NOTES TO UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Provident Financial Services, Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, The Provident Bank and First Sentinel Capital Trust I and II (the Company). These interim consolidated financial statements reflect the acquisition of First Sentinel Bancorp, Inc. (First Sentinel) on July 14, 2004, and the related issuance of 18.5 million shares of the Company's common stock in connection with the merger.

The interim consolidated financial statements reflect all normal and recurring adjustments, which are, in the opinion of management, considered necessary for a fair presentation of the financial condition and results of operations for the periods presented. The results of operations for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005 are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations that may be expected for all of 2005.

Certain information and note disclosures normally included in financial statements and prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America have been condensed or omitted, pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Certain prior period amounts have been reclassified to correspond with the current period presentations.

These unaudited consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the December 31, 2004 Annual Report to Stockholders on Form 10-K.

Note 4. Components of Net Periodic Benefit Cost

The Bank has a noncontributory defined benefit pension plan (the Plan) covering all of its employees who have attained age 21 with at least one year of service. The Plan was frozen on April 1, 2003. The Plan provides for 100% vesting after five years of service. The Plan's assets are invested in group annuity contracts and investment funds managed by the Prudential Insurance Company and Allmerica Financial.

In addition to pension benefits, certain health care and life insurance benefits are made available to retired employees. The costs of such benefits are accrued based on actuarial assumptions from the date of hire to the date the employee is fully eligible to receive the benefits. On December 31, 2002, the Company eliminated the post-retirement benefits for employees with less than ten years of service.

Net periodic benefit costs for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004 included the following components (in thousands):

Critical Accounting Policies

The calculation of the allowance for loan losses is a critical accounting policy of the Company. The allowance for loan losses is a valuation account that reflects management's evaluation of the probable losses inherent in the loan portfolio. The Company maintains the allowance for loan losses through provisions for loan losses that are charged to income. Charge-offs against the allowance for loan losses are taken on loans where management determines that the collection of loan principal is unlikely. Recoveries made on loans that have been charged-off are credited to the allowance for loan losses.

The Company's evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses includes a review of all loans on which the collectibility of principal may not be reasonably assured. For residential mortgage and consumer loans this is determined primarily by delinquency and collateral values. For commercial real estate and commercial loans an extensive review of financial performance, payment history and collateral values is conducted on a quarterly basis.

As part of the evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses, each quarter management prepares a worksheet. This worksheet categorizes the entire loan portfolio by certain risk characteristics such as loan type (residential mortgage, commercial mortgage, construction, commercial, etc.) and loan risk rating.

When assigning a risk rating to a loan, management utilizes a nine point internal risk rating system. Loans deemed to be acceptable quality are rated one through four, with a rating of one established for loans with minimal risk. Loans that are deemed to be of questionable quality are rated five (watch) or six (special mention). Loans with adverse classifications (substandard, doubtful or loss) are rated seven, eight or nine, respectively. Commercial mortgage, commercial and construction loans are rated individually and each lending officer is responsible for risk rating loans in his or her portfolio. These risk ratings are then reviewed by the department manager, the Chief Lending Officer and the Credit Administration Department. The risk ratings are then confirmed by the Loan Review Department of the Finance Division and they are periodically reviewed by the Credit Committee in the credit renewal or approval process.

Management believes the primary risks inherent in the portfolio are possible increases in interest rates, a decline in the economy, generally, and a decline in real estate market values. Any one or a combination of these events may adversely affect borrowers' ability to repay the loans, resulting in increased delinquencies, loan losses and future levels of provisions.

Table of Contents

Management considers it important to maintain the ratio of the allowance for loan losses to total loans at an acceptable level given current economic conditions, interest rates and the composition of the portfolio.

The provision for loan losses is established after considering the results of the review of delinquency and charge-off trends, the allowance for loan loss worksheet, the amount of the allowance for loan losses in relation to the total loan balance, loan portfolio growth, accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and regulatory guidance. This process has been applied consistently, and the Company has made minimal changes in the estimation methods and assumptions that have been used.

