RISK FACTORS

Ownership of shares of Patterson-UTI common stock involves certain risks. In determining whether to purchase shares being offered for sale under this prospectus, you should carefully consider the following risk factors and other information contained in or incorporated by reference in this prospectus or in any applicable prospectus supplement.

PATTERSON-UTI IS DEPENDENT ON THE OIL AND NATURAL GAS INDUSTRY AND MARKET PRICES FOR OIL AND NATURAL GAS. DECLINES IN OIL AND NATURAL GAS PRICES HAVE ADVERSELY AFFECTED OUR OPERATIONS.

Our revenue, profitability and rate of growth are substantially dependent upon the oil and natural gas industry and prevailing prices for oil and natural gas. In recent years, oil and natural gas prices and, therefore, the level of drilling, exploration, development and production, have been extremely volatile. Prices are affected by:

- market supply and demand,
- international military, political and economic conditions, and
- the ability of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, commonly known as OPEC, to set and maintain production and price targets.

All of these factors are beyond our control. Beginning in the third quarter of 2001 and continuing through the date of this prospectus, commodity price uncertainty has adversely affected our operations. Natural gas prices fell from an average of $4.41 per Mcf in the second quarter of 2001 to an average of $3.41 per Mcf for the same period in 2002. During this same period, the average number of the Company's rigs operating dropped by approximately 50%. We expect oil and natural gas prices to continue to be volatile and to affect our financial condition and operations and ability to access sources of capital.

A GENERAL EXCESS OF OPERABLE LAND DRILLING RIGS ADVERSELY AFFECTS OUR PROFIT MARGINS PARTICULARLY IN TIMES OF WEAKER DEMAND.

The contract drilling business experienced increased demand for drilling services from 1995 through most of 1997 due to higher oil and natural gas prices. The increase in demand returned, beginning in mid-1999 and continued through the second quarter of 2001. However, except for those periods and other occasional upturns, generally, there have been substantially more drilling rigs available than necessary to meet demand in most operational and geographic segments of the North American land drilling industry. As a result, drilling contractors have had difficulty sustaining profit margins.

In addition to adverse effects that future declines in demand could have on Patterson-UTI, ongoing factors which could adversely affect utilization rates and pricing, even in an environment of stronger oil and natural gas prices and increased drilling activity, include:

- movement of drilling rigs from region to region,
- reactivation of land-based drilling rigs, or
- new construction of drilling rigs.

We cannot predict either the future level of demand for our contract drilling services or future conditions in the oil and natural gas contract drilling business.

SHORTAGES OF DRILL PIPE, REPLACEMENT PARTS AND OTHER RELATED RIG EQUIPMENT ADVERSELY AFFECTS PATTERSON-UTI'S OPERATING RESULTS.

During periods of increased demand for drilling services, the industry has experienced shortages of drill pipe, replacement parts and other related rig equipment. These shortages can cause the price of these items to increase significantly and require that orders for the items be placed well in advance of expected use. These price increases and delays in delivery may require us to substantially increase capital expenditures in our contract drilling segment. Severe shortages could impair our ability to operate our drilling rigs.

THE VARIOUS BUSINESS SEGMENTS IN WHICH WE OPERATE ARE HIGHLY COMPETITIVE WITH EXCESS CAPACITY WHICH MAY ADVERSELY AFFECT OUR OPERATING RESULTS.

Our land drilling and pressure pumping businesses are intensely competitive due to the fact that the supply of available land drilling rigs and pressure pumping equipment exceeds the demand for those rigs and equipment. This excess capacity has resulted in substantial competition for drilling and pressure pumping contracts. The fact that drilling rigs and pressure pumping equipment are mobile and can be moved from one market to another in response to market conditions heightens the competition in the industry.

Patterson-UTI believes that price competition for drilling and pressure pumping contracts will continue for the foreseeable future due to the existence of available rigs and pressure pumping equipment. In addition, some of our competitors have greater financial resources than we do which may enable them to:

- better withstand industry downturns,
- compete more effectively on the basis of price, and
- acquire existing rigs or equipment or build new rigs or equipment.

In recent years, many drilling and pressure pumping companies have consolidated or merged with other companies. Although this consolidation has decreased the total number of competitors, we believe the competition for drilling and pressure pumping services will continue to be intense.

The drilling and completion fluids services industry is highly competitive. Price is generally the most important competitive factor in the industry. Other competitive factors include the availability of chemicals and experienced personnel, the reputation of the fluids services provider in the drilling industry and our relationship with existing customers. Some of our competitors have substantially greater resources and longer operating histories than we have. We believe that competition for drilling and completion fluids service contracts will continue to be intense.

LABOR SHORTAGES ADVERSELY AFFECT OUR OPERATING RESULTS.

During periods of increased demand for contract drilling services, the industry experiences shortages of qualified drilling rig personnel. During these periods, our ability to attract and retain sufficient qualified personnel to market and operate our drilling rigs is adversely affected which in turn has a negative impact on both our operations and profitability. Operationally, it is more difficult to hire qualified personnel which adversely affects our ability to mobilize inactive rigs in response to the increased demand for our contract drilling services. Additionally, wage rates for drilling personnel are likely to increase, resulting in greater operating costs and reduced operating margins. During the last upturn in our industry, we experienced an approximate 30% to 40% increase in wage rates to our drilling personnel which reduced operating margins.

We have increased our drilling rig fleet over the past several years through mergers and acquisitions. In May 2001, UTI merged with Patterson in a so-called "merger of equals." The combination of the two companies doubled the number of our drilling rigs. The land drilling industry has experienced significant consolidation over the past several years, and there can be no assurance that acquisition opportunities will continue to be available. Additionally, we are likely to continue to face intense competition from other companies for available acquisition opportunities.

