U.S. ARMY AWARDS CASE CONTRACT VALUED AT MORE THAN US$160 MILLION

3,400 Units to be Manufactured in Wichita, Kan.

RACINE, Wis. (April 24, 2007) The U.S. Army TACOM (Tank-Automotive and Armaments Command) today announced the award of a contract valued at more than $160 million to Case Construction Equipment to build nearly 1,500 compact track loaders and more than 1,900 skid steers during a 10-year period.

Jim Hasler, vice president, Case Construction Equipment, said, "Case earned this award based on our response to a request for proposal that included among its key criteria the ability to support the vehicles with parts and technical services globally, the technical performance and reliability of our machines, and our past performance in supporting other military contracts. In all these areas, Case was evaluated as Excellent, and Case skid steers and compact track loaders were deemed to provide the best overall value to the military.

The machines comply with current emissions requirements and will be built at the Case manufacturing plant in Wichita, Kan., to exclusive military specifications. Each machine will be delivered with four specialized attachments that will allow the Army to use the machines in a variety of applications, from traditional digging and loading operations to moving palletized materials and demolishing concrete.

Case will deliver the first test machines in 2008, with proposed production continuing through 2017.

During the past 36 months, Case has earned military contracts valued at more than $270 million. In 2005, Case was awarded a contract to deliver more than 500 new backhoe loaders to U.S. Army forces around the globe.

The ability of Case to provide service and support to the military has increased the number of contracts we have been awarded and we look forward to the opportunity to earn additional work from the military in the future, Hasler said. Other current Case contracts with the U.S. military include the remanufacturing, resetting or re-powering of select models of Case forklifts and wheel loaders that have been in service for 20 years or more.

Case Construction Equipment sells and supports a full line of construction equipment around the world, including the No. 1 loader/backhoes, articulated trucks, excavators, motor graders, wheel loaders, vibratory compaction rollers, crawler dozers, skid steers, compact track loaders and rough-terrain forklifts. Through Case dealers, customers have access to a true professional partner with world-class equipment and aftermarket support, industry-leading warranties and flexible financing.
