Comments from Hans Vestberg, President and CEO

I am pleased that we have successfully closed the IPR cross-licensing agreement with Samsung. Our industry is built on scale and a strong tradition of sharing technologies through licensing on fair, reasonable and non-discriminatory (FRAND) terms. The agreement shows the value of our R&D investments and enables both companies to continue to innovate and bring new technologies to the market, says Hans Vestberg, President and CEO of Ericsson (NASDAQ:ERIC).

Our focus on profitability started to pay off and operating margin for the group gradually improved in 2013, despite significant currency headwind, driven primarily by improvements in Networks and Network Rollout.

The business mix, with a higher share of coverage projects than capacity projects, started to shift towards more capacity during the year. As anticipated, sales came under some pressure during the quarter. As previously communicated, the major reason behind this development is the two large mobile broadband coverage projects, which peaked in North America in the first half of 2013 and the impact from reduced activity in Japan.

While executing on the large rollout projects in the US, we have also strengthened our professional services position and capabilities. For the full year Global Services accounted for the majority of the region's sales and we are today the market leader in both telecom services and mobile infrastructure in one of the world's most advanced and dynamic ICT markets.

The LTE tenders in China continue and so far the two major operators that have made their vendor selections have chosen Ericsson. During the quarter, sales in China improved as a result of deliveries to the ongoing mobile broadband coverage projects.

In the fourth quarter Ericsson continued to grow in some of its European key markets. During the last years we have strengthened our position in Europe through the network modernization projects. These projects have been delivered according to plan and the major part of the negative margin impact from these projects is now behind us. Over time, we expect the telecom industry in Europe to improve driven by macroeconomic development and a recent investment announcement made by one of the large operators.

During 2013 Ericsson executed on a number of strategic initiatives to both manage the ongoing technology transition in the industry and to transform the company for future business opportunities. We have solidified our core business as well as taken important steps to build a leadership position in new and targeted key areas. This includes consolidating the modems business and the acquisition of the IPTV business Mediaroom from Microsoft. We will gradually increase resource and capital allocation in these areas as well as in IP, Cloud, OSS and BSS.

The long-term fundamentals in the industry remain attractive and with our ongoing strategic initiatives we are well positioned to continue to support our customers in a transforming ICT market.

We have worked diligently to improve working capital and we ended the year with a strong cash flow of SEK 17.4 (22.0) b. and a full-year cash conversion of 79%, above the target of 70%, giving Ericsson a solid balance sheet to continue to execute on our strategy. The Board of Directors proposes a dividend for 2013 of SEK 3.00 (2.75) per share, an increase by 9%, concludes Vestberg.

FOURTH QUARTER

As previously communicated, lower sales in North America and Japan, where large mobile broadband coverage projects are coming to an end, had a negative impact on sales. Coverage projects in China and Russia did not fully offset this decrease. GSM investments in China, CDMA and circuit-switched core continued their structural decline following operators' transition to LTE. CDMA sales declined -57% YoY and increased 16% QoQ to SEK 1.1 b. The Samsung agreement added sales of SEK 2.9 b.

Sales in North East Asia, Latin America and Middle East showed a strong development QoQ.

The demand for the multi-application router, SSR 8000, continues. 96 SSR contracts have been signed to date, of which 18 new in the quarter, including six for fixed networks. As operators are preparing for Voice over LTE (VoLTE), including video communication and other service enhancements, the need for upgrades in the legacy voice network is increasing.

Operating margin increased to 17% (8%) driven by the Samsung agreement, improved business mix, positive effects from cost adaptations and portfolio streamlining. During the quarter the European network modernization projects continued to improve and were not dilutive to margins. Lower sales, negative currency effects and a one-time charge of SEK -0.4 b., related to the Airvana acquisition, impacted operating margin negatively. Excluding the Samsung agreement, operating margin was 9%.

Restructuring charges amounted to SEK -0.3 (-0.9) b.

Table of Contents

FULL YEAR

Increased sales in Latin America, Europe and the Middle East were partly offset by lower sales in North America, where CDMA related sales declined by -50%. North East Asia sales declined as an effect of lower project activities in Japan and South Korea and lower GSM investments in China. At the end of the year there was solid demand for our IMS and data layered architecture UDC (User Data Consolidation). However, this was not enough to offset the continued structural decline in circuit-switched core.

