Information Regarding Retention Bonus Agreements and Other Benefit Arrangements

The following is a set of questions and answers (Q&As) regarding the potential impact of the transaction on certain compensation and benefit arrangements applicable to certain KapStone employees. Please note that these Q&As are a summary only of the potential impact of the transaction on matters pertaining to such arrangements.

Although every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the information below, the terms and conditions of the applicable plan, program or agreement, including the merger agreement entered into between KapStone and WestRock, will be controlling in the event of any dispute or any difference between the information in this document and what is provided in such plan, program or agreement.

Q-1. At closing, will I be considered a WestRock employee?

A-1. At the time of the closing, you will remain employed by your current employer (for example, KapStone or Victory), which will become a part of the WestRock group upon closing.

Q-2. I have received a retention bonus agreement. Does that mean that WestRock intends to terminate my employment after closing?

A-2. Retention bonus agreements are offered for retention purposes only and are not indicative of WestRock's plans with respect to the employment of any individuals following the closing.

Severance Eligibility

Q-3. What severance policy will apply after closing?

A-3. For a period of one year following the closing, WestRock has agreed to provide certain minimum severance protections to employees in grade ranges 6 through 18 who were hired by KapStone and its affiliates on or before January 29, 2018. If you meet these criteria and experience a qualifying termination of employment during the one-year period following the closing, you will be eligible to receive a severance payment that is no less than the amount specified in the following table.

Grade Range	Minimum Severance
6 - 9	4 weeks base salary
10 - 12	6 weeks base salary
13 - 15	8 weeks base salary

16 18	15 weeks base salary

If you are eligible for a greater amount of severance under KapStone's severance policy due to the length of your service (one week per year of service), you will continue to be eligible for such greater amount because WestRock has agreed to honor pre-closing service with KapStone for severance purposes. Following the one-year period after closing, your accrued service will continue to be credited, but it will be applied under WestRock's severance policy, which may use a different formula for determining severance benefits. Additionally, during the one-year period following the closing, you will be eligible for three months of COBRA continuation after a qualifying termination.

If you have received a retention bonus agreement, you will not receive severance (including under the minimum protections) if your termination of employment occurs on or prior to the date you receive your retention bonus.

As described in Q&A-11 below, in addition to these minimum severance protections, WestRock has also agreed to certain terms regarding accelerated vesting of options and certain RSUs upon a qualifying termination of employment after closing. These equity vesting protections will apply to a qualifying termination at any time after closing, even beyond one year after closing.

Q-4. Is severance calculated based on my salary at the time I exit the company?

A-4. If you are entitled to severance payments upon a qualifying termination of employment within one year following the closing, the amount will be based on your base salary at the time of your termination of employment.

Q-5. Will severance be paid in a lump sum or on the regular payroll schedule?

A-5. WestRock will determine the form in which severance will be paid after closing.

Q-6. If I am a sales representative and not associated with a grade, is there a minimum amount of severance that I will be eligible for?

A-6. If your employment is terminated within one year following the closing, you will be eligible to receive at least the same severance benefits as you would have received under the KapStone severance policy in which you were eligible to participate immediately prior to the closing.

Retention Bonus Agreement

Q-7. I was offered a retention bonus that may be paid in lieu of severance. If WestRock terminates my employment, am I eligible for severance?

A-7. If your employment is terminated without cause or your resign for good reason (each as defined in your retention bonus agreement) and such termination or resignation occurs after the closing but on or before the date on which you have received your retention bonus (i.e., the later of (i) three months after the closing date of the transaction and (ii) December 31, 2018), you will be eligible to receive your retention bonus. However, the payment of your retention bonus will be in lieu of any other cash severance payment you would have otherwise been entitled to receive (though you will remain eligible to receive three months of subsidized COBRA continuation coverage).

If your employment is terminated without cause or you resign for good reason after you have already received your retention bonus, you will be eligible for severance in accordance with the terms discussed in Q&A-3.

Release

Q-8. I received a retention bonus agreement, and I was provided with two documents to sign (the bonus agreement and a release). When do I sign each document?

A-9. You may sign your bonus agreement as soon as you have had a chance to review and consider the agreement. The release attached as Exhibit A to your bonus agreement was included for informational purposes only. If your employment with WestRock is terminated under circumstances that would entitle you to receive a retention bonus, you will be provided with the release again. You would then have 45 days from your receipt of the release to sign and return the release, in which case, you will receive your payment following the date the release becomes irrevocable.

Q-9. Will signing the release bar me from future claims for cash severance?

A-9. Yes. By signing the release, you are forfeiting your rights to bring any future claims for cash severance.

Q-10. If I sign the release, am I restricted from working for a competitor of the WestRock group?

A-10. The release language does not prevent you from working for a competitor, but it does restrict your ability to solicit employees and customers of the WestRock group for six months following the date of your termination of employment.

Equity Vesting

Q-11. What happens to my unvested options and RSUs upon a termination of my employment following the closing?

A-11. Employees who are terminated without cause or resign their employment for good reason after closing will have their unvested options and RSUs (other than their 2018 RSU grants) immediately vest in full as of the date of termination. For any RSUs granted in 2018, two-thirds of the award would automatically vest upon the award holder's termination without cause or resignation for good reason after closing, and the remainder would be forfeited. These automatic vesting provisions will apply indefinitely after closing and are not subject to a limited duration protection period. The 2018 grants will also include the retirement-related vesting provisions included in past KapStone grants.

Q-12. If I retire before WestRock terminates my employment, will my unvested options and RSUs become vested?

A-13. If you voluntarily resign from employment for any reason that is not considered "good reason" under the terms of the applicable equity award agreement and prior to you becoming eligible for retirement (i.e., age 65), you will forfeit your unvested options and RSUs. However, once you reach the age of 65, your unvested options and RSUs will immediately vest upon your retirement.

Unemployment

Q-14. Will I be eligible to receive unemployment benefits while I am receiving severance payments?

A-14. Eligibility for unemployment benefits is determined on a state-by-state basis in accordance with local law. Contact your state's unemployment office for more information.
