Exhibit 99

Press release issued June 28, 2006 in which the Registrant announced that it's Chairman and President have sold a total of 347,000 of the Registrant's shares in one transaction, primarily to meet the tax obligations incurred by a recent exercise of stock options which were due to expire. The sale was done through the facilities of the TSX, at market related prices.

Under Canadian law, the difference between the exercise price of the options and the market price of the stock at the time of exercise is deemed to be a gain and is taxed, whether or not the shares are sold, and the tax is payable in the year the options are exercised. The Registrant's grants options for a maximum term of five years at which time they expire if not exercised.

The Registrant's President and CEO Rudi Fronk said that this was the first sale of the Registrant's shares by himself and Mr. Anthony, the two founders of the Registrant. Both have participated in recent financings of the Registrant. "We have no intention of selling further shares for the foreseeable future as this transaction meets all our tax and other requirements," he said.