Operators' focus on improving network performance and new service opportunities were the main drivers for LTE and mobile broadband investments throughout the year. The positive customer feedback on the new small-cell product Radio Dot System is a demonstration of our innovation leadership.

Operating margin gradually improved during the year and ended at 10% (6%) for the full year. This was a result of the Samsung agreement, reduced negative effect from network modernization projects in Europe, improved business mix and strong focus on improving profitability. Restructuring charges amounted to SEK -2.2 (-1.3) b. This was primarily related to reductions of operations in Sweden and dismantling of the CDMA operations. Operating margin excluding the Samsung agreement was 7%.

FOURTH QUARTER

Demand for consulting and systems integration services was strong in the quarter as operators focus on improving network performance and increasing their operational efficiency. Network Rollout sales continued to decline as a result of lower coverage project activity.

Global Services sales growth QoQ was driven by Professional Services, where Consulting and System Integration as well as Network Design and Optimization showed strong development.

Global Services operating margin improved YoY to 8% (6%), primarily due to higher Network Rollout margins. However, Network Rollout margin continued to be negative in the quarter mainly due to the network modernization projects in Europe. Professional Services showed stable margin at 14% (15%).

Restructuring charges amounted to SEK -0.6 (-0.6) b.

Table of Contents*FULL YEAR

Reported sales for Global Services were flat in comparison to a strong 2012. Network Rollout reported sales grew 4% driven by high coverage project activities, primarily in North America. Professional Services sales grew, adjusted for FX, supported by strong development in region North America and India.

Global services operating margin was 6% (6%). Network Rollout margin gradually improved during the year due to the declining dilutive effect from the European network modernization projects as well as the ongoing efficiency programs. Professional Services operating margin was 14% (14%).

Restructuring charges amounted to SEK -2.0 (-1.9) b. for the full year.

There is a growing momentum for IT-related business in the market. FOURTH QUARTER

Sales QoQ increased 117% driven by the Samsung agreement, the acquired Mediaroom business this in combination with strong software license revenue. The Samsung agreement added sales of SEK 1.3 b.

Segment sales are characterized by the fluctuations between quarters in software volumes. This, in combination with investments in the next generation of cloud-adopted solutions, and the high proportion of fixed costs in software business creates uneven distributed margins that is impacted by the variation in sales volumes.

Operating margin increased YoY to 37% (8%) positively impacted by the Samsung agreement. Operating margin excluding the Samsung agreement was 16% as a result of high software license sales, portfolio streamlining and efficiencies.

Operating margin increased QoQ, driven by the Samsung agreement and higher sales volumes.

FULL YEAR

The development was primarily driven by portfolio changes and decline in sales of TV compression technology while OSS and BSS showed stable development. The Samsung agreement had an overall positive impact on sales.

Operating margin increased to 12% (9%) due to the Samsung agreement. Lower sales and a charge of SEK -0.3 b. related to the divestment of ACS had a negative impact on margin.

Demand for OSS and BSS continued to be strong. Customer interest to partner with vendors that can address an end-to-end suite of OSS and BSS solutions increased. The overall segment is positively impacted by growth in mobile broadband as this requires improved user experience. With its complete OSS and BSS offerings Ericsson is well positioned to take on the role.

During the year, the acquisition of Microsoft's TV solution business Mediaroom was completed, strengthening Ericsson's position in the growing TV and media management market. Service providers increasingly have premium content as part of their overall mix, fueled by TV-on demand and multiscreen. Content anywhere, anytime and on any device is a trend that drives growth together with increasing access to content and bundled packages. This is one of the main drivers of the sharp increase of video traffic in the networks. As a consequence, service providers and network owners need solutions to make networks video centric and efficient for video delivery.

The number of subscriptions served by Ericsson's charging and billing solutions was 2.1 billion at the end of the year.

FROM ST-ERICSSON TO SEGMENT MODEMS

ST-Ericsson was created in 2008 as a joint venture between Ericsson and STMicroelectronics. Early 2013 the parents agreed to split up and close the joint venture.

