Filed by Amgen Inc. Pursuant to Rule 425
under the Securities Act of 1933 and deemed filed pursuant to Rule 14a-12
under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934

Subject Company: Immunex Corporation
Commission File No. 0-12406

This filing relates to the proposed acquisition ("Acquisition") by Amgen Inc. ("Amgen") of Immunex Corporation ("Immunex") pursuant to the terms of an Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of December 16, 2001 (the "Merger Agreement"), by and among Amgen, AMS Acquisition Inc. and Immunex. The Merger Agreement is on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an exhibit to the Current Report on Form 8-K filed by Amgen on December 17, 2001 and is incorporated by reference into this filing.

The following is the text of questions and answers regarding the Acquisition and the registration statement on Form S-4 filed by Amgen with the Securities and Exchange Commission on January 31, 2002. Amgen has made this Q&A available at <http://amgen.acquisitioninformation.com> and, by following the appropriate links,

Questions & Answers- Form S-4 Registration Statement

On January 31, 2002, Amgen filed with the SEC a registration statement on Form S-4. This registration statement is available at the SEC's website (www.sec.gov). The information in this registration statement is not complete and may be changed.

How will Amgen account for the purchase price paid to acquire Immunex?

-Generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) require that Immunex's acquired assets, both tangible and intangible, and liabilities be included in Amgen's and Immunex's combined financial statements as of the acquisition date based on their then estimated fair value. The difference between the purchase price paid and fair value assigned to the net assets acquired is then allocated to goodwill.

-The following summarizes the preliminary allocation of fair values to Immunex's net assets and the resulting accounting treatment in Amgen's and Immunex's combined financial statements.

| | | Preliminary values assigned |
|----------------------------|---------------------------|--|
| Asset description ----- | (In billions) ----- | GAAP accounting treatment ----- |
| In-process research and | $2.4 | Recognize as an immediate expense during |

Edgar Filing: IMMUNEX CORP /DE/ - Form 425

| | | |
|---|------------------|--|
| development | | the period that the acquisition closes |
| Identifiable intangible assets (primarily developed technology related to ENBREL) | 6.6 | Capitalize and amortize over the estimated useful life of the product - 15 years (approximately $440 million per year) |
| Deferred tax liability | (2.6) | Established to reflect the lack of tax deductibility of identifiable intangible assets acquired. This liability will be amortized in proportion to the related assets and, in essence, results in a benefit to future years' tax provisions (approximately $170 million per year) |
| Net tangible assets, principally Immunex's cash and investments acquired | 1.8 | Capitalize |
| Goodwill | 9.4 ----- | Capitalize as an asset as of the acquisition date and periodically evaluate for potential impairment (at least once per year) |
| Total purchase price | $ 17.6 ===== | |

The allocation of the purchase price is preliminary. The final determination of the allocation of the purchase price is expected to be completed as soon as practicable after the completion of the acquisition. As a result, the final allocation could differ significantly from the amounts presented in the table above.

Why is the purchase price listed at $17.6 billion in the Form S-4 registration statement and $16 billion in your press release?

-The principal difference is that in the press release, the purchase price is net of Immunex cash and investments acquired while in the Form S-4 the purchase price includes cash and investments to be acquired by Amgen.

-In addition, the value of the Amgen shares used in determining the purchase price in the Form S-4 was $58.525 per share based on the average closing price of Amgen common stock for the two days prior to and two days subsequent to the announcement of the acquisition, in accordance with GAAP. The value of the Amgen shares used in determining the purchase price in the press release was $56.03, which represented the closing price of Amgen common stock on the last trading day prior to the announcement date.

How did you arrive at the amount of the identifiable intangible assets and the goodwill?

-The identifiable intangible assets are principally related to the estimated fair value of currently approved indications for ENBREL. The fair value was derived from preliminary estimates of discounted future cash flows using assumptions that a representative potential acquirer would use. This calculation is based on a preliminary valuation performed by a third party specialist.

-The amount of the purchase price allocated to goodwill equals the excess of the total purchase price over the fair value of the assets and liabilities being acquired. Under applicable accounting rules, goodwill includes, among other items, deal synergies, potential value of research projects yet to commence, and the future value that Amgen can contribute to the deal.

What is cash EPS, and why is Amgen intending to report this way on a go forward basis?

-We calculate cash EPS or "adjusted EPS" by making the following adjustments, net of tax, to EPS computed under generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP):

- . Add back amortization of identifiable intangible assets acquired
- . Add back other merger-related expenses directly resulting from the acquisition including non-recurring cash compensation related to the Immunex short-term employee retention plan

-In computing adjusted EPS, no adjustment to GAAP EPS will be made with respect to depreciation and amortization of property, plant and equipment. However, we will adjust GAAP EPS for non-recurring items as they occur.

-We believe that adjusted EPS will be a more meaningful measure of the combined company because it better reflects the ongoing economic benefits of the business acquired. However, we recognize the importance of EPS computed in accordance with GAAP and intend to reconcile adjusted EPS to GAAP EPS, as required.

Your Pro forma financial statement for 2000 suggests greater dilution than the approximately 5% you expected in 2003 discussed on your roadshow, why?

-The financial data presented for 2000 are for illustrative purposes only and do not represent a forecast of the consolidated financial position or the consolidated results of operations for any future period. Financial results in 2003 will be significantly different than results in 2000.

-To adjust the pro forma GAAP EPS from the S-4 to adjusted EPS the following adjustments, net of tax, to the GAAP EPS are required: (The following is illustrated in Table 1 of the Q&A.)

- . Add back amortization of identifiable intangible assets acquired
- . Add back non-recurring cash compensation pursuant to the Immunex short-term retention plan
- . Add in expected synergies upon completion of the acquisition

-The adjusted EPS of $.99 should be compared to the historically reported GAAP EPS of $1.05. This yields a 6% dilution.

How should an investor reconcile their Amgen expected pre-acquisition future EPS with the post-acquisition adjusted EPS?

-To determine the adjusted EPS in future periods and the related effect;

- . Begin with the applicable years expected pre-acquisition Amgen GAAP EPS and,
- . Add the expected net income of Immunex and expected synergies

Edgar Filing: IMMUNEX CORP /DE/ - Form 425

- . Subtract interest expense or foregone interest income to finance the acquisition
- . Increase the number of shares outstanding to reflect the impact of the additional shares issued related to the acquisition

What are some of the operating synergies that will benefit Amgen following the acquisition?

-Synergies will be derived primarily from reductions in redundant program expenses and employee related costs, and avoidance of future headcount needs. We anticipate cost synergies of more than $200 million in 2003 and more than $250 million in 2004.

What is your timeline for regulatory review of the acquisition?

-We continue to anticipate regulatory review will be completed in the second half of 2002
