Tracy Robbins to step down as EVP of Human Resources

14 January 2016 - InterContinental Hotels Group (IHG) [LON: IHG, NYSE: IHG (ADRs)] today announces that Tracy Robbins is to step down from the Board and her role as Executive Vice President of Human Resources on 15 January 2016, due to health reasons.

Patrick Cescau, Chairman of IHG commented: "On behalf of the Board, I want to thank Tracy for her long-standing contribution to IHG, most recently as a Board member and Executive Vice President, Human Resources. Tracy joined IHG 10 years ago and, through her broad experience, passion for people and strong commitment to developing talent, has played an important role in the company's success. I wish her all the best for the future."

Richard Solomons, Chief Executive Officer of IHG commented: "Tracy has made an enormous contribution to IHG being recognised as an employer of choice around the world and has been a valued member of the Executive Committee. She led the development of an award-winning global Employer Brand and led the development of our company values which inspire the 350,000 people who work across our hotels and corporate offices globally.

Tracy Robbins, EVP, Human Resources of IHG commented: "It has been a great privilege to have spent 10 years of my career at IHG and serve on the Board. I am proud of the role I have played, together with my talented colleagues across the world, in making IHG such an attractive employer. I leave confident in the knowledge there is real talent across the organisation and look forward to seeing the business go from strength to strength."