Although management believes that the Company has established and maintained the allowance for loan losses at adequate levels, additions may be necessary if future economic and other conditions differ substantially from the current operating environment. In addition, various regulatory agencies, as an integral part of their examination process, periodically review the Company's allowance for loan losses. Such agencies may require the Company to recognize additions to the allowance or additional write-downs based on their judgments about information available to them at the time of their examination. Although management uses the best information available, the level of the allowance for loan losses remains an estimate that is subject to significant judgment and short-term change.

Additional critical accounting policies relate to judgments about other asset impairments, including goodwill, investment securities and deferred tax assets. The Company engages an independent third party to perform an annual analysis to test the aggregate balance of goodwill for impairment. For purposes of goodwill impairment evaluation, The Provident Bank is identified as the reporting unit. Fair value of goodwill is determined in the same manner as goodwill recognized in a business combination and uses standard valuation methodologies, including a review of comparable transactions and discounted cash flow analysis. If the carrying amount of goodwill pursuant to this analysis were to exceed the implied fair value of goodwill, an impairment loss would be recognized. No impairment loss was required to be recognized for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005 or 2004.

The Company's available for sale securities portfolio is carried at estimated fair value, with any unrealized gains or losses, net of taxes, reported as accumulated other comprehensive income or loss in stockholders' equity. Estimated fair values are based on published or securities dealers market prices. Securities which the Company has the positive intent and ability to hold to maturity are classified as held to maturity and carried at amortized cost. The Company conducts a periodic review and evaluation of the securities portfolio to determine if any declines in the fair values of securities are other than temporary. If such a decline were deemed other than temporary, the Company would write down the security to fair value through a charge to current period operations. The market value of the securities portfolio is significantly affected by changes in interest rates. In general, as interest rates rise, the market value of fixed-rate securities decreases and as interest rates fall, the market value of fixed-rate securities increases. With significant changes in interest rates, the Company evaluates its intent and ability to hold securities to maturity or for a sufficient amount of time to recover the recorded amortized cost.

The determination of whether deferred tax assets will be realizable is predicated on estimates of future taxable income. Such estimates are subject to management's judgment. A valuation allowance is established when management is unable to conclude that it is more likely than not that it will realize deferred tax assets based on the nature and timing of these items.

COMPARISON OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AT SEPTEMBER 30, 2005 AND DECEMBER 31, 2004

Total assets at September 30, 2005 decreased $257.9 million, or 4.0%, to $6.18 billion compared to $6.43 billion at December 31, 2004, primarily as a result of reductions in securities, which were used to fund repayments of borrowings, deposit outflows and common stock repurchases.

Investment securities held to maturity decreased $24.6 million, or 5.5%, to $421.1 million at September 30, 2005, compared to $445.6 million at December 31, 2004. In addition, the Company sold $32.7 million of primarily mortgage-backed securities during the nine months ended September 30, 2005, as part of its ongoing interest rate risk management process. The weighted average life of the Company's available for sale securities portfolio was 2.9 years at September 30, 2005.

Furthermore, consumer loans increased $33.7 million to $548.0 million at September 30, 2005, compared to $514.3 million at December 31, 2004.

This compares with an unfunded loan pipeline of $599.3 million at December 31, 2004.

Borrowed funds decreased $117.7 million, or 10.1%, to $1.05 billion at September 30, 2005, from $1.17 billion at December 31, 2004, as proceeds from maturing investments and the amortization of mortgage-backed securities were used to pay off maturing liabilities.

Total deposits decreased $86.1 million from $4.05 billion at December 31, 2004, to $3.96 billion at September 30, 2005. Core deposits, which consist of all demand and savings deposits, declined $94.3 million to $2.56 billion at September 30, 2005, from $2.66 billion at December 31, 2004. Core deposits represented 64.6% and 65.6% of total deposits at September 30, 2005 and December 31, 2004, respectively. The Company outsourced its Bank check processing in April 2005, resulting in a $12.0 million decrease in core deposits at September 30, 2005, compared with December 31, 2004. Savings deposit levels were further impacted by the competitive interest rate environment, as well as renewed consumer interest in investment alternatives.