Ericsson decided to take over the design, development and sales of the thin LTE multi-mode modem solutions as it is seen as an important part for the Ericsson vision of 50 billion connected devices in the Networked Society. The ambition is to be among the top three suppliers in the thin-modem market.

The company ST-Ericsson is winding down and all businesses have been transferred to parents or divested. In 2012 Ericsson made a provision of SEK 3.3 b., related to the ongoing implementation of strategic options at hand.

Ericsson now has a highly focused thin-modem operation with industry-leading technology and intellectual property. A new segment was established as of October 1, 2013, and the modems business is now consolidated into Ericsson.

FOURTH QUARTER

Segment Modems generated an operating loss of SEK 0.5 b. in the quarter, primarily related to R&D expenses. In the quarter the new product M7450 was released for commercial use and the work with OEMs is ongoing to get M7450 based products on the market. Chipset production has started.

Operating expenses for the modems business in 2014 is estimated to approximately SEK 2.6 b.

<sup>1)</sup> Region Other includes licensing revenues, sales of telecom cables, broadcast services, power modules and other businesses. The acquired Technicolor Broadcast Service Division is reported in region Other. Multimedia brokering (IPX) was part of region Other and divested end Q312. The power cable business was divested in Q313.

North America

Networks sales continued to decline QoQ as a result of the two large mobile broadband coverage projects which peaked in first half of 2013. However, business fundamentals remain positive. Increased smartphone penetration, mobile broadband consumption and 4G device lineup remain drivers for network expansion. Network evolution has driven strong professional services business.

Networks sales declined for the full year with a strong first half while second half was weaker as a result of the two large mobile broadband coverage projects that peaked in the first half of 2013. While executing on the large rollout projects in the US, Ericsson has also strengthened its professional services position and capabilities. For the full year Global Services accounted for the majority of the region's sales.

Latin America

Sales increased in the quarter driven by operator investments in 3G network quality and LTE rollouts.

LTE deployments ramped up after a slow start and together with 3G network quality investments drove sales growth for the full year 2013. However, macroeconomic development in mainly Brazil and Mexico continued to slow down during the year.

Northern Europe and Central Asia

Sales growth YoY and QoQ was driven by 2G/3G/4G equipment sales and deployments in Russia. Professional Services developed well following increased network quality focus across the region.

Full year sales growth was mainly driven by Networks sales in Russia. Operators continued to show high interest in OSS and BSS.

Western and Central Europe

In the quarter network modernization projects progressed according to plan and LTE deployment to the installed base continued.

The full year sales growth was driven by network modernization projects in several countries and also by a high activity level in managed services.

Mediterranean

Modernization projects in France and LTE deployments in Spain offset lower investments in Italy, resulting in stable sales YoY.

Sales in 2013 grew, driven by 3G deployments in Northwest Africa and modernization projects.

Middle East

Sales grew both YoY and QoQ. LTE is being deployed in the region but still represents a small share of Networks sales. There is continued demand for Professional Services, both System Integration and Managed Services, as operators seek network performance quality and operational efficiencies. Political unrest prevails in several countries.

Sales for the full year grew, driven by increased investments in mobile broadband.

Sub-Saharan Africa

Operators continue to focus on improving capacity on 2G and 3G networks to improve quality of services. However, sales were negatively impacted by reduced deployment pace in Nigeria and South Africa. Professional services growth is fueled by continued good demand for managed services.

For the full year 2013 sales volumes came from 2G and 3G deployment and managed services, although the deployment pace slowed down in the fourth quarter. Long-term industry fundamentals remain positive as mobile broadband and smartphone penetration is still at low levels.

India

Sales grew both YoY and QoQ mainly due to network capacity increases with one recently signed contract. During 2014 uncertainty is expected to remain until spectrum auctions are completed and the presidential election period is concluded.

For the full year 2013, sales were negatively impacted by poor macroeconomic environment and delays in regulatory legislation. Global Services grew largely due to an increase in Managed Services.

North East Asia

Sales declined YoY. Japan continued to be negatively impacted by currency and reduced activity as completion of a major project is getting closer. During the quarter, sales in China improved as a result of deliveries to the ongoing mobile broadband coverage projects, contributing to growth QoQ.

