Provident Establishes New Branch In Riverside

Riverside, California, April 15, 2002 -- Provident Savings Bank, FSB, a subsidiary of Provident Financial Holdings, Inc. (NASDAQ: PROV), today announced that it has filed an application with the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) for a new branch site located in Riverside, California. The proposed branch will be located in the Orangecrest Promenade at the intersection of Van Buren Boulevard and Trautwein Road. This is a rapidly developing area of Southwest Riverside and the shopping center will be anchored by the proposed Kohl's Department Store. Provident expects to open this branch in the summer of 2003, subject to receiving approval from the OTS and completion of shopping center construction.

We believe that the Orangecrest Promenade is a logical extension of our distribution network within the Inland Empire, and increases our presence in our home market. The exceptional growth in the city lends well to the continuation of our prototype offices launched in Temecula and Corona in 2001. Building on our concept of re-defining the customer experience, this new office will offer all of the innovations of the Temecula and Corona retail banking centers and provide customers with a unique financial experience. The prototype branches offers a consumer friendly environment by offering information through a cybercafe with Internet access where the consumer can check the performance of their favorite stocks or access their own personal e-mail accounts. To further enhance the customer experience, we will follow in the tradition of an investment lounge delivering the latest in financial news via financial periodicals and television. Secure 24-hour ATM access and a 24/7 universal sales office to meet with our clients on their terms and time frame. We are satisfied with the consumer focus of the Temecula and Corona models, and hope to bring the same to this office, commented Craig G. Blunden, President and CEO.
