Chemtura ALL Employee Letter

September 25, 2016

Dear Fellow Employees:

Over the past eighteen months, you have heard me say that we have been focused on finding and evaluating opportunities to further transform our business.

After assessing a wide range of opportunities, we are excited to announce today that Chemtura has agreed to be acquired by LANXESS AG, a leading global specialty chemicals company with a geographic footprint and product offering that complements our own. A copy of the press release being issued to announce this transformative transaction is attached.

LANXESS is based in Germany and was spun off from Bayer AG in 2004, with roots that date back to the 1880s. LANXESS develops, manufactures and markets products in 29 countries, including chemical intermediates, specialty chemicals and plastics. Through its joint venture with Saudi Aramco, LANXESS is also a leading supplier of synthetic rubber. LANXESS shares our unwavering commitment to quality, safety, and service, which have been pillars of our Company since day one.

I have had the opportunity to work closely with LANXESS's CEO, Matthias Zachert, and his team and I am confident that LANXESS is the right home for our business and our employees.

Importantly, for our customers and employees this transaction means we will have the opportunity to be part of a larger global organization with a diversified product portfolio, enhanced global reach and substantial operational resources.

We expect the transaction to close around mid-2017, and we have begun the important work of identifying how we will combine these two great companies to leverage the relative strengths of each. As we work through our integration plans, we will continue to provide you with updates as we can. In the meantime, it is business as usual at Chemtura. As always, we should all remain focused on putting safety, quality and customer service first in everything that we do.

We will be holding two calls for employees to provide as much detail as we can about this exciting transaction – the first will be at 10:00am CET/4:00pm UTC+8 for our team members in Europe and China, and the second will be at 9:00am ET for our U.S. colleagues. Please stay tuned for an invite with additional details. Matthias Zachert, Hubert Fink, Rainer van Roessel and Anno Borkowsky will also be joining us for a town hall with our employees in Middlebury in the coming days.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out to your manager or Human Resources representative. Lastly, if you receive any inquiries from reporters or investors, please promptly refer them to Matt Sokol. Matt's email is matthew.sokol@chemtura.com and his phone number is (203) 573-2017.

Today's announcement is recognition of the strength of our business and portfolio, and the hard work and dedication that our exceptional global team brings each and every day. You have all played a crucial role in Chemtura's success to-date, and I am confident that success will continue in Chemtura's new home. I hope you share my excitement about this transformative transaction and the opportunities it presents.

Thank you for your continued commitment as we take this exciting next step forward.

Sincerely,

/s/ Craig Rogerson

INTERNAL USE ONLY

Q&A

Transaction Rationale

1. Why does this transaction make sense for investors?

Chemtura shareholders will receive $33.50 per share in cash for each outstanding share of common stock held, which represents an 18.9% premium to the stock's closing share price of $28.18 on September 23, 2016.

2. What is the benefit to customers and business partners?

The transaction is highly complementary and enhances the scale, strength and diversity of our business, both vertically and geographically.

Together with LANXESS, we will have the opportunity to accelerate our growth around the world as part of a larger, stronger global enterprise with the resources to fully support a more diverse suite of specialty chemicals products and services.

3. You've been talking about a transformational transaction for a while now, why is now the right time for this deal?

Over the past 18 months, we have been actively working to identify opportunities to transform our business by enhancing our scale, strength and diversity, both vertically and geographically. Importantly, we also said we would only pursue a transaction if our senior management team and Board of Directors believed it benefited our stockholders as well as our other stakeholders.

After assessing a wide range of opportunities, we are confident that a transaction with LANXESS AG delivers on that promise, providing value to our stockholders and making us part of a larger, stronger global enterprise with the resources to fully support a more diverse suite of specialty chemicals products and services.

LANXESS's offer is recognition of the value of our business and we are confident our shareholders will approve this transaction.

4. Why did you choose LANXESS? Did you engage in a process?

- Details will be available in the proxy statement when it is filed with the SEC.

5. How does Chemtura fit into LANXESS's overall business strategy? Will Chemtura be its own business segment within LANXESS?

Chemtura's place within LANXESS will ultimately be up to LANXESS, but we will work closely together with them to understand their plans for the future and communicate them as appropriate.

We do know that LANXESS was attracted to Chemtura for our high-quality products and services, as well as our expertise within the markets we serve.

6. How will LANXESS finance this acquisition? Are you confident that LANXESS will be able to secure the necessary financing to complete the transaction?

There is no financing contingency as part of our definitive agreement with LANXESS. LANXESS will fund the transaction through existing liquidity and the issuance of new debt.

7. Are you happy with the purchase price?

- We believe the price is fair and is in line with precedent transactions in the space.

INTERNAL USE ONLY

8. How long have Chemtura and LANXESS been in talks? Who approached whom and when?

The details of our discussions with LANXESS will be available in the proxy statement when it is filed with the SEC, but we had a constructive dialogue with LANXESS's senior leadership team.