Sales for the full year declined. Japan was negatively impacted by currency and reduced activity. GSM in China structurally declined whilst LTE deployments commenced in the fourth quarter. In Japan, KDDI has selected Ericsson as one of the prime vendors to deploy its LTE system and evolved packet core network.

South East Asia and Oceania

Sales in the region declined YoY as a result of certain major projects which peaked in Australia and Indonesia during the fourth quarter of 2012. Sales grew sequentially in all segments as a result of 3G coverage and capacity projects as well as increased activities in BSS and TV and Media.

Sales grew in 2013 with 3G deployments in Thailand and LTE deployments in Singapore and Australia. In Indonesia major capacity projects were finalized. Smartphone penetration continues to increase from a low level.

Other

Sales were strong YoY, positively impacted by the Samsung agreement. Sales were negatively impacted by the exit from the telecom and power cable business which had a negative impact on YoY comparison. Licensing revenues grew in the quarter both YoY and QoQ, also excluding the Samsung agreement.

Full year sales increased positively impacted by the Samsung agreement but negatively impacted by the divestment of IPX in Q312 and the exit of the telecom and power cable business. Sales of broadcast services, telecom cables, power modules and other businesses are also included in Other .

Other information

Patent infringement lawsuit against Micromax

In March 2013, Ericsson filed a patent infringement lawsuit in the Indian Delhi High Court against Micromax, seeking damages and an injunction. Ericsson alleged that Micromax products, compliant with the 2G/3G standard, infringe eight of Ericsson's Indian patents. Ericsson had before that made numerous attempts to sign a license agreement with the company on Fair, Reasonable and Non-discriminatory (FRAND) terms. As part of its defense, Micromax filed in November 2013 a complaint with the Competition Commission of India (CCI) and the CCI has decided to refer the case to the Director General's Office for an in-depth investigation.

Hexatronic acquires Ericsson's telecom cable business in Hudiksvall

On December 1, 2013, Ericsson finalized the divestment of its telecom cable business in Hudiksvall, Sweden, to Hexatronic. The divestment was made pursuant to an agreement that was signed between the two companies on October 31, 2013. The divestment is made as a business transfer and the new company within the Hexatronic Group will be named Hexatronic Cables & Interconnect Systems AB.

85 former Ericsson employees were transferred to Hexatronic and will work within the fiber- and submarine cables business and an additional 30 employees within the production of interconnect until it is finalized.

Samsung litigation and agreement

In November 2012, Ericsson filed two patent infringement lawsuits in the US District Court for the Eastern District of Texas against Samsung. Ericsson sought damages and an injunction. Ericsson also asked the Court to adjudicate that Samsung breached its commitment to license any standard-essential patents it owns on fair, reasonable, and non-discriminatory terms and to declare Samsung's allegedly standard essential patents to be unenforceable. In March 2013, Samsung filed its answers and counterclaims in the Ericsson suits (above) in Texas, USA.

In November 2012, Ericsson also filed a complaint with the US International Trade Commission (ITC) seeking an exclusion order blocking Samsung from importing certain products into the US. In December 2012, Samsung filed a complaint with the ITC seeking an exclusion order blocking Ericsson from import of certain products into the US.

Initial determinations in both ITC investigations were expected in late January 2014.

On January 27, 2014, Ericsson announced that an agreement had been signed with Samsung on global patent licenses between the two companies. The cross license agreement covers patents relating to GSM, UMTS, and LTE standards for both networks and handsets.

Ericsson is committed to licensing its standard-essential patents on fair, reasonable and non-discriminatory (FRAND) terms for the benefit of the industry. It believes that licensing according to FRAND principles strikes the appropriate balance between incentivizing companies to innovate and contribute technology to open standards and maintaining the overall royalty rates at a reasonable level to allow new entrants access to the market.

The agreement ends the complaints made by both companies against each other before ITC as well as the lawsuits before the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas.

The agreement includes an initial payment and ongoing royalty payments from Samsung to Ericsson for the term of the new multi-year license agreement.

