Yes [ ] No [X]

The Company filed a Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q/A for the quarterly period ended March 31, 2005 on May 15, 2006, and expects to file restated Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q/A for the quarterly periods ended June 30, 2005 and September 30, 2005 by May 31, 2006. During the course of closing its books and preparing its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2005, the Company became aware that it may have misinterpreted the accounting rules applicable to its convertible debt facility with Laurus, as well as the free-standing warrants issued to Laurus in March 2005. The Company subsequently concluded that the Laurus convertible notes were to be treated as "non-conventional debt", and because the notes and warrants contain certain conversion features that are considered derivative financial instruments, the Company is required to apply the accounting methodology pursuant to EITF 00-19 "Accounting for Derivative Financial Instruments Indexed to, and Potentially Settled in, a Company's Own Stock". As a result, the previously issued quarterly financial statements for 2005 mentioned above will be restated to record debt discounts and derivative instrument liabilities at the end of each reporting period and the impact on previously reported net loss from "mark-to-market" changes in the fair value of the derivative instrument liabilities during each reported period. The effect of the restatements on its previously reported financial statements for these quarterly periods has been previously disclosed pursuant to a Current Report of Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on April 12, 2006.

- (3) Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof? Yes [X] No [ ]

If so, attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reasons why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

The Registrant expects to report a net loss of $4,092,000 or $(1.06) per share, on revenues of $4,414,000 for the quarter ended March 31, 2006, compared with a net loss of $1,032,000 or $(.31) per share, on revenues of $2,409,000 for the quarter ended March 31, 2005. The net loss for the quarter ended March 31, 2006 includes non-cash derivative instrument expense of $2,634,000 primarily arising from increases in the fair market value of embedded conversion options and free-standing warrants in connection with outstanding convertible notes and preferred stock issuances. The operating results for 2006 also include an operating loss of approximately $976,000 attributable to the Company's start-up business entity One IP Voice, Inc. The net loss for the quarter ended March 31, 2005 includes non-cash derivative instrument expense of $393,000.