There can be no assurance that we will:

- have sufficient capital resources to complete additional acquisitions,
- successfully integrate acquired operations and assets,
- be able to manage effectively the growth and increased size,
- be successful in deploying idle or stacked rigs,
- be able to maintain the crews and market share attributable to operating drilling rigs acquired, or
- be successful in improving our financial condition, results of operation, business or prospects in any material manner as a result of any completed acquisition.

We may incur substantial indebtedness to finance future acquisitions and also may issue equity securities or convertible securities in connection with any such acquisitions. Debt service requirements could represent a significant burden on our results of operations and financial condition and the issuance of additional equity could be dilutive to our existing stockholders. Also, continued growth could strain our management, operations, employees and resources.

THE NATURE OF OUR BUSINESS OPERATIONS PRESENTS INHERENT RISKS OF LOSS, THAT, IF NOT INSURED OR INDEMNIFIED AGAINST COULD ADVERSELY AFFECT PATTERSON-UTI'S OPERATING RESULTS.

Our operations are subject to many hazards inherent in the contract drilling, pressure pumping and drilling and completion fluids businesses, which in turn could cause personal injury or death, work stoppage or serious damage to our equipment. Our operations could also cause environmental and reservoir damages. We maintain insurance coverage and have indemnification agreements with many of our customers. However, there is no assurance that such insurance or indemnification agreements would adequately protect Patterson-UTI against liability from all consequences of the hazards. Additionally, there can be no assurance that insurance would be available to cover any or all of these risks, or, even if available, that insurance premiums or other costs would not rise significantly in the future, so as to make such insurance prohibitive.

We have elected in some cases to accept a greater amount of risk through increased deductibles on certain insurance policies. For example, we maintain a $750,000 per occurrence deductible on our worker's compensation insurance coverage and a $2 million per occurrence with a $4 million aggregate deductible on our general liability insurance coverage. These levels of self-insurance expose us to increased operating costs and risks.

VIOLATIONS OF ENVIRONMENTAL LAWS AND REGULATIONS COULD MATERIALLY ADVERSELY AFFECT PATTERSON-UTI OPERATING RESULTS.

The drilling of oil and natural gas wells is subject to various state, federal and foreign laws, rules and regulations. The cost to Patterson-UTI of compliance with these laws and regulations could be substantial. Failure to comply with these requirements could subject Patterson-UTI to substantial civil and criminal penalties. In addition, federal law imposes a variety of regulations on "responsible parties" related to the prevention of oil spills and liability for damages from such spills. Patterson-UTI, as an owner and operator of land-based drilling rigs may be deemed to be a responsible party under federal laws. Our operations and facilities are subject to numerous state and federal environmental laws, rules and regulations, including, without limitation, laws concerning the containment and disposal of hazardous substances, oil field waste and other waste materials, the use of underground storage tanks and the use of underground injection wells.

SOME OF OUR CONTRACT DRILLING SERVICES ARE DONE UNDER TURNKEY AND FOOTAGE CONTRACTS, WHICH ARE FINANCIALLY RISKY.

A portion of our contract drilling is done under turnkey contracts and footage contracts, which involve significant risks. Under turnkey contracts, we contract to drill a well to a certain depth under specified conditions at a fixed price. Under footage contracts, we contract to drill a well to a certain depth under specified conditions at a fixed price per foot. The risk to us under these types of drilling contracts are greater than on a well drilled on a daywork basis. Unlike daywork contracts, we must bear the cost of performing drilling services until the target depth is reached. We must also make significant up-front working capital commitments prior to receiving payment. In addition, we must assume most of the risk associated with the drilling operations, generally assumed by the operator of the well on a daywork contract, including blowouts, loss of hole from fire, machinery breakdowns and abnormal drilling conditions. Accordingly, if severe drilling problems are encountered in drilling wells under such contracts, we could suffer substantial losses.

ANTI-TAKEOVER MEASURES IN OUR CHARTER DOCUMENTS AND UNDER STATE LAW COULD DISCOURAGE AN ACQUISITION OF PATTERSON-UTI AND THEREBY AFFECT THE RELATED PURCHASE PRICE.

Patterson-UTI, as a Delaware corporation, is subject to the Delaware General Corporation Law, including Section 203, an anti-takeover law enacted in 1988. We have also enacted certain anti-takeover measures, including a stockholders' rights plan. In addition, our board of directors has the authority to issue up to one million shares of preferred stock and to determine the price, rights (including voting rights), conversion ratios, preferences and privileges of that stock without further vote or action by the holders of the common stock. As a result of these measures and others, potential acquirers of Patterson-UTI may find it more difficult or be discouraged from attempting to effect an acquisition transaction with us. This may deprive holders of our securities of certain opportunities to sell or otherwise dispose of the securities at above-market prices pursuant to any such transactions.

WE HAVE PAID NO DIVIDENDS ON OUR COMMON STOCK AND HAVE NO PLANS TO PAY DIVIDENDS.

We have not declared or paid cash dividends on our common stock in the past. We do not expect to declare or pay any cash dividends on our common stock in the foreseeable future. The terms of our existing credit facility limit the payment of dividends without the prior written consent of the lenders.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We will not receive any proceeds from the sale of our common stock by the selling stockholders.

DIVIDEND POLICY

Patterson-UTI has not paid cash dividends on our common stock in the past and does not expect to pay any cash dividends on the common stock in the foreseeable future. Instead, we intend to retain our earnings to support the operations and growth of our businesses. Any future cash dividends would depend on future earnings, capital requirements, Patterson-UTI's financial condition and other factors deemed relevant by our Board of Directors. In addition, the terms of our existing credit facility limit the payment of dividends without the prior written consent of the lenders.