Disclosure pursuant to Section 219 of the Iran Threat Reduction and Syria Human Rights Act of 2012 (ITRA)

During the fourth quarter of 2013, Ericsson made sales of telecommunications infrastructure related products and services in Iran to MTN Irancell and to Mobile Communication Company of Iran, which generated gross revenues (reported as net sales) of approximately SEK 876 million. Ericsson does not normally allocate quarterly net profit (reported as net income) on a country-by-country or activity-by-activity basis, other than as set forth in Ericsson's consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS as issued by the IASB. However, Ericsson has estimated that its net profit from such sales, after internal cost allocation, during the fourth quarter of 2013 would be substantially lower than such gross revenues. In light of the recent international developments related to Iran, Ericsson has decided not to execute on the anticipated phase out of telecommunications infrastructure related products to customers in Iran. Ericsson intends to cautiously continue to engage with existing customers in Iran while continuously evaluating the situation.

During the fourth quarter of 2013, Ericsson's Iranian subsidiary closed the account temporarily opened in Tejarat Bank during the third quarter of 2013. The account was opened for purposes of collecting interest income earned from Tejarat Bank prior to the closing of the subsidiary's accounts with that bank in 2012 and the account was closed once the amount had been collected and transferred to an account in another bank.

Assessment of risk environment

Ericsson's operational and financial risk factors and uncertainties along with our strategies and tactics to mitigate risk exposures or limit unfavorable outcomes are described in our Annual Report 2012. Compared to the risks described in the Annual Report 2012, no material, new or changed risk factors or uncertainties have been identified in the year.

Risk factors and uncertainties in focus short-term for the Parent Company and the Ericsson Group include:

Potential negative effects on operators' willingness to invest in network development due to uncertainty in the financial markets and a weak economic business environment, or reduced consumer telecom spending, or increased pressure on us to provide financing;

Uncertainty regarding the financial stability of suppliers, for example due to lack of financing;

Effects on gross margins and/or working capital of the product mix in the Networks segment between sales of upgrades and expansions (mainly software) and new buildouts of coverage (mainly hardware);

Effects on gross margins of the product mix in the Global Services segment including proportion of new network buildouts and share of new managed services deals with initial transition costs;

A continued volatile sales pattern in the Support Solutions segment or variability in our overall sales seasonality could make it more difficult to forecast future sales;

Effects of the ongoing industry consolidation among our customers as well as between our largest competitors, e.g. with postponed investments and intensified price competition as a consequence; Changes in foreign exchange rates, in particular USD, JPY and EUR;

Political unrest or instability in certain markets;

Effects on production and sales from restrictions with respect to timely and adequate supply of materials, components and production capacity and other vital services on competitive terms;

Natural disasters and other events, affecting business, production, supply and transportation.

Ericsson stringently monitors the compliance with all relevant trade regulations and trade embargos applicable to dealings with customers operating in countries where there are trade restrictions or trade restrictions are discussed. Moreover, Ericsson operates globally in accordance with Group policies and directives for business ethics and conduct.

Table of Contents*Accounting policies*The Group

This interim report is prepared in accordance with IAS 34. The term IFRS used in this document refers to the application of IAS and IFRS as well as interpretations of these standards as issued by IASB's Standards Interpretation Committee (SIC) and IFRS Interpretations Committee (IFRIC). The accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the annual report for the year ended December 31, 2012, and should be read in conjunction with that annual report.

Change of hedge accounting

Due to cost efficiency reasons Ericsson has changed the hedge accounting.

Ericsson hedges highly probable forecast transactions related to sales and purchases with the purpose to limit the impact related to currency fluctuations on these forecasted transactions. This will not be changed.

Ericsson has, however, decided to discontinue hedge accounting for this type of hedges. Until 2012 Ericsson applied cash flow hedge accounting for highly probable forecast transactions. Revaluation of these hedges (incepted prior to January 1, 2013) are prior to release reported under Other comprehensive income, (OCI), and is at release recycled to sales, cost of sales and R&D expenses respectively.

As from 2013, revaluation of new hedges (inception as from January 1, 2013) are reported under Other operating income and expenses in the Income statement.

