Item 1.01. ENTRY INTO A MATERIAL DEFINITIVE AGREEMENT.

On January 16, 2011, Sterling Bancshares, Inc., a Texas corporation (Sterling), entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the Merger Agreement) with Comerica Incorporated, a Delaware corporation (Comerica). The Merger Agreement provides that, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth therein, a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Comerica will merge with and into Sterling, with Sterling continuing as the surviving entity and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Comerica (the Merger). The Merger Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby, including the Merger, have been approved by the Boards of Directors of Sterling and Comerica. Pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Merger Agreement, upon completion of the Merger, each outstanding share of Sterling common stock will be converted into the right to receive 0.2365 (the Exchange Ratio) of a share of Comerica common stock (subject to the payment of cash in lieu of fractional shares). In addition, as of consummation of the Merger, outstanding Sterling stock options and other stock-based awards will vest and be converted into stock options and other stock-based awards with respect to shares of Comerica s common stock, and outstanding warrants to purchase Sterling common stock will be converted into warrants to purchase Comerica common stock, in each case with adjustments to reflect the Exchange Ratio.

The Merger Agreement contains customary representations and warranties from both Sterling and Comerica, and each have agreed to customary covenants, including, among others, covenants with respect to the conduct of their respective businesses during the interim period between the execution of the Merger Agreement and the consummation of the Merger. In addition, Sterling has agreed (1) not to engage in certain kinds of transactions or take certain actions during this period (without (i) the prior written consent of Comerica or (ii) previously notifying and consulting with Comerica), (2) to convene and hold a meeting of its shareholders to consider and vote upon the Merger, (3) that, subject to certain exceptions, the Sterling board of directors will recommend adoption of the Merger Agreement by its shareholders, and (4) not to (A) solicit, initiate, encourage or knowingly facilitate any proposals relating to alternative business combination transactions, or (B) subject to certain exceptions, provide any non-public information in connection with any proposal relating to an alternative business combination transaction or engage in any discussions or negotiations regarding any such proposal.

Completion of the Merger is subject to various customary conditions, including, among others, (1) approval of the Merger Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby, including the Merger, by Sterling shareholders, (2) receipt of required regulatory approvals, (3) the absence of any law or order prohibiting the closing of the Merger, (4) effectiveness of the registration statement for the Comerica common stock to be issued in the Merger, and (5) approval of the listing on the New York Stock Exchange of the Comerica common stock to be issued in the Merger. Each party s obligation to consummate the Merger is also subject to certain additional customary conditions, including (i) subject to certain exceptions, the accuracy of the representations and warranties of the other party, (ii) performance in all material respects by the other party of its obligations and (iii) the receipt by such party of an opinion from its counsel to the effect that the Merger will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

The Merger Agreement contains certain termination rights for Sterling and Comerica, as the case may be, applicable upon: (1) final, non-appealable denial of required regulatory approvals or a law or injunction prohibiting the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement becoming final and non-appealable, (2) November 30, 2011, if the Merger has not been completed by that date, (3) a breach by the other party that is not or cannot be cured within 45 days' notice of such breach if such breach would result in a failure of the conditions to closing set forth in the Merger Agreement, (4) the Board of Directors of Sterling's failing to recommend the Merger to its shareholders or Sterling's failing to comply with its non-solicitation obligations, its obligation with respect to any other proposals relating to alternative business combination transactions or its obligation to use reasonable best efforts to obtain the approval of its shareholders, and (5) the failure of Sterling's shareholders to approve the Merger by the required vote. The Merger Agreement further provides that, upon termination of the Merger Agreement under specified circumstances, Sterling may be required to reimburse Comerica for its expenses, up to a maximum of $3 million, or to pay Comerica a termination fee of $40 million.

The foregoing description of the Merger Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Merger Agreement, which is attached hereto as Exhibit 2.1 and is incorporated herein by reference. The Merger Agreement has been included to provide security holders with information regarding its terms. It is not intended to provide factual information about the parties or any of their respective subsidiaries or affiliates. The representations, warranties and covenants of each party as set forth in the Merger Agreement were made only for purposes of that agreement and as of specific dates, are solely for the benefit of the parties to the Merger Agreement, may be subject to limitations, qualification and exceptions agreed upon or to be agreed upon by the parties (including being qualified by confidential disclosures), and may have been made for the purposes of allocating contractual risk between the parties to the Merger Agreement instead of establishing these matters as facts, and may be subject to standards of materiality applicable to the parties that differ from those applicable to investors. Investors should not rely on the representations, warranties, or covenants or any description thereof as characterizations of the actual state of facts or condition of the parties or any of their respective subsidiaries or affiliates. Moreover, information concerning the subject matter of the representations, warranties, and covenants may change after the date of the Merger Agreement, which subsequent information may or may not be fully reflected in public disclosures.

Item 5.02. DEPARTURE OF DIRECTORS OR CERTAIN DIRECTORS; ELECTION OF DIRECTORS; APPOINTMENT OF CERTAIN OFFICERS; COMPENSATORY ARRANGEMENTS OF CERTAIN OFFICERS.

On January 17, 2011, Sterling entered into substantially similar transition/retention incentive agreements (each, a "Transition Agreement") with each of its named executive officers, among other officers, to provide an incentive for the officers to remain employed with Sterling for a period commencing on the date of the Transition Agreement and ending on the earlier of: (i) thirty days after the system conversion has been completed, (ii) six months after the date of closing of the Merger, or (iii) the date such officer is released from employment by Sterling or its successor entity (the "Transition Period"). Under each Transition Agreement, Sterling agreed to pay each officer an amount equal to fifty percent of his respective base salary (the "Transition Bonus") payable one-half upon closing of the Merger and the remainder payable upon conclusion of the Transition Period, except in the event of a termination for Cause (as defined in the Transition Agreement).

The amount of Transition Bonus payable to each named executive officer in accordance with their respective Transition Agreement is as follows: $305,250 to Downey J. Bridgwater, $178,063 to Zach L. Wasson, $139,907 to James W. Goolsby, and $137,500 to Robert S. Smith.

The foregoing description of the Transition Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified by reference to the form of Transition Agreement, which is attached hereto as Exhibit 10.1.
