Gold Exposure in Exchange Traded Funds

SPDR® Gold Shares (ticker: GLD) was the first US-traded commodity ETF and one of the fastest growing ETFs in history, reaching more than $1 billion in assets in its first three trading days. Today, GLD is the second largest ETF in the world, with $52.7 billion dollars in assets.

A COMPARISON OF GLD AND IAU

SPDR Gold Shares (GLD) and the iShares COMEX® Gold Trust (IAU) are both designed to track the spot price of gold in an exchange traded product structure. Both GLD and IAU are cost efficient vehicles that offer convenient exposure to physical gold bullion. However, GLD offers a number of distinct advantages:

KEY GLD ADVANTAGES

- n First and largest gold ETF
- n Significantly higher liquidity in terms of share volume/dollar volume
- n Custodied by leading gold custodian HSBC Bank USA, N.A.
- n Most stringent allocated/unallocated gold requirements

FOR PUBLIC USE.

Shares (the Shares) of the SPDR Gold Trust (the Trust) trade like stocks, are subject to investment risk and will fluctuate in market value. The value of the Shares relates directly to the value of the gold held by the Trust (less Trust expenses) and fluctuations in the price of gold could materially adversely affect an investment in the Shares. Investors should be aware that there is no assurance that gold will maintain its long-term value in terms of purchasing power in the future. The Trust does not generate any income and as the Trust regularly sells gold to pay for its ongoing expenses, the amount of gold represented by each Share will decline over time.

The Trust has filed a registration statement (including a prospectus) with the SEC for the offering to which this communication relates. Before you invest, you should read the prospectus in that registration statement and other documents the Trust has filed with the SEC for more complete information about the Trust and this offering. Investors should be aware that the historical performance of gold as an asset class is not necessarily indicative of its future performance, and there is no assurance that gold will maintain its long-term value in terms of purchasing power in the future, that gold will be an effective hedge against inflation or dollar depreciations, that the price of gold will be less volatile than the prices of other asset classes, or that gold will be an effective tool for diversifying investment portfolios. In the event that the price of gold declines, the Sponsor expects the value of an investment in the Shares to decline proportionately.

Diversification does not protect against loss.