Liquidity and Capital Resources. The Company's primary sources of funds are deposits, FHLB advances, repurchase agreements, loan repayments, maturities of investments and cash flows from mortgage-backed securities. Scheduled loan amortization is a fairly predictable source of funds while loan and mortgage-backed securities prepayments and deposit flows are influenced by interest rates, local economic conditions and the competitive marketplace. Additional sources of liquidity that are available to the Company, should the need arise, are a $100.0 million overnight line of credit and a $100.0 million one-month overnight repricing line of credit with the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York. As of September 30, 2005, the Company did not have any outstanding borrowings against these lines of credit.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2005, average time deposits increased $315.6 million, or 29.4%, to $1.39 billion, compared with $1.07 billion for the same period in 2004. The increases in average deposits for the nine months ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same period in 2004, were largely attributable to the First Sentinel acquisition. Interest paid on deposit accounts increased $4.3 million, or 37.8%, to $15.6 million for the quarter ended September 30, 2005, compared to $11.3 million for the quarter ended September 30, 2004. For the nine months ended September 30, 2005, interest paid on deposit accounts increased $15.5 million, or 57.1%, to $42.6 million, compared to $27.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The average cost of interest-bearing deposits was 1.79% and 1.63% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005, respectively, compared with 1.29% and 1.32% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2004, respectively, reflecting increased market interest rates.

Average borrowings, including subordinated debentures, decreased $69.7 million, or 5.9%, to $1.10 billion for the quarter ended September 30, 2005, compared to $1.17 billion for the quarter ended September 30, 2004. For the nine months ended September 30, 2005, average borrowings increased $277.5 million, or 32.5%, to $1.13 billion, compared to $854.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The increase in average borrowings for the nine months ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same period in 2004, was primarily due to the assumption of borrowings, including subordinated debentures, in the First Sentinel acquisition. Interest paid on such borrowed funds increased $200,000, or 2.3%, to $8.9 million for the quarter ended September 30, 2005, from $8.7 million for the quarter ended September 30, 2004. For the nine months ended September 30, 2005, interest paid on such borrowed funds increased $8.2 million, or 45.1%, to $26.5 million, from $18.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The average cost of borrowings was 3.18% and 3.13% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005, respectively, compared with 2.94% and 2.86% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2004, respectively.

Provision for Loan Losses. The Company establishes provisions for loan losses, which are charged to income, in order to maintain the allowance for loan losses at a level management considers adequate to absorb probable credit losses inherent in the loan portfolio. In determining the level of the allowance for loan losses, management considers past and current loss experience, evaluation of real estate collateral, current economic conditions, volume and type of lending, adverse situations that may affect a borrower's ability to repay the loan and the levels of non-performing and other classified loans. The amount of the allowance is based on estimates, and the ultimate losses may vary from such estimates as more information becomes available or events change. Management assesses the allowance for loan losses on a quarterly basis and makes provisions for loan losses in order to maintain the adequacy of the allowance.

The Company recorded provisions for loan losses totaling $100,000 and $500,000 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005, respectively, compared to provisions of $1.1 million and $2.7 million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2004, respectively. The reduction in the provision for loan losses for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same periods in 2004, was attributable to improved asset quality, consistent loan portfolio composition and a reduction in loan balances year over year. The Company had net charge-offs of $832,000 and $1.6 million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2005, respectively, compared to net charge-offs of $1.3 million and $2.6 million for the same periods in 2004. The allowance for loan losses was $32.6 million, or 0.89% of total loans at September 30, 2005, compared to $33.8 million, or 0.91% of total loans at December 31, 2004 and $33.6 million, or 0.90% of total loans at September 30, 2004. At September 30, 2005, the allowance for loan losses as a percentage of non-performing loans was 504.6%, compared to 545.1% at December 31, 2004, and 687.9% at September 30, 2004.