9. Is there any concern about an interloper jumping the deal? What will you do if that happens?

Our Board of Directors takes its fiduciary obligations seriously, and would carefully consider as permitted under the merger agreement any alternatives presented to it.

10. Where does LANXESS expect cost/revenue synergies to come from? How much will be achieved through layoffs/headcount reduction?

Extending Chemtura's business across LANXESS's existing platform and capabilities will enable significant cost savings.

11. Are you concerned about the current uncertainties in the European economy?

No. We believe global trends are favorable for many of our product lines.

Close/Timing/Process

12. Are you concerned about antitrust risk in Europe? Will this deal be subject to a MOFCOM review?

The overlap we have with LANXESS is limited and we will work with antitrust authorities to secure all necessary approvals.

13. What is the threshold required for the Chemtura shareholder vote?

A majority of outstanding shares must be voted in support of the transaction. Our board has unanimously approved the transaction and we believe our shareholders will support the proposed transaction.

14. Will there be a breakup fee and, if so, what is it?

This information is outlined in detail in our definitive agreement, which will be filed with the SEC.

15. Is there a “no-shop” provision?

There is a customary non-solicitation covenant with customary exceptions reflected in the merger agreement, which will be filed with the SEC.

16. When do you expect the transaction to close?

The transaction is expected to close around mid-2017 and is subject to Chemtura shareholder approval, receipt of required regulatory approvals, including in the European Union, the United States and China, and other customary closing conditions as more fully described in the merger agreement.

We have begun the important work of identifying how we will combine these two great companies to leverage the relative strengths of each. As we work through our integration plans, we will continue to provide you with updates as we can. In the meantime, there is no change to current responsibilities, salary and benefit programs.

17. Do you expect shareholder litigation?

We cannot comment on any potential litigation.

INTERNAL USE ONLY

Key Employee and Customer Questions

18. What will change for Chemtura's employees in the near and long term?

The transaction is expected to close around mid-2017. Until that time, it's business as usual and all employees should focus on doing what they do well to support the organization.

We have begun the important work of identifying how we will combine these two great companies to leverage the relative strengths of each. As we work through our integration plans, we will continue to provide you with updates as we can. In the meantime, there are no changes to salary and benefit programs.

We believe this is an exciting time to be a Chemtura employee, and the opportunity to be part of a larger, global specialty chemicals business is compelling.

Until close, the two firms must continue to operate as separate and independent businesses and may not coordinate marketplace conduct.

19. Who will run Chemtura once it is part of LANXESS? What roles will Chemtura's senior leadership have within LANXESS?

It is too early to speculate on LANXESS's plans. We will be sure to keep everyone updated as we move through the closing and eventual transition process.

20. Will there be any changes to compensation/benefits/etc.?

Pre-close, there will be no changes.

There are customary protections related to compensation for our employees, as outlined in the merger agreement, and we will provide more detailed updates to you during the integration process as decisions are made.

21. Can I exercise my stock options or buy/sell Chemtura stock? Are there any restrictions?

- You are free to exercise vested stock options or buy/sell Chemtura stock, unless:
 - o You are one of the employees who is subject to Chemtura's quarterly no-trade periods.

As we work with LANXESS towards closing, there may be certain employees who will be restricted from trading in Chemtura stock because of their involvement in the transaction. These employees will be notified of the restrictions if and when they apply.

22. What will happen to Chemtura's sites/plants globally? Will Chemtura headquarters remain?

- LANXESS will provide more details on this as the integration plans are developed.

What we can say is that one of the reasons LANXESS was attracted to Chemtura is because of our impressive geographic footprint, infrastructure, high-quality products and services and the talented employees that support and deliver our business results.

23. Do you expect any layoffs? When would any layoffs take place?

Bringing together these two companies will create opportunities for growth and development for many Chemtura employees.

LANXESS's leadership has made it clear that they will look to build a team with the best talent from both organizations.

INTERNAL USE ONLY

Yet, as with any combination, there likely will be some overlap of functions between the two companies. It is important to note that prior to close (which is expected around mid-2017), it is business as usual at Chemtura, and there are no anticipated changes to our organizational structure prior to closing.

As always, we will handle any impact this has on our employees with appropriate care. Treating our colleagues with dignity and respect is important to the leadership of both Chemtura and LANXESS.

We will continue to be open and honest with you about our progress and will communicate decisions as soon as we can.

24. Will LANXESS provide any severance, benefits or other assistance to the employees that are laid off?

The definitive agreement provides that Chemtura's current severance benefits will remain in place for at least the first two years following the close of the transaction.

There is much to be thought through, but you have the commitment of the leadership of both companies that employees will be treated with dignity and respect.

Keep in mind this announcement is just the first step in the process and we will let you know more as soon as we can.

25. What can we tell customers/suppliers? What can Chemtura's customers/partners/suppliers expect to change as a result of the transaction?

This transaction benefits our customers by making Chemtura part of a larger, stronger global enterprise with the resources to fully support a more diverse suite of specialty chemicals products and services.

