.L.C.

Ronald A. Klein, Chief Executive Officer

On July 14, 2006, Origen and Origen Financial, L.L.C. entered into an employment agreement with Ronald A. Klein, Origen's Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Klein's employment agreement is for an initial three-year term ending July 14, 2009 and is automatically renewable for successive one-year terms thereafter unless either party timely terminates the agreement. The employment agreement provides for an annual base salary of $495,000 in the first year, $520,000 in the second year, and $545,000 in the third year. If the agreement is automatically renewed beyond the initial three-year term, Mr. Klein's base salary will increase by 5% during each successive one-year term. In addition to his base salary, Mr. Klein is entitled to annual incentive compensation of up to 100% of his then current base salary if he satisfies certain individual and company performance criteria established from time to time by Origen's Board of Directors.

In connection with the execution of the employment agreement on July 14, 2006, Origen issued Mr. Klein 175,000 restricted shares of its common stock. The shares vest in five equal annual installments of 35,000 shares on each of May 15, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011.

The non-competition provision of the employment agreement generally precludes Mr. Klein from engaging, directly or indirectly, in the United States or Canada in the manufactured housing finance business or any ancillary business of Origen during the term of his employment with Origen and for a period of twelve months following the period he is employed by Origen, subject to certain conditions and exceptions. Mr. Klein will also be prohibited from soliciting the employment of any of Origen's other employees and diverting any business from Origen for a period of up to two years after termination of the employment agreement.

Under the employment agreement, Mr. Klein will be entitled to a severance payment equal to (a) two years' salary and target bonus if the employment agreement is terminated by Origen without cause (as defined below) or by Mr. Klein for good reason (as defined below), or if Mr. Klein dies or becomes disabled, or (b) one year's salary if Origen does not renew the term of the contract at the end of its initial term or any subsequent renewal term.

For purposes of Mr. Klein's employment agreement, "good reason", as it relates to the executive's severance payments upon his termination of the agreement for good reason described in the preceding paragraph, means (i) a substantial adverse change, not consented to by the executive, in the nature or scope of his responsibilities, authorities or duties, (ii) a substantial involuntary reduction in the executive's base salary except for an across-the-board salary reduction similarly affecting all or substantially all employees, or (iii) the relocation of the executive's principal place of employment to another location of Origen outside a sixty-mile radius from the location of the executive's principal place of employment as of the date of the agreement.

For purposes of Mr. Klein's employment agreement, "cause" means: (i) a material breach of any provision of the employment agreement by the executive (after opportunity to cure for 20 days upon receipt of notice of breach), (ii) the executive's failure or refusal, in any material manner, to perform all lawful services required of him pursuant to his agreement (after opportunity to cure for 20 days upon receipt of notice of breach), (iii) the executive's commission of fraud, embezzlement or theft, or a crime constituting moral turpitude that renders his continued employment harmful to Origen, (iv) the executive's misappropriation of company assets or property, including, without limitation, obtaining reimbursement through fraudulent vouchers or expense reports, or (v) the executive's conviction or the entry of a plea of guilty or no contest by the executive with respect to any felony or other crime that adversely affects Origen's reputation or business.

Upon a change in control of Origen, Mr. Klein may be entitled to a change in control payment equal to 2.99 times the sum of (a) his then current base salary, and (b) fifty percent of his then-current target bonus. The change in control payment will be payable if (i) Mr. Klein is still employed by Origen on the first anniversary of the change in control, (ii) during such one-year period Mr. Klein's employment is terminated without cause by Origen, Mr. Klein resigns with good reason (as defined below) or Mr. Klein dies or becomes disabled, or (iii) Origen terminates Mr. Klein's employment in anticipation of a change in control during a specified period before the closing of the change in control transaction. If, in addition to the change in control payment under the employment agreement, Mr. Klein is entitled to a payment from Origen upon a change in control or similar event under any other plan or agreement, Origen will be obligated to pay only the greater of the change in control payment described in the employment agreement and such other plan or agreement.

For purposes of Mr. Klein's employment agreement, "good reason", as it relates to the executive's severance payments upon his termination of the agreement for good reason after a change in control only, as described in the preceding paragraph, means (i) a substantial involuntary reduction in the executive's base salary except for an across-the-board salary reduction similarly affecting all or substantially all employees, or (ii) the relocation of the executive's principal place of employment to another location of Origen outside a sixty-mile radius from the location of the executive's principal place of employment as of the date of the agreement.