Non-Interest Income. Non-interest income totaled $7.8 million for the quarter ended September 30, 2005, a decrease of $380,000, or 4.6%, compared to the same period in 2004. An increase of $531,000 in fee income for the quarter ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same period in 2004, was more than offset by a decrease in net gains on securities sales of $364,000 and a $578,000 decrease in other income. The increase in fee income was primarily attributable to loan prepayment fees and fees related to the outsourcing of the official check function. The reduction in other income was primarily attributable to the recognition of losses on loan sales of $221,000 during the quarter ended September 30, 2005, compared with gains of $90,000 realized during the same period in 2004.

For the year-to-date period, non-interest income totaled $21.5 million, a decrease of $1.0 million, or 4.6%, compared to the same period in 2004. Increases in fee income of $1.7 million and income on BOLI of $645,000 were more than offset by a reduction in securities gains of $1.2 million and a decline in other income of $2.2 million. The increase in fee income was primarily attributable to loan prepayment fees, ATM and debit card income, fees related to the outsourcing of the official check function and mortgage servicing fees. The increase in BOLI income was primarily a result of additional BOLI acquired from First Sentinel in the July 2004 merger. Other income for the nine months ended September 30, 2005, included losses on loan sales of $231,000, compared with gains of $1.4 million recorded in 2004.

Non-Interest Expense. For the three months ended September 30, 2005, non-interest expense decreased $4.3 million, or 12.6%, to $30.0 million, compared to $34.3 million for the three months ended September 30, 2004. Compensation and employee benefits expense decreased $2.6 million for the quarter ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same period in 2004, due primarily to reductions in staff and executive severance costs recorded in 2004. The Company employed 895 full-time equivalent employees at September 30, 2005, compared with 961 full-time equivalent employees at September 30, 2004. Advertising expense decreased $767,000 for the quarter ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same period in 2004, largely as a result of the cost of customer communications associated with the integration of the First Sentinel business incurred in 2004. Amortization of intangibles decreased $358,000 for the quarter ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same period in 2004, primarily as a result of the conclusion of the amortization of a core deposit intangible from an earlier acquisition. Furthermore, other non-interest expense decreased $521,000 for the quarter ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same period in 2004, primarily due to reductions in consultant fees and printing and supplies expense.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2005, non-interest expense increased $7.6 million, or 8.7%, to $94.6 million, compared to $87.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. Compensation and employee benefits expense increased $3.8 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same period in 2004, as a result of increased staffing following the First Sentinel acquisition and a $1.4 million expense recognized in the second quarter of 2005 in connection with the VRI. Amortization of intangibles increased $2.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same period in 2004, primarily as a result of amortization of the core deposit intangible recorded in connection with the First Sentinel acquisition. Additional increases in occupancy expense of $2.2 million and data processing expense of $642,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same period in 2004, were also due primarily to the acquisition and integration of First Sentinel's operations. As a result of the First Sentinel acquisition, the Company added 22 full-service branch locations, including the former headquarters building, which now serves as the Provident Loan Center. Partially offsetting these increases, advertising and promotions expense declined $1.6 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same period in 2004.

The Company's annualized non-interest expense as a percentage of average assets improved to 1.9% for the quarter ended September 30, 2005, compared with 2.2% for the same period in 2004. For the nine months ended September 30, 2005, annualized non-interest expense as a percentage of average assets was 2.0%, compared with 2.4% for the same period in 2004. The efficiency ratio (non-interest expense divided by the sum of net interest income and non-interest income) improved to 57.1% for the quarter ended September 30, 2005, compared with 62.3% for the same period in 2004. For the nine months ended September 30, 2005, the efficiency ratio was 59.3%, compared with 63.8% for the same period in 2004.