Together, the combined company will be able to offer our customers leading products across industrial lubricant additives, specialty additives and services products, synthetic lubricants, and brominated flame retardant additives, making us one of the largest additives companies in the world. Beyond additives, the combined company will also continue to distribute top of the line products and services within urethanes and organometallics.

Importantly, nothing will change for customers in the near term and their point of contact at Chemtura will remain the same as it is today. We will continue to provide customers with the high level of service and quality products that they have come to expect from us.

- LANXESS shares Chemtura's commitment to quality, safety and service.

26. What should I do if I am contacted by the media?

If you receive any inquiries from reporters or investors, please promptly refer them to Matt Sokol. Matt's email is matthew.sokol@chemtura.com and his phone number is (203) 573-2017.

27. What do I do if I have any additional questions regarding this transaction?

If you have any other questions, please don't hesitate to reach out to your manager or Human Resources representative.

Employee Talking Points

Thank you for joining us today. As you have seen, we announced that Chemtura has agreed to be acquired by LANXESS AG.

Over the past eighteen months, you have heard Craig say that we have been focused on finding and evaluating opportunities to further transform our business.

After assessing a wide range of opportunities, we are confident that a transaction with LANXESS AG delivers on that promise, providing value to our stockholders and making us a part of a larger, stronger global enterprise with the resources to fully support a more diverse suite of specialty chemicals products and services.

The transaction is highly complementary and enhances the scale, strength and diversity of our business, both vertically and geographically, and delivers premium value to our shareholders.

While I hope you share our excitement about today's news, I'm sure you have some questions about what this means for you and our business.

Before I get to those important matters, let me give you a little bit of background on LANXESS.

As you may already know, LANXESS AG is a leading global special chemicals company with a geographic footprint and product offering that greatly complements our own.

LANXESS is based in Germany and was founded in 2004 from a strategic realignment of the Bayer Group's chemical and plastics businesses, though its roots trace back to the creation of Bayer AG in the 1880s.

LANXESS develops, manufactures and markets products in 29 countries, including chemical intermediates, specialty chemicals and plastics. Through its joint venture with Saudi Aramco, LANXESS is also a leading supplier of synthetic rubber.

Importantly, in addition to their impressive business, LANXESS shares our commitment to quality, safety, and service, which have been pillars of our company since day one.

I have had the opportunity to work closely with LANXESS's CEO, Matthias Zachert, and his team and I am confident that LANXESS is the right home for our business and our employees.

Bringing together these two companies with long and successful histories will create great opportunities for growth and development for many Chemtura employees.

I know I speak for both the management team and Board of Directors when I say that we are enthusiastic about what this means for our employees, as well as for our customers.

LANXESS's leadership has made it clear that they will look to build a team with the best talent from both organizations.

LANXESS was attracted to Chemtura because of our high-quality products and services, our expertise within the markets we serve, and, most importantly, the incredible talent that drives and supports our business around the globe.

This transaction is about long-term success.

While it is too early in the process to discuss what LANXESS's plans are for Chemtura – today is the first step in the process – together with LANXESS, we will have a diversified product portfolio, enhanced global reach and substantial operational resources.

By integrating our flame retardants and lubricant additives into LANXESS's existing Rhein Chemie Additives (known as ADD) business, the combined company is expected to have a new business segment known as "Performance Additives" once the transaction closes.

Separately, it is our understanding that post-close, Chemtura's urethanes business will be integrated into the High Performance Materials segment, and Chemtura's organometallics business will be part of the Advanced Industrial Intermediates business unit.

INTERNAL USE ONLY

For now, it is business as usual.

We expect the transaction to close around mid-2017, subject to Chemtura shareholder approval, receipt of required regulatory approvals and other customary closing conditions. At that time, we will have much more to share about how the two companies will move forward together.

We have begun the important work of identifying how we will combine these two great companies to leverage the relative strengths of each, but until the close of this transaction, we will continue to function as two separate companies.

In the meantime, it is business as usual at Chemtura and as always, we should all remain focused on putting safety, quality and customer service first in everything that we do.

As we work through our integration plans, we will continue to provide you with updates as soon and as often as we can.

Until close, the two firms must continue to operate as separate and independent businesses and may not coordinate marketplace conduct.

Addressing questions from team members, fellow employees and the media.

We will continue to be open and honest with you about our progress and communicating decisions as soon as we can.

- If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out to your manager or Human Resources partner.

- If you receive any inquiries from reporters or investors, please promptly refer them to Matt Sokol.

This truly is an exciting time to be a Chemtura employee, and the opportunity to be part of an even larger, global specialty chemicals business is compelling.

Today's announcement is recognition of the strength of our business and portfolio made possible by the hard work and dedication that our exceptional global team brings to work each and every day.

You have all played a crucial role in Chemtura's success to-date, and I am confident that success will continue with LANXESS, Chemtura's new home.

Thank you for your continued commitment as we take this exciting next step forward.