For purposes of Mr. Klein's employment agreement, a "change in control" includes the following: (i) an event or series of events by which any person together with all affiliates and associates of such person, shall become the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than 50% of the combined voting power of Origen's then outstanding securities having the right to vote in an election of the Board of Directors, other than as a result of an acquisition of securities directly from Origen, (ii) (1) any consolidation or merger of Origen in which the stockholders of Origen immediately prior to the consolidation or merger would not, immediately after the consolidation or merger, beneficially own, directly or indirectly, shares representing in the aggregate more than 50% of the voting shares of the corporation issuing cash or securities in the consolidation or merger or (2) any sale, lease, exchange or other transfer to an unrelated party, in one transaction or a series of transactions contemplated or arranged by any party as a single plan, of all or substantially all of Origen's assets; (iii) the approval of Origen's stockholders of any plan or proposal for the liquidation or dissolution of Origen; or (iv) where the persons who, as of the employment agreement date, constitute Origen's Board of Directors (the "incumbent directors") cease for any reason, including, without limitation, as a result of a tender offer, proxy contest, merger or similar transaction, to constitute at least a majority of the Board of Directors, provided that any person becoming a director of Origen subsequent to such date shall be considered an incumbent director if such person's election was approved by or such person was nominated for election by either (1) a vote of at least two-thirds of the incumbent directors or (2) a vote of at least a majority of the incumbent directors who are members of a nominating committee of the Board of Directors comprised, in the majority, of incumbent directors; provided further, however, that notwithstanding the foregoing, any director designated by a person or entity that has entered into an agreement with Origen to effect a transaction described in clauses (i), (ii) or (iii) above, shall not be deemed to be an incumbent director.

If any severance payments or change in control payments to Mr. Klein under the agreement collectively constitute a parachute payment under Section 280G(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, thereby requiring the payment of excise taxes, then Origen will gross up such payments to cover all applicable excise taxes.

W. Anderson Geater, Jr., Chief Financial Officer, J. Peter Scherer, President and Head of Operations and Mark Landschulz, Executive Vice President of Portfolio Management

On December 28, 2006, Origen and its primary operating subsidiary Origen Financial L.L.C. entered into employment agreements with each of W. Anderson Geater, Jr., Origen's Chief Financial Officer; J. Peter Scherer, Origen's President and Head of Operations; and Mark Landschulz, Origen's Executive Vice President of Portfolio Management. The effective date of each employment agreement is October 8, 2006, which is the date the previous employment agreement of each executive expired.

Table of Contents

Each executive's employment agreement is for an initial three-year term ending October 8, 2009 and is automatically renewable for successive one-year terms thereafter unless either party timely terminates the agreement. Mr. Geater's employment agreement provides for an annual base salary of $262,500 in the first year, $275,000 in the second year, and $300,000 in the third year. Each of Mr. Scherer's and Mr. Landschulz's employment agreement provides for an annual base salary of $250,000 in the first year, $275,000 in the second year, and $300,000 in the third year. If an executive's employment agreement is automatically renewed beyond the initial three-year term, his base salary will increase by 5% during each successive one-year term. In addition to his base salary, each executive is entitled to annual incentive compensation of up to 100% of his then-current base salary if he satisfies certain individual and company performance criteria established from time to time by Origen's Board of Directors.

In connection with the execution of the employment agreements on October 8, 2006, Origen issued Mr. Geater 30,000 restricted shares of common stock and issued each of Mr. Scherer and Mr. Landschulz 25,000 restricted shares of common stock. Each executive's shares vest in five equal annual installments of 6,000 shares (in Mr. Geater's case) or 5,000 shares (in Mr. Scherer's and Mr. Landschulz's cases) on each of October 8, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011.

Under their respective employment agreements, each of Mr. Geater, Mr. Scherer and Mr. Landschulz will be entitled to the following severance compensation: (A) if the employment agreement is terminated by Origen without cause or by the executive for good reason, (i) Origen will pay the executive an amount equal to his then-current base salary, (ii) Origen will continue to provide health care coverage and other benefits for which the executive continues to be eligible under Origen's benefits plans for the applicable severance period (as defined below), provided that Origen's obligation to provide the benefits described in this clause (ii) will terminate to the extent that a subsequent employer provides similar coverage, and (iii) the vesting of all of the executive's unvested options and shares of restricted stock will be accelerated; (B) if the executive dies or becomes disabled, (i) Origen will pay the executive an amount equal to his then-current base salary, (ii) Origen will continue to provide health care coverage and other benefits for the same period and on the same terms as described in clause (A)(ii) above, and (iii) the vesting of all of the executive's unvested options and shares of restricted stock will be accelerated; and (C) if the executive's employment is terminated because Origen does not renew the term of the employment agreement at the end of its initial term or any subsequent renewal term, (i) Origen will pay the executive an amount equal to his then-current base salary, and (ii) the vesting of all of the executive's unvested options and shares of restricted stock will be accelerated.