Income Tax Expense. For the three months ended September 30, 2005, income tax expense increased $1.2 million, or 18.2%, to $7.6 million, compared to $6.4 million for the three months ended September 30, 2004. The effective tax rate for the three months ended September 30, 2005 was 33.6%, compared with 32.4% for the three months ended September 30, 2004. The increase in the effective tax rate for the third quarter of 2005 compared with the same period in 2004 was primarily due to the vesting of stock awards at a market price below the market value on the date of grant, resulting in the reversal of a previously recognized tax benefit. For the nine months ended September 30, 2005, income tax expense increased $6.2 million, or 43.2%, to $20.6 million, compared to $14.4 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The effective tax rate for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 was 32.1%, compared with 30.9% for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The increases in income tax expense and the effective tax rate for the nine months ended September 30, 2005, compared with the same period in 2004, were attributable to growth in taxable income, largely as a result of the First Sentinel acquisition.

Item 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK.

Qualitative Analysis. The Company's most significant risk exposure is interest rate risk. Interest rate risk is the exposure of a bank's current and future earnings and capital arising from adverse movements in interest rates. The guidelines of the Company's interest rate risk policy seek to limit the exposure to changes in interest rates that affect the underlying economic value of assets and liabilities, earnings and capital. To minimize interest rate risk, the Company may periodically sell 20- and 30-year fixed-rate mortgage loans. Commercial real estate loans generally have interest rates that reset in five years, and other commercial loans such as construction loans and commercial lines of credit reset with changes in the prime rate or LIBOR. Investment securities purchases generally have maturities of five years or less, and mortgage-backed securities have weighted average lives between three and five years.

The Asset/Liability Committee meets on a monthly basis to review the impact of interest rate changes on net interest income, net interest margin, net income and the economic value of equity. The Asset/Liability Committee reviews a variety of strategies that project changes in asset or liability mix, various interest rate scenarios and the impact of those changes on projected net interest income and net income.

The Company's strategy for liabilities has been to maintain a stable core-funding base by focusing on core deposit account acquisition and increasing products and services per household. A consistent focus on core deposit accounts contributes to less interest rate sensitivity. The Company's ability to retain maturing certificate of deposit accounts is partially a result of its strategy to remain competitively priced within its marketplace, typically within the upper quartile of rates offered by its competitors. Pricing strategy may vary depending upon current funding needs and the ability of the Company to fund operations through alternative sources, primarily by accessing short-term lines of credit with the FHLB during periods of pricing dislocation.

Quantitative Analysis. Current and future sensitivity to changes in interest rates are measured through the use of balance sheet and income simulation models. The analyses capture changes in net interest income using flat rates as a base, a most likely rate forecast and rising and declining interest rate forecasts. Changes in net interest income and net income for the forecast period, generally twelve to twenty-four months, are measured and compared to limits for acceptable change.

The following sets forth the results of a twelve-month net interest income projection model as of September 30, 2005 (dollars in thousands):

Change in Interest Rates in Basis Points (Rate Ramp)	Net Interest Income
	Dollar	Dollar	Percent

Edgar Filing: PROVIDENT FINANCIAL SERVICES INC - Form 10-Q

	Amount	Change	Change
-100	$ 178,214	$ 8,498	5.0%
Static	169,716
+100	159,737	(9,979)	(5.9)
+200	149,564	(20,152)	(11.9)

The preceding table indicates that as of September 30, 2005, in the event of a 200 basis point increase in interest rates, whereby rates ramp up evenly over a twelve-month period, net interest income would decrease 11.9%, or $20.2 million. In the event of a 100 basis point decrease in interest rates, net interest income is projected to increase 5.0%, or $8.5 million.

Table of Contents

Due to the difficulty in accurately predicting the sensitivity of interest-bearing deposits to changes in interest rates, the assumptions made in the model regarding deposit repricing reflect a worst case scenario. The model assumes that all interest-bearing deposits, including products with no defined maturity such as passbook savings, statement savings, interest-bearing checking, and money market accounts, will reprice the full monthly incremental amount for each rate ramp scenario. Although this is unlikely to happen, management believes this is an objective methodology to use in measuring interest rate risk.