As from January 1, 2013, the Company has applied the following new or amended IFRSs and IFRICs:

Amendment to IAS 1, Financial statement presentation, regarding Other comprehensive income. The main change resulting from this amendment is a requirement for entities to group items presented in other comprehensive income, (OCI), on the basis of whether they are potentially recycled to profit or loss subsequently (reclassification adjustments). The amendment does not address which items are presented in OCI.

Amendment to IAS 19, Employee benefits, eliminates the corridor approach and calculates finance costs on a net funding basis. The Company implemented the immediate and full recognition of actuarial gains/losses in Other comprehensive income, (OCI), in 2006, meaning that the corridor method has not been applied by the Company as from that date and therefore the transition to the revised IAS 19 has not had an effect on the present obligation. The main issue to address is the implementation of the net interest cost/gain, which integrates the interest cost and expected return on assets to be based on a common discount rate. An analysis of fiscal year 2012 in relation to this amendment indicated an impact on pension costs for 2012 with an increase of approximately SEK 0.4 ( 0.1) billion. The Company also needs to address the taxes to be incorporated into the defined benefit obligation. This amendment relates to the Swedish special payroll taxes to be reclassified from Other current liabilities to Post-employment benefits with an estimated amount of SEK 1.8 (1.8) billion as per December 31, 2012 *. The amendment also includes additional disclosure requirements on yearly financial and demographic assumptions, sensitivity analysis, duration and multi-employer plans.

Amendment to IFRS 7, Financial instruments: Disclosures on asset and liability offsetting. This amendment requires disclosure of gross amounts related to financial instruments for which offset has been made.

* See also footnote under the balance sheet.

IFRS 10, Consolidated financial statements . The objective of IFRS 10 is to establish principles for the presentation and preparation of consolidated financial statements when an entity controls one or more other entities to present consolidated financial statements. It defines the principle of control, and establishes control as the basis for consolidation. It sets out how to apply the principle of control to identify whether an investor controls an investee and therefore must consolidate the investee. An entity controls an investee if the entity has power over the investee, has the ability to use the power and is exposed to variable returns. It also sets out the accounting requirements for the preparation of consolidated financial statements.

IFRS 11, Joint arrangements , is a more realistic reflection of joint arrangements by focusing on the rights and obligations of the arrangement rather than its legal form. There are two types of joint arrangement: joint operations and joint ventures. Proportional consolidation of joint ventures is no longer allowed. The Company did not apply the proportionate consolidation method prior to 2013.

IFRS 12, Disclosures of interests in other entities , includes the disclosure requirements for all forms of interests in other entities, including joint arrangements, associates, structured entities and other off-balance sheet vehicles.

IFRS 13, Fair value measurement , does not extend the use of fair value accounting but provide guidance on how it should be applied where its use is already required or permitted by other standards within IFRS. This standard has also added disclosure requirements in IAS 34, Interim Financial Reporting regarding the disclosure for financial instruments.

IAS 27 (revised 2011), Separate financial statements includes the provisions on separate financial statements that are left after the control provisions of IAS 27 have been included in the new IFRS 10.

IAS 28 (revised 2011), Associates and joint ventures includes the requirements for joint ventures, as well as associates, to be equity accounted following the issue of IFRS 11.

None of the new or amended standards and interpretations has had any significant impact on the financial result or position of the Company. There is no significant difference between IFRS effective as per December 31, 2013 and IFRS as endorsed by the EU.

Disclosures required by the IASB on an interim basis as from 2013Financial instruments carried at fair value*

The fair value of the Company's financial instruments, recognized at fair value, is determined based on quoted market prices or rates. Financial instruments, measured according to the category Fair value through profit or loss showed a net fair value measurement positive effect of SEK 1.2 billion. The amount is recognized in the balance sheet as per December 31, 2013.

Financial instruments carried at other than fair value

Book value for Notes and bond loans amounts to SEK 14.5 billion and fair value to SEK 14.7 billion. Fair values of Current part of non-current borrowings , Other borrowings non-current as well as Other financial instruments are not estimated to materially differ from book values.

For further information about valuation principles, please see Note C1, Significant accounting policies in the Annual Report of 2012.