The severance period means 24 months with respect to Mr. Geater and 18 months with respect to each of Mr. Scherer and Mr. Landschulz.

If payable, the severance payment will be in addition to any non-compete payment or change of control payment described below to which the executive is entitled.

The non-competition provision of each executive's employment agreement generally precludes the executive from engaging, directly or indirectly, in the United States or Canada in the manufactured housing finance business or any ancillary business of Origen during the term of his employment with Origen and for a period of 18 months following the period he is employed by Origen, subject to certain conditions and exceptions. Each executive will also be prohibited from soliciting the employment of any of Origen's other employees and diverting any business from Origen for a period of up to 18 months after termination of the employment agreement. In consideration of each executive's covenant not to compete, Origen will pay the executive a non-compete payment, but only if the employment agreement is terminated by Origen without cause or by the executive for good reason. The amount payable to Mr. Geater is $849,615 and the amount payable to each of Mr. Scherer and Mr. Landschulz is $560,000. No portion of such amount will be payable to an executive after any breach of his covenant not to compete. Fifty percent of each executive's non-compete payment will be payable in equal monthly installments during the period between six months after his termination date and the end of his non-compete period. The remaining 50% of such amount will be payable at the end of the non-compete period. If the executive dies during the non-compete period, Origen will pay all remaining non-compete payments to his estate. If payable, the non-compete payment will be in addition to any severance payment described above or change of control payment described below to which the executive is entitled.

Upon a change in control of Origen, each executive may be entitled to a change in control payment equal to 2.0 times the sum of (a) his then-current base salary, and (b) fifty percent of his then-current target bonus. Each executive's change in control payment generally will be payable within five days after the first anniversary of the change of control event notwithstanding the foregoing: (i) no change of control payment will be payable if the executive is terminated for cause or resigns without good reason before the first anniversary of the change in control event, (ii) if during the six-month period following the change of control event his employment is terminated without cause by Origen or he resigns with good reason; (iii) if during the one-year period following the change of control event he dies or becomes disabled, and (iv) if Origen terminates his employment in anticipation of a change in control during a specified period before the closing of the change in control transaction. In addition to the change in control payment under their respective employment agreements, if any executive is entitled to a payment Origen must make the change of control payment six months after the executive's termination date from Origen upon a change in control or similar event under any other plan or agreement. Origen will be obligated to pay only the greater of the change of control payment described in the executive's employment agreement and such other plan or agreement. If payable, the change of control payment will be in addition to any severance payment or non-compete payment described above to which the executive is entitled.

If any severance payments or change in control payments to an executive under his employment agreement collectively constitute a parachute payment under Section 280G(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, thereby requiring the payment of excise taxes, then Origen will gross up such payments to cover all applicable excise taxes.

For purposes of the employment agreements of each of Mr. Geater, Mr. Scherer and Mr. Landschulz, cause, good reason as it relates to the executive's severance payments upon his termination of the agreement for good reason generally, and good reason, as it relates to the executive's severance payments upon his termination of the agreement for good reason after a change of control, have the same meaning as those applicable to Mr. Klein, as described above.

Benton E. Sergi, Senior Vice President of Operations

On March 31, 2007, Mr. Sergi completed the final year of a three-year employment agreement. Under the provisions of the agreement, the term of the agreement has been automatically extended to March 31, 2009. Mr. Sergi's annual salary through March 31, 2008 was $215,250 and his annual salary for the year ending March 31, 2009 is $226,013. Under the terms of the agreement, Mr. Sergi is eligible for a performance bonus of up to 50% of his base salary. Under the agreement, Mr. Sergi is entitled to the following severance compensation: (A) if the employment agreement is terminated by Origen without cause, Origen will pay the executive an amount equal to his then-current base salary over the severance period; and (B) if the executive dies or becomes disabled, Origen will pay the executive an amount equal to his then-current base salary over the severance period.

The severance period means 12 months with respect to Mr. Sergi.

For purposes of Mr. Sergi's employment agreement, cause means: (i) a material breach of any provision of the employment agreement by the executive (after opportunity to cure for 20 days upon receipt of notice of breach), (ii) any action (or failure to act) by the executive that involves malfeasance, fraud or moral turpitude, or which, if generally known, would or might have a material adverse effect on Origen or its reputation.