Another measure of interest rate sensitivity is to model changes in economic value of equity through the use of immediate and sustained interest rate shocks. The following table illustrates the result of the economic value of equity model as of September 30, 2005 (dollars in thousands):

Change in Interest Rates (Basis Points)	Present Value of Equity			Present Value of Equity as Percent of Present Value of Assets
	Dollar Amount	Dollar Change	Percent Change	Present Value Ratio	Percent Change
-100	$ 1,314,336	$ 51,344	4.1%	20.5%	2.7%
Flat	1,262,992			19.9
+100	1,197,376	(65,616)	(5.2)	19.2	(3.7)
+200	1,126,273	(136,719)	(10.8)	18.4	(7.9)

The above table indicates that as of September 30, 2005, in the event of an immediate and sustained 200 basis point increase in interest rates, the present value of equity is projected to decrease 10.8%, or $136.7 million. If rates were to decrease 100 basis points, the model forecasts a 4.1%, or $51.3 million increase in the present value of equity.

Certain shortcomings are inherent in the methodologies used in the above interest rate risk measurements. Modeling changes in net interest income requires the use of certain assumptions regarding prepayment and deposit decay rates, which may or may not reflect the manner in which actual yields and costs respond to changes in market interest rates. While management believes such assumptions to be reasonable, there can be no assurance that assumed prepayment rates and decay rates will approximate actual future loan prepayment and deposit withdrawal activity. Moreover, the net interest income table presented assumes that a particular change in interest rates is reflected uniformly across the yield curve regardless of the duration to maturity or repricing of specific assets and liabilities. Accordingly, although the net interest income table provides an indication of the Company's interest rate risk exposure at a particular point in time, such measurement is not intended to and does not provide a precise forecast of the effect of changes in market interest rates on the Company's net interest income and will differ from actual results.

Item 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES.

Under the supervision and with the participation of management, including the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer, the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 13a-15(e) or 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) were evaluated at the end of the period covered by this report. Based upon that evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer concluded that, as of the end of the period covered by this report, the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the reports that the Company files or submits under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms. There has been no change in the Company's internal control over financial reporting during the period covered by this report that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

PART II OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

The Company is involved in various legal actions and claims arising in the normal course of business. In the opinion of management, these legal actions and claims are not expected to have a material adverse impact on the Company's financial condition and results of operations.

In its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2002, the Company reported that after the completion of The Provident Bank's (Bank) conversion from a mutual to stock savings bank, certain depositors of the Bank appealed the Order and Decision of the Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Banking and Insurance (the Commissioner) approving the plan of conversion. The appeal In the Matter of the Decision of the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance dated November 8, 2002, Permitting the Conversion of The Provident Bank from a Mutual to Stock Savings Bank (Superior Court of New Jersey, Appellate Division/Docket Nos. A-2107-02T2 and A-2615-02T3) challenged the aggregate purchase limits on subscription rights contained in the Bank's plan of conversion, as approved by the Commissioner, claiming that the limits violated the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination (NJLAD) and state and federal law. In its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2004, the Company reported that the Appellate Division of the Superior Court of New Jersey dismissed the appeal as moot without reaching the merits of the depositors' claims.

The Company disclosed in its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2004, that on September 10, 2004 certain of the depositors filed a lawsuit (Stephen Royce et al. v. The Provident Bank et al., Docket No. HUD-L-4751-04) in the Superior Court of New Jersey against the Bank, the Company and certain members of the board of directors of the Company alleging facts similar to those raised in the appeal. The lawsuit, which sought compensatory and punitive damages, asserted that purchase limitations contained in the Bank's plan of conversion, as approved by the Commissioner, violated the NJLAD and that the named directors, as well as the Bank and the Company, breached their fiduciary duty to the plaintiff depositors by approving the plan of conversion with the purchase limitations. On a motion to dismiss brought by the Company and the other named defendants, the Court dismissed the plaintiffs' claims based on the NJLAD. The parties subsequently reached a settlement as to the balance of the claims and executed a stipulation of dismissal of the case with prejudice effective as of August 17, 2005.