The non-competition provision of Mr. Sergi's employment agreement generally precludes the executive from engaging, directly or indirectly, in the United States or Canada in the manufactured housing finance business or any ancillary business of Origen during the term of his employment with Origen and for a period of 12 months following the period he is employed by Origen, subject to certain conditions and exceptions. The executive will also be prohibited from soliciting the employment of any of Origen's other employees and diverting any business from Origen for a period of up to 12 months after termination of the employment agreement.

On March 20, 2008, Origen entered into a letter agreement with Mr. Sergi, under which Mr. Sergi will be paid a retention bonus equal to $215,250 (the amount of his current base salary) if (i) he remains employed by Origen or a successor of Origen for twelve months from the date of the agreement, or (ii) if during such twelve-month period his employment is terminated by Origen for any reason other than insubordination, incompetency or dishonesty, and he is not offered employment by a successor to Origen. If payable, the retention bonus will be paid in accordance with Origen's payroll schedule over the course of one year.

Origen's non-qualified deferred compensation plan provides supplemental compensation to certain executive officers and employees on a deferred basis. The plan was initiated by one of Origen's predecessors in year 2002, in an environment where no equity capital was available to compensate key members of management. The plan was intended to attract and maintain qualified individuals in key positions. The plan is not performance-based and the investments are not directed by either the employee or Origen. The vesting amounts, vesting schedule and employee payment schedules are all fixed upon the employee's entrance into the plan. The deferred compensation under the plan vests over a ten-year period, with the first 30% vesting on the third anniversary of the employee's participation in the plan, and the remainder vesting at a rate of 10% per year, until the tenth anniversary of the employee's participation in the plan. The deferred compensation is paid to the employee, in a lump sum, following the tenth anniversary of the participant's enrollment in the plan. If a participant's employment is terminated for any reason after the third anniversary, but before the tenth anniversary, of his or her enrollment in the plan, Origen will pay the participant his or her vested portion of the deferred compensation, in a lump sum, following the tenth anniversary of his or her enrollment in the plan. If a participant dies while he or she is a full-time employee and before he or she has been enrolled in the plan for ten years, Origen has no obligation to pay any amount to the participant or the participant's beneficiaries. Origen closed the plan to any new participants after year 2005.

Origen's predecessor adopted a split-dollar life insurance plan that, through individual life insurance policies, provides death benefits to a participant's beneficiaries and coordinates with the deferred compensation plan described above. Under the split-dollar plan, Origen is the sole owner of each life insurance policy and pays all premiums due under the policies. Upon a participant's death, a portion of the death benefit is paid to Origen. It is intended that the policies under the split-dollar plan provide key man insurance benefits to Origen, and the cash build-up in the policies is intended to fund the payment of benefits under the deferred compensation plan described above. Participation in the split-dollar plan terminates upon the earlier of a participant's death or the tenth anniversary of a participant's enrollment in the deferred compensation plan. In addition, the split-dollar plan will be terminated, as to all participants, upon the total cessation of Origen's business, if Origen files for bankruptcy, if Origen is put into receivership, if Origen is dissolved or if Origen terminates the split-dollar plan. Upon the plan's termination, participants have the right to acquire the life insurance policy from Origen for the then-current cash surrender value of the policy.

Disclosure Regarding Termination and Change In Control Provisions

The following table describes and quantifies potential payments to named executive officers under existing contracts and agreements that provide for payments in the event of any termination of employment or change of control event (each, a triggering event). Termination of employment includes severance, constructive termination and resignation. Currently there are no contracts or agreements in place that provide for any form of retirement benefits, and accordingly, retirement is excluded from the definition of a termination of employment for purposes of this table. For illustrative purposes, a triggering event is assumed to have occurred on the last business day of 2007. See the section entitled "Material Information Relating to the Summary Compensation Table and Grants of Plan Based Awards Employment Agreements" for additional information regarding the named executive officers' rights upon a triggering event. Also see "Employment Agreements" for a narrative description of the triggering events and compensation payable to each of Messrs. Klein, Geater, Scherer, Landschulz and Sergi upon the occurrence of a triggering event. The following table also quantifies such payments.

In June 2006, Origen adopted the Origen Financial, Inc. Retention Plan, which was implemented in order to provide plan participants with reasonable and fair protection from the risks presented by the possibility of a change of control. In March 2008, Origen terminated the retention plan. No employee, director or other person was designated to participate in the retention plan before it was terminated.

Klein, a director and the Chief Executive Officer of Origen, owns less than a 1% interest in the landlord entity. William M. Davidson, the sole member of Woodward Holding, LLC, which owns approximately 7% of Origen's common stock, beneficially owns an approximate 14% interest in the landlord entity. Origen recorded rental expense for these offices of approximately $567,000, $465,000 and $408,000 for the years ended December 31, 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

On September 11, 2007, the William M. Davidson Trust u/a/d 12/13/04 (the "Trust"), an affiliate of William M. Davidson, one of Origen's principal stockholders, loaned Origen Financial L.L.C. $15 million. On April 8, 2008 the Trust loaned Origen Financial L.L.C. an additional $46 million, the proceeds of which Origen Financial L.L.C. used to pay off a credit facility with Citigroup Global Markets Realty Corp. Both of the loans from the Trust are guaranteed by Origen and its primary operating subsidiaries and are secured by all assets of Origen and its primary operating subsidiaries, including Origen Financial L.L.C. The $15 million loan bears interest at an annual rate of 8% and matures on September 11, 2008, but, at Origen Financial L.L.C.'s option, the maturity date may be extended up to four months with the payment of additional fees. The $46 million loan bears interest at an annual rate of 14.5% and matures on April 8, 2011, but, at Origen Financial L.L.C.'s option, the maturity date may be extended for one year if Origen Financial L.L.C. pays an extension fee. Both of the loans are prepayable, but if the $46 million loan is paid off entirely in connection with a refinancing of the entire remaining principal owing under that loan, Origen Financial L.L.C. must pay a prepayment fee equal to 1.5% of the then-outstanding principal balance. In connection with the $15 million loan, on September 11, 2007, Origen issued the Trust a five-year warrant to purchase 500,000 shares of Origen's common stock at an exercise price of $6.16 per share and $5 million of the $15 million principal balance was convertible into shares of Origen's common stock at a conversion price of $6.237 per share. These warrants were cancelled and this conversion option was terminated on April 8, 2008 upon the making of the $46 million loan. In connection with the $46 million loan, on April 8, 2008, Origen issued the Trust a new five-year warrant to purchase 2,600,000 shares of Origen's common stock at an exercise price of $1.22 per share.

Policies and Procedures for Approval of Related Party Transactions

Under Origen's written Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, none of its directors, officers or employees may enter into any transaction or arrangement with Origen that creates a conflict of interest without prior disclosure to and review by Origen's Compliance Committee (which consists of the Chairman of the Audit Committee, the Chairman of the Nominating and Governance Committee and a representative of Origen's outside legal counsel). The Compliance Committee must attempt to find ways to reduce or eliminate the conflict and monitor conflicts to ensure that Origen's interests are protected. In practice, the Compliance Committee typically refers such matters to the Board for its consideration and approval. In determining whether to approve such a transaction or arrangement, the Board takes into account, among other factors, whether the transaction was on terms no less favorable to Origen than terms generally available to third parties and the extent of the director s, officer s or employee s involvement in such transaction or arrangement.

Table of Contents

The Code of Business Conduct and Ethics was adopted and approved in January 2004. All related party transactions entered into that are disclosed above were approved by the Board, except for the loan repurchases from Sun Homes. The terms of the repurchases were disclosed to the Board before the repurchases and the Board determined that the repurchases were on substantially the same terms as those prevailing at the time for comparable arms-length transactions with unrelated parties.

Item 14. Principal Accountant Fees and Services

Aggregate fees for professional services rendered by Grant Thornton LLP, Origen's independent auditors, for the fiscal years ended December 31, 2007 and December 31, 2006 were as follows:

Category	Fiscal Year Ended December
	2007	31, 2006
Audit Fees: For professional services rendered for the audit of our financial statements, the audit of internal controls relating to Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, the reviews of the quarterly financial statements and consents	$546,673	$504,279
Audit-Related Fees: For professional services rendered for accounting assistance with new accounting standards, securitizations and other SEC related matters	$ 46,083	$ 59,600
Tax Fees: For professional services rendered in connection with tax compliance and preparation of tax returns	$130,884	$141,944
All Other Fees	$ 0	$ 0

The Audit Committee has a policy that requires that all services provided by the independent auditor to Origen, including audit services, audit-related services, tax services and other services, be pre-approved by the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee approved all audit and non-audit related services provided to Origen by Grant Thornton LLP during the 2007 and 2006 fiscal years.
